The government was using these $1 votes to get away with hundreds of millions of dollars in backdoor spending and to amend or even ignore the laws of the nation. To put it in a nutshell, the government is breaking your laws, and spending your money, without your real authority.

I, and my colleagues in the Progressive Conservative Party, took strong exception to these tactics. We launched an attack on the legitimacy of a number of $1 votes and asked the Speaker of the Commons to make a ruling. In his ruling the Speaker, Mr. P. James Jerome, ordered the government to withdraw two of the $1 votes from its package of spending estimates and expressed grave doubts about the legitimacy of four others. Further, Mr. Speaker undertook to establish a procedure wherein the acceptability of such items could be argued and challenged in a more effective forum in the future. The decision was seen as a substantial victory for parliamentary democracy and a sound defeat for the backdoor tactics of this government.

At the beginning of this report, I suggested that many people might have found this subject insignificant. However, this was far from the actual truth. I have been receiving many, many letters of support from people all over the province of Alberta for bringing this issue forward. It is obvious by the tone and the amount of mail that Canadians are deeply concerned about the manner in which their tax dollars are managed. It also reflects a deep and abiding belief that the institutions of Parliament is the best method for protecting the public's interests. Unfortunately, very few Parliamentary journalists have taken the time to study and understand the technicalities of subjects like the $1 vote in order to report them to the people. Those that have done so have seen that their efforts are truly welcome. The response in their articles and commentaries has shown that the public is deeply concerned about the tactics of the government and wishes to be kept informed as to what is going on. Following is a sampling of some of the comments which I have received.

The John Schaab's - Westlock — "Here is our vote for you and against the $1 vote."

Ethel Mayer - Edmonton — "Hereby I register my disapproval of the $1 vote to circumvent Parliament's authority."

Robert and Margaret Carmack - Edmonton — "It is a disgrace that Parliament's authority should be sidestepped and abused in this manner and that the taxpayers should be hood winked as to what money is actually being spent."

Brian and Gayle Tercier - Sunnyvale — "There should definitely be more control on government spending - not less."

WE MAKE HOUSE CALLS

The Cancer Society's annual crusade for funds is still very much a personal appeal.

Here in Alberta thousands and thousands of volunteer canvassers give freely of their time and effort to work on a "one-to-one" basis with you. During April Cancer Month they try to call personally at every home in every neighborhood, so that we all have a chance to give and to help prove that cancer can be beaten.

Volunteers also distribute Cancer Society literature; this year when they call they will give you a copy of the hope-inspired pamphlet "Good News About Cancer." And of course these official canvassers are authorized to issue income tax-deductible receipts for your donation.

Expect your Cancer volunteer's "House Call" at your home soon. Be generous in your donation.

But if the canvasser should happen to miss you, you can mail your contribution to the nearest Canadian Cancer Society office. Your local unit and the canvasser in your neighborhood will receive the credit for collecting your donation.

Beaver master plan is set for reviewal

The Master Plan for recreation in the County of Beaver for the next five years is going to be reviewed.

A committee headed by Andy Hesberg of Tofield will hold a meeting to discuss the plan on Monday night in Ryley with representatives from each recreation board in the county to be represented.

A decision to review the five-year plan was made at a regular meeting of the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board following discussions with Stan Shaphrd and John Copoc, both with recreation branches in the provincial government.

Vern Hacko of Viking, Cecil Semmrad of Ryley and Don Armitage of Kinsella were named to serve on the newly formed Grievance Committee following a report from the Investigating Committee looking into regional recreation problems.

The Investigating Committee's report also included other recommendations including more discussion on administration recommendations, more director from the recreation administrator, specific job descriptions and the final better office space was needed. The Board accepted the committee's recommendations.

It was agreed that a committee be formed to look into the possibility of giving money towards the operation of major facilities The motion followed a request from the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society who presented a brief asking for assistance in operating the swimming pool in Ryley

The Board was informed that Mrs Ivy Mohler and Don Armitage are no longer Board members or members of the Kinsella Culture and Recreation Society The Board moved a vote of thanks for their past efforts

Information for this story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on March 30th.

Heiberg gets trip as a 4-H reward

Elsa Heiberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Heiberg of Tofield RR will be leaving later this month for Ottawa

Miss Heiberg will be one of six Alberta 4-H members who will be going to Ottawa on April 25th for a week's stay

About one hundred and twenty 4-H members were in Olds recently where they held competitions to determine who would go on various 4-H trips across the country with Miss Heiberg's showing earning her a trip to the nation's capital

During the week-long stay in Ottawa, various tours will be taken, including a trip to see the House of Commons in session.

Miss Heiberg, 18, has been a member of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club for the past eight years and has won a number of awards at the club and county levels.

She has been a speech contest winner at both levels and has had the champion animal in club competitions on three different occasions, has twice won the efficiency award and on three occasions, has had the best record book

Miss Heiberg is a graduate of Tofield High School and is currently in her first year at Camrose Lutheran Bible Institute.

Her trip to Ottawa should serve as a good warm-up as a trip she plans on making when college ends as she and her sister, Grace, plan on spending the summer in Norway

Suspects arrested

Two young men were apprehended on the scene of the crime when they broke into the Alberta Liquor Store in Tofield early Tuesday morning

Tofield Detachment of the RCMP were on hand early in the morning when the break-in was discovered.

According to reports, a quantity of liquor was taken and the two suspects were arrested when they apparently returned for a second helping.

The two suspects appeared in court here Tuesday morning where both pleaded guilty and both were remanded to Fort Saskatchewan Jail until sentencing.

Opening delayed

The Post Office isn't the only employer plagued by frequent work stoppages, it seems

Due to construction delays, the scheduled grand opening of the Museum and Arts and Crafts Centre in Tofield will have to be postponed until later this summer

Officials with the Agricultural Society, Historical Society, and Arts and Crafts Clubs were causing on the addition to the Tofield Arena being ready soon enough to stage opening celebrations in June

Flyers win crown

A few nights ago in Lamont Ryley fans witnessed a breathtaking game as the Flyers managed to slide a tie breaking goal in the dying minutes of an overtime period

Winning that important game gave the club their incentive in the seventh and final home game

A packed house was on hand at the Tofield Arena on Tuesday night to watch the Flyers bring the Beaverhill Hockey League trophy back to Ryley

The crowed cheered on as they watched the battle of back to back fast skating hockey Ryley, being the most persistent, edged on to pull a 3-2 victory over the Lamont Nuggets

Kent Staden, opened the scoring for Ryley early in the game with Lamont coming back to tie it by the end of the period

Elston Solberg and Russ Shandro connected for the only goals in the second period The first fifteen minutes of the third period took its toll in penalties as the two teams met head on Pat Staden, while playing a magnificent game lacked the 4th Ryley player away 4 Minutes seconds later, Lamont tried to game back with their second goal This seemed to spark them for awhile but Kerry Blacklock flew back to sizzle a slap shot past the Lamont goalie making the final score Ryley 5, Lamont 2

Ryley faces water shortage

The Village of Ryley might have a short supply of water for the coming summer months and no water supply at all next winter

That was the information given at a special meeting of Village Council which was held last week after village officials had been informed that some equipment had been taken from the upper dam.

Councillors were told that the lack of water stems from the fact that there will be no run-off this spring, leaving the dam with a low water supply

Councillors were also told that the village did not hold title to the upper dam as had been thought and that the village should apply to the Water Resources Branch for a license for the dam and water course

The secretary-treasurer was advised to obtain more information after which a special meeting of council would be called

At a regular meeting, council would not accept the proposed 1977 Regional Recreation and Parks Board budget and agreed with county of Beaver council that no additional directors be hired for commission purposes

Prior to rejecting the budget, council went on record as being in favour, in principle, of the revised findings of the special recreation committee

Plans for renovations to the Village Office were discussed and the building committee was authorized to proceed with the renovations with costs not to exceed $10,000

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to hire someone to take a census of the village The census must be completed by June 30th

A letter from the CNR indicated that the railway company was in agreement with having its property on Main Street used as a park site

The secretary treasurer was authorized to attend a community planning seminar at the University of Alberta

Council approved a requisition from the Alberta Provincial Planning Board amounting to $279.95, approved the library requisition and authorized the purchase of a copy of the book "History of Ryley Area" which is to be placed in the library

Accounts amounting to $6,276.86 were approved for payment

Other routine matters were handled

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a regular council meeting on March 28th and a special meeting on April 9th.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA – (CP) – Last month the Liberal Party held a political workshop in Toronto that broke new political ground. The innovation came not in the dialogue, because that was pretty well a one-way street of verbal appreciation aimed at Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. What was new was a financial wrinkle that, in effect, had Canadian taxpayers footing the bill for most of the convention costs.

Trust the Liberals to find the first loophole in Canada's new Election Expenses Act. You see, until now political parties have required that delegates to conventions pay the shot for travelling and accommodation. It made things pretty expensive for a delegate from Vancouver attending an Ottawa conference.

That's not what happened last month in Toronto. Each delegate had his or her way paid to the policy workshop site at the Constellation Hotel, and the hotel room for all three-day session taken care of, and also had the bill for meals paid.

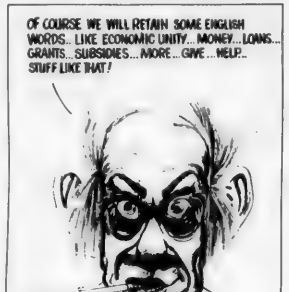
In return, each delegate, whether from Etobicoke or Victoria, had to "donate" $260 to the Liberal Party. The dodge is that by making such a political "donation", each delegate earned a tax write-off under the Election Expenses Act. Writing a cheque for $260 to the party gave each delegate a $130 tax credit on 1977 income tax. That's not $1 deduction, but a credit, reducing the tax payable by $260. Hence the $260 "donation" to attend the policy workshop actually cost each delegate only $130.

Somehow I don't think that's quite what Parliament intended when the Election Expenses Act was passed. It's one thing for individuals to give money to the party of their choice, quite another for party bagmen to gather in convention with a large part of the tab being syphoned off from the general treasury.

Now that the Liberals have found a way around the Election Expenses Act, watch the Conservatives and the New Democrats climb on the band wagon. The Social Credit Party is already reportedly quite annoyed that they didn't think of the idea before their recent leadership convention.

But then, of course, the Liberals were able to check with Revenue Canada and get the green light for such a tax dodge in advance.

And maybe we should be understanding. Word out of the party back rooms is that corporate donations to the Liberal Party have virtually dried up since late last year, and the Tories aren't doing much better in the fund raising department.



Carved in stone

Several members of the Alberta Cattle Commission and the Palliser Wheat Growers spoke at a public meeting in Viking recently, questioning the validity of continuing the Crows Nest Rates forever. While the Crow rates benefit some parts of the agricultural industry, they work to the detriment of other sectors, it claimed the speakers, who urged that steps be taken to achieve the benefits in other forms.

Other speakers, including Fred Peacock, former cabinet minister with the Lougheed government, urged farmers to hold fast to the benefit they have. Van Horne, claimed Mr. Peacock, committed the CPR in perpetuity to the Crows Nest Rates. At the same time, pointed out Mr Peacock, the CPR gained huge tracts of land and huge deposits of minerals on their side of the bargain.

Everyone has known this, of course, but it wasn't until a few days later that it crossed our mind that some of those mineral rights are in the forefront even these days. The vast coal deposits in the Dodds Round Hill area, proposed for development by CanPac Minerals and Calgary Power, are a part of that package, and the coal is apparently worth enough to justify construction of a power plant that was going to cost two billions of dollars or more.

It's a funny thing, but during all the time we've heard the railways suggest it was time for a change in the Crows Nest rates, because they were losing so much hauling grain on those 19th Century statutory rates, we never once heard them suggest they'd be willing to give the coal back to the people. Or any of those other minerals or land rights, for that matter.

And those minerals today make up fifty percent of the gargantuan portfolio of Canadian Pacific Investments.

The Crow rates are costing the railway money, and obviously we should hasten to change them But the coal under Round Hill ... why, that's a different story. That was granted in perpetuity

"NO HONOUR"
An Open Letter

Sir — you stole the flag from the Legion on April 7th!

Did you pause to notice that the flag was flying at half-mast? But then, it is doubtful if an infant brain like yours would even be aware of the significance of this

We trust that every time you look at your prize and remember the hence effort you made in securing it, the thought that will come to mind will be this:

Flags are flown at half-mast to honour comrades who give their lives In this instance, we were honouring a friend who gave his life, not in a war, but in the performance of his everyday job.

We will replace the flag and our honouring of our Comrade will continue What will you feel every time you look at your "Prize"?

A number of local livestock producers won honors at the 1977 Canadian Western Bisch Show and Sale recently in Edmonton.

SHORTHORN

Alan Wilson of New Norway claimed Grand Champion Female and Reserve Grand Champion Female of the Shorthorn breed Adele Woods of Camrose entered a Shorthorn bull which placed as Senior Reserve Champion Bull.

Mr Wilson's Grand Champion Female, Aldenlea Diamond Lass, was also the high-selling female, bought for $480 by P. Churchill of Barrhead. A Shorthorn bull entered by Doug Wilson of Killam earned the fourth highest price for bulls at the sale, purchased by Lesdi Enterprises of Prince George, B.C., for $1600. The average price for bulls was $775.45 and for females was $325.83.

GELBVIEH

In percentage Gelbvieh Female competition, an entry by Dennis Partick of Tofield captured the Championship title, followed by an entry by DJ Ranches of Stirone in the Reserve position.

Mr Patrick's champion was purchased by George Ross of Poker River Man. for $525, while the reserve champion female Stirone brought a price of $1400 from Bill Thomas of New Sarepta.

HORNED HEREFORD

Paul Kallal of Tofield entered the Reserve Grand Champion Female Horned Hereford, and sold it for $1325 to Jerry Zomerman of Stony Plain Mr Kallal also paid the top price of the day's Horned Hereford sales, when he bought the Grand Champion Bull from Pleasant Valley Calgary of Clive for $2250 Another Tofield cattleman, Bill Bilas Jr., purchased the Reserve Grand Champion Bull from August Cappell of Gunn for $1600.

Average prices for the Horned Hereford breed were higher than last year's averages. $1191.64 for the bulls this year compared to $1347.79 last year, and $814.84 for the females this year compared to $1365.82 last year.

GELBVIEH

An entry by Terry Adams of Forenburg was the Reserve Grand Champion Bull title for Polled Herefords, and sold for $2100 to JJB Polled Herefords of Vermilion. The Grand Champion Angus Bull, and winner of the Junior Championship, was Canadian Skyscraper GV 5H, owned by Gothhold Resch of Bashaw A bull entered by Graham Binder of Tofield won the Reserve Senior Championship title Tom Spady of Alliance judged the show, which had no females of the Aberdeen-Angus breed entered this year.

Mr Resch's champion was also the high-selling animal, purchased by Dorothea Farm Ltd of Thorsby for $2500. Second highest price went for Mr Souder's reserve senior champion, bought by Frank Simmons of Tofield for $1000.

Average price was $777.00

CARCASS CLASS

An annual entered in carcass class steer competition by Lyle Heiberg of Kingman was awarded second, after having placed first in the auctioneer's ring.

A three-quarters Limousin Hereford, it earned only 17 less than the first class award winner, entered by William Golby of Meadowview, which placed tenth five forms Meats Ltd purchased the 13 steers entered for 71 5 cents per dressed pound.

MARKET CATTLE

In market cattle competitions, a Shorthorn entered by Stuart Wilson of Killam won the Reserve Junior Champion title, and was purchased by Canada Safeway for $1 Canadian Cookin Shows bought the Supreme Grand Champion Market Steer, owned by Ken Geisbrecht of Vegreville, for $1 55, and donated it to the Salvation Army.

MARIE—ANJOU

R M Stauffer of Tofield purchased the Reserve Champion Maine-Anjou Female from Fisher Farms of Rocky Mountain House for $900. The champion female went for $1250, the champion bull is purchased for $2800, and the reserve champion bull for $850, with an average price of $818.85 for the Maine-Anjou breed.

Men and frogs

We should have sympathy for the frog

You might say that there is relatively little in common between men and frogs, but here is a story which points up at least one similarity.

We are told that if a frog is put into a pan of water which is heated very slowly, he will sit there until he cooks. But if you drop him suddenly into a pan of hot water, he will hut the ceiling.

The similarity' You and I will rebel vigorously when an injustice is suddenly thrust upon us. But let us become accustomed to it gradually and we shall offer little resistance.

Just take a look at the tax situation How would your father or grandfather have reacted forty years ago if someone had suddenly told them that taxes (federal, provincial, municipal - visible and invisible) would henceforth be more than 50 per cent of their income? They would have reacted almost as violently as a frog dropped into boiling water'

But you and I have been brought up under the present system We have been conditioned to accept a growing tax burden We protest softly in our group, but we take no vigorous initiatives to change the situation

We should have sympathy for the frog'

Choosing a carpet

Where do you start when choosing a carpet?

The initial step for most people is dictated by the color, texture and design of the carpet. The budget you choose helps to set the mood of the room, whether it be informal casual or traditional A long shag for example, is often used with a contemporary decor, while a carpet with a dense pile and a deep cushion underlay gives a feeling of warmth and luxury to the room.

Location is another factor that has an important bearing on choice. Abrasion resistance, for example, is not nearly as important for a bedroom that has very little traffic as it is for a living room or family room, which will get more wear Stair carpet should be made of a fibre like nylon and should have a strong backing because they get the heaviest wear of any carpet in the house.

The following is a summary, by Dorsen Al-Adra, of the important characteristics of the main carpet fibres as the market today. Mrs. Al-Adra is assistant clothing and textile specialist design with Alberta Agriculture.

Wool - these carpets are the most expensive They have good resilience and good abrasion resistance and are soft and luxurious to the touch. They have good fire resistance which makes them a good choice for a room with an open fireplace A possible disadvantage of wool carpets is that water tend to penetrate the fibre more readily than they do a synthetic fibre. If you buy a wool carpet, make sure that it has been mothproofed.

Acrylic - these carpets are less expensive than wool, but have many of the same characteristics such as good resilience and a soft touch. Their abrasion resistance is even better than that of wool. Acrylic carpets are easy to clean and more stain resistant than wool However, they tend to attract dust particles more readily than wool when the humidity in the room is low.

Nylon - these carpets are medium-priced, very durable and have excellent abrasion resistance. A possible disadvantage is that they have a high build-up of static electricity. This problem can be overcome, however, if you buy a nylon carpet that has a metal strand included in some of its infts. If your nylon carpet does not have this metal strand, you can reduce the static electricity by keeping the humidity in the room high. High humidity also reduces the attraction of dust particles to the carpet. An anti-static spray will also reduce the build-up of static on nylon carpets.

Polyester - these carpets have a very soft, attractive appearance when new, and good abrasion resistance However, they are more susceptible than any other synthetic fibre to oil stains. Polyester carpets are often recommended for medium traffic areas.

Polypropylene - these are low to medium-priced carpets and are a very good choice for an area where you want to have indoor-outdoor carpeting. The fibre has very good abrasion resistance and good resistance to sunlight and weathering. It also has good stain resistance and is easily cleaned with a mild detergent and water solution. Static electricity is not a problem because polypropylene has a built-in static control agent. One disadvantage is that the fibre melts at a low temperature, making it very susceptible to sparks and cigarette burns. A lot of friction from children's toys will also melt these fibres. Because polypropylene is not a resilient fibre, some carpets may tend to flatten Hence, this fibre is more suitable for a carpet with looped rather than cut tufts.

Rayon - carpets made of rayon are quite inexpensive and of poor quality They have an static electricity problem but they have poor abrasion resistance and a short "wear-life".

Polyamide - this fibre is usually blended with another fibre, the most common of which is polypropylene This blend is sold under the trade name of Proprion The triacontate fibre is inexpensive and has poor resilience, poor abrasion resistance and a short "wear-life" The Proprion carpet has a "wear-life" is between that of a triacetate and that of polypropylene

Further information on carpets is contained in a leaflet entitled "Facts on Buying Carpets", available from your district home economist.

From the Scrapbook

"Christ the Lord is risen today Alleluia!

This announcement with it's joy, excitement, and sheer wonder made Easter the first Christian day of celebration Only as we pay serious attention to the meaning of our Lord's passion and death will Easter dawn upon us as a new day in which to rejoice and be glad. A careful observance of Lent, and especially Passiontide, runs tandem to a deeply significant day of Resurrection. So observance of Easter at church and at home starts weeks before.

Money and divorce — Is there a connection?

Between 1973 and 1974 marriages in Canada increased 0.5 per cent. In the same period, the birth rate took a dip by 0.1 per cent. Most spectacular of all was the rise in divorces: from 35,704 in 1973 to 45,069 in 1974 a representing an increase of 22.7 per cent over the one-year period.

This upswing in divorce rate is not indigenous to Canada. Last year the United States Census Bureau reported one million divorces. Six per cent of all married couple in the U.S. parted in 1975.

In divorce, Canada is still behind the United States. For every 100 marriages conducted in Canada in 1974 there were 22 divorces. For every hundred marriages conducted in the United States there were 50 divorces.

The trend to higher divorce rates has been subject of scientific scholarly papers and journalistic endeavors. Is divorce suddenly fashionable? Are there changing attitudes towards divorce?

According to Ronald Copeland, director of the Oakville Distance Family Service Bureau the answer is yes to these queries. Copeland's agency sees between 1% and 2 per cent of the total population of Oakville (Pop. 67,436) in a 12-month period. Most of the clients are in the throes of divorce and, according to the director most of them are at least one year's salary in arrears.

Does this mean that family finances are at the root of the problem? "They are often claimed to be," says Copeland. "But in fact, financial difficulties can be used to cover up the real problems.

"I know many families at almost the poverty level who are even plainly content," he says. "Yet there are others who may be worth 2 million or more who cannot make a go of marriage."

The Oakville Family Service Bureau's experiences may be unique in that the agency serves a community which boasts the highest per capita income in all of Canada. Revenue Canada 1973 reports the average Canadian income at $8,665. That same year the average income in Oakville was $10,923. The regional municipality has 23 miles west of downtown Toronto. Three unemployment in March 1976 was recorded at 5.7 per cent Unemployment across Canada at the same time was 6.9 per cent.

Why should such a luxuriously secure community suffer such family disturbances if in fact money plays a role in marriage breakdowns?

Part of the problem, claims Ronald Copeland is the emphasis today's society puts upon possessions.

"Things mean even more to people today than they did 10 or 15 years ago," he says.

"We find people buying things just to appease themselves. You've got a problem, so you go out and buy something just to feel better."

The purchase may involve a relatively insignificant item like a woman buying a new hat. It could also involve greater spending like an expensive holiday. Here the family financial problem may either begin or begin to get worse.

In a recent panel on divorce conducted by Ontario Educational Television, the connection between money and divorce was not even mentioned. Three family lawyers cited marriage breakdown beginning with a lack of maturity.

One of the panelists, Malcolm Crombie said "marriage can't promise future happiness." Crombie also claimed that divorce breeds divorce in family situations. Elliott Pepper suggested that easier divorce laws were creating an increase in family breakup.

It would appear that if money and divorce are related, increased divorce is an effect rather than a cause. The answer lies in mature financial planning - the kind encouraged through agencies like the Oakville Family Service Bureau, and through lawyers of the Association of Canadian Financial Corporations. According to Oakville's Ronald Copeland, families who lack the maturity to face the realities of married life by they social or financial, will probably run into trouble, no matter how much money they possess.

CANADIANS ADVISE ON GRAIN STORAGE

J.W. (Wally) Madill, general manager of the Alberta Pool, is heading a three-man team with B.W. Brooker Engineering Ltd to advise on a grain storage plan in Bangladesh. Other team members are Don Chambers and Ed Hamola, both of Edmonton.

The team will advise the Canadian International Development Agency regarding a recommended grain storage plan in Bangladesh. The three Canadians left Edmonton January 18th and are expected to spend about three weeks abroad. A meeting is scheduled with a World Bank study group in Washington and they also plan to visit the Tropical Produce Institute in London, England.

USC director thinks 'small is beautiful'

"Our quest to count fundraising appeal has been the greatest success since 1945," announced USC Executive Director, Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, in her Annual Review. "We received $1,822,604 in cash and $1,214,213 in gifts-in-kind, making a total of $3,036,806, more than $336,806 over our campaign target of $2,500,000."

USC Gift Cards, designed by Montreal artist Eva Prager, raised over $43,917. Grants from federal and provincial governments totalled $387,750, but more than three quarters of all contributions came from ordinary Canadians.

During her fall fundraising tour, Dr. Hitschmanova travelled 10,000 miles, visiting 20 communities and speaking 107 times to service clubs, at public meetings, schools at all levels, women's organizations, USC volunteer groups and to every kind of media.

The largest input of USC funds and gifts-in-kind during 1977 will be directed towards Vietnam, where $800,000 has been earmarked for medical programs, clothing and milk.

"The USC has begun to negotiate with the Korean government for its phaseout from Korea set for December 31, 1978," said Dr. Hitschmanova, "and it is my fervent wish that we will be as successful as we were in India."

Dr. Hitschmanova pledged that the USC would remain small, as command growth would jeopardize its personal touch. "I am an enthusiastic believer in the philosophy that small is beautiful. As soon as an enterprise becomes unwieldy, the most basic and precious qualities of human creation suffer and disappear. I want to keep the USC small, keep it simple, keep it personal, so as to continue serving the lowliest and the forgotten. They ask for little indeed . . . food, shelter clothing, their children need education, health, and a tiny place in the sun. All the rest they will do themselves, provided we offer them the chance."

Pet rocks are best

by Sheila Abercrombie

When I hear of anyone importing creatures of any kind which are not part of the natural environment, I remember my high school biology teacher. He was a wonderful, charming old gentleman who heroically pounded a few simple principles of basic biology into several thousand heads.

His examples were dramatic: How a few cats little Tasmania introduced into Australia as an easy source of food and pelts became the scourge of that country's vast grazing lands, almost wiping out the sheep and cattle industries until a lousy, deadly rabbits, was introduced.

Closer to home is the starling problem. If you've noticed fewer and fewer of our native song birds in the last few years, it could be due to the greatly increased number of starlings, a very nasty type of bird which destroys the young of other more desirable species and which doesn't seem to have an effective natural enemy to keep it down.

Hard to believe that the couple released in Central Park in New York City in 1891 now have millions of offspring covering the continent.

No one seems to know how to get rid of this particularly unwelcome visitor from Eurasia.

On the whole, the history of transferring alien plants and animals to new lands is not very good - often it's downright disastrous.

Apart from giving thanks for the import policies of Canada Agriculture and the blessed Canadian winter which tends to kill everything it doesn't like, maybe we should stick to "pet rocks" after all.

His prime lesson was that anyone who attempts to change the natural balance of nature, even on a small scale, had better know for certain what they are about.

You can suffocate in 22 seconds

Grain storage and holding bins for grain dryers claim the lives of farmers, farm employees, and children every year.

One farmer climbed into a bin to break up the surface crust. The crust had stopped grain flow. A large cavity had formed below it. He was sucked into the centre of his 13,000 - bushel bin.

The same thing can happen in holding bins which automatically tie into dryers. Deadly conditions can result from an avalanche of aquired or caked grain.

Dust and mold inhalation from spoiled grain often poses another health hazard.

Persons falling into grain or breaking through a crust may be forced to breathe toxic gases and microbial spores. This can cause severe illness. And sensitivity increases with repeated exposure.

Bins with crusted or flowing grain are nothing to fool with. Accidents happen fast. A 6-inch unloading auger with a capacity of 1000 bushels per hour can submerge an entire human body in 22 seconds.

In flowing grain, you have only two to three seconds to get out of trouble. Within five seconds, you can be up to your knees in grain. You're totally helpless to free yourself at that point.

The drag or pull of flowing grain on the body is amazingly strong. Grain pulls on every square inch that it contacts. Rescue efforts may fail unless grain movement is stopped.

A wall of caked grain may hide a void. But grain is heavy. A prone 6-foot man covered by a foot of grain would be under about 800 pounds of grain.

Here are some bin safety guidelines

— Install ladders in all bins.

— Don't enter a bin that has unloading equipment without telling someone. Lock out the control circuit and gates of bins that unload by gravity flow or have automatic unloading equipment.

— Use a rope and safety harness if you must enter a dangerous bin. Keep two men outside the bin who can lift you out. One should be available to go for help.

— Don't enter a bin without knowing its previous unloading history. Be very cautious when walking on surface crusts. Be sure out-of-condition bins are well ventilated. Enter slowly and use a safety rope or harness if you must go in at all. When grain is out of condition, use an approved breathing mask with disposable or washable filters.

— Never enter a bin of flowing grain. If you drop a grain probe or shovel, stop the grain flow first!

Watch Those Eyes

Most people are particularly careful when selecting new frames for their eye glasses making sure that the style, size, color, etc., are the most flattering to their facial features. Although cosmetic appearance is an understandably important factor, the selection of the right type of lenses is absolutely vital according to Health and Welfare Canada.

In a booklet entitled "Focus on Eye Safety" the different types of lenses available in Canada are outlined and their relative merits discussed. While recognizing the advantages of impact-resistant lenses, many people become confused between the two most common types, heat-treated glass lenses and optical plastic lenses. The booklet outlines the differences between the two types and deals as well with the new chemically hardened glass lenses. The Department points out that selection of lenses like the selection of eye glass frames is a matter of individual choice, however there are a number of features which should be carefully considered especially in the case of children s glasses.

The booklet "Focus on Eye Safety" is available at no charge by writing Regional Public Relations Office

RAPESEED OIL

Following the development of new rapeseed varieties with low erucic acid content in the mid-1960s, rapeseed oil use has increased steadily.

Rapeseed oil, either pure or mixed with other oils such as cottonseed or soybean oil, is used in salad oils, shortenings, margarine and other prepared products such as mayonnaise. Rapeseed oil, often called Canbra oil, accounted for about 33 per cent of all the vegetable oils used in [illegible]

INSURE

1977 could be a good crop year — but don't bet on it. Conditions so far do not reflect normal weather patterns. This year, to even a greater extent than usual, precautions are justified against the losses which can occur from drought, hail, frost, snow, excessive moisture or other natural hazards.

If you are a farmer who regularly insures with the Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation, you may want to increase your level of coverage this year.

ALBERTA HAIL & CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION
1110 - First Street S W.,
Calgary, Alberta

If you are not already insuring in the program, you should consider All-Risk Crop Insurance. It is the only way in which you can get an overall guarantee for each crop you plant. If your production falls below the guaranteed level, you will be paid for the shortage.

Applications for All-Risk Crop Insurance can only be accepted up to April 30.

Sunshine Club plans big sale

The Ryley Sunshine Club held its weekly meeting on April 6 in the Community Hall Club Room with Ole Hagen, president, presiding

Mrs. Buddy, honor Citizens' Centre Project secretary-treasurer, reported to date on progress regarding federal and provincial grants for the construction of the centre.

Mrs. Anne Crump was invited to attend the meeting to make the draw for the wool quilt, which had been made and donated to the club for a raffle by Bergdahl Bundle. The lucky winner was Mrs. Peggy Shawnee.

A "White Elephant" auction sale will be held sometime in May. If you have any articles that you cannot use, please donate them for the sale.

Poe Pourri

by Lorraine Poulsen

It's official

Poe has a new sheriff.

Some months ago Sheriff Matt was killed, leaving Poe without a much-needed sheriff.

News of the Sheriff's death spread rapidly and for weeks concerned area residents telephoned or stopped in at the store to offer their regrets and suggest likely replacements.

Finding a new Sheriff was no easy task I mean, what would Dodge City do if something happened to good old Matt Dillon?

Poe was in the same spot.

Residents and friends offered dogs ranging from Collies to Doberman Pinchers to take Sheriff Matt's place and when Betty Lutz and her young son stopped at the store with their mascots for the sheriff, Dino, a six-week old German Shepherd, I was ready to appoint a new sheriff then and there. Despite its size, Dino was the cutest little would-be sheriff any town could ever want.

Beginning Dino as the new sheriff was the most difficult task in the hunt for a new sheriff in fact, after turning down Dino's application, I decided Poe would remain "sheriffless."

Enter Chief

Chief is a two-year old purebred German Shepherd who was left homeless when his master found it necessary to move from his country home. Chief was going to have to be put away. It seems cruel payment for a trusted friend.

We agreed to try Chief out on the new Poe Sheriff.

Two days after Chief had arrived I knew he was right for Poe

Husband Bob spent a few hours a day with the new Sheriff, showing him just what territory in the Sheriff's concern and which isn't. The second day, I was working in the back yard when Bob brought the Sheriff around the building. Bob jokingly attempted to keep me from getting to my feet to admire the new sheriff and when the dog heard me call for help, he immediately showed Bob that, as the new Sheriff, it was his duty to help.

After giving one warning growl, Chief gently pushed Bob away from me and took a firm stand in front of me as if warning Bob that rough play was not allowed.

I am sure the late Sheriff Matt would be pleased with his replacement. I am.

Lethbridge's miracle wheats excite worldwide interest

Maybe you remember reading last summer about new lines of wheat being developed at Lethbridge that had the ability to produce their own nitrogen. Watched kind of like alfalfa

Now the scientists working on the project, R.I. Larsen, T.G. Atkinson and J.L. Neal, have revealed how they are developing these new lines.

While the project is still in the experimental stage now the benefits - all involved in root action - extend to other root characters, such as resistance to root rot.

The science lesson begins with defining the word "rhizosphere." That's a zone of intense microbe activity in the soil surrounding living roots It has long been recognized as a key to the vigor and health of plants

For example, certain bacteria in the rhizosphere release soil nutrients that stimulate growth. Others provide protection from root-infecting fungi

Until recently, there was no way scientists could change the microbial population of the rhizosphere to what they wanted.

But the scientists at Lethbridge have now shown that the number and kinds of bacteria in the rhizosphere can be altered. They changed the genetic makeup of the plant

Further, Larsen and company have developed a line of wheat that is naturally colonized by bacteria capable of fixing atmospheric nitrogen under laboratory conditions

They hope that wheat variation can be developed that are capable of nitrogen-fixing under field conditions Such varieties, because of their reduced fertilizer needs would save a lot of bucks for farmers

A breeding technique used by Larsen led to this important discovery Working with wheat, she (Ruby) can determine the genetic constitution of plants by means of replacing one pair of chromosomes by the corresponding pair from a donor variety

Using this method, Atkinson, a cereal pathologist, and Neal, a soil microbiologist, together with Larsen, studied interactions between wheat roots and soil microorganisms Their discovery grew out of research to find out why some wheat varieties are more susceptible to root [illegible]

They learned that the gene in [illegible] controls the resistance of certain wheat varieties to common root rot

Thus, when chromosome 5B in 5-811, a wheat variety susceptible to root rot, was replaced by the corresponding chromosome pair from Apex, a resistant variety, the resulting substitution line was [illegible]

The susceptible parent variety had twice as many bacteria on the roots as the resistant substitution line Further, none of the susceptible variety were antagonistic to the root rot pathogen, but 38 per cent of those of the resistant line were

Analyses of these and other lines confirmed that susceptible wheat plants have larger bacterial populations and these roots than resistant ones do, but showed that antagonistic bacteria were not the cause of resistance These studies proved that rhizosphere microbial populations could be altered by changing only one of the 21 pairs of chromosomes in wheat

Substitution lines were prepared from Reward, a wheat variety susceptible to root rot, and from Cadet, a variety resistant to root rot A susceptible substitution line, like the susceptible parent, had large numbers of bacteria capable of degrading cellulose, pectin, and starch. In contrast, a resistant parent did not show large numbers of these microbes

Current research by Neal is the one that has excited worldwide interest: Using the Cadet Reward wheat lines developed by Larsen, Neal has shown that one particular substitution line has a rhizosphere that is enhanced by bacteria capable of fixing atmospheric nitrogen under laboratory conditions Neal hopes that, under field conditions, these rhizosphere microbes may take some of their nitrogen requirements from the atmosphere, as legumes do.

A bank that lends life
When you think of a bank you think about borrowing money, interests rates and security. The bank that we have in mind has many of the characteristics of a bank but does not deal with money. It is a Food Bank, designed to enable farmers to deliver grain to the local elevators which is held in storage until such a time when a need arises. The Mennonite Central Committee, an arm of the Mennonite Church mainly concerned with relief work, has started this Food Bank because of the number of desperate and hungry people in the world.
If you are interested in knowing more about how you can donate grain to the Food Bank contact Henry Thiessen who will be happy to meet with any groups or persons wanting more information. Telephone 662-2501, R.R. #2, Tofield

Hastings Lake district news

Lois Fenton

Welcome visitors to Hastings Lake this week have been robins, mallard ducks and Canada geese, taking advantage of the mild spring weather and the frog chorus has had an earlier opening date than usual.

At the Camrose Rodeo on the first weekend in April, Chelsea Telford, Peay Club entrant for Rodeo Queen, was placed first in the riding, a very creditable achievement. She fell behind on ticket sales in the overall competition. She received a voucher for $75 for riding horses and her, and the club gained by IHC from the ticket sales

On April 6th there was a general meeting of the Community Association and a report of plans for the entry for the County Fair was received.

Prize winners in whist on Thursday were Con Winder, Erik Fenton, Muriel Ridley and Sharon Telford The next such event will be on Friday, April 22nd

The Peay Club has arranged several special riding clinics for this summer, in addition to the regular weekly riding meeting which starts in May The first clinic is entitled 'How to Run a Horse Show', and will take place on Saturday and Sunday May 7 and 8, at the hall. From 9:00 to 5:00 and 8:00 to 2:00. The instructor is Sylvia Erickson and the fee is $30.00 Pre-registration at least one week beforehand is required and those interested should contact Sharon Telford at 662-3764. Future plans include a basic horsemanship clinic and a western riding clinic

Coming events at the Hall are the cake decorating class at 10:00 a.m on Saturday (contact Barbara Charnick at 662-2421), an evening of films on horsemanship on April 26, at 8:00 p.m arranged by the Peay Club and the Garrison dinner at 6:00 p.m on April 30. This will be followed by bingo and tea and coffee will accompany the meal

The Ladies Club will meet on April 21st, at 1:00 p.m . at the home of Lynn Gaies

The Rapeseed research story

More than 50 research scientists at university and government laboratories across Canada are conducting research into almost every aspect of rapeseed.

In the four years since the Rapeseed Utilization Assistance Program of the Rapeseed Association of Canada was started, projects have probed almost every aspect of rapeseed oil, rapeseed meal, full-fat rapeseed and rapeseed meal fractions. A total of 42 studies were undertaken in the past year alone

IMPROVED VARIETIES

Argentine rape and turnip rape are the two species of rapeseed commonly grown in Canada.

Of the Argentine types, Midas and Tower are the most popular low erucic acid varieties grown in Canada They are particularly suited for production in central Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba Of the turnip rape varieties, Torch and Span are the most popular These varieties mature earlier and produce better than the Argentine types where frost or drought may occur

IMPROVED ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

Despite plantings of less than half the 1975 acreage, supplies of Canadian rapeseed this year should be about 63 million bushels — only 12 million bushels lower than last year. Agriculture Canada's Economics Branch estimates.

Rapeseed production for 1976 has been forecast at 41 1 million bushels Rapeseed prices are expected to remain at continued strength during the next few months as the effect of record prices follow world market prices

RECORDS OF ADVANCEMENT

Canada is the number one rapeseed exporter on the world oilseed market.

Canadian rapeseed production has increased substantially in the past few years and now is third behind wheat and barley

Government, university and industry research on the various aspects of its processing and use has made rapeseed oil the second most widely used edible oil on the domestic market

A SPEEDY SUCCESS STORY

One of the fastest and most efficient accomplishments of Canadian agricultural scientists is just beginning to gain the recognition it deserves

It took only about a decade of intensive research, breeding and selection to produce commercial varieties yielding rapeseed oil with low erucic acid content A changeover of the rapeseed industry to low erucic acid varieties was made within two years.

Gordon Sandilie and family of Sherwood Park spent Easter with Berghold Sandilie

Kevin and Brent Fedyunyz of Camrose are spending their Easter holidays with grandpa and grandma Anderson

Henry and Irene Anderson of Viking visited Irene's parents, the E. Anderssons on Sunday. Mrs Robert also called on them.

Harvey and Annette Short of Acadia Valley visited Annette's parents over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Stock (nee Goodwin) and family of Saskatchewan stopped in at the former grandma Thersley home where her folks and children lived 46 years ago. She made inquiries about the M. Dahl, Freeman, Kirkshund, Geddes and several other families. Her father was secretary-treasurer at the time they lived here. J.D. McDonald was principal at the school when she attended.

The Sunshine Club met in the Community Hall on April 6. It was decided to have a white "elephant" sale sometime in the near future. Anyone who has anything to contribute, would be very much appreciated. The first draw for the quilt made by Bergheld Sandilie was won by Peggy Kenaway and second draw was won by Bob Hammer which was a planter, donated by Mrs. Flesher.

David Reil and Ella of Truchu visited relatives in Ryley and district and in Tofield on Friday and Saturday. They report a very lovely three-month holiday in Phoenix, Arizona and while there met several people they knew.

Mrs. Doris Gardanki visited her son, Ralph and daughter-in-law at Black Diamond for Easter.

Carl Budinski of Ryley passed away on April 8, 1977, at the age of 68 years. Survived by his wife, Lena, two sons, David of Whitehorse, Yukon and Richard of Ryley, one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Sorken of Edmonton; 7 brothers, 3 sisters; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held April 13, at St Martin's Roman Catholic Church in Vegreville with Reverend J Ayling officiating. Interment was in St Anthony's Roman Catholic Church Cemetery. Fehrm Funeral Chapel of Vegreville were in charge.

Facts about those microwave ovens

Alberta Agriculture's district home economists have received numerous requests since Christmas for information on microwave ovens.

The following facts about these ovens were submitted by Betty Birch, district home economist at Stettler.

As a general rule, you should not use cookware or china with metallic decorations in a microwave oven. The metallic decorations could cause damage to the oven because metal reflects microwaves.

You can heat food in a china dish in a microwave oven, but before cooking food in a china dish, you should test it in the oven. Put a pyrex measuring cup of water in the oven, to prevent damage to the oven, and then put the empty dish in the oven. If it gets hot, it should not be used for cooking.

You can use plastic dishes that can be put in a dishwasher for heating food (to serving temperature) in a microwave oven. However, it would be better not to use these dishes for cooking because the temperature of the food could warp them.

Do not fry or poach eggs in a microwave oven unless you are prepared for a mess. The yokes of the eggs are likely to burst and splatter the oven.

You can reheat buns and cakes in a microwave oven if you place them on paper to absorb the moisture. If you do not do this, they will be soggy.

You can prevent bacon and other meats from splattering a microwave oven by covering them with wax paper or paper toweling.

Never turn a microwave oven on when it is empty. In fact, it is a good idea to keep a cup of water in the oven in case someone should turn it on when it is empty.

Families 'on the go' are the ones that will most appreciate a microwave oven. With this type of oven a plate of food can be refrigerated and reheated quickly for a late-comer without drying out. A working woman or anyone who likes to do her cooking ahead and freeze it will also find a microwave oven very useful.

The people who are likely to most appreciate a microwave oven are those who are at home most afternoons to prepare supper, and those who have a large family. Cooking time increases with the amount of food put in the oven. One potato, for example, bakes in about four minutes, but five potatoes take about 22 minutes to bake.

As far as basic cooking is concerned, cooking time is the only thing that is different from cooking in a conventional oven. The time difference may vary slightly from one model to another.

Ms Birch says there are some good cookbooks, like the "Sunset Microwave Cookbook" and Madame Benoit's "Microwave Oven Cookbook" on the market.

Mineral production for the year 1974-75 in the N.W.T. was valued at more than $222 million and $185 million for the Yukon. This is an increase of 46 percent and 25.3 percent respectively over the previous year.

$10,000 grant for College

Camrose Lutheran College is one of ten institutions of higher learning to benefit from new financial grants from Hudson's Bay Company in the past year. Camrose will receive $10,000.

This is considerably higher on a per-student basis than the $50,000 contributed by The Bay to the University of Toronto, or the $60,000 to McGill University. A Company spokesman said the higher level of generosity was the result of The Bay's having its roots in the West, and having an increasing interest in the Camrose area, where a new store will open in August 1977.

The Company contributes 5 percent of earnings to charitable causes each year. In 1976 this amounted to $900,000.

Artificial lights for growing plants

Poor light is one of the common problems encountered by indoor gardeners, particularly those who live in an apartment with limited window space. Artificial lights can be used in an attic, in an empty cupboard, in the basement, on a bookshelf or in a heated garage.

The light tubes can be fitted into the design of any room and can usually be connected to regular electrical outlets. There are also commercial lighting systems, at varying costs, that consist of a trolley with adjustable shelves for the plants and a reflector (a mirror or a piece of white paper placed under the plants can also be used as a reflector. The purpose of a reflector is to increase the light intensity by reflecting the light back onto the plants.

Individual light tubes and commercial lighting systems for plants can be obtained from garden centres, hardware stores and many department stores.

According to Ariana Chesney, horticultural specialist with Alberta Agriculture, fluorescent tubes are the most common source of light used by home gardeners. There are two types: the household fluorescent tube and the horticultural fluorescent tube. The light from a household fluorescent tube is predominately blue and often has to be supplemented with incandescent bulbs which give off red light. The recommended ratio for a good quality light without excessive heat is two or three fluorescent tubes to one incandescent bulb. Horticultural fluorescents such as Gro-Lux, Plant-Gro and a number of other brands provide a balance of red and blue light suited to plant growth. The latest types give a broad spectrum light which approaches the light spectrum of the sun in the middle of the day.

However, the horticultural fluorescents are more expensive than the household fluorescents and are not always needed. "It seems the only way to find out which is best for your plants and for your location is to experiment," says Miss Chesney. "Although plants require a combination of red and blue light, the amount of either varies with different plants and in different situations. Some people find unsupplemented household fluorescent tubes are satisfactory as horticultural fluorescent tubes."

Incandescent bulbs can be used by themselves to supplement daylight for foliage plants, but they do not provide enough light to meet the needs of flowering plants.

Although most plants do best at a distance of 12 inches from the light source, the optimum distance varies with the type of plant. The top leaves of plants which require a high light intensity should be six inches from the light source, while those needing a medium light intensity should be 12 to 18 inches away. Plants which require a low light intensity can be as much as three feet from the light source. Miss Chesney says a light metre can be used to determine the correct placement of plants so that they receive sufficient light. An automatic timer is also useful for switching the lights on and off at the correct times. In a home-constructed lighting system, a pully with a rope or chain can be used for raising the lights as the plants grow.

According to Miss Chesney, the majority of plants thrive with 14 to 16 hours of light per day, but the growing habits of many are directly affected by the length of their day. For example, some plants will not flower unless exposed to 12 or 14 hours of light per day for a specific number of days. These are known as long-day plants and include chrysanthemums, many garden annuals and begonias. Short-day plants, on the other hand, must have more than 12 hours of complete darkness each night to allow the buds to develop. Kalanchoe, poinsettias and chrysanthemums are examples of short-day plants. Then there is a group of flowering plants that are indifferent to day-length. They include African violets, tuberous and begonias.

"Trial and error", Miss Chesney says, "is the only sure way to discovering the best lighting for your plants. Those that do not receive enough light will grow tall and spindley and the foliage will turn pale green. If too much light is the problem, the leaves and flowers will bleach and place for growing plants under the leaves will curl under. In fact, over exposure to light may cause the plants to shrivel and turn brown. Too much light also inhibits flowering in species like poinsettias, orchids and chrysanthemums.

Care of plants grown under artificial lights is the same as that required by ordinary house plants "your success", says Miss Chesney, "will depend upon the attention you give them." If the air around the plants is too dry, for example, she recommends wetting the moss or stones surrounding the pot and spraying the air around the plants at frequent intervals with an automizer containing tepid water.

The growing media, temperature humidity and ventilation requirements for plants grown under lights are the same as those recommended for any other house plants. However, watering and fertilizing schedules may have to be stepped up to keep pace with the more rapid growth stimulated by the artificial lights.

Most plants should be placed in a resting spot for an after they have flowered. Watering should be reduced and fertilizing discontinued to encourage dormancy. A basement is probably the best artificial lights because there is usually plenty of room there, and it is easier to keep the temperature between 15 degree C and 21 degree C.

Garden Club plans 'flea market'

by Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club met on Monday evening at the Anglican Church with Mrs. Myrtle Norland as hostess.

The flea market planned for May 28th was discussed. It is to be held in the arena, tables priced at $4 each and anyone wishing to book a table should contact Theone Jones at 662-2282.

Yvonne Brown, who is a member of the Alberta Horticultural Association, gave a report on the AHA meeting she attended in Red Deer on April 6th.

The Provincial Horticultural Show, to be held in Innisfail on August 13 and 14th, was discussed. If enough of the members are able to attend, a bus will be arranged.

This year, the horticulture section of the Tofield Fair is open to the public! Anyone wishing to enter may do so. Entrants in the Junior section must have obtained their seeds and bulbs through the Tofield Garden Club. Seeds and bulbs should be ordered by April 23rd, phone Theone Jones at 662-2282.

It was decided to ask Laurie Blades to speak to the members on displaying, arranging and showing horticulture possibly at the June meeting.

Next meeting of the Tofield Garden Club will be held on May 9th.

Romans 8:26 — The Spirit Himself maketh intercession for us.

Sometimes our prayers are motivated by selfish considerations and sometimes we are at a loss for words because of extenuating or extreme physical weakness. But the Lord understands and reads our hearts and the Holy Spirit "helpeth our infirmity" by interpreting our deepest longings before God's throne. A pastor frequently visited a Christian who was dying. She said him "I'm often so racked with pain that it is difficult for me to gather my thoughts to pray." He looked at her a moment and said "you can groan can't you?" "Oh, yes" she answered "my days are spent in doing that." "Well never mind then you can't formulate your prayers. The Holy Spirit translates your groans into petitions and presents them to the Savior!" Your weakest cry is carefully noted in Heaven and is worth more than a thousand superficial wordly prayers God will recognize your cry a sincere prayer without words.

"Prayer is the souls' sincere desire"
Uttered or supressed,
The Motion of a hidden fire
That trembles in the breast"
In praying - it is better to let your heart be without words, than your words be without heart

Billy Graham's
"ANGELS"
God's Secret Agents
Out of his unshakable belief in the Bible as the true word of God because the Bible teaches that benevolent angels intervene in the lives of men because he has sensed their presence in his own life Billy Graham offers a heartening message of faith & reassurance that the hosts of the Lord are all about us, ready to help and comfort the stricken and lonely need.

There will be special music, an inspiring talk by Maxine and an opportunity to purchase an autographed copy of her new book, a book table and refreshments.

Building today for Alberta's tomorrow.
Planning the electrical needs of the future is not a simple operation!
To plan and build a modern thermal power plant takes about twelve years. We must make our plans far in advance because no two minute measures between Albertans, future electrical energy demands. This advance planning must take care of both engineering and financial needs. Money must be raised now for equipment that will not be in operation for years down the line. Environmental studies must be undertaken now to ensure millions of dollars
investment in tomorrow.

New greens

Charlie Kallal has installed artificial grass for putters on the 3rd hole at the Tofield Golf Club and will be doing the same for the first two holes. The new greens should make the game more enjoyable for golfers who are invited to try the nine-hole course free of charge until the end of this month.

Tofield 4-H Club plans fund-raising

The regular meeting of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club was held on April 14th in the meeting room of the hall

It was brought to the club's attention that in order to donate money to the new center we would have to get out and raise some money. After some discussion, the club decided to have a bake sale on April 23rd in the hall meeting room and rent a table at the next flea market.

It was also decided that all the club members would participate in a Rent-A-Slave in this fund raising activity, each member is expected to work for one day for his or her rent. The club consists of 30 members with ages ranging from 10 to 18 who may be hired for any reasonable job, ranging from housework to fieldwork.

The proceeds from this activity will be going to the proposed 4-H Center. For more information or for renting a slave the number to call is 662-3274

Before the meeting was adjourned the members were reminded of the highway clean-up day on May 7th in this clean-up each participating club is expected to clean 10 miles of Highway

After the meeting was adjourned, two of the members gave a quiz on cattle related products. The two members identifying the most products won prizes.

Beef club will hold bake sale

The Tofield Beef Club will be holding a bake sale on Saturday in the meeting room of the Community Hall

The business discussed at the last meeting was that the members will put themselves out for hire to anyone who wants a worker for one day. If you are interested in hiring a 4-H member for a day, you can call 662-2274.

Heather Rudzuki won the county and the zone speak-offs and then was sent to Edmonton where she placed 3rd in the provincial championship.

Tofield students plan work project

April 18, 1977

The Social Studies 20 class at Tofield School is planning a visit to the Ukrainian Pioneer Center on the weekend of June 3, 4 and 5 as part of their studies of native Canadian culture.

In order to defer the expenses of the trip, Mr. Garneau's class is planning a Student Work Project.

Students will donate their time after school and Saturdays between April 22nd and May 7th to undertake any work requested by the community. The rate of pay will be the minimum wage of $3.00 an hour.

Anyone wishing to participate in the project by hiring these students are urged to call one of the following members: Bob Gorman, 662-4979 evenings; Stuart Allen 662-3410 evenings; Dixie Ness 663-2327 evenings; or by calling Bob Garneau at Tofield School at 662-3122 during business hours.

The students are willing to do any kind of household and farm work.

Ryley organizes its ball program

On Monday the Ryley Junior Sports Association held a meeting in the Ryley School library.

A number of parents were there, as well as high school students who were volunteering to coach minor baseball and softball.

A number of items were discussed and coaches for the various teams were named.

A committee of parents will meet shortly to take an equipment inventory, and it was decided to purchase needed equipment before spending any funds on uniforms.

There will be baseball teams for boys in age categories from seven to sixteen. Girls' teams will be in age categories from seven to eighteen. However the high school girls' team will probably play in the Ladies League again, this year.

Boys and girls who would like to play ball may obtain registration forms from the office at the school, or from Eugene Strickler.

The registration fee should be returned to Maxine Reid by April 30th.

Ryley U.C.W. holds 37th talent contest

by Lona Ball

Ryley United Church Women held their 37th annual amateur talent competition recently, with it once again being a huge success.

Rev. David Meddis was the master of ceremonies for the evening's program and also entertained by singing and playing his guitar.

Judges for the evening were Diane Lake, Earl Hardy and Clay Schaning.

During an intermission, members of the Ryley Junior Sports Association held the draws for their raffle

Winners of prizes in the raffle were Mrs. Violet Caris of Ryley, Janwen MacLeod of Bawlf and Mrs Arlene Sandfer of Ryley

The raffle raised a total of $186.50 which will be used by the association to purchase equipment for its baseball and softball teams Association representatives announced that the Ryley Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion has offered to help in buying uniforms for the different teams while Owen Jones of Tofield Processing Plant has offered to assist in the purchase of equipment.

Winners in the different competitions during the talent program were as follows.

Class I

1st-vocal duet by Lyall Voltner and Tenaele Gannon.

2nd-vocal solo by Lisa Voltner.

3rd-organ solo by Christopher Manderson.

Class II

1st-vocal duet by Trudy Williams and Laurie McCartney

2nd-vocal duet by Loren Voltner and Corinne Gannon

3rd-piano solo by Corinne

Class III

1st-accordion solo by Wayne Trin.

2nd-piano solo by Heather Rudzucki

3rd-instrumental by The Country Pals, composed of Dale, Ricky and Darren Brainrd

Kallal installs artificial turf

Golfers in the Tofield area have an opportunity to use a nine-hole course free of charge

Charlie Kallal has issued an invitation to all golfers to come out and try the course at the Tofield Golf Club at no charge, until the end of this month.

A new strip of green turf carpeting (artificial turf) has been installed on the putting green on the number three hole and will also be installed on the first two holes.

Mr Kallal is anxious to get public reaction to the artificial turf

Other improvements will be made at the golf club during the coming season. Details of the improvements will be announced later

Aubrey heads skaters

Josie Aubrey was named as the president of the Tofield Skating Club when that organization held its annual meeting last week.

Named as vice-president was Dorothy McCartney while Rusty MacNeil was selected as secretary-treasurer and directors will be Grace Williams, Fern McManus, Margaret Jensen, Jeanette Fleming and Kay Coombs

It was decided that two girls would be selected to attend a figure skating school during the summer with the intention of having them act as amateur coaches next fall

Pictures taken at the annual carnival were displayed and orders taken The pictures will be displayed in the Tofield Sport Shop until the end of the month.

RCMP kept busy

Two young men will be appearing in court on charges of theft after they were charged with the theft of a jackall jack in Ryley and the theft of two tires from behind Kallal Motors in Tofield

Police are investigating a break-in at an apartment in Tofield which netted thieves one hundred dollars in cash.

Police are also investigating a case of vandalism in Ryley as a stationwagon was discovered with a rear side window smashed

In addition to the above, RCMP at the Tofield Detachment have been kept quite busy in recent weeks handling routine matters as well as looking into a surge in liquor offences

New way to clean industrial smoke

A new technique that removes undesirable gases and dust from smoke emitted by iron foundries and other metallurgical and processing industries has been developed by scientists at the Canada Centre for Mineral and Energy Technology (CANMET), a branch of the department of Energy, Mines and Resources. The process is both economical and efficient because it uses cheap granular materials such as limestone, gravel and coal as the filtering medium, which is held in a vertical column called a packed bed.

Tests carried out with an experimental unit in CANMET laboratories showed that the system was capable of capturing dust particles down to one microns (0.00004 inch) in diameter at efficiencies of over 99 9 per cent. This means that each cubic foot of gas released into the atmosphere contained only 0.00007 of a pound of dust. The method differs from other filtering systems in that the hot dust-laden gases need not be cooled by water sprays or large amounts of air before cleaning. The ability to treat gases without cooling has definite advantages. When water sprays are used, the equipment rusts and the water becomes contaminated, which can air is used for cooling, the volume of gases to be cleaned increases, and the equipment must be made to handle the extra load.

A commercial unit capable of treating 7,500 cubic feet of "dirty" gas per minute was constructed and installed in Winnipeg on a furnace used to melt cast iron. The purchased filter removed particulate matter from the hot waste in turn creates a water pollution problem. When exgas, permitting it to be safely vented to the atmosphere. The iron foundry is considering the possibility of heating its buildings with the clean waste gas

TUNIS — (CP) — Tunisia is dwarfed in size by her two neighbors Algeria and Libya, but of all the Arab states she is perhaps the closest to economic take-off, and without question, she's the most developed in an economic sense.

Sure, there is Arab wealth galore because of oil in other states, but Tunisia with generous hands of Western aid, has just about made the grade despite the absence of surplus gas and oil deposits.

Canada is responsible in good measure for Tunisian economic progress News stories which fire critical salvos at the Canadian International Development Agency have been pretty frequent of late. In Tunisia, the CIDA system has been operating the way it was meant to operate.

Canadian engineers working in cooperation with Tunisians have almost finished upgrading electric power transmission facilities in a $25 million CIDA project. Completion of the new transmission lines will make possible industrial expansion and enlargement of tourist facilities along Tunisia's east coast.

Without the power line the country's new five-year economic plan, due to be completed in 1981, wouldn't stand a chance of success.

Then there's a $55-million dam being built with CIDA funds, Canadian engineers and Tunisians, just outside the old Arab capital of Kairouan, 100 miles south of Tunis. Normally the mountain pass where the dam is being built is a bone-dry river of sand, but several times each decade flash rivers gather in the mountains of Algeria to the west, and come racing down to inundate the plain, leaving it under as much as three feet of sand for hundreds of square miles.

In 1969 more than 250 were killed and 30 million in damage was done by such a flood.

The dam will stop this periodic havoc and makes possible the irrigation of hundreds of thousands of acres in the arid plain, as well as creating a lake 50 miles long.

Tunisian foreign minister Habib Chatty says that Canadian aid has been a major factor in bringing Tunisia to the brink of economic take-off. He describes the relationship between his country and Canada as "the best which can exist between a developing and a developed country."

All told, Canada will have spent more than $135 million in loans, aid and food gifts in Tunisia between 1956 and 1981, when the current CIDA agreements expire. The Hitschmanova on four month survey tour

Dr Lotta Hitschmanova Executive Director of the USC of Canada, recently left on the first leg of her 32nd overseas inspection of USC projects She will visit 17 countries including Bangladesh, Indonesia and Nepal, winding up her tour in Vietnam with a 14 day stay returning to Ottawa June 7.

Dr Hitschmanova is accompanied by cinematographer, John Buss, on loan from the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs, who will shoot film on USC projects

"I look forward to three important challenges - to work out details for our USC phase out from Korea in December, 1978, widely expand our work in Vietnam, Bangladesh and Lesotho, and launch a new aid program in Cyprus and Nepal," said Dr Hit

by Lorraine Peebon

It was a little more than the new sheriff of Poe had bargained for In fact, Saturday was a bit more than most Poeites had bargained for

As any community resident will admit, the thought of being the main street of their town is scarcy to say the least

Such was the feeling among Poeites last Saturday when fire threatened the stately elevator which assumes Poe for miles down the highway.

Just where or how the fire started is hard to say but the cause of the fire was not the main concern of the dozen or more volunteer fire-fighters as they poured water on and around Poe's tallest building.

Common sense and water saved the elevator but just the thought of Poe's "almost" loss kept most Poeites checking the elevator all day Saturday and Sunday.

Poe without an elevator would be like Edmonton minus the Parliament Buildings. Poe would be without class.

Indeed, without its elevator, Poe would be lost. (As would the legend of the Poe historian). The whole thing is almost to scary to even think about

When the elevator was threatened by fire, the new Poe sheriff did, I am told, attempt to help the fire fighters as best he could, however, it was soon decided (and be agreed) that the best place for the law was on the opposite side of the street while the flames were fought.

Today I can look out of my "newspaper office" window and see the old red Poe sentinel standing straight and tall in the wind.

The cars, the volunteer fire-fighters, the fire truck and the excitement have all gone but Poe's landmark is still here.

It was almost too close for comfort.

Ask help sighting spray-painted geese

Don't feel you have to swear off your favorite medicine if you suddenly look up and see ducks or geese that are bright red, or green, or orange, this spring. And it doesn't mean you should see an optometrist, either.

The geese are indeed these colors, on the upper side of their wings, and in addition they might be blue, yellow or purple

They've been spray painted, as part of a research program involved in a study of avian choices The marked birds will molt their painted feathers after spring nesting.

The study involves Canada geese, white fronted geese, mallard, pintail, wigeon and gadwall ducks. About 3,000 are expected to be involved in the study.

Anyone sighting the birds is requested to write the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, 2200 North 33rd Street, Nebraska, 68503, or phone 402-464-0641.

Romans 8:16, 17, we are children of God · · · and joint heirs with Christ. · ·

In his splendid book of anecdotes entitled "Windows" Ivor Powell tells the story of a rich man who died and left no heirs. When the household goods were auctioned off an elderly lady bid on the picture of the dead man's son. It had been greatly cherished by the wealthy father because his only child had died at an early age. But the crowd that had gathered for the sale showed no interest in it. When the woman who bought the picture was asked why she wanted it she said she had been the boys nurse many years before, and had loved him dearly. Later she examined the picture closely and noticed a bulge in the heavy paper on the back. Making a small cut, she removed an envelope which turned out to be the man's missing will. The document clearly stated that he wanted to leave his property to the person who still held dear the memory of his beloved son Ivor Powell, "There is nothing on earth or eternal inheritance - to which poor sinners would have no claim. Yet love for Christ is the key that unlocks the divine treasury house. All things belong to Him and if We belongs to us. God's stained United call can day be ours"

ATA local holds meet

by Grace Phillips

R. Garneau, president of the Tofield sub-local of the Alberta Teachers Association, chaired the April meeting last Monday.

Classes in the teachers' contract with the Elk Island Regional School authorities [illegible] were discussed.

The president asked that the [illegible] possible names for the offices in the Beaver Local executive for the next school year.

Possible nominations for membership on ATA Provincial Committees and boards were also requested. R.K. Taylor offered his name as a possible participant in a Canadian Teachers' Federation Conference in Toronto later this spring.

Cattle bluetongue seems under control

The bluetongue outbreak in southern British Columbia is under control and hasn't spread to other parts of Canada.

None of the 3,488 cattle tested in Alberta proved to be reactors to the disease. Cattle tested in other provinces 977 in Saskatchewan, 3,889 in Manitoba, and 7,181 in Ontario — all reacted negatively to bluetongue tests.

The bluetongue outbreak in southern British Columbia was found in a routine survey of imported U.S. cattle last January. A number of other reactors were found in other herds tested in the Okanagan Valley and a quarantine was imposed.

Since the outbreak was found, 18,370 cattle in the quarantine area have been tested. Among 131 herds, a slaughtered to prevent spread of the disease. Between October and May when disease spreading flies are inactive all quarantined cattle will be released. The quarantine could be lifted if the disease proven to have been eradicated.

A total of 1,168 cattle reacted positively to tests. There were 13 reactors among 698 sheep and six reactors among 226 goats As well, 625 herds in the area were found to be free of the disease In the wildlife population of the area, only four deer - - shot last January on the farm where bluetongue was first found - - were discovered to be infected

Animals testing positive in the disease, although not apparently ill, could be harboring the disease Therefore, all positive reactors are

Agriculture Canada is making deficiency payments to producers in the quarantine area if prices fall below normal because of quarantine-restricted cattle movements Livestock owners have received compensation at full market value for all reactors slaughtered in the bluetongue quarantine area

Canada was bluetongue-free before the Okanagan area outbreak The disease has affected Canada's export markets, with Australia, New Zealand, Ireland and the United Kingdom refusing to import cattle and semen Greece and East Germany have resumed purchases of Canadian cattle and Japan, Jamaica, West Germany and Poland have asked for more tests before accepting Canadian cattle and semen.

The population density of the Yukon Territory is about nine persons per 100 square miles compared to 826 per 100 square miles for Canada as a whole

HOUSING AND PUBLIC WORKS

by John S. Bellah

As the legislature proceeds, a fair amount of program is being accomplished Committees reviewing estimates of the budget meet regularly each evening to either accept, reject or to familiarize themselves with the estimated expenditures for the current year

The opposition Member from Little Bow proposed a motion to the Assembly that the Assembly adjourn immediately to discuss the matter of whether "The Temporary Rent Regulations Measures Act' will be extended beyond June 30, 1977 A very unusual and senseless motion indeed as the Premier and House Leader had on several occasions stated that during the month of April a decision would be announced. How very meaningless to adopt a motion such as this and stall all important functions of the legislature The motion was heavily defeated

The Minister of Education indicated the special grants to assist small school jurisdictions are the result of recommendations which were provided to the Minister by his Advisory Committee in School Finance, a committee that has representation from the Alberta School Trustees Association.

The Minister of Utilities and Telephones announced that at present there are applications before the Public Utilities Board requesting an increase in the price of propane Over the past while there have been several increases in the price of natural gas while the price on propane was frozen at 38 cents per gallon in order to allow for the rural population to convert to natural gas.

The estimates of the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower were reviewed and debated.

A somewhat controversial issue, the differential in University students tuition fees. At present, the total cost of providing education to a student is approximately $5,000 00 The student pays approximately 10 percent of this and the balance is subsidized by the taxpayers Now the foreign student will have to pay slightly higher fees than the resident student. How long is the province of Alberta going to keep subsidizing the entire world? An African state ambassador recently commented that differential fees for foreign students are reasonable and proper He also stated that as long as Alberta keeps taken tuition fees, as we are, there is no indication that other countries will be looking to provide more accommodation for their students Now very true, with fees of $400 to $500 - how could any country think of trying to provide universities

The Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower stated that application forms and information regarding the Temporary Summer Employment Program for students is have been sent out to all municipalities

A petition signed by 388 persons was presented to the Legislature by a Member of the Opposition The petition requests that the Premier give serious consideration to supporting the Alberta Game Farm I, too, agree that our government should consider giving support to retain the game farm in Alberta, but in no way can I see $8 million being spent on a game farm while there is a waiting list of thirty people in Two Hills in need of nursing home accommodation and a similar waiting list at the Vegreville Nursing Home I believe that support for those urgently in need of help should supercede that of a game farm

The Minister of Agriculture indicated that the federal government's announcement of changes in the federal dairy policies would see an increase of 10 cents per pound support for butter and a very slight increase support in skim milk powder It would also appear that the total federal industrial milk quota will rise from 97 million hundredweight to 100 million hundredweight Alberta will also share in this slight increase quota.

The Minister also expressed concern about recent reports from the federal Health of Animals Branch regarding the outbreak of brucellosis in the Lethbridge area It was noted that the condition has improved ever what it was two or three years ago

The Attorney General stated that he wrote to major distributors of reading materials to thank them for their co-operation in curtailing the sale of pornographic literature to children.

The Minister of Agriculture indicated that there will again be the warble inspection program initiated last spring in auction marts He also indicated concern about three municipalities that are not presently involved in the compulsory program He stated that a decision will be made very shortly as to whether the entire province will be a warble free area including the three municipalities not currently involved.

The Assembly continues to examine the estimates of the budget and is expected to spend another two weeks before they are concluded.

NUTRITION NOTES

I just finished a series of nutrition classes with the Tofield Kindergarten. I really enjoyed meeting the children and I appreciated the assistance I received from their teacher Mrs. Walls and the Mother helpers

Each class session was devoted to a different food grouping. Lessons are dealt with the milk group and we tasted yogurt. In lessons two we talked about breads and cereals. We tasted macaroni and different breads. We made fruit salad when we talked about the fruit and vegetable group. We made this recipe

Peanut Butter Treats
½ cup peanut butter
½ cup white corn syrup
½ cup dry milk
1 cup corn flakes

Mix first three ingredients together. Roll into small balls, then roll each ball in crushed corn flakes. Store in the refrigerator

We talked about 4-4-2. No it's not a secret code. What it is the number of servings your child needs from the food groups.

4 - breads and cereals
4 - fruits and vegetables
2 - milk and milk products
2 - meat and meat alternates.

I hope that you will encourage your child to choose foods wisely!

Ministik news

Mrs. Jim Reddick

Pupils, teachers, bus drivers and janitors returned to the duties Monday after a week's Spring break. Then they observed Good Friday as a holiday. This Monday every thing is back to routine, with no more breaks until exam time in June.

Plans are well underway for the bazaar at the Crafts Centre on April 23rd. Each table, should draw it's own attractions, with sewing, baking, surprise articles and little plants.

There will also be a raffle on a little lamp made and donated by Andrew Ferguson. Lunch will be served.

Pat Pearce of Edmonton spent the Easter weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pearce. Other members of the family met for dinner on Sunday, making the total 30.

Edna and Glenn Ferguson spent the Easter weekend at Banff, Lake Louise and area, calling in on their cousin Carol George in Calgary on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hughes, Doug and Lorraine of Wetaskiwin were Easter guests of Norma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth.

Phyllis Davenport and Diane Earns of Edmonton were weekend guests at the Eva and Joe Davenport home.

INTENDED FOR LAST WEEK

Combined services of Ministik United and Soul-Cooking Lake were held at South Cooking on Sunday. Communion and services were taken by Rev. George [illegible], supervising pastor from Sherwood Park Next Sunday is the last one for Mary McFarlane, student minister, who has been in charge in the area for the last 8 months.

Lil Leach, Margaret Paterson, Jean Kleinschroth, Connie Leach, Jean Ferguson and Lillian Penrice attended a bridal shower on Tuesday afternoon at the Bradshaw home in Looma Vista for Mary McFarlane. Several ladies from the South Cooking Lake district also attended. Many lovely gifts were received. Mary will be married in Saskatoon in August.

Laurie Swabey is convalescing at her home after undergoing surgery in an Edmonton hospital.

Brent Bowerman spent 5 days in Tofield Hospital after fracturing a finger very badly.

Bonnie Ferguson was also a patient for several days with a very bad cough and strep throat.

The Thursday sewing group of the crafts centre surprised Marilyn Potter and Bertha Lalonde on with a lovely cake in honor of their respective birthdays. Eva Davenport was lunch hostess for the day, also making the cake. The group have been sewing diligently each week for the upcoming bazaar on April 23rd from 2 - 5 p.m.

There will be a home baking table, a surprise package table and some pottery and ceramics at the bazaar at the Crafts Centre on Saturday April 23rd. Lunch will be served.

The April Ladies Club meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon at the hall.

A guest report was given by Betty Williams on the series of whist drives Eva Davenport reported on the progress of the bingo coming up on May 19th.

Jean Ferguson was again chosen as convenor for the Strawberry Tea on June 6th.

April birthdays were enjoyed by Eva Davenport, Gladys Swabey and Sarah Kleinschroth. All received a lovely birthday card and a box of chocolates. Lunch hostesses were Diane Franks and Laurie Swabey

Gladys Swabey, Avon dealer for this territory held her draw for an Avon necklace and ring at the Ladies meeting on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Sarah Kleinschroth drawing the lucky winners. First prize winner was Eva Davenport, and Nell Dunn of Deville was second prize winner

Last weekend visitors with Gladys and Frank Swabey were, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swabey of Sylvan Lake and the Lawrence Swabeys of Sherwood Park

Auction sale lists have now been posted in conspicuous places of the community auction on April 30th at the ball grounds.

Doug and Clara George of Edmonton called on Doug's mother on Saturday to say farewell before they left on April 30 for Norway, Sweden and Denmark for 3 weeks.

Spilstead district news items

Lisa Heinbecher

Easter Sunday visitors at the George Gibson home were Art and Jan Gawryluk of Ardrossan, John and Betty Stewart and family of Edmonton, Ernie and Dallas Gawryluk and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelynchuk of Camrose.

George and Isabelle Lee had Easter Sunday dinner with Alice Gould and family of Sherwood Park.

Gus and Mary Schmidt visited with Alfred and Joan Heister and family on Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brunner visited with their son, Terry Brunner and family in Cranbrook, B.C. over Easter.

Wanda Heinbecher and family visited with Mrs. Eric Jensen, Angela and Carolyn in New Norway on Thursday.

Wanda Heinbecher, Bertha Belcourt and Louise Heinbecher visited Mrs. Birdie Brunner in Edmonton Wednesday evening. Wanda and Bertha also visited with Brian and Carol Mitchell in Edmonton

The Spilstead Ladies Society held their monthly Ladies Aid meeting at the Spilstead Hall on Thursday afternoon with eight members and four visitors present Mrs. Elsie Ibon, Doris Verobs, and son and Wanda Heinbecher and family As afternoon was spent tying a quilt for a quilt raffle and talk about renovating the hall Grace L'Hirondelle was hostess.

Mrs. Grace L'Hirondelle attended a Physian Sister's Convention in Red Deer around the first part of April.

Easter Sunday guests at the Lloyd Heinbecher home were Mr and Mrs. John Heinbecher and family and Arnold Heinbecher, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mattiews and Bryan of Seba Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dey of Mundare, Mrs. Edna Wilkes and Mrs. Rachel Heinbecher of Edmonton. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cheryl and family of Edmonton.

Bob and Lillian Berreclath travelled to Bashaw on Thursday to visit Reverend and Mrs Bessay and Mrs. Bessay's mother, Mrs Mc-Farlene of Saskatoon.

when wheat's days are numbered

In some of the areas of Alberta, frost free days between spring and fall don't amount to much more than three months. Park wheat has been developed for this short growing season: it's a good-yielding hard, red spring wheat that matures earlier than other leading varieties such as Neepawa. If Park certified seed is what you need, The Pool has it — at the same price as Neepawa:

CHANGING CONCEPTS IN DRYLAND FARMING

April 25, 1977

Early in this century, ten principles of dryland farming evolved in Manitoba and the plains states of the United States. These principles were popularized in a series of Dryland Farming Congresses, the seventh of which was held in Lethbridge in 1912.

The ten principles were: (1) Plow deep; (3) Keep surface soil loose and level and subsoil compact; (3) Keep down the weeds; (4) Add organic matter to the soil; (5) Summerfallow when rainfall is less than 15 inches; (6) Grow corn or a cultivated crop every 3 or 5 years, (7) Grow clover, alfalfa, or a leguminous crop every few years; (8) Grow early maturing crops; (9) Raise livestock; and (10) Plant trees.

Later, another principle was proposed. It involved the reduction of upward movement and loss of soil moisture by creating a dust mulch on the soil surface. The ideal summerfallow field of the time consisted of a large block of land (for ease in working), the surface kept free of weeds by constant cultivation, covered by a 3 to 4 inch layer of dry, pulverized soil. These conditions invited wind erosion, which began in southern Alberta in 1911 and grew progressively worse into the 1930s, until 1937.

Gradually a better kind of dryland farming evolved. It began in 1919 with the development of the practice of cover cropping by Norman Grier in the Macleod region. This was followed by the development of strip farming by the Knole Brothers on Monarch, and by experiments with blade-type cultivators by Otto Wobick and the Erickson of Bassano and Charles S. Noble of Nobleford.

The Lethbridge Research Station was involved in establishing the new principles. Although the various innovations first appeared on the farms of the region, researchers such as A.E. Palmer and W.H. Fairfield established the scientific foundation of the methods and machines, thus enabling them to be widely used when the drought years of the 1930s came along.

Principles should not change. But the drought years of this century ensured that the original principles of dryland farming did change. Work at the Lethbridge Research Station during the last 50 years has shown that ten modern principles of dryland farming are: (1) Cultivate shallow. (2) Keep surface soil lumpy and ridges and subsoil compact; (3) Keep bare soil covered by living or dead plant material; (4) Reduce wind erosion by farming in strips; (5) Control weeds with herbicides and a minimum of cultivation; (6) Summerfallow unless the soil is moist to a depth of 36 inches, (7) Apply fertilizers to replace nutrients removed by cropping; (8) Add organic matter to the soil, (9) Grow early maturing crops; and (10) Raise livestock.

Pinning down wild oat costs

A Saskatchewan survey reveals that 76 per cent of the province's grain growers suffered loss— from wild oats last year.

Averaged out, the province-wide loss came to 13 per cent for wheat, eight per cent for barley, 10 percent for rape and almost 25 per cent for flax. Maximum losses were 28 per cent for wheat, 15 per cent for barley, 25 percent for rape and 50 percent for flax.

The survey showed that 33 municipalities out of a total of 41 had wild oat infestations of five oat plants per square meter or more. Seventeen municipalities had wild oat infestations of more than 10 plants per square meter.

When the infestation rate in wheat is five wild oat plants per square metre, the value of the crop loss is about equal to the cost of control. This rate of infestation reduces wheat yields by about two bushels per acre. Averaged over a period of the last ten years, the value of two bushels of wheat is enough to pay the cost of herbicide for wild oat control

Mazankowski appeals end of passenger train

Don Mazankowski, member of Parliament for Vegreville, has appealed the decision of the Canadian Transport Commission to discontinue rail passenger service on the Edmonton-Grande Centre and Edmonton-North Battleford routes He based his appeal on new developments which have arisen since the CTC concluded its hearings

The first of these new factors is the renewed emphasis placed by the federal government on utilizing the vast heavy oil deposits in the Lloydminster and Cold Lake regions as an important energy source for Canada. Mazankowski observed that it seemed completely contradictory to curtail access to these regions by discontinuing rail passenger service just as a boom in the area's economy is expected to take place.

The second development which the M P believes sheds new light on the matter is the establishment of VIA Rail Canada by the federal government to revitalize rail passenger service in this country. The Minister of Transport said, - - - "I believe we can make rail passenger services once again a viable, attractive part of an integrated national transportation network." Mazankowski pointed out that shelling down rail services was certainly a step in the wrong direction if this is really the Minister's objective.

To indicate the widespread reaction against the CTC's decision, included with the appeal were copies of letters which Mr. Mazankowski had received from constituents and from the Town of Vegreville and the City of Lloydminster.

In concluding his appeal, the Vegreville M.P. noted that in all the information and correspondence he has received there was a uniform position. If rail passenger service is upgraded and made competitive, the demand for it exists Discontinuing the service at this time is exactly the opposite of what is needed.

FEEDING THE BEEF COW AFTER CALVING

It is vitally important that beef producers meet the greatly increased feed requirements of cows that have just calve, says R.E. Berg, animal nutritionist with Alberta Agriculture.

"Failure to do so reduces the growth rate of the calf and results in problems with the rebreeding of the cow," Mr. Berg said. "It would lead to this year's breeding season being extended, and there would be a consequent extension of next year's calving season.

"A cow's feed requirements increase markedly after calving because the animal needs to produce milk for her calf. Special attention to feed also hastens the cow's recovery from calving and allows the cows to start cycling sooner and with better conception rates."

Each additional 1 lb - day of milk produced by the cow assures an average of 10 lbs higher weaning weight on her calf, said Mr. Berg.

She suggested the following ration samples, based on average feed analysis and average requirements, for meeting a cow's feed requirements after calving. Adjustments for different farm situations should be based on feed quality, cow weights, levels of production, and the general conditions of the cows.

	1600 lb Cow Low Production 16 lb /day	1200 lb Cow Moderate Prod. 25 lb /day
RATION A
Alfalfa Hay (lb./head/day)	20	35
RATION B:
Grass Hay (lb./head/day)	20	34
Oats Grain (lb./head/day)	5	2.5
RATION C
Oat Straw (lb./head/day)	15	15
Alfalfa Hay (lb./head/day)	10	33
RATION D
Cereal Silage (65% moss., lbs./head/day)	57	70
Oats Grain (lb./head/day)		4.5

The producer is advised to complement the above rations with cobalt-iodized salt, a 1:1 mineral supplement and 50,000 I.U./head/day vitamin A.

SLOW COOKERS

I just received some newspaper columns written by Glenda Mcigate, D.H.E. at Stonyville. This one on slow cookers caught my eye. I know a lot of you own one. Glenda is an excellent cook and I know any recipe she sends will be delicious.

Slow cookers have become one of the most popular small appliances. For the working woman, the bachelor or even the busy homemaker, they can be a good solution for preparing meals when you can't be around to tend the pot.

The slow cooking is ideal for using inexpensive meats. Electric slow cooking pots save time, energy and money. On a low setting, you'll be cooking with less energy than a 100-watt bulb. The same meal can be cooked for much less cost than on your kitchen stove. As well, the slow cooker will not heat up your kitchen in the summertime.

Slow cooking is different and requires special recipes. Here's one to try

BUTTY CHICKEN BREAST

¼ cup peanut butter
2 tbs chopped peanuts
2 tbs soy sauce
1 tbs instant minced onion
1 tbs minced parsley
1 clove garlic, crushed
Several drops red pepper sauce
½ tsp ground ginger
4 whole chicken breasts, [illegible] and boned
2 tbs soy sauce
2 tbs honey
1 tbs melted butter or margarine
1 (10 ½-oz) can chicken [illegible]
1 tbs cornstarch

Mix peanut butter, peanuts 2 tbs soy sauce, onion, parsley, garlic, pepper sauce, and ginger. Spread on inside of each chicken breast. Fold in half; close with small skewer or a tooth. Place in a slow-cooking pot. Mix remaining 2 tbs soy sauce with honey, butter and broth; pour over chicken. Cover and cook on low for 4 to 5 hours. Remove chicken from pot. Turn control to high. Dissolve cornstarch in small amount of cold water, stir into sauce. Cook on high for about 15 minutes. Make 8 chicken rolls. Serve with sauce.

There was a meeting of the Community Association at the hall on Monday.

Grant money has arrived from the County to aid last year's capital expenditure on improvements to the hall and plans were discussed for the next phase of the project, which will be a septic system. A proposal was announced for an auction to be held by the Pony Club at the hall on May 28, in the afternoon and you are asked to come forward with donations of unwanted articles for auction. These may be taken to any member of the club, or they may be collected, if you phone Sharon Telford at 663-2754.

Future events at the Hall will be whist on Friday, Pony Club films on Thursday, April 28 and German dinner and Bingo on Saturday, April 30. In May, there will be the Horse Show Clinic on the 7th, the annual Strawberry Tea on the 14th and the Pony Club auction on the 28th.

new weapons in the weed war

Weeds don't change — but the ways of combatting them get better. These four herbicides, recommended by The Pool, represent new advancement in effective weed control.

ROUND-UP Put land back into production by using Round-Up, to eliminate Canada thistle or quackgrass. Also effective to clean up weed growth around buildings, yards and fences.

STAMPEDE Fast effective control of Green Foxtail (Millet) in wheat and barley as well as some broadleafed weeds.

HOE GRASS The new and effective wild oat herbicide which also controls Green Foxtail (Millet) in wheat, flax and rapeseed.

SENCOR New for broadleafed weed control in barley. Particularly valuable for control of Hempnettle and Chickweed.

Ellen Eaton

Donna and Frank Edwards and children Robin and Judy of Whitecourt spent from Friday to Saturday evening with Donna's parents, Howard and Mae Ferguson and all attended the auction sale at Howard's brother-in-law and sister, Charlie and Shirley Nieuwsta's on Saturday.

Charlie Nieuwsta who is a patient at the Cal Mewburn Hospital was allowed home on leave from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon to attend his auction sale on Saturday. Although not able to be out to attend the auction, he was able to watch the sale of the antiques through the window while relaxing in his chair.

Ron and Barb Geeglein and daughter Sydney were guests at the wedding of Barb's niece in Edmonton and later attended the reception and dance.

Elmer and Vi Geeglein returned home Monday after spending the winter in Phoenix, Arizona and visiting other places of interest.

Such changeable weather has been the cause of many people having colds and the flu. At present we are having freezing at nights and quite chilly winds last few days

Mrs Mary Roberge, Mrs Myrtle Neriand, Mrs Stratton and Mrs Ellen Eaton accompanied Mrs Edith Lancaster to Edmonton Friday afternoon and after having supper, all attended the White Hatter Show at the Jubilee Auditorium

Ken and Rachel Ross and children Carla and Tammy were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs Ellen Eaton. Ken was helping his uncle Mervin Ross, with the shack.

Mr and Mrs Bill Simon and family of Stettler were Friday and Saturday guests at the home of Rod and Isabel Rudnicki and family

Mrs Wanne Cossey, wife of Sid Cossey formerly of Ross Creek and now of the nursing home in Lamont, passed away Sunday in the Lamont Hospital following a fall in which she broke her arm. Mr Cossey and the Cossey families are receiving the sympathy of their friends and neighbours on the passing of a wife, mother and grandmother Also receiving sympathy are the Van Dusen's families on the death of their aunt Winnie Funeral was at Ross Creek on Wednesday with interment in the Tofield Cemetery.

Farmers to vote on grain check-off

Preparations for a Western Grain Research Fund plebiscite are nearing completion.

It is anticipated that 200,000 plebiscite ballots, accompanied by explanatory pamphlets and covering letters, will be mailed to grain producers in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and part of British Columbia in May. June 30 is the deadline for returning ballots.

If 50 per cent plus one of the ballots returned are in favour of a check-off on grain deliveries, the funds from which would be used for western grain research, enabling federal legislation will be drafted.

According to the proposed constitution, the check-off would take the form of a levy to be set initially at 0.1 per cent of the total realized price to the producer i.e. $1 for every $1,000 of commodity sold. On the average, this would amount to $15 - $18 a year. It is proposed the levy may not be adjusted more than 0.05 per cent per year, to a maximum of 0.25 per cent. Collection would be on per tonne levy by the grain companies through their head offices.

Quiet buyers

Business was generally quite brisk on Tuesday as auctioneers sold farm machinery, granaries, household goods and other items at the farm estate of the late Jack Dueck, northwest of Ryley.

Tofield seeks water

The Town of Tofield is trying to provide an emergency water supply for the town in case its reservoir goes dry.

Members of town council were told at a regular meeting, that the reservoir could go dry by the first of June because there has been no water runoff and little or no rain to date this year, effectively lowering the water level.

As a first step towards conserving water, councillors decided that all lawn watering in the town would have to stop immediately.

The water committee was then asked to investigate and do everything necessary to locate and provide an emergency supply of water for the town.

Earlier in the meeting, a report was received from the town's engineer regarding land for a water storage reservoir. The engineer also presented a report on the proposed sewage lagoon site.

Third and final reading was given to a by-law which will provide maintenance and control of the Tofield Cemetery.

Third reading was given to a by-law to impose a special frontage assessment for local improvements. Prior to final reading, the by-law was amended so that the shortest portion of corner lots would be deemed frontage.

It was decided that the Court of Revision would be held on May 16-18 from seven until eleven o'clock each evening.

Council decided to ask the Lions Club to maintain the Lions' playground as a club project. This decision was reached after councillors were told that Bill Kennedy will again look after the town's playgrounds.

It was decided that the week of May 9-15 would be declared as "Anti-Litter Week" in the town.

Brian Freeland was appointed as building inspector for the town.

A tender amounting to $888 from Arnold Jones was accepted for the purchase and removal of the old town shop. The building must be moved by June 15th.

Accounts amounting to $16,427.21 were approved for payment.

Other routine business matters were handled at the council meeting.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved meeting of town council, held on April 11th.

Winners announced for annual Festival

The annual Festival of Arts, Crafts, Drama, Music, etc., has once again come and gone.

It was felt by the Committee it was well worth the work put into getting ready for it.

The music, dramas, speeches, poetry, etc. could have had many more entries, although those entered were of good quality.

This year, the Committee tried something new in the way of having community groups put in displays of the work they are doing, but not catered in the judging.

The committee will be holding an exhaustion meeting soon to decide on what will be for 1978 and how it will be staged and where.

The winners and runners up in the music, dance, bands, speeches, poetry reading are as follows:

Categories added to Tofield Fair

by Doris Brown

Members of the Fairboard met on April 20th to make further plans for the Tofield Fair to be held on August 20th.

Three new categories will be added this year — school exhibits, photography and a pet show.

It was also decided to encourage more displays this year - all clubs and organizations are invited to participate.

A committee consisting of Hazel Patterson, Roberta Ceretzke and Doris Brown was elected to look after displays. This year livestock will also be displayed. The people displaying livestock will be responsible for their own pens. It is felt that the livestock displays will add a great deal of interest and anyone wishing to display livestock should contact Roberta Ceretzke at 662-2334 or Hazel Patterson 662-4638.

The prize list books have been printed and are now at Dykeman's Confectionery. This year, a mailing list has been drawn up and exhibitors at previous fairs will be mailed books. Additional books will be made available for those who would like them.

Plans are for an even bigger and better Fair for Tofield than the one held last year.

RCMP crack down on liquor offences

The Tofield Detachment of the RCMP have instituted a severe crackdown on offences related to the use of alcohol.

Five persons have been charged with impaired driving with four pleading guilty to the charge and were fined $300 each and had their licenses suspended for a period of time.

The fifth person charged in this regard pleaded not guilty and was fined $50 and costs or seven days in jail.

To aid in the battle against the illegal use of alcohol, the Tofield Detachment is making effective use of a breathilizer which they received earlier this month. As a result of the machine's use, four charges were laid.

Non Conviction
A young Ryley man was placed on probation for one year and assessed a fine of one thousand dollars ($1,000) after he pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent assault.

Originally, the man had been charged with the crime of rape.

Cheque Warning
RCMP are again asking the public for assistance in identifying a body which was found a short time ago.

If anyone knows of someone who has been missing for a period of time, they are asked to contact the Tofield Detachment or the nearest detachment at the following number.

Two young men from Viegreville have been remanded until May 10th for a presentence report after they appeared in court on charges of theft.

The men were apprehended by RCMP after they had allegedly taken tires and a jackall jack from Kellai Motors, in Tofield.

Warnings
RCMP have issued warnings to businessmen to be careful about cashing cheques as there has been an outbreak of NSF cheques being presented to recent weeks. RCMP note that it is an offense to write an NSF cheque.

After a number of bicycles were reported as being stolen, RCMP are suggesting that bicycles should be locked when not in use.

As well, people on acreages should take steps to protect their property as building materials are being taken from job sites, with one theft showing the loss of fifteen (15) sheets of particle boards.

RCMP are recommending extreme care when burning garbage or setting any outdoor fires because of the extremely dry conditions that exist as they note that a number of fires have gotten out of control in the past few weeks.

With the advent of warm weather, RCMP are aware that the annual "running away from home" by juveniles is on the increase and are warning parents that warm weather always presents a problem in this regard.

Leaving

Elsa Heiberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Heiberg of Tofield RR will be leaving tomorrow (Friday) for Ottawa for a week's stay. Miss Heiberg won the trip to the nation's capitol because of her accomplishments in 4-H work. She, along with her sister, Grace, plan on going to Norway during the coming summer.

Poe Pourri

by Lorraine Poulsen

When husband Bob decided it was time to part with the raglan Chev, I was disappointed. The maroon Chev with it's black top was a trusty old car and while its replacement is a sleek, well-running car, there are time [illegible]

But, there is a limit

I didn't argue the loss of the Chev but I refuse to part with the green 1952 half ton Ford.

It's as much a part of Poe as is the snow itself.

When a store customer voiced interest in purchasing the truck, a family feud nearly started.

It was that truck which load a fleet of half tons from Edmonton last fall to Poe Tree, all of the trucks were loaded with our personal belongings but, the green 1952 half ton led the way

And it was that half ton that started in below zero weather this past winter when the Chev refused to turn over

Not to mention the fact that it was that half ton which carried the first load of supplies to the Poe Store when the store was being re-opened.

"That truck just can't be sold Bob Now that's final you have discovered that the reason it didn't steer too well was because the two front tires were different sizes and you changed that around, it runs like a top. I don't care what anyone offers for it money-wise, it's NOT for sale."

While Bob argued that he too has a soft spot for the old Ford, I would have lost the argument if the Sheriff of Poe hadn't aided with me.

The new Sheriff has decided that he too likes the truck. In fact, the truck can't be moved from the garage to the gas pumps without the specific approval of the Sheriff. The truck does not move from the yard without carrying the Sheriff with it.

Sure, the truck has probably seen better days but it works when you need it most and that's what counts.

I won in the end. The truck stays. I think I will buy a special front seat cushion for the Sheriff.

Recreation Report

by George Baker

It is that time again of the year when the County of Beaver annual Badminton Tournament is held.

This was the seventh annual tournament, with the lowest registrations for playing. The total entries being 38.

There were 12 mens' singles, 4 ladies' singles, 20 in mixed doubles, 8 in ladies' doubles, and 14 in mens' doubles.

Winners

Mens' singles - Doug McMaster, Holden, 2nd - Brian Mickish, Holden

Ladies' singles - Mrs. Ruth Lever, Viking, 2nd - Mrs. Coralie Norton, Ryley

Mens' Doubles - Brian Mickish and Doug McMaster, Holden, 2nd - Kevan Lever and Tom Harray, Viking

Mixed Doubles - Walter Stefanik, Bruce and Ruth Likness, Viking, 2nd - Ruth Lever and Kevan Lever, Viking

Ladies' Doubles - Marlene Ockrud and Gail Wilkinson, Ryley; 2nd - Doris Fouts and Ruth Likness, Viking

The tournament was completed by 3:15 p.m. on Sunday and was hosted by the Tofield Badminton Group.

It was noted after several games had been played that two or three entries were playing who did not now live within the County, but their address was shown on their entries as Holden

As there has never been any definite entry or play rules written to follow, they were allowed to stay in to the end. However, there will be a meeting held of all groups within the County before starting the 1977-78 season, possibly in August or September to lay down something more definite and either open up the tournament and invite out-of-County entries in, or close it to only County residents, regardless of whether they pay in a County club or group

It was, I felt very poor taste for the host community group to take the discussion onto the playing court and very bad sportsmanship and a discourtesy We apologize

If anyone knew of the incident prior to any games, when the entry sheets were put up, should have protested before, anyone played any games

Thank you all for entering

Softball

This is to inform all players, ladies and men, that there will be a two-day clinic for coaches, umpires, players and anyone interested in softball

First day will cover rules, second day will be Umpiring Information

This will be the only clinic held this year, regular early. We know it is one month away, but time has a habit of sliding by very quickly

Forms and further information will be available from Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department, Box 5, Ryley, Alberta, TOB 4A0

Encyclopedia missing

by Grace Phillips

Have you seen any of the volumes of encyclopedia which are missing from the Tofield School library?

Many volumes are still missing thus making the entire sets practically useless.

If these sets have to be replaced (and they are necessary for the work of the students), their cost will add appreciably to the school budget.

Mrs Blakey, the school library clerk, would be glad to see any of the missing volumes returned before replacements are necessary. With final exams not so far away, the students have an immediate need for these missing volumes

Will you please be on the lookout for them?

ALBERTA HOME SAFETY WEEK — APRIL 24-30

FIRE

More than 2,000 accidental deaths occur in Canadian homes every year, a figure surpassed only by traffic fatalities.

According to statistics compiled by the Alberta Safety Council's Home Safety Committee, most of these deaths are caused by falls, fires and - or explosions, suffocation and poisonings. Falls are apparently responsible for over a third of home accidents and for 14 per cent of all fatal accidents in Canada. Seven out of every 10 fatal falls in the home happen to people over 65.

To guard against fatal falls, the Home Safety Committee recommends putting night lights in the bedrooms of elderly people and installing handrails on all stairways. It also suggests using safety gates to prevent small children from falling down stairs and anchoring scatter rugs to the floor with rubber matting, an anti-skid coating or tacks.

If you want to avoid a fire in your home never use frayed electrical cords, never overload an electrical circuit and never replace a fuse with a coin. Do not leave a small electrical appliances plugged in when it is not in use, make sure that large electrical appliances are properly grounded, and avoid using extension cords whenever possible. If you have to use an extension cord make sure that it is the correct guage of wire for the appliance it is to be used for, and do not use light household extension cords outside.

Never use water to put out a grease fire on the kitchen stove. Use a lid or a large wet towel or pot baking soda on it. Never smoke in bed. Install a smoke detector in your home. The Home Safety Committee reports that many lives would be saved every year if all homes were equipped with smoke detectors

SUFFOCATION

Statistics show that about 250 children die in Canada every year from suffocation. Most of these deaths could have been prevented with a little more care. The Home Safety Committee suggests, for example, that babies be given only rattles with handles too large to put in their mouths, and that they not be given pillows in their cribs. The committee also stresses that babies should never be left to feed themselves from a bottle propped up in their crib. They should always be held when fed

POISONING

Keep medicines and pills out of reach of children. Never leave them on a bedside table or dresser. Do not store cleaning products near food or where small children can reach them, and never put toxic substances in containers which might be used for food or drink. Keep them in clearly labelled containers. Never dispose of unwanted or unused drugs in the garbage . . . always put them down the toilet.

Don't be silly

The United Nations populations division has projected a world population of 8.5 billion in the year 2,000. This is an increase of 80% in 26 years, yet it is one of the most conservative estimates.

If all these people are to be fed, it must surely be in their own countries, and mostly by food they can grow themselves. A realistic concept of what size the transportation needs to be to feed those additional 2.9 billion people, is hard to develop. What is a day's or year's food requirements for about three billion human beings?

In terms of calories, at 2,500 calories per day per person (a reasonable minimum requirement for a mixed population) our three billion persons would consume nearly 2.7 million billion calories per year. The most direct way to supply this energy is through cereals - wheat for instance An ounce of wheat contains about 100 calories. If we translate the food needs of our three billion persons added to the population into wheat, we find a need for 27.4 thousand billion ounces of wheat This is the staggering sum of almost a million million tons of wheat, requiring ten million railcars to move it This is 100,000 trains of wheat per year en route to our hungry new population.

There can be no doubt about where this food should be grown. Transporting it across our indices is unrealistic We can only imagine offloading the 100,000 translocale onto donkeys and hall-ton trucks at the shores of far off recipient countries.

Information meeting for pheasant raisers

A meeting of all those who have submitted their names to raise pheasant chicks will be held in the Dayland Community Hall on Friday, May 13th. at 8:30 p.m. Doug Thompson of Upland Birds Alberta will be present to discuss with the raisers the proper method of setting up the brooder house and the construction of the runway.

Mr. Thompson will have a sample of all the equipment required to raise the chicks. He will discuss the feeding and care of the birds. He will also give each raiser the date on which the chicks will be delivered to the illustrating point in this area.

The chicks will be arriving in lots of approximately 200 chicks for each delivery, starting on June 17th and continuing every weekend for the following five or six weeks.

Then it is very important that all the people who have sent their names to Upland Birds Alberta or to Lloyd Gillespie attend the meeting. For further information contact Lloyd Gillespie at 374-3848 (residence) or 374-3676 (business). Mr. Thompson will not be visiting each raiser as first planned as his busy schedule will not permit it.

Upland Birds Alberta are very pleased and amazed at the response to this project in this area. It far exceeds their fondest hope when they decided to restock.

Keen interest in this project has been shown in all of central and northern areas where pheasants once were plentiful. Interest has even found its way into government circles who are most cooperative. Mr. Thompson stated that Upland Birds Alberta plns to construct three winter feeding stations in this area this summer, so the feeding stations will be ready for use this winter.

Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A.
Clover Bar

Last Thursday I introduced a resolution in the Legislature which would commit the Government to much greater support of small business.

An initial proposal asks the Government to implement a series of tax incentives for small businesses which were announced by the Provincial Treasurer over two years ago. Action was promised on these proposals by 1977 at the latest, but we've seen nothing yet

The second proposal urges the government to strengthen the position of independent gasoline retailers in dealing with major oil companies. Since the government doesn't favour legislation requiring functional divorcement, we've left the door open for some other type of action, perhaps involving the selling of maximum shares on the basis of which could be controlled by different types of operation and ownership.

The third proposal urges the government to develop purchasing goals in order to give small businesses a greater proportion of government business We are simply asking that an effort be made to change the situation where big government tends to deal with other big organizations. Government business should be given to small, local suppliers in increased proportions each year

The Tories made a strong commitment to small business when they came to power in 1971, and six years is long enough to wait for action!

Organizations like the Alberta Opportunity Company and the Agricultural Development Corporation have not significantly reduced the problems of small business in Alberta

We, in the Official Opposition strongly support action to assist small business, and will continue to press for Government action to give this assistance

I had a busy week, with speaking engagements in Minden and Brooks, and visits to the Cooking Lake and Lamont areas.

Comments or questions may be sent to my Edmonton office, 204 Legislative Building, or phone 427-2251, collect.

A revolutionary alfalfa strain

If Ellerslie 1, a new alfalfa strain, is licensed by the federal government this year, it could mean a resurgence of an almost vanished alfalfa seed industry in northern Alberta, and a great upsurge in alfalfa seed production in the rest of the province

The unique characteristic of Ellerslie 1 is its self-pollinating ability In fact, it is the only alfalfa strain in the world that has maintained this self-pollinating characteristic through successive generations.

Alfalfa is one of 69 members of the medicago group of plants, found in such Mediterranean countries as Turkey, Lebanon, Greece, Spain and Morocco and in North Africa Apart from alfalfa most are self-pollinating, but their descent cross-pollinating mechanism is evidence that this was not always the case Since other plants in the group had developed from cross-pollinating to self-pollinating species, there seemed no reason why alfalfa could not also become self-pollinator either through natural selection or plant breeding

It is this self-pollinating ability that enables Ellerslie 1 to produce two to four times as much seed as the regular alfalfa strains where there are no pollinating insects It has outyielded such varieties as Grimm and Ladak in tests carried out at the University of Alberta's Parkland Farm and at Ellerslie, near Edmonton It is now being tested in northern and southern areas of the province Results from these tests should be available within the next year or two

If Ellerslie 1 performs as well in other areas as it has done in the Edmonton area, it could revive the alfalfa seed production industry in that part of the province Production has almost died out since land clearing and cultivation have destroyed the native bumble bee's natural habitat Most of Canada's alfalfa seed is now produced in southern Alberta where growers use domesticated leafcutter bees to pollinate their crops. Leafcutters cannot be used in northern areas because they will not work when the temperature falls below 20 degree C. and honey bees avoid alfalfa blossoms because they do not like the tripping mechanism of these flowers.

NEW LEGUME INOCULANT

A soil bacteria strain selected at Agriculture Canada's Sainte-Foy, Que., Research Station could increase alfalfa yields in Eastern Canada.

The rhizobium bacteria, Balsac, can be used as a legume inoculant. The Balsac inoculant gave good results in greenhouse and field tests in Quebec and outperformed commercial inoculants available in that province. The Balsac mother-culture is available to manufacturers for commercial production.

TRACING THE EXPERIMENTS

Species of atoms known as isotopes are widely used in agricultural research to trace the path of elements through a variety of biochemical transformations

Dr. V O Biederbeck, a scientist at Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station, uses isotopes frequently in his research. He says they are of great value in understanding the many complicated processes which affect plant nutrition.

CATTLE EXPORTS

After falling off two years ago, Canadian purebred dairy cattle exports have increased substantially this year In the first six months of the year, 10,825 Holsteins were exported, compared with about half that number during the same period last year. Over all, dairy cattle exports increased by 82 per cent in the first six months of 1976 Beef cattle exports are strong as well.

The person who developed this revolutionary alfalfa strain is Dr. Karl Lesins, professor emeritus of the University of Alberta's department of genetics As a supervisor in a Latvian agricultural college in the 1930's, he became interested in the medicago plants. He later continued his research at a Swedish plant breeding station where he worked from 1945 to 1951 before emigrating to Canada. He arrived at the University of Alberta in 1951 with about 400 bottles of seed Since then he has made seven expeditions to Mediterranean countries collecting seed. His present stock of 3,000 bottles, 300 related to alfalfa, represents the most complete collection of the medicago genus in the world.

Campers slowed on highways

Truck speed limits in Alberta will now apply to all motor vehicles weighing more than 5,000 pounds. Dr Hugh M. Horner, deputy premier and minister of transport announced today.

The major thrust of the new regulation is that self-propelled holiday homes will be classed with trucks so far as speed limits are concerned if their weight exceeds the prescribed maximum in substance the new regulations declare that all motor vehicles with a gross weight of more than 5,000 pounds must be driven at the truck speed limits.

Most self-propelled holiday homes in Alberta are now registered as passenger vehicles and previously could be operated at passenger car limits. The new law takes into account the size of these larger vehicles and the relative difficulty in manoeuvering them.

Final rites are held for Winnifred Cossey

Mrs. Winnifred Cossey passed away at the Archer Memorial Hospital on April 17th at the age of 84 years

She was born at Hartington, Nebraska on Jan. 1st, 1893 to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Van Buskirk and was the last living member of a family of six brothers and one sister.

She came to Rose Creek in the late 1800's with her family. She married Abner Hallberg and had 2 sons, Albert and Robert and 1 daughter, Emma. Her husband passed away at an early age

Later, she married Sydney Cossey and they spent several years raliroading with her 2 brothers in Southern Alberta. Mrs. Cossey worked in the camp kitchen cooking for the crew and her husband worked laying the rail. After a few years they came to the Rose Creek area where they farmed and retired. Two sons Lloyd and Ralph were born to them. When the Beaver Lodge was built in Lamont they made their home there. This winter they moved to the Nursing Home where Mr. Cossey still resides.

She leaves her husband, Sydney, three sons, Albert Hallberg of Camrose, Lloyd of Edmonton, Ralph of Rose Creek, one daughter, Emma Borstad of Edmonton; 14 grandchildren; and 19 great-grandchildren.

Report from your M.L.A.

by John D. Batiuk

A very important and exciting week has been experienced in the Vegreville constituency On Friday April 15, Premier Lougheed visited the Town of Mundare for a very special occasion, namely the official opening of the Senior Citizens Lodge and also the Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre

This was indeed a historic day for the Mundare District, not only because two fine buildings were officially opened, but also Mundare played host to the Premier of our fine province This day marked the first time ever a Premier has visited the town.

The Senior Citizens Lodge - a 44 bed accommodation - and a promise of the former government, twenty years ago, finally materialized.

The Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre, built in 1976 and almost totally completed, was constructed mostly by the senior citizens themselves. A lot with an old building on it was donated to the Senior Citizens Club by the Town of Mundare The senior citizens demolished the old building and built a new one. Monies for this project came from grants from the federal and provincial governments as well as donations from the general public in the community

Celebrations for the event comprised of a program that was witnessed in the national Hall by a crowd of 600 to 700 people The platform guests included the Premier, Senator Hastings, Mr Don Mazankowski, M.P., Rev. V. Fidkainy, Superior of O.S.B.M., Rev. D. Welschuk, pastor of the Mundare Parish, Architect E. Yuzda, Mrs. Schrempf, president of Schrempf Construction, Mr. S. Yurwak and Mrs Eva Caruk, Senior Citizens, Mr. Joe Moroziuk, President of the Mundare Drop-In Centre and myself Master of Ceremonies for the program was Mr. Peter Poliuchuk, Mayor of Mundare At the conclusion of the program, tours were made of both buildings Lunch and refreshments were served.

At approximately 5:30 p.m., the Premier left Mundare for another very important function and that was to attend a testimonial dinner, program and dance to honor Mr. Dick Geleta, Mayor of Two Hills for the past thirty-five years. During all those years Mr. Geleta was always elected by acclamation Both the years of service and election of mayor by acclamation is indeed a record in this province, and no doubt even in Canada.

Approximately five hundred (500) people attended the gala event at the Centennial Hall. Many others have indicated their desire to attend, however, the Hall Committee found that it would be too difficult to host any more.

Mrs. Geleta, a pharmacist by profession, in the town of 1200 has also played a very important role in the progress of the community.

Not only did Mr. Geleta serve as the Mayor of the Town of Two Hills, but took an active part in the various community organizations, the church and he is also the Chairman of the County of Two Hills Hospital Board at present.

The Head Table guests included The Honourable Premier, Honourable Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Steinhauer, Minister and Mrs. Bill Yurko, Minister Dr Bert and Mrs Hohol, Mr Don Mazankowski, M.P., Deputy Mayor and Mrs. Steve Shybunka, my wife Rose and myself. Mr Mike Pawiuk acted as Master of Ceremonies and many speeches were made praising Mayor and Mrs Geleta for their contributions and role in the community.

During the evening Mr Geleta received several gifts of appreciation. Premier Lougheed presented him with a scroll of recognition from the Province of Alberta The guests continued to enjoy themselves dancing into the late hours of the night.

A delegation of the Vegreville Seed Cleaning Plant Association accompanied by Deputy Reeve of the County of Minburn, Mr. W Urusiak, District Agriculturist Mr N Chemiuk and Agricultural Fieldman of the County of Minburn met with the Minister of Agriculture and myself Their concern is the age and condition of the cleaning plant now located almost in the heart of the Town of Vegreville Their interest seemed to lie in the area to either construct a new cleaning plant outside the town limits or relocate the present plant and upgrade it.

The present plant, built in 1952, was funded three ways - 33-one-third percent by the provincial government, 33-one third percent by the County of Minburn and 33-one-third percent raised by the members. The delegation wanted to know how much assistance they could receive in the relation and upgrading or reconstruction of the plant Minister Moore assured them that he would review their request and advise them in the near future

Recently, Allison Sales, a grade eleven exchange student from Dorion, Quebec attending the Vegreville Composite High School visited the Legislature accompanied by Mr and Mrs Willis Carter and their daughter Cathy They were given the usual introduction to the Assembly and were recognized by the House.

On Monday, April 18th, 35 grade 10 students visited the Legislature and were introduced to the Legislative Assembly. They were accompanied by their teacher, Mr. Dunn and bus driver Mr. Komarnisky.

Dr Horner, Deputy Premier made a ministerial statement on the flooding of the Fort McMurray area Some seventy residences were damaged in the flood, some of them very severely and may not be able to bring them back to their original state Inspectors are in the area and the Disaster Services department will assist in the same manner as to the past few years since the Disaster Services was enacted. It is expected damages will be in the neighborhood of $4 to $5 million

Dr. Horner, Deputy Premier and Minister of Transportation announced that tenders for a contract to construct a bridge at Daverney on the North Saskatchewan River will be let today. The estimated date for completion of construction is October 31, 1978.

Progressive Farming

April 26, 1977

STATEMENT OF
ALBERTA'S DAIRY POLICY

In a recent statement on Alberta's dairy policy, provincial minister of agriculture, Marvin Moore, said that the dairy industry should not suffer nearly the disruption that occurred last year, that all Alberta's industrial milk producers will be given a quota at least equal to that of last year and that a number of producers will be able to benefit from an increased amount of quota.

Last year the consumption of fluid milk in Alberta increased by a surprising 6 per cent, considerably more than in any other province in Canada. This has permitted increases in fluid milk quotas and a resulting availability of increased market share quota for distribution.

Mr Moore explained that the priority of distribution of new quota will be to small producers who are not currently operating viable farm units. The first sector that will benefit will be that of the small cream producer. During the past dairy year, the cream producer could only participate in the dairy industry by purchasing quota from milk producers. The dairy board recognized the problems that this policy created, and consequently in this dairy year a new cream producer will be allotted on deliveries a market sharing quota for the amount of deliveries up to 300 pounds of butterfat.

According to Mr Moore, extra consideration will be given to those cream producers who are currently delivering less than 300 pounds. They will be allocated quota on the same basis as new producers to a maximum amount of 300 pounds.

For those cream producers with quota of less than 10,000 pounds and wishing to convert to industrial milk production, a special policy is being introduced. Upon application to the Alberta Dairy control Board, a cream producer will be allotted on delivery additional quota up to 10,000 pounds of butterfat. This will mean that many marginal cream producers will be able to develop viable full time dairy operations.

Mr Moore pointed out that this benefit will also be extended to industrial milk producers with market share quota of less than 10,000 pounds. Upon application, the Alberta Dairy Control Board will provide for additional market share quota on deliveries up to 10,000 pounds of butterfat.

Exact details as to application procedures for obtaining additional quota will be mailed directly to each of Alberta's dairy producers.

Mr Moore also said that the small number of producers who suffered financial difficulties because of the past dairy policy do not qualify for special consideration in the preceding categories, they may consider contacting the Alberta Agricultural Development Corporation for funds to purchase dairy quota. Of further interest to these producers will be the dairy development loans which will provide up to $12,000 of guaranteed funds. Partnerships and corporations may receive up to $24,000. These loans include an interest rebate of $70 per $1,000 of loan for the first three years. These funds can be used for constructing, altering, or repairing of buildings, for purchase of dairy equipment, or for purchase of quota. Producers are advised to discuss their proposals with dairy inspectors or district agriculturists.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TOWN OF TOFIELD

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 153 of the Municipal Taxation Act, R.S.A. 1970, as amended, notice is hereby given that the Council of the Town of Tofield intends to undertake the construction of sidewalk as a local improvement at an estimated cost of $17,046.00, of which $7,790.00 is to be borne by the Town at large and $9,256.00 is to be charged against all lands abutting that portion of the street or place wherein the local improvement is located.

The location of the proposed local improvement is as follows:

On	From	To
53 Avenue	52 Street	Westerly	Southside	310 feet
50 Street	53 Avenue	Northerly	West side	280 feet
50 Street	54 Avenue	55 Avenue	West side	490 feet
50 Street	56 Avenue	57 Avenue	East side	310 feet
57 Avenue	50 Street	Easterly	South side	140 feet
56 Avenue	50 Street	49 Street	North side	600 feet
				2130 feet

The estimated per front foot cost is $8.00. The estimated annual unit rate per front foot is 97 cents payable for a period of 20 years at a rate not exceeding 10%%. Corner lots abutting the local improvement shall be assessed only on the narrowest portion of the lot, which is deemed frontage and the remainder is deemed flankage.

Notice is further given that unless the majority of the owners of the lands that may be assessed therefore, representing at least one-half in value thereof as aforesaid, petition the Council against it within two weeks, after the last publication of the Notice, the local improvement may be undertaken and the cost thereof assessed by the system of assessment referred to in this Notice.

If no petition sufficiently signed has, within the time limited in that behalf, been presented to the Council against the local improvement or assessment aforementioned, the Council may undertake the proposed local improvement at any time within three years of the giving of the Notice.

Date of the last publication of this Notice will be the 28th day of April, 1977.

Dated at the Town of Tofield this 21st day of April, 1977.

Rapeseed, the prairie's oilseed crop, is both a major export grain and a domestically processed seed. Although India produces more rapeseed, Canada is the leading exporter, shipping two-thirds of the crop to world markets. However, Canada is also an importer of oilseed products, some of which could be replaced by rapeseed products.

Competitors for rapeseed are numerous. High oil yielding crops are the oil palms and coconuts. Soybeans, the world's largest oilseed crop, produce more protein meal than oil. Like rapeseed, sunflowers and peanuts produce about equal amounts of oil and meal. By-products of crops are also competitors, for example cottonseed oil, soybean oil and corn oil. Canada imports meal produced from only a few of these competitive crops, but imports oil made from most of them.

Soybean meal is the dominant livestock protein feed supplement in the world. About 88 per cent of global protein meal production is from soybeans, with the United States as the major producer.

Canadians consume 750 million pounds of vegetable oil each year. One third is rapeseed oil. Livestock in Canada consume one million tons of protein meals annually. Rapeseed meal represents less than one-fifth of this amount.

Domestic oilseed processors crush 15 million bushels of prairie rapeseed and 28 million bushels of soybeans, half of which is Ontario's production and half is imported U.S. soybeans. This means that one-third of the Canadian oilseed crush is rapeseed and two-thirds is soybeans. Since rapeseed yields twice as much oil as soybeans, the production of oil is about equal. On the other hand, soybeans produce more meal than rapeseed. Canada's soybean crush yields three times the volume of meal as does rapeseed.

Imports of soybean oil and other vegetable oils almost equal the amount of rapeseed oil production. Canada also imports soybean meal, about 1.3 times the volume of rapeseed meal produced by domestic processors. The result is that nearly 80 percent of Canadian livestock protein meal and vegetable oil requirements are met by imported oilseeds or oilseed products.

Rapeseed oil is utilized in three ways: in cooking and salad oils, in shortenings and in margarines. Rapeseed produces an excellent cooking oil and is a fine natural salad oil. It is used in the manufacture of mayonnaise and salad dressings. For shortenings, rapeseed is blended with other oils to produce high quality baking shortenings. Margarines are basically produced by blending various vegetable oils and rapeseed oil is most suitable.

Meal from rapeseed crushing is a protein supplement for livestock. It contains 36 percent protein and excellent levels of calcium, phosphorus, lysine and methionine. Utilization of the meal has suffered from the toxic substances which affect the thyroid glands in animals. Meal from the Argentine variety Tower is free of these toxins and research is proceeding on a similar Polish type.

Growth of both the oil and meal markets within Canada is likely to occur. Many vegetable oil products require blending with other oils, and it is therefore not possible for rapeseed to replace all imported oils. Ontario is likely to continue to grow soybeans and eastern processors will crush the domestic crop and sufficient imported soybeans to maintain plant operations. As vegetable oil and meal utilization expands, it should be possible for rapeseed to increase its share of both the Canadian oil and meal markets.

Mineral production in the N.W.T. accounts for 6.3 per-cent of Canada's total mineral output, yet 100 percent of the tungsten, 50 percent of the lead, 25 percent of the zinc, 24 percent of the silver produced by Canada comes from the north.

Daniel 6 27 He hath delivered Daniel from the lions

C J Scofield often told of an incident that helped believers find deliverance from their sins and evil habits. He said "Shortly after I was saved I passed by the window of a store in St. Louis where I saw on display a picture of Daniel in the lion's den. That great man of faith, with his hands behind his back and those wild beasts circling him, was looking up and answering the king who was anxious to know if God had protected him from physical harm. As I stood there, great hope flooded my heart. Only a few days had passed since I, a drunken lawyer, had been converted and no one had yet told me anything about the keeping power of Jesus Christ. I thought in myself, there are lions all about me too, such as my old habits and sins. But the One who shut the lions mouths for Daniel can also shut them for me"! I knew that I could not win the battle in my own strength. That painting made me realize that while I was weak and helpless my God was strong and able. He had paved me and now He would also be able to deliver me from the wild beasts in my life. Oh, what a rest of spirit that truth brought me"

Hastings Lake

by Lou Fenna

Home with the migrating birds are Gwen and Tom Lachine, after four months of leisurely travel in the USA. They included a long stop in Phoenix, Arizona, which appeared to them to be a winter resort for Canadians, to the extent that the Phoenix Legion put on a special Canadian night for two or three hundred northerners in town. Then on via Tucson to Mexico and back to California where they were joined by their daughter Sandy and visited Disneyland and former Hastings Lake residents the Nelsons now living in Sacramento. The homeward journey through the interior was to aim at Chilliwack and brought them through the mountains back to Edmonton.

The Ladies Club met on Thursday and made arrangements for the Strawberry tea which will be on May 14 at 2:00 o'clock p.m.

There will be plant, baking and craft tables and all visitors are welcome to bring donations or articles to sell by consignment. Additionally, a big basket loaded with goodies will be raffled.

At the whist drive on Friday prize winners were Gladys Gill, Margaret Paterson, Sandy Scott and Harold

Cavalcade to tour army camp, landfall

A conducted tour of the army camp at Wainwright, a night at the Taylor Campsite at Chauvin, and a conducted tour of the Massive Landfall on the Battle River Hills will be the highlights of this year's Cavalcade, planned by the Battle River Tourist Association.

Following last year's highly successful cavalcade, the Battle River Tourist Association has decided to entirely new country this season, and will cover a portion of the eastern end of the area, to prove there are highly interesting and scenic areas everywhere in Zone 1.

The tour will run over Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29, and will pick up tour members at Camrose, Killam and Fabyan. The program will start from 8 to 9:30 in the Camrose Fairgrounds, moved on to Killam from 10 to 10:30, then pick up the final members at Fabyan's campsite at noon, where lunch is planned.

The army camp, including the water treatment plant, will be featured in a conducted tour during the afternoon, following which the tour will move to the Taylor Campsite, at Chauvin.

An evening of family fun and entertainment is planned for the Taylor site, including a huge bonfire, a western round, and a sing-along, with prizes as part of the program.

By Sunday, the tour will see some unique talent on the farm, then move to the famed Massive Landfall, before moving on home. It is thought some members of the party may wish to extend their tours, and a list of things to do and places to see will be provided for all participants.

The tour is open to anyone, and registration is through the Battle River Tourist Association office in Camrose. The registration fee of $10 per camping unit includes cost of the campground, weiner roast, bonfire, etc. However, participants are responsible for their own camping units, and their own meals.

Registration deadline is May 16, although refunds may be permitted up to May 23.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SP) — The aftermath to Finance Minister Donald Macdonald's March 31 budget was characterize by complaint. From labor came complaint because not enough was done to ease the disastrous unemployment situation. From business came the complaint that not enough had been done to provide incentives for investment. Both sides complained that price and income controls were not removed immediately.

The opposition complained, too, but then we expect that. The Tories expressed opinion very much in line with business comment, and the New Democrats were very much in organized labor's corner. The Public Service Alliance complained, too, mainly over controls and the fact that there is the growing feeling that public servants may well be the last ones relieved of the bargaining restraints imposed by controls.

I found it passing strange that few of the complainers pin-pointed the record $9.4 billion deficit Macdonald is forecasting for fiscal 1977-78. These who did talk about the deficit were not very eager to suggest cuts of government programs which should be chopped to save money.

The finance minister had very little choice in what to do, faced with the economic situation in Canada brought about by government policies of the past Macdonald, once known for being one of the left of centre Liberals in the party, seems to have changed his thinking significantly during his tenure in the finance portfolio.

In this latest budget, for example, he opted to keep pressure on inflation fighting, rather than spend us into an even deeper deficit by trying to create jobs. He virtually conceded that there will be more than a million Canadians out of work for at least the balance of 1977. It's questionable whether or not he would have done so, mind you, if it weren't for the mass generous unemployment insurance system in the world. They have a system in Communist countries, you know, it's called work, and if you don't do it, you don't eat.

Around the town

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Keith Raheem will be the guest speaker at the PTA meeting at the school library on May 5th at eight o'clock.

On Friday, John Balnish M.L.A. presented a cheque for $85,000 to Howard Berke of the Beaver Historical and Agricultural Society for the swimming pool and a cheque for $92,500 to J. Furnal of the Holden and District Agricultural Society for the Arena Complex. Both cheques were financial assistance under the major agricultural and recreational facility development program.

Tofield Mennonite Boys Club held a very successful pancake and sausage supper on Monday night with many cooks doing the honours in the kitchen while the boys did an excellent job of serving.

A number of parents journeyed to Swift Current over the weekend to attend the closing exercises at the Bible School and to bring home their children who included Janice Epp and Dianne Neufeld

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bartel of Calgary (nee Evelyn Schmidt), on April 6th, a son, Ryan David. Paul Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dave Schmidt of Tofield

IN MEMORIAM

MAGNUSSEN in loving memory of Guy E. M. Magnussen, who passed away May 4 1974
Often times our thoughts do wander To the grave not far away.
Where we laid our dear brother Just three years ago today
His smiling way and pleasant face Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all
Some day we hope to meet him Some day we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land Never to part again
Ever remembered by Esther, Joe & Ila Fonnig

Big help

Joe Fornal (left), president of the Holden and District Agricultural Society is shown accepting a cheque for $82,500 from MLA John Batiuk. The money was a grant from the Department of Recreation, Parks and Wildlife and will be used to repay a Federal Government loan which was used to help construct the Holden Complex.

CLC choir ends tour

Shortly after completing their final [illegible] on the morning of April 22, the C.L.C. Concert Choir departed via charter bus on a 10 day tour of parts of Alberta and British Columbia. The Choir of 41 voices was accompanied by their director, Jonathan Mohr and his wife, Tour Manager LaRay Johnson, and a brass ensemble that performed with the choir on several program sections.

The tour included 14 appearance in churches in Olds, Calgary, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, New Westminster, Victoria, Vancouver, Salmon Arm, and Edmonton as well as a T.V. appearance in Victoria on April 27th. The tour concluded on the evening of May 1st with a final appearance in the beautiful new Luther Place in Edmonton.

Holden society receives grant

The Holden and District Agricultural Society recently received a grant from the Provincial Government to be used to retire some of the debt on the Holden Complex.

The grant amounted to $82,500 and was received from the Department of Recreation, Parks and Wildlife under that department's major cultural recreation facility development program.

The cheque was presented to Joe Fornal, president of the Holden and District Agricultural Society by John Batiuk, Vegreville Constituency M.L.A. acting on behalf of the Provincial [illegible].

The cheque did not stay in Holden as the money was immediately forwarded to the Federal Government as a payment on a thirty-year loan which leaves a balance outstanding of $66,875.36.

At a recent meeting of the Board of directors of the agricultural society, it was decided that the loan due to the Federal Government should be repaid over an eight-year period.

The money to be used to repay the loan will come from a yearly grant that is being received from the County of Beaver. The original grant from the county amounted to $70,000, spread over a ten-year period, with eight payments still to be made.

According to the society's secretary, Christine Mackey, a detailed financial statement is now being prepared and will soon be forwarded to all members of the society.

Rec. Board meets

The Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board will be meeting on Wednesday night to discuss its own investigations Committee report.

The committee's proposed agreement and regulations for recreation, along with its recommendations, will be thoroughly [illegible].

At the Board's most recent meeting, it was decided that Colleen Walker of Tofield should be hired as program supervisor (Editor's note: Miss Walker's first recreation column is contained elsewhere in this issue.)

Jim Hamilton by Bruce Budd, it was agreed that grant monies would be dispersed to Ryley Community Centre, Maple Ledge Community Association, Iron Creek Community Association, Adams Community Association, Beaver Regional Arts Committee, Koppersmith Men's Association, and Kinsella United Church.

The two new members of the Board from Kinsella were introduced. They are Mrs. Irene Findlay and Jim Rogers.

A number of items from previous meetings were tabled and routine matters were handled in normal fashion.

All areas of the county were represented at the meeting.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on April 27th.

RCMP seeking help in identifying body

RCMP are seeking help from the public in identifying a male body which was found on a farm in the Tofield area about the middle of last month.

The body has been described as that of a male, about twenty-five years of age with black hair, about six feet tall and weighing about 180 pounds. When found, the man was dressed in a blue denim shirt, blue jeans, grey worksocks and was wearing wallaton.

The body was found in a septic tank on a farm on April 13th, and showed evidence of bullet holes, torture and mutilation. Police believe it was placed in the tank within the last year.

Anyone having any information which would help police identify the body is asked to contact the Tofield Detachment of the RCMP, or the nearest RCMP Detachment.

In other police news, a young Edmontonian will be charged with car theft and being the driver of a hit and run accident after the car he was operating was involved in an accident on Highway 16 at the Beaverhill Service Station.

Police are looking into a possible break and enter near Poe in which it is reported that a house was entered and a television set was stolen.

An investigation is being conducted into an assault which occurred early Sunday morning at a social gathering (dance) at the Lindbrook Hall.

Reports of youths racing and spinning tires are being looked into. One report is that spinning tires threw up stones which caused damages to the windows of the Holden Burger Bar.

Holden sets Sports Day

The Holden and District Agricultural Society will be sponsoring the Holden Sports Day in conjunction with Farmers' Day on Friday, June 10th.

Some of the things being planned are a parade, ball tournaments for both men and minors, horseshoes, bingo, all the booths on the grounds as well as the complete concession will be open.

A barbeque will be held in the evening with a dance to follow.

A good time is being planned for all.

Once again all ladies in the community will be asked to bring [illegible].

Mackenzie hall moved to site

Moving Day for the Mackenzie Hall brought an end to all speculations, doubts and theories which had engaged the thoughts of the members of the Beaverhill Community who had purchased it some months earlier.

Should it be dismantled and moved in small truck loads? Should it be chain-sawed into convenient sections and reassembled? Was it feasable to move it intact, and at a cost which the membership could afford?

Glen Francis (one of the members) said it could be moved in one piece and was out to prove it. So preparations went ahead.

12 inch diameter oil pipes were welded into two 40 foot skids, braced fore and aft by other pipes, half-inch cables were used to brace the structure, and similiar cable clamped to the skids to provide a means of towing. Four diesel tractors were needed to move the hall from its foundations and position it ready for moving it to it's new site next to the Beaverhill Hall, a distance of eight miles.

The volunteer crew were heartened as the convoy moved slowly along the planned route led by Ruth Ferguson driving a truck with a flashing amber light. The successful and uneventful trip was concluded by a social lunch in the Beaverhill Hall at which the President Ed Ferguson, thanked all the members for their cooperation and team spirit.

Around the town

Mrs. J A. L. Smith spent Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. J W Robinson.

The winner of the Tofield Curling Club's $100 a month draw, for the month of April, is Lou Reid of Tofield.

Mrs. Bob Scott was pleasantly surprised on Saturday when her parents and sister in Holland (telephoned to wish her a "happy birthday".

Ryley School Prom will be held in the school gym on Saturday night starting at nine o'clock. A queen will be crowned and a door prize drawn for at midnight.

Many people who knew Mr and Mrs. Bray who operated the hotel in Tofield in the early years will be saddened to know that Mrs. Rosanna Bray died in a fire at her home in Calgary last Thursday. While in Tofield, she had been quite active with the CWL.

Unexpected profit

4-H clubs in the County of Beaver may come up with an unexpected profit when they participate in a clean-up campaign along Highway 14, if reports of the efforts of two young men from Sherwood Park are to be believed. According to reports received, the two men travel along Highway 14 from Sherwood Park to Tofield and collect empty beer bottles. Considering the cost of gas today, they must be collecting a lot of empties and showing a profit or they wouldn't be doing it.

On the other hand, it is a sad reflection of our time when people think so little of the law and even less of the lives of others when they drink so much that a profit can be made along a highway in such a fashion. It is an offence to drink and drive and that has to be the case when empty beer bottles may be recovered from any and all sections of ditches along the province's highways. Naturally, it is their right to drink if they desire, but there is a time and a place and a moving vehicle is definitely not the place.

If liquor offences are so common that it pays to drive from Sherwood Park to Tofield and gather empty beer bottles, maybe it is time to have another look at the penalties handed out by the province's judicial system. After all, fines for possession can be termed minimum at only fifty dollars at today's dollar value while fines of three hundred dollars seems quite cheap compared to the cost of a human life which is something that is at take every time an impaired driver takes to the road. The clean-up campaign by the 4-Her's is commendable. It is unfortunate that it is necessary.

Metric double talk

Efforts by Conservative Members of Parliament, to stall further application of metric as it applies to the farm, were stalled by Transport Minister Otto Lang, responsible for the Wheat Board, although he did agree to a minor compromise, in offering conversion to Imperial units.

The Members, most of whom represent farm ridings, pointed out farmers hadn't been consulted about the change, and had had the measure rammed down their throat by the private grain trade, without considering the producer.

This, of course, is just as true for all other producers as it is for farmers, though there can be significant differences, depending on whether their produce is intended for world markets or not.

International grain trade now is conducted solely in metric units, pointed out Mr. Lang, and Canada and the Unites States remain the only countries still using the Imperial system. This seems to be almost a point of honor with Mr. Lang

But it couldn't matter in the slightest to the international trade whether the tonnes of wheat or other grain they buy are produced on farms measured in hectares, or acres, or sections, or on the Ontario "concessions". It makes no difference to the consumer whether the fertilizer which was sprayed on the crop was measured in gallons or litres. Or whether the seed was planted at so many bushels to the acre, or fractions of a tonne per

Undoubtedly there's a good deal of merit in metric, but there's a deal of nonsense, doubletalk, and subterfuge in introducing it

Even the legislation was introduced as a bill "permuting" the use of metric terms Very little was said about making the use of any other terms illegal.

by John S. Bullick

April 28, 1977

As the third month of the spring session of the Legislature progresses, a very interesting week again has been experienced.

On Saturday, April 23rd approximately six hundred persons participated in the celebration of the 70th anniversary of "The Vegreville and District Chamber of Commerce" The very impressive celebration was held at the Vegreville Composite High School After the banquet, a program very suited for the occasion followed Greetings were extended in the Chamber by Mayor Larry Ruptash, Hon Neil Crawford, Minister of Labour from the government and the people of Alberta, Don Mazankowski, Member of Parliament Greetings with a short address was given by Mr Howard Geier, President elect of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce The guest speaker for the occasion was Mr Gordon Cameron, Director of Environmental Programs of Canadian Utilities

It is very interesting to note that Vegreville was incorporated into a Village in May 1918 and to a town status in August of the same year In 1928, Vegreville was one of the 6 localities seriously considered for the Legislative Buildings but was not chosen because of the lack of a good river

I would also like to commend the Vegreville Chamber of Commerce for the services they provide for the community Their contribution is one reason for the progress of the town and community

At the conclusion of the after-dinner program, scrolls of recognition were given to all past presidents of the Chamber Mr F Laing, president of the Chamber to 1922 and now in his early nineties was one of the many recipients

During a question period in the House, the Premier was gratifying in his remarks referring to the Prime Minister's speech in Winnipeg The Prime Minister, in his opening remarks regarding the Western Economic Conference in 1973 stated that Westerners have always "more than carried their weight as Canadians". It is not very often one hears such favorable statements.

Bill 40 - "The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act" was introduced in the House. This piece of legislation has been awaited by many groups and individuals. The purpose of the Bill is to protect our valuable and renewable land for present and future generations of Albertans by restricting the future purchase of large amounts of prime land by non-Canadians. It is believed that Bill is a balanced initiative in the best interest of all Albertans

The Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs made a statement regarding the Temporary Rent Regulations Act. This Act was to end the control on rents June 30, 1977. For the past while the government has been monitoring what affects this might have on residential rents. We have been made aware that some landlords have given occupants of more than 15,000 rental units notice of increases to be effective on July 1st and some increases to reach as high as 50 percent. Because of this information, the Minister has stated that rent controls will continue This, in particular, will be of assistance to those on fixed incomes

On Monday, April 25th, fifty students from Grades 10 and 12 of the Mundare High School visited the Legislature As well as a tour of the building they were introduced to the Assembly Accompanying them was their teachers, Mr Ferrence and Mr Shuposna

The Minister of Agriculture gave a report on the moisture conditions in Alberta as well as the planting intentions by the farmers on some initial steps the Department of Agriculture is undertaking during the current dry spell. Soil moisture in the southern part of the provice is adequate for germination with the exception of those areas that did not get the moisture in late March. The central east region of the province has better moisture conditions than many areas, however, rain will be needed for pastures as they are dry and in poor condition It appears that the Peace River area is in considerably better condition due to last Fall's high moisture level.

The Minister also stressed that it is very important for farmers to consider purchasing all risk crop insurance. Because of the situation facing farmers the Minister announced that the Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation is extending the deadline for application or renewal to May 6th. There are 53 district offices where application forms are available.

On Friday, April 22, I had the privilege to present a cheque for $85,000.00 to Mr. H. Berke, past president of the Beaver Heritage Agricultural Society at Ryley, and a cheque for $82,500.00 to Mr J. Fornal, President of Holden and District Agricultural Society These cheques are grants under the Major Cultural/Recreation Facility Development Program.

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SC) — Criticism of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation by the federal cabinet has long been a forbidden enterprise, one which could earn tons of abuse heaped upon the head of the minister who tried it

The reason for such a structure is obvious How can a national radio and television network pretend to be objective if the senior management has to keep one eye cocked over the shoulder all the time for political flack from the government?

Such rules are fine when it comes to stopping the government from restricting honest criticism, or setting rules for public affairs programs It's quite another matter when an organization funded with federal tax dollars TV gets some revenue from ads but radio is non commercial takes stands which are contrary to the wishes of the people, and even contrary to Canada's national interests

For more than a decade it has been common knowledge that the French section of the CBC is rampant with separatists in the production end of the organization Separatist opinions are chatted at you from the radio and the TV set. newscasts are blatantly slanted in favor of separatism All the while those who espouse these ideas so contrary to the national interest laugh up their sleeves because the very entity that they are trying to destroy is paying all the bills

In English radio and TV the same sort of bias is often shown I can recall listening recently for a straight half hour to some African leader explaining why the peasant falsehoods how Angola was attacked once it became independent, and had to call in the Cubans to save the nation from wicked South Africa. There wasn't a whisper of the other side of the story - just ram-it-down-your-throat propaganda.

It's time we stopped wearing hair shirts and taking joy in allowing CBC people to lash away freely at objectivity and national interests in Canada The national will to do something about it is certainly there, if you believe the letters-to-the-editor columns of every newspaper in the country.

Somewhere, somehow, perhaps under the son political Canadian Radio-Television Commission, there has to be a bureau set up to make sure that balance and objectivity return to the CBC

Progressive Farming

Soil Tested Crops Recommended

Alberta farmers will be wise to consider growing salt tolerant crops this year if present moisture conditions do not improve in the very near future, says Larry Garseu, forage crops specialist with Alberta Agriculture

He explains that both soil salinity and alkalinity become more severe under drought conditions He recommends seeding such areas to a forage mixture because the different species in the mixture will vary widely in the amount of salt they can tolerate, as does the salt content in different parts of a saline area The species in the mixture which can adapt best to a specific soil condition will be those that become established

Dr T Lawrence of the federal research station at Swift Current, Saskatchewan says Orbit tall wheatgrass, Revenue slender wheatgrass and Yukon or Polara sweet clover are the most salt tolerant crops available today They will provide pasture or hay, control wild barley and help prevent alkali areas expanding by providing a permanent cover.

Dr. Lawrence recommends the following forage mixture for saline soils that are not subject to more than 16 to 14 days flooding 3 pounds of Sawki or Mayak Russian wild ryegrass, 2 pounds of Rambler or Bismarck brome wheatgrass, 6 pounds of Orbit tall wheatgrass, one pound of sweet clover and 2 pounds of Rambler or Bismarck alfalfa per acre Saline areas subject to two to five weeks of spring flooding should be seeded to 3 pounds of Frontier or Caster reed canarygrass, 6 pounds of Carlton bromegrass, 6 pounds of Orbit tall wheatgrass, 3 pounds of Revenue slender wheatgrass, one pound of sweet clover and one pound of Rambler alfalfa per acre.

Dr Lawrence says forage crops grown in saline soils should be seeded in rows of six to 12 inches apart and no deeper than one inch Although the seedlings may not emerge for a considerable length of time in a dry year, seeding should be done as soon as possible in the spring so that the seed can take advantage of favorable growing conditions if they occur.

Gas co-ops meet caucus

The Alberta government's Conservative caucus will meet with representatives of the nine-member Federation of Alberta Gas Co-ops tonight to discuss the situation with respect to rapidly escalating prices for natural gas. The meeting is being held in Government House.

Included among the farm representation will be Charlie Archibald of Rosalind, and Cliff Downey, former MP, of Coronation Each board member has chosen three representatives from his co-op area to be present at the meeting.

In view of rapid price escalation since the co-ops were formed, and guaranteed stable prices, and in view of price increased projected over the next ten years, agricultural people feel the need for immediate action to bring their plight to government. The very future of the rural gas movement may be at stake, say the farmers

All members of the caucus are expected to attend the meeting, to get first-hand information on the economic status of individual gas co-ops.

If the caucus is unable to resolve the present difficult situation to the satisfaction of the cooperatives at this meeting, it is expected the federation will call a general meeting in Edmonton of all gas co-ops at the completion of spring seeding.

A VALLEY OF VISION by Betsy Patterson

Here is the touching, inspiring, often amusing 20-year odyssey that brought the author from spiritual blindness to illuminated sight through heartbreak and laughter to the serenity she radiates today.

The remarkable mother of four opens the door to her family's closest moments - her oldest son's childhood problems and how they were treated; the death by cancer of their 16-year-old daughter and her astonishing spiritual legacy.

LORD OF THE VALLEYS by Florence Butts

The doctor turned to me abruptly: "you have bronchiectasis in such an advanced stage that you're having violent hemorrhage - in both lungs." He shook his head. "At best your life span will be halved. You're thirty years old now. Do you know what that means? Have you found, when the pain is excruciating, or the grief a numbing void, that you cannot pray? What's more, you wonder where God is, doesn't He know how much you need Him, right now? The agony a real - a His Love?

She had learned how to fellowship with Him in the valley, how to commune with Him in the pit of despair and how to lean on Him and climb to victory. And she has learned the lessons of a lifetime right there in the valley: lessons of absolute surrender and submission, of the dedication that obedience required, of the joy in brokenness for Him.

Buying moss peat

If you are planning to use moss peat (peat moss) in your garden or greenhouse this spring, you would be wise to perform two simple quality control checks before you buy it.

Although the price of moss peat does not vary much from one supplier to another, the quality can vary considerably. Too often an inferior grade of moss peat comes out as much as a premium grade.

J.P. Sproule of the soils department at Olds College, says "Ten years ago we had little to be concerned about when we bought moss peat. A bale of peat was sphagnum moss peat which had a consistently low pH and a very low salt level. The peat was ready to use with a minimum of handling."

However, there is now a wide choice of ready soil mixes, peat mixtures and peats on the market.

The challenge is to turn this situation into an asset for the homeowner or greenhouse operator. "We now feel quite differently about organic materials than we did when the emphasis was on manures and other readily decomposable materials," Mr. Sproule explains. "We used to think the decomposable materials improved the soil texture, and, hence, the porosity through decomposition. Now we are stressing organic materials with a high fibre content which remain in the soil for a long time."

The problem facing moss peat users today is that they cannot be sure whether the next shipment of moss peat will be moss peat, sedge peat or a combination of both. Added to this uncertainty is the variability in the physical and chemical properties of the product that also occurs from one shipment to another.

While a homeowner or greenhouse operator cannot perform all the physical and chemical tests necessary to evaluate moss peat and the moss peat mixtures before he makes his purchase, he can do the rub and squeeze tests. If the sample rates high in both of these tests, it will generally meet the physical and chemical specifications of a high quality product.

Rub Test

In the rub test you roll about a spoonful of wet peat between your forefinger and thumb. If the sample is high in fibre, it will form a ball and will not coat your fingers. If, on the other hand, the sample is low in fibre, it will not roll well and will cause some staining.

Squeeze Test

In the squeeze test you take a handful of wet peat and squeeze it to remove the moisture. If the sample has a high fibre content, the peat will be a light gold color when you release your hand. If it is low in fibre, there will be no color change.

The embryo transfer technique, in which fertilized eggs are transferred from a donor cow to a number of foster mother cows, has been carried one step further by freezing the fertilized eggs for later use.

A commercial operation at Mississauga, Ont., is building an embryo bank of Holstein, Aberdeen Angus, Hereford, Charolais and Limousin embryos. When an embryo is purchased, it can be shipped to the buyer, thawed and transferred into a foster mother.

This new method of producing and transporting quality livestock is included in Agriculture Canada's Animal Disease and Protection Act and Regulations. Dr. R.Y. Bonsa, chief of the import-export section of the department's Health of Animals Branch, says the new method of producing and transporting quality Canadian livestock may be extensively used in the future.

Improve your gas mileage

CANADA, OTT. — Cars are available in all sizes - small - medium, - and full-size. Regardless of size, drivers can improve their gasoline mileage.

Here are some gas saving tips from General Motors of Canada Limited.

— Gasoline can be compared, along with prolonging of engine and tire life, by avoid unnecessarily rapid acceleration.

— Avoid frequent stops and starts. Take advantage of through streets to avoid traffic lights and stop signs. Pace your driving to avoid unnecessary stops.

— High speeds substantially increase gasoline consumption. Driving at 50 MPH versus 70 MPH can result in a fuel saving of about 30 percent.

— An idling engine uses gasoline. Faced with a wait of more than a few minutes, it is better to turn off the engine and later restart it.

— Do not carry your golf clubs or tools needlessly. Even 100 pounds of excess weight begins to affect gasoline mileage.

— Every "pump" of the pedal means extra gasoline going through the carburetor. It is a bad habit to pump the accelerator after starting the engine or while waiting for a traffic light to change.

— Overall tuning can measurably improve a car's performance.

— Under inflation of tires not only causes needless wear but can also waste gasoline. Tire pressures should be checked regularly.

Ministik news

by Mrs Jim Reddick

The community auction held at Ministik Hall grounds on Saturday was a most successful one What was of no use or classed as a piece of junk to one, was of great value or an antique to another

Items included sieves of every category and many other household items, to any piece of machinery many very old

Some livestock was on hand as well, which included two Black calves, a young pig and two pair of bantam chickens

Auctioneers Duane Sitler of the Camrose area certainly did his part in getting every cent possible for the cause His wife assisted by Vera Heitman, looked after the bookkeeping The refreshment booth was the centre of attraction all day where hamburgers, hot dogs, coffee and generous servings of delicious home made pies, were served by many volunteers

A great deal of credit for the organization and success of the event goes to Kay Grumett, Bill Reddick, Dennis Fenske, Woody Delsinder, Verdun Sears, Karl and Herta Schwuchow, John Vandermeer and all the helpers both before the sale and on the grounds during the sale Alex Klemschrodt stood on guard the evening before the sale

Plans are finalized for the variety bingo on May 13th Lunch will be served

Chester Leech was a patient in Tofield Hospital last week

Carol George of Calgary spent the weekend with her grandmother Mrs M George and Edna and Glenn Ferguson, also attending the auction sale on Saturday with her uncles, Walter and Bill George of Edmonton

Several of the community attended the German supper at Hastings Lake Hall on Saturday evening

Gladys Reddick of Edmonton spent the weekend at the Bill Reddick home, also attending the auction sale

Phyllis Davenport and Diane Zama of Edmonton piddled their bicycles out from the city to the Davenport farm on Saturday

Horner explains switching horses

Hon. Jack H. Horner, PC, MP
(Crowfoot)
April 27, 1977

Nineteen years is a long time, and, if I'm around the House of Commons for another nineteen, I guess people will still be asking me why I did it - why after all those years I switched parties and became a member of the Liberal government

Well, let me give one small, but clear, reason why There was a period of time last year when western cattlemen were so distressed at the state of their industry I considered recommending we drive a herd of cattle right up onto Parliament Hill and down into the Ottawa River If we had driven right onto the Hill, all howling and whooping, then maybe somebody in the government would have listened. That is how bad it was - I just felt we couldn't get anyone in the cabinet to listen.

We never did drive those cattle in Ottawa but one thing is certain - today there is someone in the cabinet who will be listening to Western Canada That is a big part of what I'm doing sitting behind Trudeau on the government side of the Commons.

When you first become an M P you start out handling more or less the chores of being an ombudsman for your constituents but then you find yourself wanting to play a more effective role in directing the country in the way you think it should be going.

It was that feeling that led me to run for the leadership of the Conservative Party I gave it my best effort and I didn't win and then after that I gave it 110 per cent

But, after the election of November 13th in Quebec, the great question confronting Canada became whether Canada should - or will - stay together Today we need a supreme effort by everyone to keep the country together and if that fails then we'll separate. But I want to be a part of that supreme effort.

Now, there is nobody in Ottawa who has done a better job of ranting and railing at the government Today I want to do something better than that This doesn't mean that Jack Horner isn't Jack Horner anymore All my life I've been a dedicated Canadian - I've lost count of the number of western separatist parties I've refused to join. And all my life I've believed that the private enterprise system is the best for Canada None of that is changed. I'm just changing suppliness and getting a more effective one so that, without a doubt, I'll be able to accomplish more

When the redistribution of parliamentary seats takes effect, Western Canada will gain ten seats, Quebec gains one, and Ontario gains eight This is an indication that the centre of power is shifting and by joining the government, I'm insuring that Alberta will have a voice in the cabinet and a say in some of the vital issues before us that will have an effect on life in the west I'm thinking of issues such as freight rates and the development of the McKenzie Valley gas pipeline to name a couple

That is what I'll be doing in the cabinet and I won't be sacrificing any of my concepts to do it I won't be changing my beliefs There couldn't have been anyone in Canada more surprised than I when Trudeau's principal secretary first called me and raised the question of my joining the government But when I met the Prime Minister he convinced me I'll have the opportunity to be effective At the same time, it was made clear to me - abundantly clear - that I wasn't wanted in the Conservative party

This country is in deep economic and emotional trouble and if I weren't in there trying to help straighten it out I just couldn't live with myself. I couldn't deceive myself or anyone else. I had to feel that what I was about to do was right - I had to feel it in the heart. I felt that way and I had to do it

I guess the way you measure your country's contribution is by the good it can do for mankind throughout the world - and that is also a good way to measure your own contribution The Prime Minister convinced me I would have a chance to help and that he was as concerned about the West as I knew he was about the rest of the country

What I had to do wasn't the easy thing to do politically but it was a chance to serve and I took it because I had to and I hope I am given the chance and am able to prove it was the right thing to do

Highway curves lead to crashes

Highway curves - even slight ones - have proven to be a major hazard according to latest findings by Alberta's Accident Investigation Team. In its most recent accident analysis the investigators report that even well-marked curves have proven to be high risk areas for motorists

In the latest surveyed week death has resulted from an accident on a curved section of road, and a number of injuries also occurred on curved highway crashes

In examining the accident conditions the investigation team found a number of similarities. Head-on collisions, particularly during the hours of darkness, were noticeably more frequent on slight curves in the road Single car crashes were predictably more frequent as well on curved sections of highway.

Alberta Transportation authorities urged motorists to turn off the highway and rest, if they feel drowsy They again warned all vehicle operators to adjust speed to light, weather and highway condition for their own protection, as well as that of others.

Mrs G H Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zacharchuk have their daughter, Norma and granddaughter of Vancouver, B.C visiting with them for a few days this week.

Mr and Mrs George Scraba, Mrs John Romanesiuc and Mrs William Szyrba were Thursday afternoon visitors in Camrose, the past week

Mrs Olive Good, who was staying with her sister Gladys and family at Sedgewick after being a patient in Tofield Hospital, had also been a patient in an Edmonton hospital for further treatment for severe nosebleeds and is now back home

The Holden Girl Guides and Brownies will be selling cookies around Holden, Ryley and Bruce on Saturday

A lovely shower was held April 30th in the Holden Roman Catholic Church parlors to honor Joan Stecyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stecyk who will become the bride of Dennis Cyca on May 21st at St Josephates Church in Edmonton.

On entering the appropriately decorated room, the guest of honor was greeted by all, corsages were pinned on the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs Helen Stecyk and grandmother, Mrs Josie Melsmaka by the bride's attendants, who were then seated at the head table, with brides-maids Carol Stecyk, Betty Komarnisky and Mary Friend. Several games of bingo were then played. Eileen Komarnisky introduced those seated at the head table and the presentation of many lovely and useful gifts was made by Betty Komarnisky Gifts were then opened and passed around Joan thanked all for their good wishes and gifts and those who had arranged the event. The ladies served lunch to end the pleasant afternoon.

The Bruce 4-H Busy Bees held their regular meeting on April 5th and during the business meeting, it was decided to hold the Achievement day on May 4th in the Bruce Hall

It was also decided that they would pick up trash along the highway on May 7th with other 4-H clubs After the business meeting, they split up into groups for project work. The Food Group made hamburgers and kabobs for lunch which was enjoyed by all The reporter for the group is Norma Babbitt

Mr and Mrs Henry Tiedemann left for Edmonton on Friday evening being overnight guests with their son and family. Mr and Mrs Alan Tiedemann. Helen left early Saturday morning by chartered bus with delegates to attend a L.C.W convention at Fort McMurray Henry and sons, Alan and Robert, spent the weekend at a lake, fishing.

Mrs. Ethel Brekstad is back home from a two-week holiday trip to Vancouver, B.C., visiting with her son, Ralph and calling on a number of old friends and former Holden district residents.

The Holden Senior Citizens Group held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening. A short business meeting chaired by the president, George Gietzelhaus was held and the minutes of the previous meeting read and approved. Correspondence received was read and the members were advised of several bus trips that may be held later in the season At the conclusion of the meeting several games of cards were played with lunch being served and the evening. Lunch hostesses were Mrs. Nina Hjalmarson and Miss June Clark

Mr and Mrs Ernie Mertz of Viking and their daughter Elaine and friend of Edmonton, were Sunday afternoon guests with Beth's aunt, Mrs Beth Campbell.

Sunday visitors with Mrs. Mary Gardecki were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs Stan Wandio of Sherwood Park.

Mr and Mrs. Ken Stambaugh of Bruce are back from a month's holiday trip to England, visiting with Jean's mother and other relatives

A group from the Tofield Gospel Church will be in charge of the worship service at Holden and Ryley Lutheran churches on Sunday, May 8th, at the usual times

Mr and Mrs David Scott and family of Sherwood Park were Sunday guests with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carlson. Edith, her sister, Eric and the Scott girls walked out to the school site where Edith, her sisters and brothers, went to school, near Bruce.

Members of Holden Lodge Order of the Royal Purple have been busy the past week with the annual Cancer Campaign canvass If you have not made a donation yet and wish to do so, it can be given to Mrs. Ethel Brekstad, Mrs. Otto Hurum, Mrs Kaie Nichols or Mrs Kay Chopka.

Mrs Kathleen Hurum, Mrs Ethel Brekstad and Melvin Fjellstrom were callers in Camrose on Thursday, picking up plants for sale on Saturday for Mother's Day, which is a yearly project of the Lutheran Ladies Aid

Irwin and Shirley Scott are receiving congratulations on the arrival of their chosen daughter, Tanya Leah.

Cecil and Gwen Hooper spent Sunday and Monday in Edmonton visiting with their daughter, Wendy, a patient in the General Hospital and who will be in hospital for at least six more weeks.

DO YOU REALLY KNOW WHAT CONSTIPATION IS?

Constipation is a condition, not a disease It may be caused by disease but much more often occurs in perfectly healthy individuals It is, in fact, hard to define Some people have a habit of a daily bowel movement, others, equally normal, may have a movement only every 2 or 3 or more days. Probably any reasonably regular timing for emptying the bowel, with a soft painless stool and without cramping, may be considered normal Therefore constipation may be considered as dry stools which are difficult to pass and may be painful to expel

Powder 340 g. Instant Mix 15's

What is Metamucil®?

Metamucil is a natural source laxative Certain natural plant seeds are effective as a laxative because they have the property of absorbing water and work to form a soft pliable stool which can be easily passed and expelled Modern preparation and processing has resulted in extracting and purifying the natural "mucilloid" from psyllium seeds to present Metamucil as an effective laxative

Metamucil is gentle and easy to take.

Take the powder as needed, one to three teaspoonfuls per day mixed with a cool liquid Metamucil promotes a soft stool easily passed and expelled

the farmer wears many hats...

A farmer can wear a number of hats. There's the hat he wears when he's working in the field, the hat he wears when he's in town, the hat he wears when he's at church, and the hat he wears when he's at home. But there's one hat he wears that's different from all the others. It's the hat he wears when he's at the bank. It's the hat he wears when he's at the bank. It's the hat he wears when he's at the bank.

County School briefs

April 12th, 1977

Present were: Crs. Armitage, Ewasiuk, Krupnicki, McIntosh, Mack

Representing Towns and Villages: H. Berke, K. Field, N. Hamilton, H. Wilkie.

Also present were: Dr Neil Gannon, Superintendent of Schools J. Robert Cruse, secretary-treasurer, Ronald G. Pepper, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Cr. Sears.

Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of March 8th, be accepted.

Moved that a report given in the March 21st salary interpretation committee be accepted.

The results of the school questionnaire regarding the seven period day at Holden School were received as follows:

1. Do you wish that the seven period day concept be continued for another year at Holden School?
Yes - 37 No 12.

Holden School grade 7 to 12 students were surveyed and 61 percent were in favor of the seven period day

All but one [illegible] staff member was in favor of the Breakfast on the Saskatchewan

The incidence of brucellosis in Canada is on the decline Dr. Bert Lewis, director of Agriculture Canada's animal contagious diseases division, suggests brucellosis may soon be eliminated from Canadian cattle herds

The federal government's eradication program for brucellosis has intensified in the last few years Altogether, Dr. Lewis estimates about one-third of the Canadian cattle herd is checked each year. Less than two-tenths of one per cent of Canadian beef and dairy animals are infected with brucellosis at present. With cooperation from livestock owners and veterinarians, the number of herds under quarantine has dropped from about 1,500 in September, 1976, to slightly more than 1,000 at present.

Moved that the seven period day concept continue at Holden School for the 1977-78 school year; that a survey be taken at that time to evaluate the pros and cons of this concept.

Moved that the school committee accept the resignation of Grace Phillips, effective June 30th.

Moved that Driver Education 10 [illegible] remain at $75.00 per student for the 1977-78 school year.

Moved that textbook rental fees for the 1977-78 school year remain as per the 1976-77 school year at: Grades 1 - 9 - $6.00 per student, Grades 10 - 12 - $8 per credit.

Moved that the school committee increase the [illegible] rates by nine percent effective August 1st.

Moved that the school committee accept the resignation of Lee Ellsworth as principal of Ryley School effective June 30th.

Moved that the school committee adopt the 1977 school budget as presented showing expenditures and revenue in the amount of $3,881,921.

Moved that the school committee appoint the following teachers to permanent staff as of August 1st.

Mrs. Carole Nolan - Tofield school; Miss Maureen Lukens - Tofield school; Mrs Myrna Kondrat - Tofield school; Mrs. Carol Cairns - Tofield school; Mrs. Jane Walls - Tofield School; Mr. Andre Nimchuk - Ryley School; Mr. Ken Flem-ming - Ryley school; Mr. Patrick Nolan - Ryley school, Mrs. Muriel Hill - Ryley school, Miss Mary Ann Sokolosky - Holden school; Mr. Don Clifton - Viking school, Mr James Jagoza - Viking school, and Miss Joyce Strulo - Viking school.

Moved that the school committee approve the following teacher contracts for the period September 1st, 1977 to June 30th, 1978:

11 Gary Coldner - Viking school, and 1) Brian O'Toole - Tofield school.

Moved that the school committee make the contract of employment with John Ensenson as vice-principal of Holden School Environment.

A field trip proposal for the Ryley grade 7-8 and grade 4 class to the Ecology Pilaise for the period May 25th to 26th was received.

Moved that the school committee not approve this field trip policy since policy 5.1.06 field trips, educational tours and extra-curricular trips - states that no field trip should exceed two days

Moved that the school committee accept the March 28th Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board minutes.

Moved that the resignation of Jon Hejnar as regular bus driver at Ryley be accepted.

Moved that the March bus supervisor's report be accepted.

Moved that the school enrolment projection for September 1, 1977 showing an enrolment of 2,094 be accepted.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn.

Moved that the following Pre-School Age Census as of January, 1977 be accepted:

PET IT HERE

Think metric

The metric system will be upon us very soon. In fact it's already here as far as temperature and rainfall readings are concerned.

Some terms we will have to learn rather quickly . . kg., ha or kg-ha. One kg (kilogram) equals 1,000 grams or 2.20 pounds. 1 ha (hectare) is 2.47 acres An example of kg-ha., one test plot in Spain yielded over 3,000 kg-ha Quoted from the Rapeseed Digest, this works out like this

5,000 kg. times 2.20 equal 11,000 pounds

11,000 divided by 2.47 equal 4,453 pounds per acre

4,453 pounds per acre equal 89.1 bushels (a very good crop)

It is, however, very confusing if we try to convert 89 bushels per acre. It will be much simpler and to everyone's advantage to accept the new standards and forget the old.

Also attending were their daughter, Doris and Howard Brown and family.

Ken and Rachel Rose and children Carla and Tammy and Rachel's brother, Johnnie Mahovich were Sunday evening callers on Ken's uncle, Mervin Ross at the Ellen Eaton farm.

Farmers are working the land but many are undecided about seeding at this time. Altho we have had a very early spring there has been no moisture to start things growing. There has been no spring runoff and sloughs in the fields are dried up and no water in the creek where for many years there has been a good flow most of the summer. Unless rains come soon, any land worked will start blowing away and stock will have to be fed as the grass isn't growing in the pastures as in normal years.

An Open Letter To All Citizens Of East Central Alberta

The tourist season will shortly be getting into high gear, and thousands of visitors will be coming to, or going through East Central Alberta. Judging by the fantastic interest in the various kinds of literature published by Battle River Tourist Association, we expect a considerable increase in the number of people, coming to visit this summer. They will come from ALL over Alberta, from the other provinces and territories in Canada, and from other countries.

When The Guests Arrive In Your Community — Would You Be Proud To Escort Them On A Tour?

— Is the local park spic and span?

— Are there grounds in your area, like a ruined school, public buildings, around a ravine or lake, vacant lots etc. that are littered with rubbish and overgrown with uncut grass and weeds that could be cleaned up?

— Could some hedges be trimmed, some flowers, planted?

— How do the local businesses look . . . from the front, . . . from the back?

— What does the directional and other signs look like in your area?

— Could some flags be put up, or tattered ones changed?

What we're saying is that we should look at our communities like we would look at our homes if visitors were coming. On such occasions there are usually some special preparations made to ensure that everything is just right.

To this end, we are suggesting that EVERY COMMUNITY in East Central Alberta launch a COMMUNITY CLEAN—UP CAMPAIGN during the month of May. We are inviting Town Councils, Service Clubs, Home Owners and Businesses to do their part in a general campaign.

Besides being a pride and joy for the visitors, your community will be a nicer and safer place in which to live for ALL of YOUR OWN CITIZENS!

We hope you will give our suggestion serious consideration, and join in the "COMMUNITY CLEAN — UP CAMPAIGN!"

Yours truly
Battle River Tourist Association

How much interest do you pay in taxes?

Report From Parliament Hill
by Don Mazankowski, M.P.

On March 31st Finance Minister Macdonald brought down his budget in the House of Commons. Many saw this budget as indicative of the government finally admitting that the private sector is the key to Canada's future growth and prosperity. Even if this is true, the actual measures proposed will do little to bring about a renewed growth in business activity. A number of minor tax incentives for very specific purposes were put forward but none of these will have the necessary impact to get investment rising and the economy moving again.

About the only thing major in this budget was its estimate of a $4 billion dollar deficit. This adds to the long string of huge deficits and extravagant spending that have characterized this government. When I was first elected a member of Parliament in 1968, the level of federal spending was about 9 billion dollars. The public debt, measuring the total amount of outstanding borrowings by the government of Canada, stood at 32 billion dollars. We will have 44 billion dollars spending this coming year and our public debt will stand at almost 81 billion dollars by March, 1978.

This means that in some years of Trudeau, yearly spending has risen by 30 per cent and our public debt by 142 per cent. And then, a few weeks ago, Mr. Trudeau had the audacity to tell intimidated Canadians that they are living beyond their means.

Because of the sheer size of the numbers involved, a lot of this information is difficult to grasp for the average person such as you and I. To make the figures more meaningful, it is useful to break them down in terms of the average taxpayer. In 1968, the federal government spent $1,286 per individual Canadian and borrowed $9,536 in 1977-78 they will spend $4,673 per taxpayer. Try and think what you are getting for your money. The per capita gross public debt per taxpaying Canadian was at a level of $4,751 in 1977 but will have risen to $8,338.

It is not entirely reflect on these amazing figures for a moment. This government has gone so heavily into debt that each and every taxpaying Canadian has had $8,536 borrowed on his or her behalf. What is this massive debt costing us? The answer is since the government estimates that interest on the public debt will cost over 5 billion dollars. That works out to $535 per tax payer. As you sit down to fill out your tax return this year, think for a minute about the fact that $535 of your taxes are going towards interest on the public debt. And next year it will be even more. It is certainly a very sobering thought.

The budget is not all bad news, however. Provision is made to increase the unemployment expense allowance from $150 to $250. This has the effect of reducing personal income tax.

Another measure which I am pleased to see, and which our Party has long advocated and vigorously sought, is the deferral of capital gains tax when a farm family sells his farm to buy another one or when a small businessman sells his business to buy another. A further welcome move for farmers and small businessmen involved in the manufacturing and resource sector is the extension of the 5 per cent tax credit on new equipment for another three years. A long overdue measure has been proposed for businesses whereby they can deduct 3 per cent of the opening value of their inventories when calculating business income. This will help alleviate the current problems with businesses paying taxes on non-existent profits which were caused by inflation.

These measures will all be beneficial to the small businessman but they will not solve the real problem. What our businesses, large and small, need is a chance to regain competitiveness with foreign industry. The reason Canadian factories are not operating at full capacity is that much of the existing consumer demand is being met by cheaper imports. This has resulted in a $30 billion trade deficit in manufactured goods for Canada, with the equivalent of some 175,000 job opportunities lost. This budget has done nothing to solve this curcial problem. If we continue to lose our ability to compete with the world not only on world markets but even in our own country, there is a very dim outlook for Canada's future.

Tricks in the trade

Delegates of Alberta Wheat Pool have approached the budget, concerned about an alleged grain buying practice being used by some elevators. The practice as described is dishonest, if not illegal.

The rumor is that certain elevator managers have encouraged or agreed to undergrading of barley and wheat, expecting that the payment to more than make up the difference in the initial payment. For example, if a producer delivers No. 1 feed barley, he takes payment for it as tough 2 C.W. instead. The producer then takes a loss of 3 cents on the initial transaction. However, the high final payment on tough and damp C.W. grades, common in years when most of the crop is delivered dry, is expected to more than make up the difference. The final payment on tough 2 C.W. barley 1975-76 was $1.12; on #1 feed barley it was 36½ cents.

The elevator company stands to benefit through the fact that the initial price on No. 1 feed barley is 2 cents higher than on tough 2 C.W.

So as long as the final payments follow recent patterns, both the farmer and the elevator make more money on the transaction. They will cost over 5 billion dollars. That works out to $535 per tax payer. As you sit down to fill out your tax return this year, think for a minute about the fact that $535 of your taxes are going towards interest on the public debt. And next year it will be even more. It is certainly a very sobering thought.

The Election finances and Contributions Disclosures Act, recently introduced in the Legislature is a mixture of sound principles and giant-sized loop-holes.

Bill 34 restricts contributions to Alberta political parties to those individuals, corporations or trade unions either resident in or registered and conducting business in this province. Transfer of funds between provincial and federal parties are limited to one hundred dollars per constituency during election campaigns.

Any contribution to a party, constituency or candidate over two hundred fifty dollars must be identified as to source and amount. This information is all be made public through the office of the Chief Electoral Officer. The maximum donation allowed by any individual contributor is twelve thousand five hundred dollars per year, increased to twenty-two thousand five hundred dollars in an election year.

The Bill will also provide a tax credit (or political) contributions to a maximum of five hundred dollars. The most relevant part of the formula relates to contributions of one hundred dollars or less. Taxpayers can claim 75 per cent of a donation as a tax deduction, meaning that a contribution of one hundred dollars would cost the taxpayer only twenty-five dollars.

Much of Bill 34 is commendable, but there are weak spots in it. Disclosure at names of those who make large contributions is a sound principle. When one examines the provision closely, a loophole opens up that would allow election contributions of up to eight thousand dollars without disclosure, and not exceeding two hundred fifty dollars as first appears. One could use this loophole merely by spreading out thirty-two donations of two hundred fifty dollars each over a year.

Another weak point is that it doesn't provide any limit to the total amount a candidate or party can spend during a campaign. Such a restriction should be in place.

The government contends that the combination of disclosure and the shorter twenty-eight day election campaign will provide adequate control. I am not convinced that disclosure will have any real effect on the level of spending unless the opposition has rectified a matter campaign could lead to many spending, especially the use of expensive mass media campaigning rather than the less expensive and traditional door-to-door campaigning.

This could mean that the candidate who can afford the most T.V. time could win election on the basis of wealth rather than policy! We certainly need spending limits if we are to preserve a balanced political system where every Albertan, not just the wealthy can participate.

Any comments or questions may be forwarded to Room 304, Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta, phone 427-2251 collect.

Poe Pourri

by Lorraine Poehos

It seems hardly enough just to say "thank you"

Tuesday night, only minutes after Bob and I were aware of the fire which eventually destroyed the garage, any number of neighbors had arrived at Poe to offer assistance.

I suppose we are most indebted to the gentleman who was driving down Highway 14 and took time to stop and check what he later described as a "red glow behind the house". Due to his concern and quick thinking, the Holden Fire Department was alerted and arrived at Poe in time to prevent a truly major loss.

The passerby who alerted the Holden Fire Department on his mobile car telephone is still a "stranger" to us as we did not, in the excitement, manage to obtain his name or address. However, to him we extend our heartfelt thanks for his alertness and his assistance. Without both, I shudder to think what may have happened.

And to the Holden Fire Department, and members of the Ryley Fire Department who arrived later, our thanks.

It's true, the garage and its contents were lost to fire but the firefighters prevented the fire from causing any real damage to the store or living quarters. It is difficult to express our appreciation in words.

And after the fire had been put out, I only had to sit and watch while neighbors straightened the furniture around and mopped up the muddy floors.

The offers to help didn't end there.

The next morning the phone range time after time with offers to help clean up (although there was little inside cleaning to do) and neighbors dropped by at the store to offer help.

It was the first time Bob or I had ever had any experience with fire and while it was an experience I would wish on anyone, the meaning of the word "neighbour" is something I with everyone could truly know and appreciate.

Bob and I always knew the value of good neighbours, the fire just expanded our knowledge.

To everyone, many, many thanks.

In a summerstallow crop of wheat a wild oat infestation of 10 wild oats per square yard can be expected to cause a yield reduction of about 4 bushels per acre (a reduction of 13% from the 29.5 bushels/acre yield). In flax the yield reductions are even more closely.

WILD OATS INFESTATION	WHEAT
	YIELD ON FALLOW	YIELD LOSS	DOLLAR LOSS AT $5/BU.
No Wild Oats	29.5 bu/A.	—	—
Light Infestation ..... 10/sq. yd.	25.9 bu/A.	3.9 bu.	$11.70
Moderate ..... 70/sq. yd.	19.7 bu/A.	10.8 bu.	$52.40
Heavy ..... 190/sq. yd.	13.1 bu/A.	16.4 bu.	$48.39
	FLAX		DOLLAR LOSS AT $8/BU.
No Wild Oats	24.1 bu/A.	—	—
Light Infestation ..... 10/sq. yd.	19.2 bu/A.	4.9 bu.	$ 39.40
Moderate ..... 70/sq. yd.	10.7 bu/A.	13.4 bu.	$ 80.40
Heavy ..... 190/sq. yd.	5.6 bu/A.	18.3 bu.	$190.80

This table outlines yield reductions which can be expected if only wild oats are present. If green foxtail (wild millet) and broadleaved weeds are a problem yields would be further reduced.
If moisture is in short supply the difference in yield between the herds receiving chemical wild oat treatment and those which are not treated can be expected to be even greater than shown in the chart.

Recreation Report

by Colleen Walker

I was very pleased to be hired by the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board as your new program supervisor. It is quite encouraging to be able to work in one's home community.

Many of you are probably asking about me personally and my qualifications. I was raised on a farm in the Tofield area, receiving all my education at Tofield School. During high school, I was given the opportunity to work as a playground leader for three years for the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board. After completion of high school, I attended Mount Royal College in Calgary where I majored in a course entitled "Community Recreation". I recently received my diploma in this field and have been fortunate enough to be hired as your program supervisor until September 1, 1977.

ALBERTA SUMMER GAMES

Now, some recreation news. The 1977 Alberta Summer Games is being held in Red Deer. This is a good opportunity for competition in sports such as baseball, archery, tennis, golf, pistol, rifle and block powder shooting, to name a few sports I think we should really try to put the County of Beaver "on the map." More details will be announced later.

SOCCER/AMS

We are starting work on the summer brochure which will announce summer programs that will be run in the County of Beaver. We hope to start circulation of this brochure in June 1977, so be watching for it.

COACHES

Every town in the country is experiencing a great deal of problems finding coaches and umpires for our baseball teams. This seems unfortunate since the kids of our communities are so eager to play, but the adults are not quite so willing to give of their time. I'm sure there are many qualified coaches and umpires in our community, so please come out of the woodwork!

There will be a softball clinic run on May 28 and 30 which will and those volunteers. If you are interested in helping us out, please call Tofield - John Boerger, 662-3191, Ryley - Maxine Reid, 663-3752, Holden - Betty Lutz, - Charlie Mathews 688-3753, Bruce - Henry Field, 685-3510, Viking - Les Josephson 336-3888.

The future "baseball players" and the recreation staff do thank you for your cooperation in assisting us.

SWIMMING DAYS

One day per month is spent in each community, visiting with you. This day gives all the opportunity to come meet your recreation staff that you do have and talk to them about programs. Since, I have just joined your recreation staff, I look forward to meeting you on these visiting days. Here is a list of visiting days:

Tofield - May 11
Holden - May 13
Bruce - May 17
Viking - May 18

These days are set aside for your convenience, so please take advantage of them.

In closing, I would like to thank the Beaver Regional Recreation Board for hiring me as the new program supervisor until September 1.

I look forward to a summer filled with lots of activities and lots of fun.

4-H clubs to clean hwys.

Three Alberta government departments will combine with the province's 530 4-H clubs to clean up some 8,000 miles of primary highway on May 7, according to Dr. Hugh M. Horner, deputy premier and minister of transportation.

The departments involved are agriculture, environment and transportation. The spring cleaning project will immediately precede "pitch-in '77", an outdoors unitered Alberta government-sponsored, province-wide clean-up campaign scheduled for the week of May 9-15.

"Each 4-H club will be paid $5 per mile for picking up garbage along both sides of the highway to a maximum of 10 miles of primary highway," Dr. Horner said. Cost for the project is estimated at about $40,000 in revenue for the clubs. Alberta transportation maintenance branch crews will provide minimum supervision and the bags and trucks necessary to haul away the garbage.

"For safety reasons, the program will not involve four-lane highways." Dr. Horner said. "By the same token, we ask all motorists travelling primary highways on Saturday, May 7th, to exercise extreme caution."

All returnable bottles and cans may be kept by the club in charge. Garbage will be placed at various central points along the highway system for pick-up by maintenance branch crews.

Local water restrictions withdrawn

The Town of Tofield has withdrawn restrictions on the use of water due to the contents of the reservoir being substantially increased.

The decision to withdraw the restrictions was made by town council as its regular meeting after councillors were told that the water level had been raised to within 18 inches of the top of the spillway.

Bringing the water level up had been the results of pumping water into the reservoir for a total of 178 hours.

Council asked that a delay in establishing a senior citizens' home in Holden until the one in Tofield is operational, costs of such operation are known and the need for such a home can be better established.

Councillors were reacting to information received from the Beaver Foundation which sought support for construction of a home in Holden.

Administration was told to contact officials of the County of Beaver to try and arrange for certain roads in the town to be oiled.

Councillors were told that the revised equalized assessment was $2,872,300.

A requisition from the County of Beaver indicated that the 1977 total was $679,152 with Tofield's share being $97,858. Officials of the county requested the town to send a representative to the next county council meeting so that the reasons for the increased requisition could be explained.

Members of council were informed that Tofield's share in the school foundation program requisition was $59,627.

Administration was advised to see if two persons could be employed under the 1977 FITEP program.

A delegation attended council meeting to see if water services to the north end of town could be obtained.

Owners were told that cost of such a service would amount to between $54,000 and $60,000 and that the town could not assume such costs to serve such a small group of people. Administration was asked to calculate cost estimates of a frontage basis so that home owners would know what kind of expense they were facing.

Council asked that its policy regarding expenses for councillors be investigated and updated and a report presented for the next meeting.

Sam Hulkovich was given permission to strip blind dirt and bring Highway Street to grade, from the Texaco property west with the town supplying the necessary gravel.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a council meeting held on April 26th.

Help still required in identifying body

RCMP are still seeking the assistance of the public in identifying a male body found on a farm near Tofield on April 13th.

Following a description of the body, released last week, four leads were called in to the Tofield Detachment and were investigated without a successful conclusion.

The body, found in a septic tank on the farm, showed evidence of bullet holes, torture and mutilation. The body is described as about twenty-five years old, six feet tall and weighing 180 pounds. The man was dressed in a blue denim shirt, blue jeans, grey worksocks and was wearing wallabies.

Anyone having any information as to the possible identification of the victim is asked to contact the Tofield Detachment, or the nearest detachment of the RCMP.

There was a bright spot in police work last week. Two Tofield boys, ages 4 and nine years, were reported missing at noon on Wednesday. A tracking dog and troops were called in to aid in the search. However, the two boys were found about 7.30 p.m. wandering along the railway tracks. They were found before the called-for assistance could arrive on the scene.

A break and enter at The Place in Tofield resulted in the theft of a cash box containing an undisclosed amount of cash. Tradesmen are reporting the loss of tools at building sites throughout the area.

Damages amounting to over $300 were reported Thursday morning after stones, thrown by spinning tires, damaged glass in the front door of the Royal Bank in Holden. An investigation is underway.

Although the hunting season is not open, police are receiving reports of night hunting and are investigating. It is illegal to hunt at night, at any time.

Richard Aubin of Calgary and his brother, Joseph Aubin of Tofield, appeared in Court on charges of break and enter at the Tofield Liquor Store. Richard Aubin was sentenced to six months in prison while Joseph Aubin was sentenced to time spent in custody and probation for two years.

Michael Chrapko and Brian Ridenour, both of Vegreville, were charged with two counts of theft resulting from thefts of a jack in Ryley and tires in Tofield, were each fined $200 on each charge and given six months' probation.

Eleven persons were charged with offences under the Liquor Control Act for illegal possession and illegal conveyance of alcohol and each was fined $50.

Garry Simmonds of Vermilion was charged with impaired driving and pleaded guilty and was remanded to June 14th.

Robert Haigh of Tofield failed to appear in court on charges of impaired driving and resisting arrest. Warrants were issued for his arrest.

Dennis Overbee of Tofield was charged with driving while impaired and his trial date set for June 14th. The same date was set for the appearance of Chester Cassidy of Tofield charged under Section 236 of the Criminal Code and for illegal conveyance of liquor.

Gordon Dyck of Edmonton pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while his license was suspended. His trial comes up on June 14th.

Pool opens

The Ryley Swimming Pool has again opened for swim lessons and recreational swimming.

The pool had been shut down for one week after the opening on April 11th, due to poor water conditions. The pool has since been drained and refilled and water conditions are now perfect.

Monday, May 30th will be the starting date of the Mom and Tot swim lessons.

Classes will be from 2.00 p.m. - 2.30 p.m. It will be a five-week course and mothers will be required to go in the water with their child. The registration fee for this course will be $6.00.

Wednesday, June 1st will be the starting date of the Ladies Keep Fit and Learn to Swim Course. Classes will be from 2.00 - 3.00 p.m. Aquacises plus swim instruction will be taught. A babysitting service will be provided if enough people request it. The telephone number at the pool is 663-3366.

Ryley project is continuing

The "Mainstreet Project" has once again gotten underway.

Some of the empty lots on Main Street have been cleaned up in present an improved appearance with the work being done by Sheldon Reid and Dale Murray.

The fence for the mini park has been started and will be continued along with some tree planting which will be done shortly.

Volunteers to become involved in Mainstreet Project are needed and anyone interested in lending a hand is asked to visit the Village Office.

Around the town

W.R. Stephenson of Edmonton called for Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson last Sunday and took them to the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton where they attended the Diocesan Festival "Eucharist". After the service, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson entertained the Robinsons, Mrs. Isabel Smith, Edith Macy and Will Willems at their home.

Mrs. Myrtle Saltzman had her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Martin of Kilcher, Ontario, visiting her last week.

Peter Chilkowich attended his daughter's (Carol Lynn) graduation exercises, banquet and dance in Lethbridge over the weekend. While there, he visited tourist spots and called in at Waterton Lakes Park.

About 160 people attended a meeting of the Alberta Association of Commercial Rabbit Producers which was held recently in Sherwood Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klatt have returned from a three-week stay at Kamas Hot-springs in Montana where they enjoyed the baths.

The winning ticket for the quilt made by the ACW was held by Mrs. Ed Mangold.

Donna and Glen Burtheider are the proud parents of a baby daughter, Connie Marie, 7 lbs. 8 ozs., born in the Tofield Hospital on April 28th. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burtheider of Tofield and Ewald Price of Millet.

Tofield Girl Guides and Brownies held their annual Cookie Day on Saturday. The girls did a clean-up job at the Sports Ground and arena area on Monday night, gathering two truckloads of garbage. They ended the evening with a weiner roast at the home of Mrs. Sharon Moore.

Born to Arnold and Irma Hinderbrandt, on May 6th, a son, Elton Paul, a brother for Joni and Darryl.

The pancake breakfast at the United Church on Mothers' Day was well attended and enjoyed by all of the "mothers" who got out of cooking for one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Phillips spent the weekend in Banff where Mrs. Phillips attended the annual conference of the Alberta English Specialist Council.

The previous weekend, Mrs. Helen Tiedemann, also of the Tofield School staff, attended in Edmonton, the yearly conference of the International Reading Association.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith visited with her parents Wednesday afternoon.

THE MEATLESS WAY

There has been some interest expressed in vegetarian meals. Agriculture Canada sent the following information and a recipe idea.

A true vegetarian uses only plant foods and excludes all foods of animal origin - meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dairy products. A lacto-ovo vegetarian includes milk and all dairy products but excludes meat, poultry and fish.

Concern about protein in the diet must go beyond a look at the total amount in the meal or day's meals and extend to the question of its quality. All proteins are not created equal! Proteins are made up of simpler materials called amino acids and there are eight essential ones which must be obtained from food. Animal proteins are complete because they contain the right essential amino acids. Vegetable proteins are low in one or more of the essential amino acids, although not necessarily the same ones in each case. To get the most out of vegetable protein, the trick is to pair a plant food low in one kind of amino acid with one that is low in another. For maximum protein efficiency, combine grains or seeds with legumes or any plant food with a high quality animal protein. Of course, the combinations must be eaten at the same meal. Some powerful pairs include macaroni and cheese; whole grain cereals with milk; baked beans with bread; bean and rice. As a general strategy, it's a good mean-planning practice to have a variety of protein sources in the diet.

Dreaming up meatless meals can be creative! Try

Vegetable Pizza

- ½ teaspoon liquid honey
- 1 cup lukewarm water
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup soy flour
- 2 to 2½ cups whole wheat flour
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 28-ounce can tomatoes
- 1 teaspoon liquid honey
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 1 tablespoon dried parsley
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 cup chopped broccoli
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 4 cups (16 ounces) grated mozzarella cheese

Dissolve ½ teaspoon honey in lukewarm water and sprinkle yeast over top. Let stand 10 minutes. Stir in 2 tablespoons oil, salt, soy flour, and enough whole wheat flour to make soft dough. Turn onto floured board and knead until smooth and elastic (8 to 10 minutes). Shape in ball and place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1½ hours). Punch down, divide in half, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll each half in 12-inch circle and place on greased 12-inch pizza pan or baking sheet. Saute ½ cup onion in 2 tablespoons oil until transparent. Add tomatoes, 2 teaspoons honey and seasonings. Simmer uncovered until thick, stirring occasionally (about 30 minutes). Saute vegetables in 1 tablespoon oil until onion is transparent. Spread half of sauce on each circle of dough. Add half the vegetables. Sprinkle 2 cups cheese over each pizza. Bake 15 minutes at 400°F. Makes 2 - 12-inch pizzas.

Poe Pourri

by Lorraine Poulsen

When Poe's honorary mayor, Alex Barlow, first told me about well-witching, I listened with great interest but I must admit, I had my doubts.

His explanation of just how one goes about finding water WITHOUT digging a hole deep into the ground left me nonplussed.

For some reason I formed a picture in my mind of a lengthy ceremony in which the Water Spirits were called upon, erotic dances performed and hocus-pocus chants recited.

Sunday, my idea of well-witching was erased.

Maynard Olsen sought the services of Poe's honorary mayor in locating water on the Olsen land and Sunday was the day the well-witching took place.

I retract my doubts.

There actually is such a talent as having the power to witch wells and Alex Barlow has such a gift.

With just a Y-shaped willow and a long willow branch, Debbie Diverlus, Maynard, myself and Poe visitor, Cheryl Skanderberg, watched in awe as Mr. Barlow wiped away any and all doubts.

Using the Y-shaped willow, Mr. Barlow set out to find out if there actually was a water source on the land.

No problem.

The Y-shaped willow snapped sharply in Mr. Barlow's hands despite his effort to hold the willow in a straight position. The reaction of the willow indicated that there was (is) water on the land.

Next, the long willow branch was used to locate the depth of the water beneath the surface. Holding the long willow branch tightly to his side, Mr. Barlow waited only seconds until the far end of the branch began to bob slowly up and down. Counting the number of bobs allowed Mr. Barlow to establish the number of feet to the water source.

Now, there wasn't any digging done Sunday so there is no real proof of the authenticity of the well-boss. However, all of us on-lookers tried our hand at making the willows "talk" without luck.

An attempt will be made to dig a well in the location designated by Alex and his willow branch and I, for one, will lay odds that water will be found within six inches to a foot of where the willow branch predicted.

FLY CONTROL IN HOG BARNS

Sanitation is the most important factor in keeping unusually populations down in hog barns. In fact, most populations can be kept to a non-nuisance level in barns which are designed and equipped to eliminate potential breeding areas and to make frequent cleaning easy.

A barn that incorporates a scoop or flush manure removal system will go a long way towards discouraging housefly breeding. Because housefly larvae thrive in fresh, semi-solid manure, it is important that the manure be scooped or flushed at least once every two weeks into a holding tank where it is quickly converted into a liquid.

In barns that have not been designed for such systems, the next best method of control is chemical. Chemical control should be aimed at the adult flies and the larvae as well as at breeding sites in the vicinity of the hog barn. The types of insecticides available include residual wall sprays, impregnated strips and baits.

A residual spray should be applied at key pressure to areas where the flies congregate. These include walls, windows, ceilings, partitions etc. Residual spray products recommended for use in a hog barn include Sumadin, Vapona, Cygon, Malathion, Methoxychlor, Pyrethrins, Ravap, Korlan and Dylox.

Fly strips kill by contact or by releasing a fumigant. They are suitable for barns with only a small fly population and should be hung from the ceiling so that they do not come in contact with people or animals. Recommended products include Vapona and Sulp Fly Bands.

Fly baits should be used in combination with a residual spray and be placed where flies collect. Recommended fly baits include diazinon (1 percent dry bait can be made according to label directions), Vapona, Malathion and Ravap.

Since each insecticide has special precautions that must be taken, it is extremely important to read label directions carefully before using any of them.

Hugh Philip, entomologist with Alberta Agriculture's plant industry laboratory, who has been doing research on housefly control, says one insecticide should not be used continuously throughout the fly season because the flies may become resistant to it.

He reports that there are a number of promising new insecticides currently being tested. Among them are the quick-acting synthetic pyrethroids for controlling adult flies and such insect growth regulators as Th 6040 (Dimilin).

Mr. Philip also says that interest is developing in the use of electric flying insect traps as a means of keeping fly populations down after an acceptable population level has been achieved. He explains that the traps consist of one or two ultra-violet lights surrounded by two screens which are energized by a transformer. Attracted by the ultra-violet

Mrs. Edna Jones will be hostess to the Lakeshore UCW at her home on Wednesday afternoon with Isabel Rudnicki assisting with the lunch. Menu bers are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

On May 4th, three car loads, consisting of some 35 members of the Tofield and district UCW motored to Pigeon Lake where they visited the Rhoads Museum and enjoyed a picnic dinner. They were from the Ketchamont, Lakeshore and Tofield UCW's. Those from the Lakeshore UCW were Edna Jones, Isabel Rudnicki and Ethel Moss.

Betty and Dale Jones and baby daughter Michelle of Spirit River arrived Wednesday and were overnight visitors at the home of Betty's parents, Glen and Teena Jones before returning home Thursday afternoon.

Several ladies from this district and from Tofield namely the usual birthday group, met at the home of Mrs. Diane Pikula to help celebrate 4 birthdays at one time. Those having birthdays were Mrs. Diane Pikula, Mrs. Deanna Nelson, Mrs. Mae Ferguson and Mrs. Helen Brun. The afternoon was spent visiting followed by luncheon and the usual birthday cake.

Carl and Mavis Jacobsen and daughter Karen motored to Edmonton Thursday evening to the home of Carl's parents, Hans and Martha Jacobsen, where they were guests at a birthday supper in honor of Han's 83rd birthday.

Howard and Mae Ferguson entertained Mae's sister, Marguerite and Don Bailey of Edmonton and their mother.

Hastings Lake

Lois Fenns

The bird study weekend at Minnitik Hills Field Study Centre, two miles south of Hastings Lake, was a great success, aided by the magnificent weather which followed the rain.

Waterfowl were in abundance, the swallows were returning in the many nest-boxes (and one was seen to house a pair of bluebirds) and several interesting species of hawks were watched as they searched for the field mice which form the greater part of their diet. The students also had a field day at Beaverhill Lake, resting place for so many migrating shorebirds and waterfowl at this time of year. Further naturalists' courses will be held on June 16-18, July 19-21 and July 30-31.

The calendar for the community association this week shows first of all the strawberry tea from 2.00 p.m. to 5.00 p.m. on Saturday, then the Junior Western Riding Clinic a.k.a. Rabbys' on Sunday. Next is the monthly meeting of the Community Association at the Hall on Monday and finally, the Ladies' Club meeting at Arlene Mason's house on May 19th at 1. p.m.

Much needed rain fell Wednesday evening, overnight and most of Thursday, thus breaking the long dry spell and helping the parching grassland as well as giving moisture to the fields. More rain is needed to get water in the pot holes and sloughs which are completely dry for the first time in many years.

LINES AND WRINKLES

By MARY KAILUA

Cosmetic science has extracted a skin beauty substance from the bean of a tropical plant that works wonders by making rough, lined face and dry chapped hands look years younger fast. Use it tonight and you should see vast improvement in the morning. Many small lines around the eyes and mouth may already have disappeared and wrinkles you have given up as hopeless should start to vanish in a few days. But that isn't all. That discouraging weather-darkened old-age skin tone fades away. But don't take my word for it — use this exciting substance yourself for 7 days. Satisfaction is guaranteed or return for refund. It's the tropical nut extract that works wonders for wrinkles and lines. It's called Cocreasa Dry Skin Creme.

Holden and district news

Mrs. G. H. Taylor

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy were recent weekend visitors with their daughter, Sharon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mason Jr. in Calgary, helping one of their grandchildren celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Helen Blyth and daughter Shelly were Friday visitors in Vegreville.

Ray Howland of Ryley was a Thursday guest with Mrs. Beth Campbell. Ray attended a meeting on Friday at St. Paul, of secretary-treasurers.

Mrs. Irene MacGregor was a recent visitor at Camrose, at Bethany Home, calling on former Holden residents Mrs. Laura Christenson, Mrs. Carrie Olson and Mrs. Ragnhild Hagglund.

The Pioneer Group met for their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Jane Clark. Mrs. Ezra Nichols was in charge of devotions. The minutes of the previous meeting, held March 31st at the home of Mrs. Ethel Brekaloff were read and approved. There was no business arising from the minutes. A secretary's meeting meeting had been called for Friday evening and would be held at the home of Mrs. Campbell. The meeting was closed with a hymn and the Mizpah Benediction repeated in unison. The next meeting will be held June 2nd at the home of Mrs. Mary Zwierschke. The group were very pleased to have Mary's daughter, Norma and little granddaughter Nancy of Vancouver who are visiting with them, attend the meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

The Friendship Group will meet for the May meeting on Thursday afternoon, May 19th, at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy were Thursday afternoon visitors with Mary's sister and family at Viking.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Andrews of Edmonton were Saturday visitors with his aunt, Mrs. Frances Hansen. Jim and wife are expecting to be moving in the near future from Edmonton to Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Allan have been spending some time in Edmonton taking a course for senior citizens at the University of Alberta. Don is taking a course in literature and Pearl is also taking literature and one other course.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Slyvka and girls of Sherwood Park were visiting at the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Mary Slyvka.

Don and Pearl Allan were Sunday afternoon, Mother's Day guests with their daughter Gail and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chmilar and grandson Jonathon at Sherwood Park.

Visiting with Mrs. N. Harsaymchuk during the weekend were the Bill Harsaymchuks of Edmonton.

Dennis Daniluk has been laid up from garage work, having hurt his hand very badly when helping his brother do some fencing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Campbell of Leduc with Ken's mother, Mrs. Eunice Campbell of Edmonton, were Mother's Day dinner guests with Marjorie's mother, Mrs. Beth Campbell.

Mrs. Campbell was pleasantly surprised on Sunday afternoon to receive a phone call from her son, Bill and wife Susanne in Montreal, with greetings for Mother's Day.

A meeting of Holden Cemetery Committee was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Beth Campbell with sixteen people attending.

A short business meeting was held with president Lyle Grealand in charge. The minutes of the annual meeting were read. The committee was advised of a generous donation from Lars Ritland recently presented with Ford's Distinguished Achievement Award by Ian McEwen, field manager, Western Region, for Ford Motor Company of Canada. This award is presented in recognition of progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices, high quality standards and continuing interest in rendering superior service to owners of the Ford family of products.

The male board members of Holden United Church supplied lunch on Family Day, Sunday, after service, treating the ladies and members to strawberry shortcake, which was much enjoyed by all.

The musical group, "The Camarsis" of which Jim Campbell, son of Marjorie and Ken Campbell of Leduc and grandson of Mrs. Beth Campbell, is a member, is giving a concert on May 18th at the Citadel in Edmonton. Jim plays clarinet with the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Irish and two girls of Edmonton, with Mrs. Lily McLeod also of Edmonton, were visiting in Holden last Sunday and called in to see Lily's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carlson.

Bill 39 - The Land Titles Amendment Act

I cannot support this bill because its provisions are retroactive. It is a dangerous precedent which threatens the civil rights of all Albertans.

The bill contains a section which will retroactively disallow the caveat filed by seven chiefs in Northeastern Alberta in 1975. The courts should decide on the validity of natives' land claims, but I feel it is unfair for the government to change the rules in mid-stream.

If the provincial government is allowed to proceed with this legislation there is no telling how far it might go in retroactively changing existing laws.

Bill 39 goes far beyond "clarifying the law" as stated by the Attorney General. It forms a precedent which allows the government to retroactively change any laws, and makes a mockery of the government's human rights legislation.

The Social Credit caucus will vote against the principle of this legislation.

Municipal Debt Levels

The government has introduced a bill which is designed to increase the lending capacity of the Alberta Municipal Finance Corporation from 1.9 billion to 2.2 billion dollars.

It is my opinion that the government should conduct a full-scale review of municipal debt levels before municipalities bankrupt themselves. It is not possible to borrow yourself into prosperity. We must have a look at the debt level of all municipalities. Perhaps the Heritage Savings Trust Fund, which belongs to all of us, should be used to reduce municipal debt in cases where municipal governments have over-extended themselves.

The Social Credit caucus has agreed that revenue sharing, including income tax and resource revenue sharing, allow municipalities to set their own priorities for spending with an assured amount of revenue to work with each year. This system is much more equitable than the present conditional grant system which leads to antics municipalities to spend beyond their capabilities in some cases.

If you have comments, concerns or questions write me at Legislative Building, Ed-monton or phone 427-2391 collect.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds — for less

This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot-pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard—TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleafs are susceptible TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON 202C is a formulation containing Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!
TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pail*: $37.40—and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.08 to $1.60. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase. Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and, upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container—in a special carry-case.

You'll grow bigger with a little help from DOW

Garden Club meets

by Doris Brown

The Tofield Garden Club met at the home of Doris Brown on Monday evening with 19 members present.

Tofield Fair prize list books were distributed to the members.

This year, the format of the Fair has changed somewhat - staging will take place on Friday and all classes except livestock and the pet show will be judged at 3:00 p.m., Friday. Exhibits will be open to the public Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The club members decided to purchase rosettes for 10 or 12 of the special classes in the Horticulture section of the fair.

The Flea Market which is to be held on May 28th was also discussed. To date, 32 tables have been spoken for. The Flea Market will begin at 1:30 p.m. and pie and coffee will be served throughout the afternoon.

It was decided that the club would once again enter a float in the July 1st parade and also set up a display in the arena.

The next meeting will be held on June 13th at the home of Myrna Hustert.

Denise Campbell who celebrated her sixth birthday on Friday and was truly happy to see so many come out for the occasion. Grandparents, uncles, aunts, cousins and friends gathered at the Melvin and Marilyn Campbell home in the afternoon and evening. A lovely birthday lunch was served to the guests.

On Saturday, 4-H groups in the area got busy and picked up all the bottles and litter thrown into ditches along the Highway "a maximum of 10 miles." they got $2.00 a mile. Highway crews picked up the garbage.

Visiting with Mrs Margaret Helgeland and Signar Helgeland over the weekend were Eilef and Randi Haugland and three young sons, Svein, Kjell and Tore of Stananger, Norway. They also called in a cousin's home in Ryley where other cousins gathered to visit and have lunch and look at pictures.

The Ryley C.W.L. held the induction of their new officers for 1977-78 with a church mass followed by supper at the Legion Hall last Thursday. New officers are: President, T Kolodychuk; vice-president, B Kodrowsky; Secretary, C.D Beyer; and treasurer, E Krpejcheki.

Shirley Jensen of Edberg spent Mother's Day with her parents in Ryley

The Ryley 4-H Clothing Club held their achievement day Saturday in the Ryley Legion Hall, where their home-made articles were on display. Sharon Strodwick of Vermilion judged the articles and films were shown. She also gave a little talk on ideas of how to finish their articles.

CARDS OF THANKS

Heartfelt thanks to all our families, relatives, friends and neighbours, for their support, strength, and many tributes. Mass offerings, donations to the Cancer Society, etc. and words of sympathy after the sudden loss of Jarod Lynn, our beloved daughter and sister

A special thanks to Dr Towner, nurses and staff To Rev Anthony Chilkiewich officiating, to Mrs. Bergen and those who helped with the lunch. Please accept our deep appreciation as well as our thanks Words alone cannot express our deep feeling to Mr. A. Boergen, a special friend, for his chosen words which touched the hearts of everyone. So to one and all, thank you for being there then and here now, to give us strength to carry on

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all who sent cards, fruit, chocolates and magazines and also those who visited me during my recent stay in Tofield Hospital.
George Hunchuk

Recreation Report

by Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor

This week we have been busy attending meetings and starting plans on some summer programs. If you have any ideas, please let us know. We are open for suggestion.

Softball and Baseball

The gals of our community got together on Tuesday to discuss the forming of some ladies and girls leagues down the line. Any girl interested in playing should contact their local representative

I would also like to remind everyone interested in the baseball clinic running May 30 and 31, in Bruce. Please note it is open for all, you coaches, managers, umpires and players must have a few questions, so make an effort to [illegible]

Senior Citizens

This week I will be attempting to visit the senior citizen's meetings throughout the community. I think there is enough interest in trips, that we can start planning one. I will be looking for ideas from you senior citizens about places to go.

Playground Programs

It has been decided that the stationary playgrounds will be run in Tofield, Ryley, Holden and Viking. The travelling playground will be available for any community wishing this service. There are three leaders hired to operate our travelling playgrounds each year. These leaders travel from area to area running a daily playground program for children aged four years and up.

The local recreation boards will be doing the actual hiring of playground staff in their own community. Anyone interested in applying for this position, do it immediately by writing to our office for an application form.

We are still in search of camp staff counsellors. Please phone or write our office for an application form.

Wading Pool

Next Tuesday we will be visiting in Bruce, and on Wednesday in Viking. Hope to see a few of you there.

Alberta delegation

Six 4-H club members from Alberta have returned after spending a week in Ottawa on 4-H activities. They were accompanied by Doug Norman of Stettler, who was the chaperone. Standing are Lucy de Champlain of Vimy, Willy Groten of Sarona, Leigh Baird of Godsby and Yvonne Lowe of Vulcan. Seated are Alison Treacy of Hussar, Mr Norman and Elsa Heiberg of Tofield.

Powerline league opens on Tues.

The Powerline Baseball League will operate with six teams during the coming season which opens on Tuesday evening.

One of the six teams will be making its debut as Holden has gained admission to Powerline action. The new entry will replace Viking who dropped out for this season.

The other five teams in the league will be returnees from last year. They include Bardo, Round Hill, Camrose, Tofield and Ryley.

Following the opening games on Tuesday, the regular schedule will continue until June 28th and will be followed by playoffs which will be conducted by the top four teams from the schedule.

Following is the complete league schedule. Readers are advised to clip this schedule and save for future reference.

May 27: Camrose at Bardo; Ryley at Holden; Round Hill at Tofield.

May 31: Bardo at Holden; Ryley at Round Hill; Camrose at Tofield.

June 2: Holden at Round Hill; Camrose at Ryley; Tofield at Bardo.

June 7: Round Hill at Camrose; Bardo at Ryley; Holden at Tofield.

June 14: Camrose at Holden; Round Hill at Bardo; Ryley at Tofield.

June 16: Bardo at Camrose; Holden at Ryley, Tofield at Round Hill.

June 23: Round Hill at Holden; Ryley at Camrose; Bardo at Tofield.

June 28: Camrose at Round Hill; Ryley at Bardo; Tofield at Holden.

4-H club sets Achievement Day

The monthly meeting of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club was held on Thursday. Old business discussed was the highway clean-up that was successful and netted $100.00.

The slave auction, which was supervised by Gerald Laarbuis, went very well with all members participating.

Plans for Achievement Day were finalized with Achievement Day being on June 6 this year at the Tofield Arena. The weigh-in will occur at 10:00 a.m., show at 12:30 p.m. followed by the sale at 7:00 p.m. All spectators are welcome. The 4-H Club is looking for the support of all local buyers to make the sale as successful as preceding years.

The final judging will be held June 1 at the fairgrounds when the carcass calves will be judged. Everyone is welcome to come and watch.

Heiberg is home from Ottawa visit

Elsa Heiberg has returned home after spending a week in Ottawa as an Alberta 4-H delegate.

Miss Heiberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Heiberg, was chosen to make the trip because of her extensive activities with the Tofield 4-H Beef Club.

The other five 4-H delegates making the trip were Jo Anne Lowe, Lucille de Champlain, Willy Groten, and Allison Treacy.

Also making the trip to Central Canada was Doug Noonan, regional specialist stationed in Stettler, who acted as chaperone.

Prior to leaving for Ottawa, the 4-H delegates were guests at a banquet at the MacDonald Hotel in Edmonton at which time Arnold Malone, MP for Battle River was the guest speaker.

Others in attendance at the banquet included officials from the 4-H Branch, representatives from the Alberta Wheat Pool, 4-H Club leaders and parents of the six delegates.

While in Ottawa, the 4-Her's were taken on a tour of the House of Commons and were there during a question period. They visited the National Arts Center where they watched a comedy production and visited museums and art galleries. They participated in discussions of a variety of topics with other 4-H members from all across the country.

Each 4-H member was presented with a certificate of Canadian citizenship.

Before leaving Ottawa, they were guests of honour at a banquet in the Richelieu Room at the skyline Hotel, where they stayed during their week-long visit.

BRTA wins

For the second year in a row, the Battle River Tourist Association has won a national award.

The BRTA was presented with a plaque by the Travel Industry Association of Canada during ceremonies in Edmonton on Sunday as the TIAC is currently holding its annual national convention.

The award recognizes efforts made by organizations such as the BRTA to promote tourism in their area on a year-round basis. The BRTA was competing in a category for areas with a population of under 100,000 people.

Eleven representatives of the Battle River Tourist Association were in Edmonton on Sunday when it was announced that the group had won a national award for the second straight year.

BRTA is centered in Camrose with Sylvia Clemens as manager. Ed Palmer of Killam is the current president while Bob Ruttan of Provost is first vice-president and John Gust of Bashaw is past president.

Five are graduates

Five area residents were among those participating in graduation exercises which were held for Grant MacEwan Community College on Saturday.

The five were among 460 students in thirty programs who took part in the ceremonies which were held in the Jubilee Auditorium.

The Hon. Dr A.E. Hohol, Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower for the Province of Alberta, delivered the convocation address.

Brenda L. Albrecht of Ryley received her diploma in Law Enforcement and Corrections while Audrey M. Lyons of Ryley got her diploma as a Library Technician.

Two of the graduands were from Holden as Cheryl L. Chetney and Deborah L. Dary each were named as graduand designates in nursing.

Theresa M Sandmaier of Viking received her certificate as a teachers' aide graduand designate.

Returns

John Hutchison, a former Tofielder, has returned to Tofield to assume the position of district manager with Calgary Power. Mr. Hutchison started with Calgary Power in Calgary in 1955 and moved to Tofield two years later and has since held posts with the company in Wainwright, Calgary and Sherwood Park. Mr. Hutchison's wife, Esther and his family, will be moving to Tofield when school ends in June.

Ball team loses all its uniforms

A Wainwright baseball team is without uniforms and someplace, there's a team that has uniforms that doesn't belong to them.

Ken McIntosh of Wainwright lost the uniforms which consist of powder blue shirts and dark blue nylon pants with red and white stripe and fifteen pairs of red socks, somewhere between Tofield and Holden. There were Tiger crests on the uniforms, which were brand new as they had just been picked up in Edmonton.

Someone in an unknown vehicle was observed picking up the new uniforms and is being sought. Anyone having any information is asked to pass it along to the Tofield Detachment or any Detachment of the RCMP.

RCMP are bolstering their forces in anticipation of possible problems connected with graduation in Tofield this coming weekend. A similiar occasion in Ryley last week resulted in a number of charges being laid.

About one thousand dollars worth of liquor, jewelry and a stereo were taken in a break-and enter of a cabin located four miles north of Lindbrook. Police are looking for three suspects between the ages of 17 and 19 years. They were seen at the cabin in a ½-ton truck which was later reported stolen from the City of Edmonton.

RCMP are investigating two recent break-ins at Heritage Park on Highway 16 about five miles west of SR 854. Nothing was taken in either case as there is nothing of value in the park. Police suspect that someone is being overly curious.

There have been a number of incidents reported of people passing school buses while they are either loading or unloading and police are reminding the public that it is illegal to pass these buses while their lights are flashing.

A number of illegal beaver traps are being found in recent days with one trap, in the Ryley area, having a beaver in it. Again, police point out that it is illegal to set beaver traps in unregistered trapping areas.

Dog owners in the Round Hill area are getting upset as a number of the animals have been found shot to death, for no apparent reason. Police would appreciate any information in this matter.

Those energy costs

The cost of energy these days, whether it's in the form of natural gas, electricity, gasoline or oil, or other forms, is soaring on an almost unimaginable level, and according to some experts, we're far from seeing the end yet. In fact, say some of them, the worst is still to come, as reserves diminish, and world prices

Nearly everyone is complaining, but as a number of farmers have pointed out recently, almost no-one but members of a number of rural gas co-ops are doing anything at all about the problem. Co-op members, however, are far from sitting on their hands. Disturbed, even alarmed at the unexpected and precipitous increases in natural gas prices, they arranged a meeting two weeks ago with the entire caucus of the government.

Not only are they dismayed at the rate of price increase, but they are concerned over the future of their entire system. Only three years ago they were encouraged by the government to move into these distributing co-ops, with the promise of stable prices for a number of years to come. In fact, the government even encouraged them by providing financial assistance under certain conditions

Unfortunately, the pipe was barely in the ground before prices started rising, and many of the co-ops fear there will be no further expansion, no hooking on of the slower or more reluctant neighbors, as they watch prices escalate.

Explanations as to the background of the problem are numerous. Unfortunately, suggestions as to methods of relief are harder to come by.

In a specially written survey of Canada's energy picture, an Eastern writer named Peter Foster points out that the volume of Canada's oil and gas reserves has been an issue surrounded by misunderstanding and controversy in recent years. As recently as three or four years ago, says Mr. Foster, the belief was widespread that Canada had access to enough oil and gas to carry it easily into the next century. Unhappily, Albertans had already begun to realize that their dream of a rolling, thirty-year projection of guaranteed supplies had turned into a myth.]

Mr. Foster points out, however, the belief was based on confusion between proven reserves and potential reserves, confusion which was helped along by the industry's optimism. And there are Albertans who feel that is a very charitable description of what could be looked upon as misrepresentation.

There are many Eastern Canadians who feel Alberta led them down the garden path, and that even now we are "hiding" our resources, "proving" they don't exist, so as to avoid sharing them with other Canadians. Even though they refused for many years to take them. Earlier figures may have been too optimistic, they agree, but they are absolutely certain we're now being too pessimistic about reserves.

However, the Department of Industry, Mines and Resources produces overall estimates today which are substantially lower than their figures for 1973. About a third of the difference is due to areas now considered too inaccessible. More significant, sophisticated newer techniques and disappointing drilling results show the 1973 estimates were entirely too optimistic.

Proven reserves are pretty well established, within reasonable tolerances, in areas where the supply has been proven and measured. Potential reserves, on the other hand, are essentially a matter of educated guesses, subject to wide margins of error, and subject also to the question, even if they exist, of whether they'll ever be brought on stream, either by reason of accessibility, or of economics, or of adequacy.

In the face of questions and doubts of such a magnitude, it's not surprising then, that Albertans should be highly upset over the increasing pressures to ship more and more of our gas abroad. Reviewing the graph elsewhere on this page, produced by Statistics Canada, it's not a bit hard to see why the price of our natural gas is rising. In only seven years, export to the United States has soared to seven times what it was in 1970.

It may be wonderful to have all those millions of extra dollars pouring into the Heritage Fund, in such an amazingly short period, for our children to enjoy. But wouldn't it also be wonderful if our children could have some of that inexpensive natural gas around at prices that they could still afford to pay for it?

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (BP) — The fancy dipsy-doodling of the Canadian dollar on international money markets has been giving investors and tourists the whim-whams all year, and indications are that things will get worse before they improve.

Mind you, it's not altogether bad that the Canadian dollar has sunk so low against the U.S. dollar, but neither is it cause for wild rejoicing

The slide began last year, after our currency had been at a premium over U.S. currency. Two things came at the same time to push the Canadian dollar into its initial slump, the election of the Parti Quebecois on Nov. 15, and the reduction of the prime interest rate in Canada the following week.

Since then we've had two more reductions in the prime interest rate, narrowing the gap between the U.S. interest rates and the amount of interest paid in Canada. We've also released some pretty grim economic figures, like the return of double digit inflation, and unemployment of roughly a million Canadians

High unemployment and high inflation also make investors skittish about buying Canadian dollars, dumping the rate even lower. Our balance of payments has been pretty bad, too. So has our government deficit

On the credit side, when our dollar is lower than the U.S. dollar, it makes it easier for us to sell exports, because they are cheaper, less likely that we'll buy imports, which cost more, reflecting the higher value of foreign currency That equation tends to improve our balance of trade position.

But lower value for the Canadian dollar also means we have to pay out more to service the interest on the growing national debt, and that's trouble It makes it tougher for us to borrow, and it means we have to pay more interest to float foreign loans

The way things are going, it appears that we are likely to see a Canadian dollar that is worth about 90 cents U.S by the end of summer There are grave implications for governments and big foreign borrowers. To you and me it means that foreign cars will cost more; it might be smarter to postpone buying any U.S made appliances, and we should think pretty hard before we take off out of the country for holidays, remembering to figure in the discount on Canadian funds we'll have to pay

by John S. Rodzik

The first week of May saw some remarkable progress and it is presumed that the spring session should wind up around May 30th

A private members bill, an Act Respecting Smoking in Public Places received a strong debate

1 If this Bill should receive approval of the Legislature then smoking would be prohibitive in a hospital, theatre, auditorium, library, museum, concert hall, court house or public building where the public have access as a matter of right or license.

2 An elevator, public transport or schoolbus.

3 A school classroom or part of a building where children are required to attend

Where the large number of visitors and general public who use tobacco in some form it would be very difficult to approve such legislation There is no doubt that there would be strong opposition from the general public

The Minister of Labour announced in the House regulations respecting smoke detectors in Alberta All buildings with sleeping accommodation constructed after July 5th of this year will require to install smoke detectors as an integral part of the building's electrical system

By January 1st, 1979 regulations will require smoke detectors be installed in all existing buildings which provide sleeping accommodation with the exception of one and two family dwellings

The second phase will be a program to encourage people not covered under the mandatory regulations to also make provisions for the installation of smoke detectors

Fifty nine people lost their lives in residential fires last year in Alberta In the last six years two hundred lost their lives Seventy four of these were while the victims slept and no doubt may have been alerted by a smoke alarm

There is a strong feeling that by such mandatory regulations the result will be that some people will live who would otherwise have died

The Minister of Transportation tabled in the Assembly a statement and Order restricting maximum weights on several primary highways Some exemptions will include

1 Trucks, empty or loaded if the actual weight does not exceed 10 000 pounds

2 School buses

3 Rubber tired farm tractors without trailers

4 Trucks transporting fresh milk and cream

5 Trucks transporting mail or heating fuel and this restriction will be 90 percent of certificate weight

In response to a question, the Premier stated blankly that regardless of the intent of businesses and corporations intending to move their head offices and business from Quebec to Alberta the Premier would in no way encourage or discourage them from making such a move

He also stated that the government would not interfere with the normal growth and development of industry

Despite that there has been some request for mandatory seat belt legislation, the Minister of Transportation is determined that such legislation should not be brought in

Estimate of Education took considerable time and several areas of concern were expressed The formula used for grant purposes for school bus transportation was questioned and even though some school jurisdiction favoured accepting the formula, there are quite a number who experience difficulties particularly in areas where there is a constant mobility of people

The Deputy Premier and Minister of Transportation made a ministerial statement that the Executive Council charged him with the responsibility of reviewing the government's plans with regard to the low moisture conditions throughout the province and its impact on agriculture and forestry.

Alberta Disaster Services will set up a team to make a review of the water situation and fire hazard in the province.

The Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties has been contacted for their assistance in surveying the present water supply in the province

The Minister made a commitment for such assistance as deemed necessary in time of need.

On Wednesday, May 4th, I introduced a Bill being "The County Amendment Act 1977" The main purposes of this Bill are

(1) To improve the method of urban representation on the County School Committee without disturbing the existing balance between the County Council and the School Committee

(2) To change the name of the School Committee to the Board of Education, and

(3) To make eligibility requirements for Councillors and electors consistent with those contained in other statutes relating to local governments

This is an amendment that the Alberta School Trustees requested at their Convention of November, 1976

On Wednesday May 4th, the Vegreville Provincial Progressive Conservative Association held a "Meet the Government Night" in Vegreville This is an annual function which is held at various locations. As in the past, this was a very successful occasion despite that it was held during a very busy time as many people are busy with their spring work

The Hon William Yurko, Minister of Housing and Public Works was the guest speaker. Mr. William Diachuk, M.L.A. from Beverly also attended as a guest I would like to express my appreciation to the minister for sacrificing his time to come to speak and also for all the considerations he has given our constituency

I also commend the Executive and Directors of the Vegreville Constituency for the fine work they have been doing over the past years

"4-HERS LIVE THEIR MOTTO"

To Tofield and District Residents
Dear Sir,

On Saturday, May 14, we hired the Tofield 4-H Beef Club to scrub about 2,000 square feet of dirty barn walls Six boys arrived at 10:30 a.m and set to work with great enthusiasm By 1:00 p.m. the walls were sparkling

We would strongly recommend hiring of 4-H members for any jobs you want done They really do live up to their motto "Learn to Do By Doing".

Keep up the good work, 4-H'ers'

Sincerely,
Satisfied and Impressed.

Mazankowski amazed at government 'bite'

In recent weeks I have had a number of requests made of me concerning the ever-increasing prices of gasoline and oil and the variations in prices between various locations Many people have wondered just what makes up the price of a gallon of gas or a barrel of oil and who is getting the money I have made enquiries into this and have received some very interesting statistics from the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources Since this subject is of interest to everyone, I am providing the highlights of the statistics in this report

The wellhead price of a barrel of oil is currently $9.75. The breakdown of who gets what, is as follows:

*Industry	$3.66 (31%)
Provincial Govt.	4.33 (44%)
Federal Govt.	1.61 (17%)
Operating Costs	.75 (8%)
	$9.75

* Industry share can be increased somewhat depending upon exploration activity

The make-up of the price of a gallon of gasoline is a little more complicated. The breakdown which follows is based on the average Calgary/Edmonton pump price of 70.9¢ per gallon.

	¢/Gal.
Cost of crude oil	12.3
Provincial and Federal Royalties & taxes on crude	18.1
Cost of refining & margin	5.9
Marketing cost & margins	18.6
Federal Sales and Excise Tax	14.9
Provincial Road Tax	10.0
	70.9¢

In general, then, for each dollar you pay for gasoline the allocation is as follows.

Cost of Product	32.1¢
Provincial Take	28.4¢
Federal Take	20.1¢
Wholesale and Retail Margins	13.4¢
	$1.00

I found these figures to be very interesting because they show one of the ways in which governments are taxing us indirectly and just how much that tax is. The income taxes which we all must pay are just the tip of the iceberg.

Wheat Pool Act is under study

Gordon L. Harrold, President of Alberta Pool and the Hon. Marvin Moore, Minister of Agriculture, have agreed to appoint a committee of four persons to review the Alberta Wheat Pool Act over the next few months. Its terms of reference are not complete but the committee will review the Act to ascertain whether it provides adequate power, scope and authority to the Alberta Wheat Pool Board of Directors in order that the Board can carry out its duties and maintain its responsibility to the membership. The committee will also examine related Acts already in existence to discover whether there are conflictions

Mr Harrold emphasized the desirability of reviewing the 54 year old Act together with the Government of Alberta rather than some alternative form of review. A Private Member's Motion, introduced yesterday, would have required the Alberta Government to review the Act according to fairly specific terms of reference. Media statements earlier today appeared to confuse the Private Member's Motion and the statement to the Legislature by the Hon. Marvin Moore yesterday. The broader examination possible under the joint committee, should provide a much more meaningful report, said Mr Harrold.

YEAR YEAR YOUTH LEADER

I've been to a number of 4-H Achievement Days and other youth-centered activities in the last month. At each of these I have been impressed with the dedication of the leaders. I don't know who wrote the following item but it is a good reminder to say thank you to these hard working people

Somewhere between the sternness of a parent and the comradeship of a pal is the mysterious creature we call A "Youth Leader". Individuals of all sizes, and shapes, male or female, they all have one common characteristic - - a twinkle in their eyes

Youth leaders are found everywhere - - at rallies, exhibits, square dances and talent shows. They are always preparing for, sitting through, participating in, or recuperating from a meeting of some kind.

The; are the tireless consumers of coffee and doughnuts, the experts at taking knots out of thread, the peerless couches, and the avid fans of Thomas Edison's invention.

But even more than this, they are often someone to turn to - - someone who will listen, who will share, who will give you a hankie when you cry. They are the ones who will see the individuality in you - - the uniqueness not coloured by parental love, friendly loyalty, nor by who your parents, brothers, or sisters are

Nobody else is so early to rise and so late to get home at night. Nobody else has so much fun with so many boys and girls, while influencing them to use and give their best.

We often forget them, but we cannot do without them. They are angels in aprons, saints in straw hats. They receive no salary; their reward is the love of the kids, and the respect of the community. Have we realized all they do? Have we said "thank you" lately? If not, it's time that we do.

Surfactants and Herbicides

Of late we have had a great number of enquiries about wetting agents or surfactants. Here's what the gurnies have to say.

Surfactants are additives used to help emulsify, disperse, spread or wet liquids. Adjuvants are surfactants which are used to improve herbicide performance. If they are to be effective, adjuvants would improve leaf wetting and penetration of the herbicide into the weed leaf.

While surfactants are essential for good performance of post emergence herbicides, they should never be added indiscriminately to commercial herbicide formulations. Herbicide manufacturers carry on extensive research to determine the most effective surfactant to be added to their commercial herbicide formulation. Adding additional surfactant may have no effect, it may reduce herbicide performance or it may increase herbicidal effect on host weeds and crop.

At the University of Nebraska, recent research comparing the effect of additional surfactant added to Roundup (which already contains surfactant), provided very interesting results. More than 70 different surfactants were tested and 20 percent reduced the herbicidal effect, 10 percent resulted in an increased herbicidal effect and 70 percent resulted in no increased herbicidal effect on listed weeds and crops.

The effectiveness of post emergence herbicide treatments depends upon such factors as temperature, humidity, rain fall, weed species, thickness of the leaf cuticle, stage of weed growth, amount of spray solution applied, sunlight and crop competitiveness.

Under no conditions should a surfactant be added to a post emergent spray, unless specifically recommended on the label. Once in a while the question is asked, "Why not add surfactants to 2,4-D or dicamba to improve weed kill?" Trials in Nebraska and South Dakota were initiated to test this theory. Injury to corn and wheat increased by 20 percent, no matter what surfactant was used and herbicide rates could not be adjusted to compensate for adding a surfactant.

The claim has been made that the addition of a surfactant to preplant or preemergence herbicides will increase herbicidal activity by increasing the infiltration of water into soil. This claim was not borne out by the Nebraska and South Dakota trials. As a matter of fact, the addition of more surfactant often caused foaming and created serious application problems.

Herbicide companies will not honour crop injury or non performance complaints if surfactants have been added which are contrary to label directions. It would not appear that the gamble on the part of the farmer is worthwhile, the odds are all against him.

Lawn Care

If the grass is always greener on your neighbor's side of the fence, it could be you should change your method of lawn care.

Agriculture Canada turf specialist Bill Cerdahm says homeowners with demanding lawns should catch the grass clippings when they mow the lawn. Otherwise a thatch will form over the soil and water and fertilizer won't penetrate to the plant roots. He says an ailing lawn can be rejuvenated by punching soil cores in the soil with an aerating machine in early May or late August.

Gains made in bid to use volcano as steam engine

By Walter Sullivan
N Y Times Service

NEW YORK — Significant progress has been made in the effort to extract energy from water that has penned through volcanically heated rock in the western United States, according to participants in the project at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico.

A hole was drilled 9,600 feet into such a formation in the Jemez Mountains, 35 miles west of Los Alamos. Water pressure was used to fracture hot granite at the bottom of the hole.

Then a second hole was drilled 250 feet away to a depth of 10,050 feet heading to intersect the fractured zone beneath the first hole so that water, pumped down the earlier hole, can be retrieved up the second one after percolating through the cracks and being heated.

At present, the water flow is insufficient for practical power generation. Nevertheless, the achievements so far have encouraged participants to believe the method shows promise as a source of abundant pollution-free energy.

Ideally, water circulating through the rock would come out hot enough so that, at normal air pressure it would flash into steam that could turn electric generators. The rock penetrated so far is at 302 degrees centigrade (582 degrees Fahrenheit).

According to Morton C. Smith of the project he and his colleagues hope to drill deeper into rock at 250 degrees centigrade. This, he said this past week, would be a more useful energy source.

At present, they are trying to determine the reason for slow flow. One possibility is that the cracks around the base of the first hole have collapsed and become clogged. Another is that the second hole missed the area most thoroughly fractured. Since it was drilled, a method has been developed whereby the direction of fracturing can be monitored.

This is done with geophones - sensitive listening devices.

that are set in the well and "hear" where cracking is taking place. Their orientations and hence the direction of sounds they hear - is determined magnetically.

Standard hard rock bits drilled eight to nine feet an hour and lasted about 60 hours. The heat did not prove an impediment, but may be more of a problem at 374 degrees. Smith said. It may then be necessary to cool water that has flashed rock chips from the hole before it is circulated down the hole again.

Fracturing rock with water pressure is a standard method of extracting additional oil from sedimentary formations but had not been tried in granite. That this was done successfully was another hurdle passed.

It is suspected that there are many such buried reservoirs of energy in the West. The most obvious, beneath Yellowstone Park, accounts for the geysers and hot springs of that region.

It is fortunate that the rain falls on the just as well as the unjust, otherwise the Pony Club might feel very guilty after last weekend. The Ladies' Club annual Strawberry Tea on Saturday was enjoyed in perfect summer sunshine and the basket of baking was won by Nell Dunn and the indoor plant by Edna Bloch.

Sunday, when the young horsemen gathered for a Western Riding Clinic, wind had returned and the flowering shrubs that had provided the table decorations for the strawberry tea were soon nowhicken and bowed to the ground. Rain had prevented the riding taking place, and postponement for two weeks was decided on. Meet at the Rabbys' on Sunday, May 29 at 9:00 a.m. Weekly Pony Club riding sessions are now taking place there on Fridays at 7:00 p.m.

The auction to be held on May 28th at the hall is under preparation and articles are still keenly sought for the event. Contact Sharon Telford at 662-2734, or any other member of the Pony Club, if you have something to donate or sell on consignment.

Prize winners at the last whist drive were Gladys Gill, Kathryn Peterson, Sandy Scott and Colin Peterson, the next whist evening will be this Friday, at 8:30 p.m.

At the Community Association general meeting on Monday evening, it was decided to hold a work party on Wednesday evening from 7:00 p.m. onwards, to try and make inroads into the job jar, and non-participants will be asked to contribute financially instead.

Mrs G H Taylor

Several ladies from Holden UCW and the Pioneer Group were guests Wednesday evening of the Ryley UCW for a program given by Mrs. Pepper who was showing a series of slides taken in Costa Rica when Mr. and Mrs. Pepper and another couple visited with her brother who is living there, last summer.

Max Komarnisky who had been a patient for a couple of days in Viking Hospital was transferred to an Edmonton hospital last Tuesday as his condition had worsened.

Melvin Fjeldstrom drove Mrs. Sena Fjeldstrom to Tofield last Thursday afternoon to see her doctor for a check-up.

Holden Lodge Order of the Royal Purple held their regular meeting on May 10th with H.R.L. Hurum in the chair. P.H.R.L. Millie Corless of Edmonton attended the meeting. Correspondence was read and dealt with. A letter from Hardisty Lodge was received with an invitation to attend their 25th anniversary celebration on June 25th. Secretary Lady Taylor and treasurer L. Semotiuk gave their semi-annual reports. The finance committee reported they had audited the Lodge books and found them in good condition and Lady Helen Bilyk gave the report of the Chamber of Commerce supper. Lady Ethel Brekstad thanked the ladies who had worked in the Cancer Campaign canvass and would have a full report for the next meeting. Applications for membership into Holden Lodge Order of the Royal Purple were read.

A committee to convene the Mother and daughter Brownie banquet was appointed, also for the June Chamber of Commerce supper. It was decided to entertain senior citizens at an afternoon social on Wednesday, June 1st, Royal Purple Day and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for this. Lodge was closed in proper ritualistic manner and lunch was enjoyed with luncheon being Lady Emily Ogonoski and Lady Pauline Sanuck.

Mrs. Mary Fox of Edmonton was in Holden last Saturday afternoon. Her son, George was also here, visiting the afternoon.

The Holden Lutheran Ladies Aid held their regular monthly meeting on May 12th in the church parlors with Ethel Brekstad, president in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Dorothy Mathews was in charge of the Bible study. During the business meeting, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, also the financial statement given. Regular business and correspondence were dealt with. At the conclusion of the meeting lunch was served by Mrs. Margaret Olsen and a social hour enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Taylor, Ronald, Barbara, Richard and Cathryne of St. Albert were Saturday visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Olsen have had their daughter Mona visiting with them for the past five weeks. Mona and her husband are stationed in Germany.

Mrs. Beth Campbell was a Saturday overnight visitor with her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Merta at Viking. Mrs. Campbell assisted with the services at Viking and Kinsella United Churches on Sunday morning, being the guest speaker. Their daughter, Eldine Merta brought Mrs. Campbell home in the evening on her way to Edmonton.

Mrs. Gwen Hooper was in Edmonton visiting with their daughter, Wendy Sacky who is a patient in the General Hospital, from Wednesday until Friday night. Wendy is coming along fine and will be in the hospital for a while longer.

Mrs. Gwen Hooper, her daughter Mrs. Shirley Scott and baby Tanya Lesh were recent visitors with Gwen's mother, Mrs. Flora Evans at Viola Lodge in Viking.

The Bill Harasymchuks of Edmonton were Sunday afternoon callers with his mother, Mrs. N. Harasymchuk.

Holden Lodge No. 91 Order of the Royal Purple held a special meeting on Monday evening for the purpose of installation of officers for the 1977-78 term. District Deputy Lady Frances Overbo of Kinsella directed the installation ceremony. Assistant installing officer was Lady Barbara Davis of Kinsella Lodge. Bro Clifford Overbo of Kinsella B.P.O. Elks Lodge acted as installing secretary while Bro Paul Ex. Ruler Earl Hardy of Holden B.P.O. Elks was installing pianist and the patrol team from Holden Lodge B.P.O. Elks, Bros. Grealand, Nick Shebinski, John Semotiuk and Ben Lutz.

Officers installed were: Honored Royal Lady - Ethel Fleming; Imm Past Honored Royal Lady - Kathleen Harum; Asst. Royal Lady - Helen Bilyk, Loyal Lady - Elnanor Ogonoski; Lec Lady - Jean Heifrich, secretary - Irene Taylor; treasurer - Mary Semotiuk; Historian - Anna Milimaka; Chapin - Ann Chapka; conductress - Nellie Kahuny, 3-year trustee - Emily Ogonoski; Inner Guard - Kate Nichols; outer guard - Olga Mielimaka; pianist - Olive Good. Dist. Dep. Overbo presented H.R.L. Harum with an amethyst to her P.H.R.L.'s jewel and treasurer Lady Semotiuk with the treasurer's jewel for a three-year term. At the conclusion of the installation ceremony, H.R.L. Fleming presented Dist. Dep. L. Overbo with a gift of appreciation from the Lodge. H.R.L. Fleming then appointed her Sunshine and finance committees. The flag then retired and officers retired in formal manner. Everyone then enjoyed lunch with hostesses being Lady Helen Bilyk and Mary Semotiuk.

Report from your M.L.A.

by John E. Batiuk

The week started with presentations of petitions to the Legislature The New Democratic Party member presented a petition from the members of the Focus Planning Committee, United Church of Canada, and a petition from the staff and students of the Care Program in the M. E. LaZerte Composite High School, to withdraw Bill 39 — "The Land Titles Amendment Act, 1977".

The Leader of the Opposition also presented a petition to the Assembly from 115 students from D.S. MacKenzie School.

When one realizes the frequency of petitions presented to the Legislature, one often wonders whether it is not the M.L.A.s themselves who instigate these petitions.

I really see nothing wrong with the presentations of petitions to the Legislature, however, in my six years as an M.L.A., I have received only one petition.

The Provincial Treasurer advised the Assembly that in the latter part of March, Treasury Branches reached the $1 billion mark in deposits The growth of Treasury Branches since 1971 has been remarkable In the last six years deposits have been increased by more than 875 million Treasury Branches now serve Albertans with 94 branches plus 89 agencies which provide service to over 275,000 Albertans

The Minister of Utilities and Telephones informed the House of the meeting with the Federation of Gas Co-ops and members of the Legislature At that meeting there was a review of the price situation, financial formula of the system changes that have been made and several improvements made over the recent years, that have been made in the original commitment in the rural gas program It appears that the meeting was very informative, however, I do regret that I was not able to be present as I was attending a "Meet The Government Function" in Vegreville that evening

A Bill 49 — "The Election Amendment Act, 1977" was introduced. The purpose of this Bill will be to establish the office of the Chief Electoral Officer who will be responsible for Bill 34 — "The Election Finances and Contributions Disclosures Act" The Chief Electoral Officer will be appointed by a select committee of the Legislature The amendment to the Bill will provide incapacitated voters a mail ballot upon application to the Deputy Returning Officer in the constituency

Over the weekend some 6000 miles of primary highways had a real cleanup up for the first time in history Some 540 4-H Clubs undertook this task for a remuneration of $9.80 per mile or a total sum of over $60,000 The cleanup was a tremendous job and the 4-H Clubs and their officials deserve to be commended for the fine job Due to the amount of trash there appeared that some Clubs ran short of garbage bags and were forced to purchase some on their own I would suggest that any 4-H Club having been forced with this problem should have their bill or receipts submitted and even though the Minister of Transportation is out of the country, I am sure that he would honour such expenditure

The Provincial Treasurer introduced a Bill — "The Alberta Income Tax Act 1977" This Bill would provide reduction of the income tax payable by persons earning taxable incomes of less than $11,500 As a result of this change, an estimated reduction for Albertans will be $12 million

The Premier stated that the Board Directors of Pacific Western Airlines met in Calgary and passed a resolution, subject to the concurrence of the majority of the shareholders of PWA It was moved and seconded and unanimously resolved that the management of PWA be and authorized to negotiate and accept an offer for the sale of shares of Transair Ltd. They would have to be provisions that P.W.A. make arrangements for their own financing.

When our government purchased P.W.A., the (federal) government took to the Supreme Court of Canada whether the transaction between P.W.A. and Alberta government could not be reversed. The decision of the Supreme Court decided that Alberta had the right to purchase P.W.A. and now the federal Minister of Transport invited Alberta and P.W.A to purchase Transair in such a short time, the federal government has made a 180 degree turn.

P.W. Airlines had their economic difficulties before our government purchased it and now is on good financial status With good management Transair may make a turn for the better No doubt that one may not look at a too favourable return but there may be a great potential.

Concern has been expressed about vandalism and disrespect experienced in public bars and taverns. The Solicitor General stated last the onus is on the owners to keep a favourable decorum and if they will continue to fail to do so, stricter regulations will be placed on taverns with a probability to forbid the sale of liquors in taverns

Bill 41 being "The Public Service Employee Relations Act" was given second reading Even though the Union of Provincial Employees is strenuously opposing the Bill, however the sponsor of the Bill, the Provincial Treasurer feels the Bill will be beneficial in the 30,000 government employees.

The Bill is a result of a two year review of a task force composed of two members appointed by the government and two members appointed by the Civil Service Association which has subsequently become the Alberta Union of Provincial Employees On Thursday, May 12, approximately 400 persons participated in a demonstration on the grounds of the Legislature

Bill 49 — "The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act" received second reading A lively debate took place and even the opposition accepted this Bill with hesitation

On May 9th and May 11th, two very successful Premier's Dinners were held in Calgary and Edmonton sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Party of Alberta as a fund raising project which is an annual occasion. In Calgary, there were over 900 people and just under one hundred had to be refused because The Calgary Inn could not accommodate more in Edmonton, there were also slightly over 900 persons in attendance

by Lorraine Poulsen

It was in Newfoundland that I was first taught the importance of playing darts

Darts to Newfoundlanders was more than a leisurely past time; more than a game.

To Newfoundlanders, dart games were (are) as much a part of life as were lobster hunts or salt-meat dinners.

Every tiny country "pub" boasted at least one huge dart board and often two or three While the wind whistled and threatened outside, Newfoundlanders would sit calmly indoors, oblivious to the outside world, concerned only with who won the next round of darts.

I never did master the game despite valiant efforts made by of the Newfoundlanders to turn me into at least a "half-way presentable" dart player.

After only three months in Newfoundland, I returned to the "mainland" with many good memories and the knowledge that I was NOT cut out to be a dart player

I had almost forgotten how bad a dart player I really was until Bob and I visited the Ryley Legion last Saturday

I truly did enjoy the time spent at the Legion I couldn't help but admire the facelift which is taking place at the Legion, and I did enjoy meeting Ryley Legion members, but I don't know if I will revisit the Legion again for awhile

I know I wasn't a dart player but I could not say that I had never played the game before When it was announced that I try the game anyway, I accepted and didn't feel at all bad when my side lost

But when Bob and I happened to play against one another and he beat me, I gave up darts

I don't mind losing, but losing to Bob (who never before played darts) is a bit more than I can tolerate

Ever since Saturday, a day has not gone by that I have not been reminded "who won" the dart game I can't convince him that it was luck and not talent which won him the match Fact is, I have given up trying to tell him he is not the dart champ he thinks he is

Should we ever revisit the Ryley Legion I will sit with my back to the dart board, enjoy the music and company and ignore any invites to try my luck again.

Matthew 1:21 And thou shalt call His name Jesus for He shall save His people from their sins

When parents say that a name is beautiful, they seldom choose a name for their children because of its meaning. They pick one that reminds them of a friend or a relative or because it is pleasing to the ear To say that the name Jesus is beautiful is true, the word does have a gracious quality all its own and even when I hear it spoken in other languages it has a lovely sound, but its real beauty lies in its deep meaning. In today's scripture we read that an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and told him Mary's child should be called "Jesus" for He would save His people from their sins That's why the mention of His name brings to my mind a picture of His entire life - His humble birth - His sinless character - His profound teaching - His atoning death - His bodily resurrection - His glorious ascension - His place at God's right hand and His coming again. These wonderful truths are part of His redeeming work for sinners and they are compressed into that wonderful word "Jesus." Many persons have died on crosses but only one "Jesus" bore my sins What peace and joy wells up within us when we call on that beautiful name "Jesus".

Christian Child-Rearing and Personality Development
Paul D. Meier, M.D.
For Christian parents the helpful book will be a frequently consulted reference volume. It covers every area of child development from pre-natal life to adolescence. Throughout discussed are all aspects of growth - physical, mental, emotional, spiritual and sexual. For the Christian family this book may well be a "survival kit" in our complex and threatening society.
Magnificent Marriage - Gordon MacDonald
The high price we've paid for secularizing our society is seen in the sterility of our relationships. Among these, marriage stands as the one of greatest need of attention in this book, the author has drawn on his own marriage his pastoral encounters and his insight into the Bible to give a down to earth view of what marriage is and can be. The successful marriage consists of a balance of four essential elements, romance, companionship, service and sexuality.

CALGARY POWER

Busy with legislation says MP Mazankowski

Parliament this past week saw two steps taken which are very important to the taxpayers of Canada. The first of these was the introduction of the new Auditor-General Act for debate and the second the creation of the post of Comptroller-General within the federal public service.

There have been repeated calls for a separate Act for the Auditor-General since the 1950's. It is vital for all Canadians who pay taxes to the federal government to have a strong and effective Auditor-General Only by having his powers enshrined in a separate Act can the Auditor-General be assured of complete freedom in protecting the interests of the taxpayers.

Last November in his report to Parliament, the Auditor-General made a strong recommendation to the government that the post of Comptroller-General should be created to watch over government spending from within the public service. At the time, the government refused to do so. Last week, however, they retreated to the pressure from the Auditor General and the Opposition and created the post.

Three items of interest were announced by the government in recent weeks. The first is a reduction in the interest rates charged by the Farm Credit Corporation. For loans under the Farm Credit Act the interest rate will now be 9% per cent while loans under the Farm Syndicates Credit Act will be charged an interest rate of 9 per cent. It was also indicated that approximately $500 million will be available for FCC loans this coming fiscal year.

The second announcement was the introduction of amendments to the Canada Pension Plan. The first of these proposed amendments will permit the equal splitting of CPP pension credits, earned during marriage, between husband and wife upon divorce or annulment of their marriage. The second major amendment would protect contributors who leave the labour force to raise young children. The provision guards against deterioration of the amount of their eventual CPP pension resulting from periods of low or zero earnings incurred during the child-rearing period. It should be noted that these amendments are just proposals at the present time and have not yet been passed into law.

The third announcement made was the intention of the government to revise its proposed changes to the unemployment insurance legislation. Currently, a person must work 8 weeks before qualifying for benefits. The government had intended to stiffen this qualifying period to 12 weeks. However, strong representations from across the country with high unemployment have resulted in a backing down on the tougher proposals The qualifying period will now be based on the region of Canada that a person lives in. In the Maritimes, for example, the required period of work will be lowered to 10 weeks. In Alberta, however, the requirement will be upped to 14 weeks. Despite the variation in benefits between regions, all Canadians will continue to pay equal premiums.

THE PUBLIC UTILITIES BOARD FOR THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

IN THE MATTER OF "The Alberta Government Telephones Act", being Chapter 12 of the Revised Statutes of Alberta, 1970, as amended;

AND IN THE MATTER OF "The Public Utilities Board Act", being Chapter 320 of the Revised Statutes of Alberta, 1970, as amended;

AND IN THE MATTER OF an application by Alberta Government Telephones to the Public Utilities Board for an Order or Orders approving changes in existing rates tolls or charges for service rendered to its customers in Alberta

NOTICE

APPLICATION dated September 16, 1976 having been filed with the Public Utilities Board by Alberta Government Telephones (hereinafter referred to as "AGT") for an Order of the Board;

(a) determining a rate base for the property of AGT that is used or required to be used in the service of AGT to the public and fixing a fair return thereon,

(b) fixing just and reasonable new rates tolls, charges and schedules thereof to be imposed, observed and followed thereafter by AGT in supplying telecommunication service to the public,

AND THE BOARD having considered Phase I of the hearing of the Application and having commenced, after due Notice, Phase II of the hearing, adjourned the hearing "sine die" pending the resolution of a certain action before the Supreme Court of Alberta respecting the matter;

AND AGT having filed with the Board Notice dated May 4, 1977 of an Application for an Order or Orders of the Board respecting certain aspects of the hearing above referred to, and including, more particularly:

"an Order or Decision of the Board, to be rendered on or before July 1, 1977, fixing as just and reasonable interim rates the Schedules of individual or joint rates, tolls, fares or charges for AGT's Regulated Basic Services as set forth in Schedule "A" of AGT's Revised Application as the Board may approve (pending the fixing of final rates) and establishing the date of August 1, 1977, for commencement thereof;"

NOW THEREFORE TAKE NOTICE that the Board will hold a pre-hearing conference at the Court House in the City of Calgary, in the Province of Alberta, on Thursday, the 26th day of May, 1977, commencing at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of determining the procedures to be followed with respect to the hearing of AGT's Application immediately above referred to,

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that the Board will hear the Application at the Court House in the City of Calgary, in the Province of Alberta, on Monday, the 13th day of June, 1977, commencing at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon and continuing if necessary through to Friday the 17th day of June, 1977,

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that any person having a bona fide interest in the matter which is the subject of the Application may intervene in the hearing of the application by attending either in person, or represented by counsel at the time and place above mentioned

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that copies of the Notice and other material filed in support of the Application may be obtained by any interested person by addressing a request in writing to the Applicant in care of its Solicitor.

Tofield High School will be holding its annual graduation and prom on Friday night in the Community Centre. A banquet starts at 5:30 p.m. followed by graduation festivities at 7:30 p.m. and the dance begins at 8:30 p.m. The grand march is scheduled for 11:00 p.m. Dress for the occasion is formal.

Mrs. Sirdar attended the wedding of her grandson, Dennis Zaber, son of Pete and Tilly Zaber of Daysland.

Keith Robson, assistant superintendent of schools for the County of Beaver was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Tofield PTA. Mr. Robson spoke about the development of learning skills in children.

Three years ago, while gardening, Mrs. H. Page lost the wedding ring she had worn constantly for 43 years. Last week, while working in her garden, she saw something gleam and was delighted to find the wedding ring she had lost. She was so pleased and excited, she decided to share her joy with readers of The Mercury.

Larry Wilson has returned from a short visit to Charlottetown, P.E.I. where he was a representative of the Alberta Goat Breeders Association at an annual meeting. On his return trip, he stopped to visit with friends in Montreal and in Gumsby, Ont.

Lois Koop was feted at a bridal shower last week when many friends gathered to wish her well in her forthcoming marriage to Johnny Thiessen.

Ted and Connie Hatherton of Surrey, B.C. visited with their mother, Mrs. Francis Kallal, during the past week.

Mrs. Margaret Dickson and Allan attended convocation exercises in Calgary for Dr. Ruth Dickson on Friday evening and attended a family gathering on Saturday.

Mrs. Dolina Blake and Mrs. Myrtle Bjornson along with Peter Bjornson enjoyed the 53rd anniversary reunion of the 1923-24 Camrose Normal School Class which was held in Edmonton last Wednesday. This class gathered for its golden anniversary in 1974 and plan to continue until 1979 which would be their 55th anniversary.

Mrs. Pat Fleming attended the wedding of a cousin in Sanguedo over the past weekend. She was accompanied by her daughter, Dawn, and her daughter and son-in-law, Heather and John Hansen of Edmonton.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith attended the Mother's Day Tea at the Anglican Church on Saturday and spent Mother's Day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds – for less

This new herbicide extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and the growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot-pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard – TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleafs are susceptible. TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON 202C is a formulation containing Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!
TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pail? $37.40 – and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.60. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase. Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container – in a special carry case.

Men's fastball league opens its new schedule

The Highway 14 Men's Fastball League got underway on three fronts last night (Wednesday) after an organizational meeting earlier in the month.

Harry Shyba of Holden was elected to fill the president's chair while Bill Peters of Ryley was named as vice-president and Reg Dary of the Bruce squad was named as the league's secretary-treasurer-statistician.

Some of the teams still have openings for players, and anyone interested in playing should contact any of the following:

Ryley - Bernie Kepe 663-2379
Tofield - Pat Dennen 662-4988.
Holden - Harry Shyba 663-2142.
Kingman - Erwin Olson 663-2452.
Lindbrook - John Ulmer 992-2227.
Bruce - Bruce Kawulisk 992-2277.

The league will again operate with seven teams during 1977, the same total as last year, although two changes have been made.

Tofield Toros dropped out this year, leaving Tofield Kallal Motors as the only representative from Tofield and were replaced by a second team from Ryley, who will be known as the Ryley Toros.

Heading the returnees from last season will be the defending championship team from Bruce along with Lindbrook, Kingman, Tofield Kallal Motors, Ryley and Holden.

The Mercury has made arrangements with league secretary Reg Dary to carry regular reports on league play and urges the co-operation of all teams in forwarding game results to Mr. Dary as quickly as possible.

Games will be played every Wednesday and Friday evening with one team drawing a bye on every playing date.

Playing in opening games yesterday evening were Bruce at Holden, Ryley at Ryley Toros, and Tofield at Lindbrook.

The schedule for the next three evenings of play are as follows:

May 27: Bruce at Ryley, Ryley Toros at Tofield, Holden at Kingman.

June 1: Kingman at Ryley Toros, Tofield at Holden, Ryley at Lindbrook.

June 3: Kingman at Bruce; Lindbrook at Ryley Toros; Holden at Ryley.

The balance of the schedule will be printed next week.

Holden Sea Cadets lauded by inspector

Parents and interested citizens watched with pride as the Holden Sea Cadet Corps "Nootka" held its annual inspection at the Holden Community Hall on Thursday.

The Ship's Company assembled on the street in front of the hall, and after the opening ceremonies the general inspection was carried out.

Inspecting Officer was Lt. Col. A.E. Henry of Air Command, Edmonton.

The impressive march past, with band accompaniment by the Sea Cadet Brass Band of R.C.S.C.C. Cayuga of Wainwright, showed the results of long hours of practice by the 35 members of the corps.

Displays in first aid, sailing, knots, signals, survival, and range were set up for viewing inside the hall.

Awards presented were: most enthusiastic cadet - Gayleen Keith

Best new entry - Marilyn Gruben.

Best all around cadet - Douglas Hallett.

Northern Alberta Navy League award for outstanding cadet - Gary Misera.

Cadets winning trophies for perfect or near perfect attendance of the 35 parades (which included weekend camps) were: Jack Ducherme, Eric Schaning, Neil Shihinski, Michael Krupelnicki, Doug Stefura, Dan Zazuar, Bryon Baraniuk, Robert Fjellstrom, Gary Misera, Gayleen Keith and Pat Hallett.

The company was praised for its high performance by Lt. Col. Henry, who also paid tribute to the R.C.S.C.C. Nootka officers, the Navy League committee, and the sponsoring organization the Ryley Canadian Legion.

R.C.S.C.C. Nootka officers are: Captain D.B. Cooper, Commanding Officer; Holden; Lt. W.R. Taylor, Training Officer, Viking; 2/Lt. E. Hartman, Division Officer, Viking.

The sea cadet program is designed to provide training in citizenship, discipline, responsibility, sailing skills and other skills, and is open to boys and girls aged 13 to 18.

Sunshine gets grant

The Ryley Sunshine Club has received a grant from the Federal Government.

Health and Welfare Minister, Marc Lalonde, has announced that the Ryley Club will receive a New Horizons grant of $15,562.

The grant will be used by the senior citizens' club to assist in renovating its new drop-in center and to obtain materials and equipment for recreational and craft programs.

The club plans on participating in a wide variety of activities for senior citizens throughout the district and as well, hopes to establish a library which could be used by the entire community.

The club has a fund-raising project scheduled for Saturday when they will be holding a white elephant sale in their center, starting at one o'clock.

Around the town

Joe and Lauretta Kronewitt were pleasantly surprised on Sunday as they had been invited to attend a picnic at Elk Island Park and when they arrived, they discovered that all their children and grandchildren from Regina, St. Albert, Swan Hills and Edmonton were on hand to celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary. They were presented with a card and purse along with a large anniversary cake which all enjoyed.

Tofield Lions Club held their annual Charter Night on May 18th with Dr. W.H. Prenbury as guest speaker with his topic being the past history and future possibilities of the Town of Tofield. President Kenny Jensen welcomed over 200 guests while Al Pollock proposed a toast to the ladies in attendance.

Ten people took part in the basic rescue course taught in Tofield by the Alberta Disaster Service. Receiving certificates of merit from Dr. W.H. Prenbury were John Tiedemann, Laurie Weatherill, Doug Morris, Wayne Lyons, Gary Eklund, Bert Clark, Arney Klassen, John Blades, Walter Bussenius and Bob Ross. Instructor was Dennis Caruthers.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hinse, as well as other Tofield relatives, were Wilhelm and Ingrad Kiehger of Germany. On Monday, a large number of relatives gathered in the Bardo Recreation Centre to entertain the young people with a weiner roast. John Wall presented the newlyweds with a purse of money with which to buy a souvenir of their Canadian holiday.

June Christenson was the lucky winner of the velvet cushion offered in a raffle conducted by the mentally handicapped in Vegreville.

Jean Ochen has returned home from a five-week holiday with her brother, John and Iris Eagleshan, in Nanaimo, B.C. She also visited her nephew, David and family in Victoria and reports she was successful at salmon fishing.

Ryley UCW are raising money for repairs and renovations to Calvin United Church and have just completed a rewiring job which was done by Fred Reyes of Edmonton and Anton Knudsen of Ryley.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith spent Thursday and Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Gun club has shoot

The Canadian Black Powder Federation shoot was held at the Tofield Gun Club Range on Saturday and Sunday.

About 80 contestants took part in the different events.

Shooters came from Athabasca, Edmonton, Sherwood Park, Calgary, Okotoks, Lethbridge and Bluffton.

Novelty events were run off on Saturday with the serious shooting taking place on Sunday.

Sunday evening, some rain fell but not enough to stop the shoot.

The last event of the shoot was the stake shoot, which is a sight to behold. Muskets blazing in a cloud of powder smoke, that would put any wild west range war to shame.

Trophies were presented to the winners at the end of the shoot.

First signs of spring!

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — At the beginning of Parliamentary debate on Finance Minister Donald Macdonald's budget, there was a certain amount of pity for the big Rosedale cabinet minister, because previous government policies had left the Trudeau regime so deeply in debt on behalf of Canada, that the easterner left little room to spend heavily counter-acting unemployment.

For more than two years the Trudeau government has been talking about restraint, but every year the federal deficit has grown as government spending leaped ever higher.

This year, in the budget, Macdonald conceded that the country is in economic trouble, and he apologized for not being able to do more. Mind you, he would have us think that international economic conditions have brought about this crisis, not Trudeau policies. He would also have us believe that the spending squeeze is as tight as it possibly can be, with no room for further federal cutbacks.

Yet within a week of introducing the budget, here was the government, which could only find $180 million extra to fight record unemployment, handing out $200 million more to dairy farmers, increasing the floor price for milk and butter, when Canada has been suffering for years with over production of milk.

A cynic might think that the new dairy subsidies could have something to do with Quebec's predominant place in the Canadian dairy industry, and the fact that five Montreal Quebec by-elections are scheduled for May 24 Subsidies which will not provide more jobs, which will likely increase surpluses, and will also drive up the cost of living.

Clever, what?

One other large government spending project that is suspect comes immediately to mind. The Trudeau cabinet has asked five aviation companies to prepare proposals for selling Canada more than 32 billion worth of fancy new jet fighters. There are those who contend that used fighters purchased for a fraction of the price from the U.S. would play any gap in Canada's air defence needs quite adequately — particularly when the government is panicking about with a 26.4 billion estimated deficit this year.

No sane working man, already deeply in debt, would go racing off to buy a flashy, expensive sports car on extended credit which he could not afford.

But then, governments have their own rules, I suppose, and you can't expect them to run national finances with common sense. It's only tax payers' money.

Sudden end

We had heard a few days earlier that Premier Lougheed was getting a bit tired of the long Spring session of the Legislature, and was anxious to see it end, but we must confess its ending last Wednesday was a bit more sudden than we had expected.

At time of writing, the government presses are running a bit behind, and we're not sure how many new Acts or measures were completed before the House wound down, but we would wonder if there were time, even with all the weeks of sittings, to go through the three and a half inches of legislation which was presented. Three and a half inches can offer a lot of material for debate and consideration.

Of course, most of it has been debated before it ever reaches the Legislature, and little change is expected to the government measures.

We'd be surprised, though, if Bob Clark's Bill 136, respecting matrimonial property, received any recognition at all. It's almost unfortunate that Mr. Clark introduced the bill, which in effect would have declared any property acquired after a marriage to be owned fifty-fifty by the partners, whether the marriage was a legal alliance or a communal law union.

After years of unjust treatment to wives (usually) in the event of break-up, Mr. Clark's Bill would have presented a major improvement. Had it come from the government side of the house, it might even now be law. As things stand, it probably has little chance of gaining any acceptance until a couple of sessions down the road, when the government can introduce it as their own.

Only after the above was set did we discover that history is repeating itself. Last year, too, Mr. Clark introduced very much the self-same bill, Number 229, and naturally it got nowhere. Could this year's higher number mean Mr. Clark is losing ground with his attempts?

Will he or won't he

With the results of yesterday's five federal by-elections, (unknown and unguessed at time of writing) will the Prime Minister take the bit in his teeth and call a federal election before June 11, or choose to sit and wait things out. Even now, he still has a little over two weeks before this alternative is lost, and the redesigned constituencies take over.

It's hard to guess what Trudeau can divine from the results, because after all, they are only by-elections, with no important bearing on day to day operations of the House of Commons. Even if they all are Liberal victories, is that simply to get in on the gravy train, or is it a solid vote for The Party? Is it a vote for, or against Separatism, or a vote against some other factor completely?

In view of the problems ahead in removing controls, and the criticism over gearing to remove them too slowly, as opposed to the equally strong feeling the time is not ripe for removal, will the Prime Minister decide that now is a better time to test the temper of the voters, or wait until we are further into the hoped for recovery, or possibly until we're further into the Separatist question?

Probably even Mr. Trudeau doesn't know the answers to these questions yet. But the events of Tuesday, tied to some of the other indicators available, are likely to help him make up his mind. One thing likely is that, if it's not called by June 11, there'll be some months ahead before it's called. Another aspect he would then want to study is the success of the Ontario government as it goes to the polls

by John C. Thurlock

As the final week of the Spring Session progresses, Bill 35 - "The Legislative Assembly Amendment Act, 1977" received second reading. One section of concern which much time was accorded to and that was the amendment precisely the recommendations of the report of the Electoral Boundaries Commission. The Commission consisted of Mr. Justice Lieberman, Ivor Strong, the Clerk of the Assembly and four MLA's, 2 government and 2 opposition members. The Commission recommended that the Legislative Assembly increase by 4 members and that one rural member would be eliminated. The result of this change would be a ratio 7 favouring rural areas. This will also eliminate the Sedgewick, Coronation constituency. It was very interesting to note that the N.D.P. member who was on the Commission unanimously agreed that the constituency be eliminated, rose in the House to oppose such legislation. Very obviously it is once more apparent how the member of Spirit River - Fairview has to fight two candles or still better, to be able to eat the cake and still be able to have it. It would be a very sad day if all members of the Legislature took that attitude. Despite the fact that the ratio for representation is more favourable to the rural areas, one must also consider that a rural M.L.A. has a large area to cover and that makes it much more difficult and costly to represent a rural area.

Despite that a price an increase was announced by the Minister of Agriculture assured the House that a further rebate for fuel transportation be increased would be reviewed during the course of the summer.

Bill 24 "The Election Finances and Contributions Disclosures Act" was given second reading. This Act once passed, would disclose the donor whether an individual organization trade union etc. if the amount contributed is over $3250. This bill also proposes that through amendments to The Alberta Income Tax Act, an Alberta contributor to the political process will be able to receive a tax credit applicable to the Alberta portion of their payable income tax.

The Chief Electoral officer will be established and one of the duties of this Officer will be to administer the Elections Act and the Elections and Contributions Disclosures Act.

As some farmers have encountered difficulties in weighing farm trucks - many are so large that they exceed Farm Weigh Scale Capacity - the Minister of Transportation announced that Alberta Farmers may use highway weigh scales to weigh farm products.

The Premier made a statement regarding a report of great significance to western Canada, and in particular to Alberta which was commissioned by the Saskatchewan Legislative Assembly increase by 4 members and that one rural member would be eliminated. The result of this report The report is of a nature to have a positive impact for Albertans now and in the future. The report is far more significant for Albertans than the Berger report released last week on northern pipelines.

The Minister of Education proposed a motion that the Legislature assess the goals and objectives for elementary and secondary education and consider the priorities to be attributed to those goals and objectives. An afternoon and part of the evening sittings were taken up by a lively debate The motion will stay on the Order Paper and be again dealt with at the fall session.

The Provincial Planning Act which is long and controversial was introduced and will not be dealt with till the fall session. This will give those interested individuals and groups time to be able to have input to the Bill.

A Special Committee of the Assembly consisting of 9 members including myself has been appointed for the purpose to select and appoint a Chief Electoral Officer.

As the three-month long spring session adjourns, I wish to express my appreciatines to the Editor of this weekly paper for printing my columns I have had many favourable comments of appreciation for those columns and I will again continue them as the fall session reconvenes.

Even though I have already numerous bookings for the summer, my intention is to make myself available in all areas of the constituency. To the readers of this column, may I wish you all a happy summer

Planting operations are slowed by rain

Heavy rainstorms have in recent weeks has slowed seeding operations in some areas while bringing sowing of crops to a nearly complete stop in other parts of the province.

In Camrose and surrounding area, an average of just over 60 millimeters of rain fell during the past week bringing the total rainfall for the month (up to Friday) to a range of between 99 and 153 millimeters

While seeding is able to proceed slowly in some regions, either rain or extremely wet ground conditions have brought operations to a stop in other areas, and has prompted many farmers to cut back on proposed wheat acreages to a change over to barley and rapeseed.

Three-quarters of the wheat and rapeseed has been sown in the Ryley area with just a bit more than a start having been made in oats and barley. Tofield has 75 percent of its wheat seeded while sixty percent of rapeseed has been planted and about one-quarter of barley and oats has been seeded

The only other area in this region to show reasonably good planting operations is Bawlf where 76 percent of the wheat seed is in the group while fifty percent of rapeseed has been planted, while barley is 40 percent done and thirty percent of the oats acreage has been sown.

Other than one-half of the proposed wheat acreage has been seeded in New Norway with little work to start made in other crops in the Camrose area, about thirty percent of wheat is sown with other crops about twenty percent seeded.

Farmers in Round Hill have not been overly concerned of the proposed wheat crop with rapeseed a step behind and a late start made on other crops.

The area around Hay Lakes has been the hardest hit as only a slight start has been made in seeding with five percent of wheat, oats and rapeseed having been seeded and no oats to date.

Housing for the North

THE STACKWALL SYSTEM

Thirty miles north of Fort McMurray, is a unique log building, constructed by manual labor. This experiment in innovative construction methods suited to the northern climate and using local materials, was conducted to establish a prototype of the "Stackwall System" on the Fort McMurray area.

The Stackwall System uses logs two feet long, which are mortared in place like a permanent log pile, with sawdust or wood shavings as additional insulation. The cut ends of the logs form the interior and exterior surfaces. Log diameter is unimportant, which allows use of the entire tree length. Small-diameter lengths can be placed beside larger logs, which increases speed of construction, and which does not impair the appearance or the practicality of the structure. Since the lengths are short, high-quality straight timbers are not needed. In the experimental structure, pine, poplar, and spruce logs that had been cut for three years were used.

The advantages of the Stackwall System include:

Lower heating costs due to the high insulation value of the walls;

A intensive use of relatively unskilled labor

It use of locally available non-commercial wood and sand for mortar

The structure, located at the Mildred Lake fluid research facility of the Alberta Oil Sands Environmental Research Program (AOSERP), was sponsored by AOSERP, and supervised by the Northern Housing Committee of the University of Manitoba

The 32 x 16 x 9 foot structure shelters the facility's portable water tank, and is instrumented for heating efficiency. It is heated with a 35,000 BTU propane space heater, which consumed 20 MCF of propane (-60) gallons from December 17, 1976 to March 25, 1978. This consumption is comparable to a conventional "southern Canada" home of similar size On the coldest day of the year, the outside temperature was -44 degree C and the temperature inside the Stackwall building dropped from 18 degree C to 15 degree C. On another day, when the outside temperature rose from -40 degree C to plus 4 degree C in 12 hours, the inside temperature varied less than 3 degree C.

The insulating ability (or thermal resistance) of the building was found to rate at least R18, which could meet national housing and building standards.

A report outlining the construction methods has just been released by AOSERP. Entitled, "Housing for the North - The Stackwall System", it includes details of construction costs and photographs illustrating the technique.

The Alberta Oil Sands Environmental Research Program is a joint federal-provincial research effort of Environment Canada and Alberta Environment, designed to fund, direct, and coordinate research into practical solutions of environmental problems created by development in the Athabasca oil sands. It was initiated in 1975.

"Ink Spots" heading for complete sellout

The appearance of the Ink Spots in Camrose for the second year in a row appears to be an unqualified success, and they haven't even arrived yet.

According to a spokesman for the entertainment and special events committee of the Camrose Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, where the Ink Spots are making a week-long appearance, it looks like the entire week (May 30 - June 4) will be a complete sellout

Last year, the Ink Spots were at the Camrose Legion for a week's engagement and after a slow start on the first two nights, were sellouts for the balance of the week

Once again, they will be the featured attraction at the Cutter Ball, a barely dance held by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary. This year's Cotton Ball was sold out nearly a month in advance

Friday's appearance is already a complete sell-out and only a few tickets are left, for Monday and Thursday nights although there are still quite a few seats available for Tuesday and Wednesday

A spokesman for the Legion warned, late last week, that tanning tickets as many people were disappointed last year when they waited until the last minute and could not get in

Reserved tickets are available at only two outlets, the Camrose Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion and Camrose News anyone wishing to hear the Ink Spots should not delay in obtaining theirs

Poe Pourri

by Lorraine Poulsen

I am not sure who is more to blame, Bob or Pat Sheriff

Despite my attempt and failure as a house-plant grower, I talked myself into planting a small garden.

"I am just going to plant a few radishes, some lettuce and maybe a few onions," I told Bob when he asked why I was buying "You and Your Garden" from cover to cover.

"Why not forget it Lorraine" You know how spot you get when you are forced to admit that your gardening talents are limited. Even your houseplants don't last right."

"Forget the houseplants. According to this book ANYONE can grow a garden IF certain steps are followed. I am going to try. It says here that the garden should be planted in accordance with moon cycles Maybe that's what I've been doing wrong all these years "

(When I mentioned "planting by the moon", Bob immediately pictured me in the garden on my hands and knees at midnight with a flashlight dropping seeds into place)

"Pat, that book away Lorraine People will think you are nuts if they drive by and see you out there at midnight I'LL plant the garden."

I don't know why I agreed. And more than that, I should have known my would-be gardener was in big trouble when Bob decided to let the Sheriff help with the digging of rows and planting of seeds But I was only kidding myself when I didn't put a stop to the whole thing when Bob came back to the house to ask how many rows one paper bag of seeds should make.

The dog had a great time digging "rows" while Bob scattered radish, lettuce and onion seeds liberally around the garden patch.

That was three weeks ago.

To date (despite the Sheriff's daily observance of the garden) nothing has sprouted.

Both the Sheriff and Bob get angry if I go down to inspect the garden's progress with Bob telling me that "if you would only be a bit more patient, the plants will grow."

I have yet to discover if the Sheriff's "rows" were dug too deep or if Bob just didn't cover the seeds or if we are all three cursed by a lack of gardening talent.

I still think there may be something in the moon theory. Maybe tonight when they are both sleeping .

Ryley Pool Report

Just a brief bit of news from the Ryley Swimming Pool this week.

Things are looking much brighter thanks to many of our youngsters taking lessons Our walls are covered with many colorful water safety posters

Also, thanks to Ken, our aquatic life guard, we have 3 paintings of Walter Safety, the Red Cross Water Safety Mascot on the walls in the pool area.

Two ladies Norma and Mary and lots classes are all filled now and will be starting next week.

Just a remander that we have lockers in the change rooms but you have to provide your own locks

There is also a number of stray towels, bathing suits and other articles in the lost and found box If you have left something behind, be sure to ask at the desk

Please Note The pool will be opening Fri evenings starting June 3. The hours being : 7:30 - 9:00 p.m for all, 9:00 - 10:00 p.m. teen, adult.

Bees' wax -- favored of the gods

Bees wax and honey have been associated with man's religious beliefs since antiquity In 3000 B.C. for example, the pharoahs of lower Egypt, who are thought to have claimed a direct relationship to the gods, used the likeness of the honeybee as their symbol. Bees wax was an essential ingredient in the embalming of the "high-born" dead, which the Egyptians and other people practiced, in keeping with their belief that the souls of the departed would find peace only if their bodies remained inviolate.

Later, as tomb pilfering became increasingly common, small waxen figurines came to be used to represent the dead Moulded into the linings of the deceased, they were hidden, each in its own miniature sarcophagus, in corners and crevices of the tombs, in the hope that they, at least, would not be discovered, and thus remain undisturbed.

In time, bees' wax came to take on magical properties. Moulded into the likeness of a living person, whom they represented, they were used in magical ceremonies to either benefit or harm that person.

This practice is thought to have originated in Egypt, and to have spread from there to Babylonia, India, Greece and Rome. Similar practices also prevailed among the Maya of Central America, who used the wax produced by stingless bees, native to their ar-. The Maya also turned wax as a sacrifice to the gods and it was used to banish evil spirits from the forest.

The early Christians used candles made of bees' wax in their ceremonies, and if they were well-to-do, in light their homes. The use of wax candles, which originated with the Romans, soon took on a deeper religious meaning.

The honeybee, long considered a model of industry, purity and chastity (before it was discovered that honeybee queens mate with drones), was believed to lead an exemplary life, on which a Christian could pattern his own. Hence, it is not strange that burning bees' wax candles came to symbolize Christ. The wick represented his soul and mortality, while the flame represented the divine person of the Saviour. The candles used by the Catholic Church today still consist largely (51 per cent or more) of bees' wax.

Wax produced by the honeybee has also had a profound influence on man's development (material versus spiritual) from a stone age primitive to his present status. The coating on woven baskets and pottery, as a means of waterproofing to make possible the long-term storage of liquids, was very likely one of the first ways in which bees' wax was used.

One of the most significant developments in the history of man, and without which he might not have been able to bridge the gap between the stone and the bronze ages, is the "lost wax" method of casting metal. Briefly, it consists of the following procedure. The object to be duplicated is first modelled, or carved, in wax. A clay shell, with a small opening in one side, is shaped around the wax object. This is then heated in a kiln where the wax escapes through an opening in the mould, which now conforms to the shape of the wax object. Molten metal is later poured into the mold and allowed to cool. The mould is then broken to release the metal likeness of the original wax object.

The "lost wax" method of casting metal was discovered independently in both the old and the new worlds and is still used, with modifications, in modern manufacturing techniques.

The Egyptians also used wax tablets for temporary writing materials, if he wished to preserve lengthy records, a writer would fasten a number of tablets together at one end, unmindful of the fact that each of a book, as we know it today. In time, this practice spread to Greece, and from there to the Romans, who gave it to their conquered peoples along with the other benefits of civilization.

Encaustic painting, a form of art where hot bees' wax, containing the colors, is applied to the surface to be painted, was first developed by the Egyptians. As the use of wax painting spread, different techniques were developed. A method used by the Romans for decorating their homes and public buildings in Herculaneum and Pompeii consisted of mixing the paint with the bees' wax, which was then applied with hot trowels.

Another form of wax painting entailed applying the hot wax, containing the colors with paint brushes. Because of the imperviousness of bees' wax to sea water and the sun's heat, this method was preferred for the painting of ships.

Encaustic painting also found a relatively wide application in Europe during the middle ages Of the variety of techniques that were developed, some are reported to have yielded paintings of exceptional brilliance and vitality. However, they were cumbersome, at best, and, in time, gave way to others, that were easier to use.

The making of candles was already a highly specialized art in Roman times. Candlemakers followed Roman conquests, spreading the use of the candle, as well as their art to the people they conquered.

During the middle ages, the popularity of candles grew to such an extent that chandlers' guilds were formed in Europe. Of these some were for tallow candles, while others were for bees' wax candles.

Eventually, wax became such an important item of trade, that it was frequently used as currency. Taxes and tributes were often paid in wax, and legacies and gifts of bees' wax were not uncommon.

To remove a consistent supply of wax, nearly every abbey and monastery came to have its own apiary. Kings, and many lesser nobles, appointed special "beemasters" whose sole duty was to maintain the apiaries of their sponsors. Frequently, such "beemasters" were exempt from military service.

As the price of bees' wax rose with demand, there was a great temptation to adulterate the wax. This practice became so widespread that in 1396, Queen Elizabeth passed an "Acte for the true making, making and working of Wax" Those caught adulterating their wax were fined a red amount per pound of wax. Half the fine was paid to the crown, and the other half went to the person who was defrauded. To prevent adulteration, each block of bees' wax had to be marked with the initial of the wax merchant, or with another suitable identifying mark.

Although bees' wax candles are no longer in popular demand, the overall use of bees' wax has greatly increased in all industrialized countries. In fact, in North America, the demand for this product far out strips the supply, and large quantities are imported annually, especially from a number of African countries, which produce wax, rather than honey, for export.

Bees' wax is a product of the wax glands, located in the underside of the worker bees' abdomen. Under certain conditions, the wax glands become active and wax is extruded in liquid form. It solidifies on contact with the air into small plates, which are used by the bees to construct their combs.

The peculiar mixture of both physical and chemical characteristics of bees' wax makes it suitable for many industrial and non-industrial uses for which, in most cases, substitutes are not available at present.

A large proportion of the bees' wax produced in Canada every year goes into the manufacture of comb foundation (sheets of wax) used to guide the bees in constructing the comb in their hives.

Bees' wax is also used for modelling by sculptors and other artists Perhaps the best-known among wax sculptors was Marie Tussaud, who started her world-famous wax museum with figures of well known people in the French revolution. waterlion, criminals, and others.

The use of bees' wax in industry is so great, that only a brief summary can be attempted here. It includes:-

Adhesive; cosmetics, including paints, lipsticks, eyebrow pencils, lashes etc.; crayons and pastels; dentistry, electrical and electronic equipment, foods, including candies and gums, inks for writing and printing, leather tanning and finishing; lubricants, metallurgy, including metal casting, electroplating, rustproofing and acid etching, paints and varnishes, paper manufacturing, including carbon paper, pharmaceuticals, polishes, textiles and wax modelling

So next time, you apply make-up, shine your shoes, read your sports illustrated or burn a bees' wax candle, take a second, and think of the insect that helped to make it possible The one that, since time immemorial, has been "Favoured of the Gods."

Riediger-Mosby vows exchanged in Tofield

Bardo Lutheran Church in Tofield was the scene of the Easter wedding of Glenda Fay Mosby and Walter Henry Riediger. The ceremony took place on April 9.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Harry Mosby, and the groom is father is Mr Jacob Riediger, all of the Tofield district.

The bride's attendants were Miss Joanne Riediger, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Donna Frahsaq and Miss Ivy Mosby, sisters of the bride. The groom was attended by his brothers Victor in twist and Edwin Riediger, and Barry Mosby brother of the bride. Ushers were Rich Wall and Stan Wall of Edmonton.

Rev Bugalho performed the double-ring ceremony, before an alter adorned with bouquets of spring flowers. Harry Mosby gave his daughter in marriage.

The wedding music was played by Mrs Elaine Knuffman, and soloist was Miss Joanne Riediger.

For her wedding, Miss Mosby chose a lovely gown with a train and she wore an elbow length veil. She carried a unique bouquet of Easter lilies, each blossom being centered with a peach rosebud.

The bride's attendants were tastefully gowned in peach crepe with floral sheer capes. Their flowers were Easter lilies and daffodils.

The groom wore a beige suit with brown trim and his groomsmen were brown, all with white shirts.

A reception was held in the Tofield United Church parlors. The tables were decorated with daffodils and candles. The bridal table was centered with the wedding cake, topped with Easter lilies and daffodils.

Don Collins of River View, New Brunswick was master of ceremonies, and several suitable musical selections were presented by members of the Riediger family. Ken Baptist proposed the bridal toast to his niece. Miss Ione Kjelsberg was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests came from many points in Alberta, and from Kyle, Saskatchewan, Winnipeg, and River View, New Brunswick.

For their honeymoon trip to the Okanagan, the bride and groom were casual suits of teal green and rust respectively.

The young couple will make their home at Sask Hill Estates, Bonnie Blink.

Miss Glenda Mosby was entertained at a shower on March 26 in honor of her forthcoming marriage to Walter Riediger.

The committee in charge presented Glenda with a red carnation corsage.

With Glenda at the bride's table were Joanne Riediger and her sisters, Donna and Ivy.

Following devotion, a contest and reading, "A week from Glenda's diary", the girls were presented. Each guest brought favorite recipes to add to a recipe box.

Glenda thanked her friends for coming and for the lovely gifts. A lunch was served.

On April 4, the ladies of the Tofield Gospel Church held a shower at the home of Mrs John Reimer, for bride-elect Glenda Mosby. A group of ladies assisted by the Reimer young folk, entertained the guests with readings and several humorous and fun games. Then the gifts were presented and her bridesmaids helped to open them. A social time was spent over coffee and lunch.

Police to patrol lakes

RCMP will be active in enforcement of the laws pertaining to operation of all pleasure vessels this season.

Vessels of all types will be stopped this year by members of the RCMP and checked for the equipment required by that particular vessel as listed in the "Small Vessels Regulations.

A greater emphasis will be placed on the detection of impaired boaters, dangerous operators of vessels, and manoeuvring actions by water skiers.

Special vigilance will be given to the search for open liquor and littering of the lakes by the boaters.

The laws to be enforced on lakes are not made to hamper anyone's holiday, but to make the holiday season safer and more enjoyable for all who will be using the Canadian waterways.

Questions in regard to the laws that govern Canadian lakes, rivers and waterways, should be directed to your nearest Royal Canadian Mounted Police Detachment, or the Canada Shipping Act Section of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Red Deer, Alberta, at the following number 347-0991, local 55, or Zenith 16.000.

What happens under the hood?

This is what the engine parts of a typical eight-cylinder Canadian car goes through every 10,000 miles. Each spark plug fires 15 million times, points open and close 120 million times, the coil delivers 120 million jolts, the carburetor mixes 3.1 billion cubic feet of air with 703 gallons of gas, the fuel pump pulses 15 million times, each valve opens and closes 15 million times, the speedometer cable rotates 10 million times and each piston travels more than 3,600 miles up and down inside the cylinders. And this doesn't take into account another 2,000 miles worth of engine idling — which the odometer doesn't record.

This is why periodic tune-ups — which include replacement or adjustment of many of the above parts — are so important to proper engine performance, fuel economy, and minimal air pollution.

2 Corinthians 4 16 Through the outward man perish yet the inward man is renewed day by day

The friend of a famous Evangelist, who in a time of business recession lost his job, a sizeable fortune and his beautiful home To add to his sorrow, his precious wife died, yet he tenaciously held to his faith the only thing he had left One day when he was out walking in search of employment he stopped to watch some men who were doing stone work on a large church One of them was chiseling a triangular piece of rock "Where are you going to put that?" he asked The workman said "Do you see that little opening up there near the steeple" Well I am shaping this stone down here so that it will fit in up there" Tears filled the friends eyes as he walked away for the Lord had spoken to him through that laborer whose words gave new meaning to his troubled situation Some of you who read these lines may be going through difficult times, you may be going through heart breaking sorrow or by painful physical disability but child of God do not yield to discouragement It may be He by these trials is moulding you into the image fit for the [redacted]

PROLOGUE

The following four articles have been written with only one desire, that is, to, by careful analysis create better community relationships There is here no undue desire to criticize anyone, but only a fervent hope that by pointing out our weaknesses we will hereby help to create greater harmony, love and understanding in our entire area

This is article Number 4

Good community relationships will mean that we have to do away with prejudice New prejudice comes to us in many different forms and in various ways There is farm example [illegible] and let us not fool ourselves, it exists here as it does in every community If you belong to a certain nationality you are in a special category and you get special privileges [illegible]

Then there is what I call [illegible] people who feel that because they have plenty of wealth or a good position they are in a special category Actually they are no better and no greater asset to a community than any common or ordinary citizen Some years ago a black student was attending university in Washington D C While out for a walk he was forbidden by a policeman to enter a certain public park He went to a restaurant and was promptly ejected because he was black That student was Kwame Nkrumah the former president of Ghana It is any wonder that he was so bitter

But I suppose that the worst of all prejudices is religious prejudice Where people feel they have a monopoly on the blessing of the Lord It really through their way of doing things that God receives His power Salvation is a gift of God that is offered to the grace Filled we must [illegible] be [illegible] to put [illegible] prejudice and become [illegible] before the Lord

BAY OF DISASTER by Kellie Funk Wiebe

U.S. Senator Birch Bayh says "it may be too soon to call Mennonite Disaster Service a legend, but the story of MDS is as unselfish as it is amazing It's an institution to us all From its small beginnings more than twenty-five years ago, MDS has grown to become an international organization MDS has led the way in providing help, when it is so vitally needed, to their fellowmen Day of Disaster feils on a very personal level of the many unsung contributions these volunteers have made

"Kellie Funk Wiebe has told the story very well and it is an honor for me to be a part of this book."

MAYBE I SHOULD LIKE A KITE, BUT THAT'S THE WAY I SEE IT
by Bridget Mendelsohn

This book has a simple story line that holds interest and causes the reader to ponder many issues, whether agreeing with them or not An ogre is a psychiatric thinker, impulsive, concealed in the way he perceives good, one who writes petals off too easily Yet he recognizes that his illness I hope all the answers He is moving toward God and finding his way

It's obvious that Ilse Andreae's problems aren't all solved at the end of this book, but he's beginning to put things together

Pressure is building for alphabet revolution

Introduction of the Arabic numerical system revolutionized the development of mathematics in Europe, which up to then had depended on cumbersome Roman numerals.

Pressure is now building for a similar design revolution in the development of an international alphabet, says Prof Walter Jungkind, president of the International Council of Graphic Design Consults (ICOGRADA) and a University of Alberta professor of visual communication in the department of art and design.

"There are a number of studies going on trying to find an international alphabet," he says, "It will be as artificial as an artificial language, but never-the-less has to be worked on."

At present there are three alphabet systems available over a symbol system, one ideographic and one phonetic. But "none are quite satisfactory."

This is just one illustration of the vital role of design, he notes.

Too often people think of graphic arts only in relationship to selling products. Too often there is more though given to the design of marketing methods than to the products that are being sold.

"In all areas in the past there has been a heavy emphasis on the selling aspect - gimmickry rather than value There has been a revolt against this in the past 10 years," he says, "particularly in the past five years."

Design is an interdisciplinary function, says Prof Jungkind

A team may involve structural or landscape architects, town planners, design engineers, industrial engineers, or graphic designers. There may be a requirement for psychologists, sociologists, scientists or economists, depending on the problems to be tackled.

"The designer by himself can't solve these problems. In some cases the designer is simply a consultant, in other cases he should be the leader."

A major area of concern is education, which he views as a lifelong process.

"In order to have a discriminating public that is able to differentiate between good functional design and inappropriate, often shoddy inventions, it is necessary to have early visual education extending into design education and continuing update of design information," he says.

He notes that one of Canada's major aims in the past has been to encourage material wealth. "Today a major human good is improving the quality of human life."

Good design can help in both these areas.

Book publishing is one example. He is concerned that a city the size of Edmonton has only one major publisher, while Zurich, Switzerland, a city not too much larger, has over 30 publishers.

"Design considerations cover a broad and complex band of socio-economic and cultural aspects. These are especially intertwined in the design and production of educational media.

"In Alberta, approximately 90 per cent of electronic media used in schools and colleges are imported from abroad," he says.

"An estimated 80 per cent of textbooks used in Alberta educational institutions are of foreign origin

"The loss of potential revenues to Canadian firms must be counted in the millions. Frequently such text books, particularly in history and social studies, lack social, political and cultural relevance to Alberta students and points of view".

He says there is vague recognition of these facts in many official circles and a number of support programs are developing

Bill. "Alberta is one of the few provinces that does not have an institute of design or a provincial government set-up that concerns itself with design."

Such an institute would serve as a focal point and act as a go between for designers, industry and government The potential is great, he says and notes that in the educational realm Bill Allen The Open University of England last year earned in excess of $2 million "from sales abroad of print and non-print media originally developed for courses at home."

Canadian place name remembers a dilemma

In the 1880s, a young couple, en route to be married, were hauling across a lake on night fall. This posed a dilemma for the stalwart pair, solved only when Billy put Nan on an island and then departed himself to another island 100 feet away. To this day, the islands of Billy and Nan stand in Grand Lake on the New Brunswick Maine border. This is only one example of the heritage New Brunswick has in its place names, outlined in 4,000 listed in geographical Names of New Brunswick, just published by the Surveys and Mapping Branch, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources for the Canadian Permanent Committee on Geographical Names as the second in the toponymy series. The committee is in charge of choosing and ratifying Canadian place names

Lakeshore-McKenzie

Mrs Ellen Eaton

Intended For Last Week:

On May 15th Arnold and Deanna Nelson motored to Maidstone, Sask., to visit Deanna's uncle, Harvey and Madeline Blanchette and took them a truck load of young cattle. They returned home Sunday night.

The Lakeshore U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Arnold (Edna) Jones on May 18 with only 6 members and 1 visitor present due to the rainy weather at the time. Among other things discussed, plans were made for the serving at the 4-H Beef Club banquet on June 6th. Next meeting to be announced later.

Howard and Mae Ferguson were visitors at the home of their daughter Doris and Howard Brown and family on May 14th. They also called on Neil and Emma Phillips the same day.

Ellen Eaton accompanied some 25 people, mostly members of the Tofield Golden Club to Edmonton on May 18th where they were taken on a guided tour of Government House, and after that they visited the Edmonton Archives and Museum building where they had lunch before leaving on the way home to stop and visit the Muttart Conservatory. Ellen left the group on 125 St. and went to visit Jean and Tony Volney where she was a Sunday and Monday visitor before going to the University Hospital Monday afternoon for treatment on her shoulder.

Rain fell over the district from early weekend and most of May 15th after some snow had fallen earlier before the rain started. Although the rain delayed the spring work in the fields, it helped with putting water in the dried up sloughs and starting the creek to run for the first time this year.

On Monday, visitors at the home of Ellen Eaton were her nephew and wife, Bill and Erma Campbell and young son Brian and Bill's stepbrother and his wife, Clifford and Evelyn McMullin of Dartmouth, N.S. who were visiting at the Campbells. Cliff and Evelyn are leaving for their home on Wednesday.

Ron and Gail McAdam and daughter Michelle, motored to Marwayne on the long weekend to visit Ron's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McAdam and also Gails parents, Josh and Blanche Fendley.

Hilker and Ethel Caughlan of Edmonton and Hilker's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cunningham of Tofield were Monday afternoon callers at the home of Ellen Eaton for a short visit. Also calling was Mrs. Ethel Moss of Tofield. Hilker and Ethel were visiting Hilker's brother in Tofield for the day.

when they were friends of the McAdam family. After leaving Irene's, they returned Ellen home before leaving for the Fort. On their way home, they were calling on Irene's sister Alice and Ralph Cossey of Rose Creek. Cliff and Evelyn are leaving for their home on Wednesday.

It works without moisture. And rain won't wash it off.* Two of the reasons why Carbyne has been used by more farmers than any other wild oat herbicide.

Carbyne does not need moisture to activate it.

On the other hand, fifteen minutes after application it can pour rain without washing away Carbyne.

Here are other reasons why growers choose Carbyne for wild oat control.

(1) Carbyne gives excellent wild oat control, year after year. (2) Carbyne gives growers the lowest product cost per acre of any wild oat herbicide. (3) Carbyne eliminates the extra expense of incorporation, and the worry of having to work the soil when it is too wet or too dry. (4) You apply Carbyne when you see wild oats. No gamble on whether wild oat seeds will germinate. (5) Carbyne has a proved performance record on a wide variety of crops, including wheat, barley, rapeseed and flax.

Carbyne can make money for you.

Carbyne controls wild oats, which means higher yields for you. The following on-farm comparisons show this:

You don't have to apply Carbyne until you see wild oats.

Applying herbicide to wild oat seeds that don't germinate is like buying tickets to a free show. The only way for you to be sure you have wild oats is to walk your fields. To help you check your wild oats, your Carbyne dealer offers this foot-square ruler—the "Wild Oat Counter." Take it to your fields. Put it on the ground where you see wild oats. Count them. Then you'll have a good idea how much these wild oats will cost you, if you don't control them.

Please read label instructions carefully and use only as directed. See your dealer about Carbyne — the wild oat fighter. Gulf Agricultural Chemicals Company Limited, P.O. Box 951, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C 2T3.

Carbyne costs less per acre.

MICROWAVE TIPS

There are a number of microwave ovens in the Country. I know some of you are looking for ideas for using your oven. Panasonic sent the following tips to help you get the most from your microwave oven. The times given are approximate.

1. Make the child off refrigerated cal food by heating it right in the cal's dish (non-metallic) 5-10 sec's.
2. Heat brandy in a glass measuring cup for flaming desserts (45-15 seconds). Pour over dessert and light.
3. Reheat leftover cooked waffles, pancakes. Two refrigerated pancakes on a plate heat in about 35 seconds, two waffles in about 35 seconds.
4. Heat liquid honey that has started to crystalize. Remove metal lid and heat for 10-15 seconds or until liquified.
5. Melt squares of cooking chocolate in their wrappers. Remove side up, on a plate (1½ minutes).
6. Toast almonds in a heat-resistant glass dish with butter, heating until nuts are lightly browned.
7. Have fresh coffee all day by brewing a pot and then refrigerating coffee in a container. When you want coffee, pour a cupfull and heat (1-1½ minutes).
8. Cook de-boned chicken breasts in the microwave oven when you want chicken meat for salad, sandwiches or spaghetti dishes.
9. Warm baby bottles or jars of baby food loosen cap on bottle or remove metal lid from jar. heat ½ - 1 minute or until warm.
10. Soften hard ice cream in a few seconds for easier serving.
11. Warm citrus fruit for a few seconds prior to squeezing it'll give off more juice.
12. Soften raisins: add a little water and heat uncovered for 2-3 minutes. Let stand 3 minutes, drain and use.
13. To mix frozen concentrated fruit juice, remove from can, place in pitcher and beat for 1½ - 2 minutes, add water.

Ryley news items

Lana Reid

On Thursday, a large crowd turned up at the Maynard Stauffer farm to watch a large Zipperlock building being constructed.

Many from Ryley and district attended the wedding in Edmonton for John Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lehman of Ryley and Linda Card of Edmonton.

Mrs Valerie Shipka is the new health teacher in Ryley for junior and senior high students.

The junior and senior high students went on a field trip to Edmonton to see a play "Same Time Next Year" on Wednesday.

Mr and Mrs. Otis Phillips and Lori-Ann spent the long weekend visiting relatives at Okanogan Falls, B.C.

Trena Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Terry Sutton; Douglas Edwin, son of Mr. and Mrs Bill Saunderson, and Russell James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kowalchuk were all baptized in the Ryley Lutheran Church on May 15th.

A family reunion and dinner then followed at the home of Mr and Mrs Walter Oslund. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Castelina of Edson and Mr. and Mrs Lyle Oslund of Edmonton were down for the occasion.

A lovely birthday party was held for Anna "Solberg" Brocke of Edmonton on her 80th birthday at her daughter, Eva McKenzie's home on Sunday. Her daughter and families from Prince George, Vancouver and Kamloops, B.C. also attended. Also brother Noah and Edith Solberg, Ted and Ruth Grif-taas, Ted and Edna Gjerde of Camrose, sisters Alma and Ella of Irma, Sister Martha Hillerud of Ryley, relatives from Tofield and Vegreville and Ryley. Mrs. Caroline Davick, a sister, did not attend as she is in Bethany Home in Camrose and is 97 years of age and her sister-in-law, Barbara Solberg of Ryley did not attend. Everyone enjoyed a lovely day with their relatives.

On Sunday, Ida Runka went along with the Reids to visit their cousin Selmer Holmes and wife Marsha in Viking. Coming home they run into a heavy rain. So far in May, 5/7/16 inches of rain has fallen.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

Recreation is a new, growing, and dynamic progression. The people of our community are beginning to realize this with the addition of staff to their Recreation Department For instance, a program supervisor was hired for the first time in 1975

Many still are not sure what a program supervisor is or what are her duties A program supervisor is a person trained in recreation to coordinate programs and assist in running these programs Some of the duties of the program supervisor are assisting community organizations in coordinating activities, attend all possible local community meetings, promote programs, supervision of summer staff, visit activities and instructors, be responsible for the conduct of activities carried on in the County and many other duties I hope this has given you a clearer outlook on a program supervisor - I am hired to serve you and your community.

IN MEMORIAM

WIELUN In loving memory of Walter Wilburn, who passed away May 24, 1974
Physically missing, resting at last World weary troubles and toils are passed
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more
Rest in Peace
Ever remembered by Helen, children & grandchildren

Horse club plans "day"

by Kathy Hisey

Plans for the Ryley-Holden 4-H Horse Club's Achievement Day were to have been made at a meeting in Holden on Tuesday night.

Achievement Day will climax a highly successful year for the club with the past month having been an extremely busy one.

Members went to Mr. Golden's ranch on May 14th to see his stallions while his daughter, Mrs. Harris, gave riding demonstrations.

On May 7th, club members participated in the highway clean-up program sponsored by the Provincial Government.

Prior to that, Dale Taylor of Clonavon, Sask. visited the club to drill members on showmanship and grooming. She will be returning for a second visit in June

Some punkin

Shortly before spring planting this season, Mrs. Melvin Young discovered this pumpkin in her basement, trying to beat the season by sending out numerous sprouts. Part of last year's crop, the pumpkin oddity was grown by her sister, Marilyn Spygnat, and given to Mrs. Young last fall.

CLC hosts speakers

Two well known personalities will be appearing at Camrose Lutheran College on the middle of June

Dr J.D. Carlson and Charles Colson will be the guest speakers at CLC on June 15th at the Convocation Centre.

Dr Carlson is the executive director of the International Christian Ministries of the Mission to Children with Canadian headquarters in Calgary in his talk, Dr Carlson will attempt to make Christian people acquainted with the needs and opportunities of orphans in many parts of the world.

Mr Colson was one of the five men closest to ex-president Richard Nixon during the crisis following the Watergate Scandal Mr Colson will be showing a film which depicts what really happened to him during that period of time

Volunteers are wanted

Volunteers are being sought to serve on the Holden Recreation Board.

The Board's functions become much more important in the future as all recreational projects and courses will have to meet with its approval.

A meeting of the Board, and other interested persons, will be held in the Community Hall on Wednesday night, starting at eight o'clock.

Anyone interested, or wanting more information about the Board's activities, should get in touch with either Bruce Budd or Dennis Cooper.

Tofield parish marks its 50th anniversary

TOFIELD— More than a half-century of growth in faith that has begun to transcend denominational lines was celebrated here May 19 by members of St. Francis of Assisi Parish joined by civic representatives and Christians from other churches.

Remarking on the strong faith evident in the community and the good ecumenical and inter-faith relationships, Archbishop Joseph MacNeil of Edmonton said this "shows the spirit of the Lord is at work here, and we're trying to listen to Him in striving to be one."

Christian unity is "what he wants so it must happen," the archbishop added.

The celebrations began with an anniversary Mass in St. Francis of Assisi Church concelebrated by Archbishop MacNeil and Father A.D. O'Brien of Sherwood Park who serves as pastor for the Tofield area as well as for St. Jude's Parish at Ministik.

Tofield 40 miles east of Edmonton on Highway 14, is usually served by Father J.R. Carswell, associate pastor at Sherwood Park, who is currently on sick leave.

Following the Mass, the congregation went to a reception in the Tofield Community Centre where speakers included Mennonite Pastor Harold Boettger, chairman of the Tofield Ministerial Association; Dr. W. Freebury, Mayor of Tofield; Dr. Walter Buck, MLA for the area; Father Joseph Leszczynski of Provost, a former assistant pastor at Tofield, and Father Edward McCarty of Sacred Heart Parish, Edmonton, a former pastor at Tofield.

The program also included selections by the St. Francis Youth Singers, directed by Dorothy Sawchuk, and a special welcome to the ministers from other churches by Joan Collins.

Showing how closely the Catholic Women's League has been involved in the parish history was the presentation of a special plaque by the CWL president, Leona Voltzoo, to Mrs. Francis Kallal, a CWL member in the area since 1924.

Mrs. Kallal's daughter, Margaret Dickson, an original member of the parish when the present church was built in 1927, gave a history of the community noting that what was being celebrated was the golden anniversary of the present church.

Actual parish history, however, goes back to before 1910 when various missionary priests would stop occasionally to celebrate Mass in various buildings and homes of the area.

Mass began to be celebrated regularly in 1916 when a Father Kosten came once a month from Calder by train and "could be seen trudging around on foot visiting his parishioners," Mrs. Dickson said.

Some of the early families, she added, were the Letourneaux, the Hannons, Yakubukis, Kallals, Formans, McDevits, Sullivans and "For the PCers present, I have heard that Joe Clark is the grandson of the Welches," Mr. Dickson said.

She added that during the epidemic of 1918, Peter Yakabuski was the only parishioner present for Mass one Sunday.

The present church property was obtained in 1919 by a Father Pochet and a small building was then remodelled to become the first St. Francis of Assisi Church where Mass was first celebrated on July 19, 1920.

Four years later, the CWL was formed with 16 chartered members.

As the parish started to grow, Father Quirk arrived in the spring of 1927 and began plans for the new church which was completed that fall and blessed by Archbishop Henry J. O'Leary.

In 1952, the Redemptorist Fathers took over the parish serving there until 1956 when Father Norbert Schmeltzer was appointed pastor. The parish now had some 80 families and Mass was said there twice a month.

Father Schmeltzer was succeeded by Father Gorman in 1945 and three years later, Father Edward Purcell became pastor serving at Tofield until September, 1961.

"He will be remembered as a very devoted missionary priest," Mrs. Dickson said of Father Purcell. "Among other things, he built our new rectory in 1954 and several missions."

Assistant priests at this time included Father McCorkell, Father Emmett Creagh and Father Leszczynski, with Mass now being celebrated every Sunday.

Father McCarthy served as pastor from 1961-64 and was succeeded by Father Louis Scriven until 1971 when Father O'Brien became the pastor. Under Father Scriven, after the Second Vatican Council, the importance of the laity was emphasized and a parish council was established which has been active ever since. Council chairman Dr. Neil Gannon, school superintendent, was emcee for the evening.

The CWL has also continued to be active, Mrs. Dickson observed, with a membership of 29 now while the parish has grown to 81 families. With this growth, the church basement was remodelled two years ago and the church was enlarged.

Among other faithful parishioners, Marie Worton has served as scrtsan for 24 years and Dorothy Shewchuk has been involved with singing for the parish for more than 25 years.

"We are also proud of Father John Molnar," Mrs. Dickson said Father Molnar, currently doing missionary work in Brazil is from the Tofield area. His parents Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Molnar, lived just north of Tofield, but now are in Edmonton.

Woman is charged in shooting incident

A Tofield woman will be making an appearance in Provincial Court in Camrose following a shooting incident.

Hope Heigh has been charged with the discharge of a firearm with intent to cause bodily harm. A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Camrose on July 12th.

RCMP in Tofield were delighted with the department of people attendance the graduation ceremonies for Tofield High School.

Only one liquor charge was laid o- graduation night and it was not, in any way, connected with the school graduation festivities.

Robert Allan Heigh of Tofield has been charged with resisting arrest and impaired driving. He has entered a plea of not guilty to the charges and will appear in court on June 28th.

Charles A. Hallett of Tofield has been charged with being in possession of a narcotic. He has also pleaded not guilty and will make a court appearance on June 28th.

Warrents were issued for two men who failed to make court appearances. Leonard Thomas Dieriata of Tofield was charged with illegal possession and littering while Richard Kirkness of Pioneer Creek had been charged with theft.

Also failing to make a court appearance was Norman B. Grundberg of Tofield who was charged with illegal consumption of liquor and speeding. A warrant was issued.

Gordon Dennis Dyck of Tofield was charged with driving while his license was suspended. He pleaded not guilty and will appear in court on June 28th.

Dennis Francis Caton of Tofield, on a charge of impaired driving, was fined $300 and has his license suspended for six months.

Darrel Jack Nachtigal of Tofield, charged with speeding and failure to produce an operator's license, was fined $35, while Kenneth Nachtigal of Tofield was fined $30 for speeding.

Bruce Warner of Tofield was fined $25 for entering a licensed premises while impaired and was fined $25 while Charles Zwierschke of Holden was fined $20 for passing a school bus while his lights were flashing.

Holden Sports Day set for June 10th

by Mrs. G.H. Taylor

The annual Holden and District Sports Day is being held on Friday, June 10th with a full day's activities planned, commencing with a bacon and egg breakfast at the picnic booth from 7 to 9:30 a.m.

The parade will take place at 10:30 a.m. with W. Hallett in charge and the judging will be at 10:50 a.m. at Holden School Grounds.

The day's activities will include senior baseball, starting at 10:00 a.m. with teams from Viking, Daysland, Lougheed, Sedgwick, Spring Lake and Holden competing.

A tractor rodeo also will be held during the day and bingo will be played at the grounds in the afternoon.

Races and rides are being held for the kiddies and also, a horseshoe tournament is to take place.

The usual tasty beef barbecue will be served, starting at 4:30 p.m. prepared by the barbeque chefs, Lyle and John. There will also be refreshment booths on the grounds during the day.

The day's activities will conclude with a dance in the Holden Community Hall commencing at 9:00 p.m. with the Rhythm Rascals of Camrose supplying the music.

Ryley 4-H plans 'day'

The Ryley 4-H Beef Club has finalized pla- for the holding of its annual Achievement Day.

Achievement Day will be held on Tuesday at the corrals with weigh-ins scheduled for 9 a.m. The show and judging is planned for 11:30 a.m. with the sale of animals set for three o'clock.

The day will climax with a banquet and presentation of awards in the Ryley Community Hall, starting at seven o'clock.

Everyone is welcome to attend, or any part of the program.

New look

Renovations have taken place and a new face has been presented to the community as members of the Ryley Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion have completed a restoration project for their hall.

At 50 cents a cup?

Canadians generally were a little stunned at the "modest" increases sought by the Postal Workers in their new wage round, asking for a "substantial" wage increase, a reduction to only thirty hours per week, and a ten minute coffee break every hour.

But if you stop to think about it, the whole thing isn't quite so unreasonable as it first seems. What with the price of coffee rising so dramatically as it has been, and more than $5.00 a pound ahead, it will take a substantial pay boost just to pay for all those coffee breaks. And probably 40 hours a week would have them drinking more coffee than is good for them, so they have to cut back to 30 hours.

By any other reasoning, of course, the public generally will feel the postal workers proposals are simply ridiculous. With the mail situation facing the country these days, its preposterous to suggest a reduction in hours. . . . what we need is more people working more of the time, rather than goofing off around the coffee machine.

It's probably true that heavier and heavier demands are being placed on the Post Office than ever before, with more and more pieces of mail from almost every conceivable source, especially government. But cutting down the number of hours isn't going to relieve the pile of unsorted mail, or the backlog built up in the corner.

Rumor has it that retirement will overtake CUPW's negotiator Jim Davidson this summer. If it's borne out, there's more than a glimmer of hope that more reasonable men can sit down and hammer out a workable truce which will get the mails back on the tracks again, and at the same time, give the postal workers a job they can be proud of once again.

The Old West again

Shades of the Old West! Cattle rustling is still in evidence, in some parts of the province. And stockmen are trying to see that the miscreants are apprehended, and punished.

The really old west has disappeared, though, because the rustlers no longer pay the traditional penalty, that of swinging at the end of a lariat.

Just recently, for instance, courts handled cases of rustling at Blairmore and at East Coulee, and with convictions in each case, the court handed down jail terms of up to two years, and a $250 fine. In the East Coulee case, a ring was broken up, which involved a group rustling and butchering steers for their meat value, while in the Blairmore area, it was three persons who had simply butchered a yearling.

In every instance, the Western Stock Growers' Association paid rewards for the information which led to the convictions. And they warn that they will keep on paying rewards. Even with the price of cattle below the level of the reward, the stockmen say "it's the best money we ever spent"

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA – (SF) – One thing should stand out above all the other things that Prime Minister Trudeau had to say during his springtime swing through the Canadian prairie provinces. When he told audiences that Rene Levesque and the Quebec Parti Quebecois government are the mortal enemies of Canada, he was dead right, and we better believe it.

It's difficult to imagine intelligent Canadians buying the load of guff that Levesque has been spreading about separation being an easy, natural thing – something modern to replace an old worn-out constitution.

If the man had been a potent medicine seller a century ago, he would have charmed the settlers right out of their britches, so smooth is the line he's developed. Examine the words with even the most casual care and the shallowness of his argument the insidiousness of his case becomes readily apparent.

There's no doubt that the section of Quebec across the river from Ottawa doesn't want to separate. There's no doubt about where the million people of Quebec's west outnumbered stand, either. What right has this man to practice political guerrilla warfare inside Canada, forcing the will of a minority on the majority?

Still, the success of guerrillas down through history in fire-fight wars should sound an alarm, because the same tactics practised verbally can be almost as dangerous.

Mr. Trudeau is right when he says the PQ and Levesque must be fought, but his prescription for fighting the battle is to say the least suspect. After all, this is the man who was elected nine years ago with a mandate to hold the country together and create a new society.

The state of national unity has never been worse. The state of the economy has never been worse, and the will of Canadians to accomplish things together as a team has virtually disappeared.

It would be unfair to blame all these things on the federal government, but it would be catastrophically stupid not to place a king-sized chunk of the load squarely on the shoulders of our some-time leader.

Rail abandonment light in Vegreville

. . . feels Mazankoski

The report of the three year study conducted by Justice Berger of the British Columbia Supreme Court into the environmental and social impacts on the people of the North of a proposed natural gas pipeline was tabled in the House of Commons last week. It is a very detailed document and obviously the result of a long and carefully conducted inquiry. However, in evaluating the recommendations of the Report, such as that for a 10 year delay in the building of a pipeline to allow for settlement of native land claims, it is important to note that only one aspect of the pipeline was considered by Justice Berger. Until the National Energy Board report, the Lysyk Commission and other studies are completed, it would seem inappropriate for anyone to reach a definitive decision on the pipeline issue

THE GUN CONTROL BILL

The government has brought forward new gun control legislation after opposition to last year's attempt, Bill C-83, caused it to fall by the wayside. Bill C-83 contained provisions to develop a licensing system for all gun owners in Canada. Two guarantors were needed to sign an application for a license. There were also restrictions on the use storage and handling of firearms and ammunition. Under this year's gun control Bill persons who wish to acquire a firearm must obtain what is called a Firearms Acquisition Certificate. This certificate is necessary when a person over age 16 wishes to buy, borrow or otherwise obtain a firearm. A certificate is not needed by present owners of long guns. Applications for Firearms Acquisition Certificates will have to be processed by firearms officers usually police officers, but no guarantors will be needed.

While the provisions in the new Bill are certainly more acceptable than those in the previous one, there are many things which must be considered. First of all, there should be reasonable restrictions, not merely a first step toward achieving the same intent of Bill C-83. By doing it in steps the government may be hoping to avoid the widespread opposition which greeted last year's Bill.

Another problem with this legislation is that a large portion of its provisions are left up to the bureaucrats and Orders-in-Council. This means that Members of Parliament and the people of Canada have no chance to review the new provisions before the Bill is passed into law. Then after it is enacted, changes can be made at the drop of a hat by public servants or Ministers of the government with no prior warning or debate. This is clearly is an unacceptable way of going about things

Because of these serious shortcomings in the new gun control bill, I and the Progressive Conservative Party voted against it

THE HALL COMMISSION

The Commission headed by former Supreme court Justice Emmett Hall reported this week on its inquiry into Canada Handling and Transportation of Western Grain. It is a very comprehensive and all encompassing document, highlighting not only the grain transportation system but the social and economics prospects of Western Canada as well

I believe we in our constituency came out of the review rather fortunately with only some 45 miles of track scheduled for abandonment. Those are: C.P. Vegreville-Willingdon, C.N. - Haight Subdivision, and C.N. Kingman. All other lines were incorporated into the basic network or transferred to the Prairie Rail Authority. Producers will welcome the recommendation to retain the Crows Nest Pass freight rates

About sixty (60) percent of the total crop in the area has been seeded, according to reports from the Beaver (13) Alberta Wheat Pool.

Seeding operations were slowed again last week because of the almost constant rainfall that occurred which as reported to have brought about the third wettest May in Alberta

Due to the excessive amount of moisture, farmers are cutting back on their intended wheat acreage, shifting over to barley and rapeseed, and in some cases, are cutting back their intended rapeseed acreage

Seeding of wheat has been completed in the Byley area although farmers have settled for only eighty (80) percent of their intended acreage. Rapeseed acreage has been doubled and seeding is 85 percent completed. Only about one-quarter of oats and barley has been sown

Dayside area farmers have also reduced intended wheat acreage to 80 percent and have almost completed seeding. Increased acreage on rapeseed has risen 200 percent and is about 85 percent done. Flax seeding has been completed while barley and oats are about one half done.

Farmers in Tofield have increased rapeseed acreage by 150 percent over last year while reducing wheat, oats and barley. Wheat seeding is about 90 percent completed with rapeseed a step behind, at 80 percent. Barley and oats are a bit better than 80 percent sown

Farmers in Camrose have dropped intended wheat acreage to only 70 percent of last year's crop while increasing oats, barley and rapeseed and holding the line on flax. Wheat is 90 percent seeded, while barley and rapeseed are 70 and 80 percent sown and oats and flax show 40 and 30 percent seeded.

Farmers in Hay Lakes have also reduced intended wheat acreage by 30 percent while increasing other crops.

Ninety percent of the wheat crop has been sown while oats, barley and rapeseed show about forty (40) percent of the seed has been sown.

In the Round Hill region, wheat acreage has been reduced about fifteen percent with intended oats acreage dropping slightly while increases are planned for barley and rapeseed. In some instances, the land has become so wet that it could be two weeks before seeding can take place

Eighty percent of the rapeseed has been sown while seeding of wheat stands at 70 percent completion. Only about twenty percent of the oats and barley has been sown

Around the town

Harold and Lil Schultz, and Clara and Doug George of Edmonton, have returned from an enjoyable four-week holiday trip to the Netherlands.

Barbara and Bradley Johnson along with John Harrison, motored to Red Deer on the weekend for a family gathering to celebrate Barbara's eldest brother Duff's birthday.

Also attending were Harry and Kay Harrison and family of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Christensen attended the graduation of their son, Dr. Tom Christensen, in Edmonton on Saturday afternoon. They were guests of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons for graduation and their parents, at a breakfast in the morning and enjoyed a family dinner in the evening.

Christian women in Tofield and surrounding area have formed a "Care and Share" group. Their first meeting will be held in the Community Hall on June 14th at 9.30 a.m. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Brenda Hedenstrom of Killam. Fashions from the Elizabeth Shoppe will be featured and musical entertainment will be provided by Anne Renner. Frieda Bogaler will be the master of ceremonies. Tickets are available at That Place and at the door.

Laura Francis, Mary Wiens and Lillian Berreskell represented the Tofield WCTU at a provincial convention in Lacombe recently while Dawn Tiede and Myrna Baergen took part in the medal contest. The WCTU met at the home of Nita Kindley last Wednesday night with convention delegates giving reports. The group showed a film to the Youth Total Abstainers in the Mennonite Brethren Church on Saturday night.

Jim and Florence Ingram, along with son-in-law Richard Kops of Ryley, attended convocation exercises in the Jubilee Auditorium on Thursday to Beth Kops received her Bachelor of Education Degree, with distinction. Other area graduates were Donna-Kay Cimilar- McArthur, Lois Eileen Koop, Carol Linda Lyons, and David Walter Schroeder, all Bachelor of Education, and Dolores Grace Heiberg, Bachelor of Arts in Recreation Administration.

Edith-Mary Smith and Dr. J.G. Williams spent several days in Montreal in April.

Edith-Mary Smith is the president of the Canadian Cat Association, which held meetings in Montreal. Edith-Mary and Will exhibited three cats in the Montreal Cat Show. Edith-Mary and Will attended a Cat Show in Calgary during the holiday weekend. Mrs. J.A.L. Smith spent Sunday in Calgary. Mrs. J.A.L. Smith, Edith-Mary Smith and Dr. Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson on Monday.

Hazel Grace Young of Nanaimo, B.C., formerly of Tofield passed away in Nanaimo Regional General Hospital on May 18th at 74 years of age. Mrs. Young leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Arthur; her son, John; two grandsons, Richard and James, also two brothers and three sisters, all of Nanaimo.

Mrs. Annie McGinnis flew to Winnipeg to attend the wedding of her grandson, Bill Tipper, returning home by car with her daughter and son-in-law, Nels and Barb Godwin of Olds. Mrs. Dora Brown, who had also attended the wedding, travelled by bus and returned with the Godwins.

Ryley Pool Report

This week at the pool starts off with Mom and Tots and Ladies Fitness Classes.

We've had several rentals this past week and many inquiries about them.

The pool may be rented at any time that it is not in use for regular recreation swims or for lessons. The cost is $20.00 per hour for 30 people. There is an additional 50 cents per person charge over the 30 person mark.

We have discontinued handing out equipment to swimmers due to abuse by many of the people using it. Patrons may bring their own pails, snorkel line etc., but may use them only at the life guards discretion.

We've had several enquiries about the various season passes. All these passes ex pire on June 30, and so no new passes will be issued, fees will have to be collected for each swim at the regular rate of 50 cents for students and $1.00 for adults.

Remember, we will be open on Fridays 7 - 9 p.m. for all and 9 - 5:30 p.m. for teen later on.

Sunday evenings, from 7 - 9 is Family Swim. All children under 16 are to be accompanied by a parent. Its a great time to swim with your kids. Our phone 662-3505.

Happy Swimming

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON® 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds – for less

This new herbicide extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard – TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleafs are susceptible. TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON 202C is a formulation containing Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!
TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pail* $37.40 – and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.60. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container – in a special carry-case.

You'll grow bigger with a little help from DOW

Holden district news

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

Holden Senior Citizens group held their monthly meeting on Thursday. In the absence of the president, George Globenhaus, the meeting was chaired by Lloyd Clark. A short business meeting was chaired by Lloyd Clark. The minutes of the previous meeting read and approved, and correspondence read and dealt with. The group were advised that a trip was to be held some time in June with further information later regarding the time and cost. At the conclusion of the meeting, several games of cards were played and to end the evening, lunch was served by Mrs. Szako and Mrs. Bertha Chetney.

Members of the Holden Choir Group drove to Viking on Sunday evening, entertaining residents of Vialta Lodge with a musical program.

A surprise caller on Mrs. Bess Campbell on Monday was the former Agnes Drewchuk from Vancouver. Agnes taught at Holden School for a few years a number of years ago and stayed with Mrs. Campbell and her late husband while in Holden. She and her sister were visiting with other friends here and were also guests with Mrs. Alfred [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy were Tuesday visitors in Edmonton, calling on their family there to see the grandchildren.

Robert Taylor, Saylor and Aaron of Viking, were Saturday morning callers with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor.

Sam Sroka, who was a patient in Viking Hospital, was transferred to an Edmonton hospital for tests and is now taking treatments.

George Hunchak was in Edmonton last week having further therapy treatments on his back which he hurt a few weeks ago in a fall from a scaffold. He has found the treatments to be of great help.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tuchmann of Edmonton, Sherry spent a few days last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tuchmann. Alex and wife came down on the week end to take her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Conor Theriot and children of Leduc were spending the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conor.

Tuesday afternoon visitors with Mrs. Bess Campbell were Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Dinhoffman of Sherwood Park and their daughter Mrs. Lorne Bell of Edmonton. They had been calling on John's brother, Henry Dinhoffman at Bruce. Millie driving them down and also calling on Lorne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bell.

A recent visitor for several days with Mrs. Ethel Brakstad was Clara Armstrong of Penticton, Whistle here, Ethel entertained several ladies one afternoon at coffee to meet with Clara. She also visited with her brother Lonie Holden a Bruce and called on friends in Camrose before leaving for Edmonton where she visited with several friends before returning home to Penticton.

A former pioneer resident of the Holden district, Charles Arthur Wear of Wainwright, passed away on May 25th at the age of 82 years. He was born in Boston, Mass., and came to Canada with his family in his youth. The Wear family farmed for many years in the Holden district, first south of Holden then later moving, north of Holden, and they were all active in community and United Church affairs. He was predeceased by his wife, Jean, on Jan. 19th of this year. He is survived by six sons, David of Vernon, B.C., Charles of Vancouver, Robert of Edmonton, Frank D. of Calgary, Joseph R. of Courtney, B.C., and Robert of Edmonton and John of Toronto; eight daughters, Mr. F. (Rachel) Jacobs of Calgary, Mrs. A. (Connie) Bates of Toronto, Mrs. V. (Elsie) Griffiths of Toronto, Mrs. F. (Lucy) Herring of Hay Lakes, Mrs. T. (Eleanor) West of Dewinton, Mrs. R. (Mary) Baughen of Wainwright, Mrs. J. (Marg-Ayre) Hartwell of Edmonton, and Mrs. L. (Virginia) Wallbanks of Ohio, Man. thirty-six grandchildren; eight great grandchildren; one brother, Douglas of Coronation. Five sisters, Eleanor Watson of Denver Doris and Marion of California, Elsie of Penticton, and Evelyn of Dundee. The funeral was held at St. Thomas Anglican Church in Wainwright on May 28th with the Venerable Archdeacon, Vincent Cole, officiating.

Charles Wear served overseas in the 1st World War and was a member of the Holden Branch Great War Veterans' Assoc., taking an active part in its affairs. After leaving Holden he and his family made their home in Wainwright and his brothers, Douglas and Roger, with their late mother, Mrs. Frank Wear Sr. moved in the Coronation district and farmed there.

The Holden Community Choir wound up their season's activities by entertaining at Vialta Lodge in Viking on Sunday evening. Also included in the program were solo's and duets by Dennis and Pauline Watson and the choir director, Victor Watson. Eileen Hartman, the Holden - Viking Band instructor, performed two numbers on the saxaphone, accompanied by Pauline Watson on the piano. The Choral group plan to start up again in the fall.

Ministik and district news

Mrs. Jim Reddick

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth, Jean and George Kleinschroth, Mrs. M. George, Walter and Yvonne George, Lloyd and Kay Grummett, Mrs. E. Gladue, Albert and Barbara Gladue and Dolly Reddick were guests at the 60th wedding anniversary celebration in Fort Saskatchewan Elementary School Auditorium in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker.

Their family of two sons and a daughter, 5 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren were hosts to a round 400 guests.

A lovely buffet luncheon was served by the Rebekah Lodge of the Fort complete with anniversary cake.

Guest speakers included Senator Ernest Manning who paid great tribute to the Bakers for their untiring devotion to their constituents when Mr. Baker was M.L.A. For Clover Bar and wherever they went their friends and humanity came first.

Rev. W. Swain paid tribute in their devotion and support to their church.

Another celebration is to take place on Tuesday at Robertson Wesley Church in Edmonton.

Residents of Ministik and area were delighted to see the pictures and appointment of Deana Leach in The Mercury last week. Deana was born and educated here before taking her duties with The Cimroee Canadian.

Ronald Swabey has been convalescing at home after a nasty accident to his foot while at work.

His wife, Laurie, is back at work after being confined to home after surgery some time ago.

The Community League table at the Flea Market in Tofield on Saturday proved to be a most worthwhile effort.

Many little shrubs and bedding plans were a prime attraction. Started slips went well too, as did the several dozen eggs and the portion of home baking. Convenor Ray Grummett and her helpers, as well as the many people who patronized the effort were happy despite the rain all day.

Olivine and Verden Sears returned Sunday from a most enjoyable week spent in the Cypress Hills area. They also visited old Fort Walsh and other historic sites.

The Thursday group of the Crafts Centre have decided to have a recess after a very busy term. They return again the first Thursday in September.

Greg Thor of Edmonton spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Penrice.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ferguson attended the funeral in Edmonton on Thursday of a nephew, Gordon Potts.

The rains of this past week end should be sufficient for a long time. Fields seem to be flooded in many areas, making it difficult for seeding and no fear of drought.

Progressive Farming

Is your sprayer adequate for applying today's specialty herbicides? Does it need modifying or do you need a new one to meet the technological requirements of these modern weed killers?

A vast array of specialty herbicides has been developed over the last 30 years because traditional weed killers like 2,4-D cannot cope with all the new weeds that have taken over from those that were a menace 30 years ago. The herbicide 2,4-D, for example, which has successfully brought wild mustard under control, often improved growing conditions for the more "hard-to-kill" weeds when it controlled this and other relatively easy-to-kill weeds. The result was less competition for light, nutrients and water.

The problem with using the modern weed killers is that the older sprayer models are usually completely unsuited to applying them. In most cases these specialized herbicides have to be applied at rates of 10 to 40 gallons of water per acre compared with only four gallons per acre for many of the more traditional herbicides.

The average older type of farm sprayer is incapable of handling such application rates without major modifications. For one thing they require nozzles that are capable of delivering a greater volume of solution evenly over the width of the swath. Such large volumes of water necessitate a high capacity pump with large inlet and outlet hoses to carry the solution from the tank through the pump to the nozzles.

The tank size must also be increased to handle such high volumes of water if the same number of acres are to be covered per load. Since a larger tank means a heavier sprayer, narrower tires must be replaced with wider ones.

Since some of the specialized herbicides are only available in wettable or soluble powders, they must be agitated in the spray tank during the spraying operation. This means the installation of a special agitation system. If the new herbicides are to justify an investment of $8 to $12 per acre, they must always be applied as accurately as possible. It is essential, therefore, that all dirt and other foreign material be removed between the tank and the pump and between the pump and the nozzles with efficient screening devices.

In view of today's costs, it only makes sense to use the utmost care to obtain the greatest precision possible when applying these new more expensive chemicals. When properly applied they provide the surest way of increasing production and of obtaining the highest dollar return from the time, money and labor invested in the crop.

Information on upgrading a sprayer and the features to look for when buying a new one are contained in the publication "Field Sprayers". It also contains calibration charts in Imperial and metric measurements and application volume charts for choosing nozzles.

"Field Sprayers" is available from district agriculturists and the publications office, Agriculture Building, 9718 107st. Edmonton, T6K 2C8.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

Many people of our com munity question the need for organized recreation. I feel it is a necessary service for today's society, but of course I am quite biased in my opinion. Some reasons for my opinion are:

1) We must provide for the increased leisure that is available to everyone. In 1900, the work week was 84 hours, 1988 40 hours, 1976 36 hours, and a projection for the year 2000 is 32 work hours.

2) In light of our changing family life situation, we must stress family recreation. No longer does the family group attend meetings or do things "together".

3) Because of the mechanization and industrialization in our country, we are becoming a rather soft, materialistic and lazy society. Recreation programs can get people involved in activities that are stimulating mentally and physically.

4) Crime is on the upswing. Recreational activities that are appealing can be a deterrant factor in crime.

These are just a few of the reasons why I feel recreation is such a necessary part of our community. What are your feelings on the subject?

SENIOR CITIZEN TRIP

Plans are being finalized for a trip to Canmore and the Rocky Mountain House on June 20-22. Registrations are being handled through your local senior citizens club and the regional recreation office. The following is a list of representatives that will be able to answer all your questions:

Tofield: Mrs. Hilda Simpson. 662-3174; Mrs. Bertha Phillips. 662-3118.

Ryley: Mrs. Sarah Dieorio. 663-3643; Mrs. Tessie Kolodychuk. 663-3614.

Holden: Mrs. K. Hurum. 688-3941; Mrs. Winnie Johnson. 688-3933.

Bruce: Art Minehan. 686-2303.

The cost of the trip will be approximately $25.00 for four days which includes transportation, accommodation, and meals. I'm hoping for lots of participation - I'm sure it will be fun!

CLINIC CANCELLED

The softball-baseball clinic was set for May 28 and 29, was cancelled due to lack of registrations. What's the matter? Bad time of the year? Lack of interest? Or do you feel this is unnecessary? Please let us know for next year's planning.

BOYS'BALL-BASEBALL ANYONE?

Games scheduled for this week are as follows:

June 2 - 10 Years and Under Boys: Holden at Ryley; Tofield at Viking. 12 Years and Under Boys: Bruce at Ryley, Vegreville at Viking, Tofield at Ryley.

June 3 - 14 Years and Under Boys: Vegreville at Ryley, Tofield at Viking.

June 6 - 14 Years and Under Boys: Tofield at Vegreville, Viking at Ryley.

Ladies: Tofield at Ryley, Holden at Tofield. Kingman at Ryley

June 8 - 10 Years and Under Girls: Holes at Ryley, Tofield at Viking; 12 Years and Under Girls: Ryley at Holden, Viking at Tofield. 12 Years and Under Girls: Ryley at Ryley B, Viking at Tofield.

Ladies: Ryley at Kingman; Holden at Tofield; Tofield at Ryley

There's not too many weeks left, so come out and watch. CAMP LAKE

Our Camp Lake facility is being opened to all community clubs and organizations for the month of June. This facility includes a beach and camping area - excellent for small get-togethers! For more information and reservations, call the Regional Recreation Office at 662-3730.

TEEN PROGRAMS

Soon school will be out for the summer and what does everyone have planned? Perhaps, if I could have some ideas on activities or programs that you would like to see offered and would participate in, I could start plans. I'm open to suggestions so drop a line to: Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Dept., Box 5, Ryley, T0B 4A0. Let's do something fun and different this summer!

1977 SUMMER GAMES

I just received word of our zone play-off in trap and skeet shooting is scheduled for June 5, at Lloydminster. Trap entries close at 12.00 noon. 100 entries limit. At $11.50 fee includes entry fee and target. You can bring your own ammunition or buy it there.

Flowers for problem areas

Many home gardeners have problem spots in their flower beds that are too damp and shady or too dry and sunny for most common plants. Trevor Cole, assistant curator of the ornamentals section at Agriculture Canada's Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa, has some suggestions. For moist, shady areas he recommends plantain lilies, lungwort, coral bells and garden spirea. For ground cover under trees, Mr Cole likes the blue-flowering Ajuga or the yellow archangel Millefoils, yarrows and other members of the Achillea family are good for dry sunny locations, he says

Caribbean Work Experience

For six weeks, some 40 Western Canadians will engage with their part of the Caribbean world where the Canadian presence has been most visible - Cuba and Jamaica. The meeting will take place essentially through teamwork experiences that will include five weeks at community practical work in Jamaica (men, seminars in Cuba), and other socio-cultural events. Ample time for individual and personal planning and activities is provided for.

The group will depart from Edmonton on July 3rd to spend approximately ten days in Cuba, then on to Jamaica for the remainder of the stay. July 13th to August 18th.

The purpose of this program is to understand "development" as a complete human phenomenon, and not to emphasize one fragment of it - that of 'aid giving' and that of 'aid receiving'.

The participants (Caribbean and Canadians) themselves are the focal point of the program. Through dialogue and shared living and work situations, each discovers that the understanding of the other starts when the person begins to discover his/her own cultural frame of reference, and through it learning from other cultures. This is the base of all international learning.

The methodology therefore, is based on experiencing the cultural and psychological connotations and perceptions of development within different cultural frameworks, thereby gaining a fuller understanding of the need for international cooperation and the need of personal commitment in working out the "right" kind of process.

Samuel 17:40 And he chose five smooth stones and he drew near the Philistine.

The thrilling story of David, the modest shepherd boy who slew Goliath the arrogant giant of Gath. The drama of that event so occupies our attention that the spiritual lessons contained in the more minute details may escape our notice. Therefore I would like to consider the importance of the expression "five smooth stones". Why more than one stone? David was surely a good enough shot to kill the giant with a single small pebble. But listen there were at least four other giants (2 Sam 21:15-22) They might rally to Goliath's defense if something went wrong. Perhaps David had prepared for them. Trusting the Lord implicitly he chose one stone for the champion of the Philistines and just enough to be ready for any others if they attacked. Why did he choose "smooth stones"? Well you can shoot much more accurately with the proper ammunition. He had faith but he also used sanctified common sense. He didn't foolishly say, "The Lord is going to do it anyway so I'll just pick up any old rock" No he recognized human responsibility as well as Divine providence and selected shiny round stones so let us keep a balance between faith and works! While we should rely on the Lord, we can't expect His blessing if we haven't done our part.

Summer Cooling?
If you're contemplating summer cooling, we offer these helpful hints.
In summer, the hottest part of your home is the attic. One of the most economical and efficient ways to cool your entire home is by removing heated air with an automatic attic ventilator. In Alberta, it may be all you really need for summer comfort.
Generally, a fan system costs less to install and operate than an air conditioner. However, a fan system does not cool as effectively as an air conditioner nor does it filter the air.

Chemicals assist zero tillage goal

Weeds account for an average yield loss of 15 per cent in Prairie crops each year.

Technology has given a means to reduce these losses. With the introduction of 2,4-D in 1946, chemical control of weeds became possible. Herbicide use has increased in the last five years. There are now nine herbicides for wild oats, four for green foxtail, and four for hard-to-kill broad-leaved weeds.

Studies at Agriculture Canada's prairie research stations have proved that, with herbicides to control weed, crops can be successfully grown with no tillage. With zero tillage, yields, nitrogen accumulation and moisture conservation were as good as with conventional farming methods. Trash cover and erosion control were better. But the herbicides used in the research projects are not economically practical for field use.

But, as more herbicides are developed and the cost of fuel increases, herbicides may become a substitute for tillage. Operating a field cultivator requires 4.6 litres of fuel per hectare. A sprayer uses only 0.3 litres per hectare. Since one spraying will often eliminate two or more tillage operations, the energy situation may make minimum or zero tillage attractive.

Further research is necessary before continuous cropping with zero tillage can be safely recommended. Substituting herbicides for cultivation may also influence problems with insects and disease. Chemicals must be tested to ensure they do not leave harmful residues in the soil.

In the meantime, proper use of herbicides can reduce losses due to weeds and bring the farmer increased yields and a better return on his crops.

FEDLEY MANAGEMENT
FOOD PROBLEM

Management practices in beef feedlots may be turning usually innocuous bacteria into a major problem and costing the beef industry millions of dollars.

Dr. Manuel Garcia, a bacteriologist at Agriculture Canada's Animal Diseases Research Institute in Ottawa, says as many as 40 per cent of cattle from some feedlots in Alberta have liver abscesses. The abscesses are caused by normally harmless bacteria escaping the cattle's rumens and entering the bloodstream. While no symptoms show up in the feedlot, when the animal is slaughtered the abscessed liver is condemned and destroyed.

Dr. Garcia is studying the factors in feedlot management that may lead to liver damage. He is also trying to develop a vaccine to prevent it.

Join over a quarter million Albertans who borrow and save at Treasury Branches

Yes, we have a lot of customers throughout this great Province. In fact their deposits with us now total over a billion dollars. Why do they choose to deal with us? When we ask them, sometimes they tell us it's because of our favourable interest rates, often for the courteous service we try to provide. But most often they like our pledge – money deposited with us stays and works in Alberta. And that's what our slogan "Albertans investing in Alberta" is really all about. For all the financial services most people use – we think we're hard to beat.

Give us a call. We listen.

AND IN THE MATTER OF rates for gas supplied and service rendered to be charged by Northwestern Utilities Limited, the owner of a gas utility

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

APPLICATION dated November 22, 1976 having been filed with the Public Utilities Board by Northwestern Utilities Limited (hereinafter called "the Applicant") for an order or orders of the Board.

(a) determining a rate base for the property of the Applicant that is used or required to be used in the Applicant's service to the public, and fixing a fair return thereon,
(b) fixing and approving just and reasonable rates, charges or schedules thereof for natural gas to be supplied by the Applicant,
(c) giving effect to such part of any losses incurred by the Applicant as may be due to any undue delay in the hearing and determination of the application,
(d) approving rates which will take into account any increase or decrease in the costs of gas supply,
(e) fixing and approving such interim rates pending the fixing of final rates as the Board may determine

AND THE BOARD, following public notice and hearing at a public sitting of the Board having approved by Order No E78144 dated December 31, 1976 interim rates to be charged by the Applicant effective January 1, 1977 which interim rates, with minor modifications approved by the Board, have been so charged and are currently in effect;

AND THE APPLICANT by letter to the Board dated May 16, 1977 having given notice of a further application for an order of the Board fixing and approving new interim rates to be charged by the Applicant effective July 1, 1977;

NOW THEREFORE THE BOARD HEREBY ORDERS that the Board will hear the application which is the subject of the Applicant's letter of May 16, 1977 at the Court House, in the City of Edmonton, in The Province of Alberta, on Tuesday the 21st day of June, 1977 commencing at 10 00 o'clock in the forenoon,

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that as soon thereafter as the Applicant, the Intervenors and Counsel thereto may be heard, the Board will hold a pre-hearing conference respecting the Application dated November 22, 1976 to consider

(a) the simplification of the issues,
(b) the necessity or desirability of filing further material,
(c) the possibility of obtaining any agreement as to facts that will facilitate the hearing, and
(d) any other matters that may aid in the disposition of the application.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that the Board will hear the application dated November 22, 1976 at the Court House in the City of Edmonton in the Province of Alberta on Tuesday the 2nd day of August, 1977 commencing at 9 30 o'clock in the forenoon, and continuing if necessary through to Friday, the 12th day of August, 1977 excluding Saturday and Sunday.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that any person having a bona fide interest in the matters which are the subject of the applications may intervene at the hearing of the applications by attending either in person, or represented by counsel at the times and places above mentioned,

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that copies of the applications and of the documentation filed in support of the applications may be obtained by any interested person by addressing a request in writing to the Applicant in care of its solicitors

Holden wins opener in men's ball league

Holden defeated Bruce 11-8 in the only game reported as the Highway 14 Men's Fast-ball League opened its season last week.

Holden garnered its win when the team erupted for seven big runs in the bottom of the third inning and then held on to beat the defending league champions.

Harry Sucky picked up the win while Ken Heber was tagged with the loss. Wayne Branch paced the winners at the plate and played a strong defensive game at third base while Neil Erickson led Bruce's hitters and Larry Kawulak played good defensive ball in centerfield.

The two Ryley teams were to have faced each other on Wednesday night while Tofield played in Lindbrook in the other league openers. No reports were received by the league statistician from these games.

Games had been scheduled for Friday evening and yesterday (Wednesday) and could be reported next week.

Following is the balance of the regular schedule.

June 3: Kingman at Bruce; Lindbrook at Ryley T. Holden at Ryley

June 8: Bruce at Lindbrook, Kingman at Tofield, Ryley T at Holden

June 15: Tofield at Bruce, Holden at Lindbrook; Kingman at Ryley

Dr. Basil Shannon,
Superintendent of Schools

Here's proof that Carbyne will work for you in 1977.

REG. T.M.

In 4 different on-farm comparisons, Carbyne-treated wheat produced an average of 9.9 more bushels per acre than the untreated wheat.

For years growers could see that Carbyne controls wild oats. But there were few, if any, accurate grower records of the exact increase in yield, down to a 1/10 of a bushel.

To prove yield increases, Carbyne-treated vs. untreated comparisons were made at 4 different on-farm locations – to determine measured increase in wheat yield.

No guessing, no assuming, but measured.

The chart shown you the results. Check them for yourself, and see why Carbyne has been used by more farmers than any other wild oat herbicide.

There are sound reasons why Carbyne gives you higher yields, and outperforms other wild oat herbicides. Here are some of them.

Carbyne works, wet or dry.

Fifteen minutes after you apply Carbyne, pouring rain won't wash it away. Yet, Carbyne doesn't need rainfall to activate it.

Carbyne works on a wide variety of crops.

Carbyne has a proved performance record and label clearance on spring wheat, durum wheat, barley flax, mustard, peas, sunflowers, rapeseed, alfalfa, timothy, sweet, red and alsike clover, smooth bromegrass, crested wheatgrass, Russian wild ryegrass, sugar beets, lentils and fababeans.

That means the diversified farm can use Carbyne on two or more of the above crops. And you can rotate from crop to crop, and get safe, effective control.

Carbyne is a money maker. And money saver.

Just one wild oat per square foot can cost you 3.2 bushels of wheat and 2.2 bushels of barley per acre. An average of 15 wild oats per square foot cuts per acre yields of wheat 12.5 bushels, and barley 8.5 bushels.

Multiply these yield losses by current crop prices and you can see how much money Carbyne can make for you.

On top of that you save money with Carbyne. Carbyne costs less per acre than any other wild oat herbicide.

Carbyne also eliminates the extra expense of inoculation, and the worry of working your soil when it is too wet or too dry.

Make Carbyne plans now.

Put Carbyne to work for you, and get safe, sure control of wild oats.

Tofield okays a new recreation agreement

The Town of Tofield has agreed to support a new regional recreation agreement. The decision to support recommendations from the Regional Recreation Investigating Committee was approved at a meeting and three readings to a by-law putting the agreement into effect were given by town councillors.

A lease agreement covering the Tofield Arena was reached with the Tofield and District Agricultural Society and all three readings approving the agreement were given at the final council meeting in May following a presentation by representatives of the Society earlier in the meeting.

Council decided to contact the Department of Environment to check on the quality of the water in Beaverhill Lake to see if it was suitable for use as a water supply for their own.

A bid from Automated Concrete Ltd. in the amount of $37,946.30 was accepted by council for the 1977 sidewalk, curb and gutter program.

Council authorized the development of North Park at an estimated cost of $15,000 with Jerry's Greenhouse contracted to do the landscaping, and planting of trees, shrubs, flowers and grass at a cost of $10,000 with work and material to be guaranteed for one year.

Accounts in the amount of $20,248.05 were approved for payment.

Bob Cross, Bruce Winter and John Penner appeared on behalf of the School Committee to discuss the 1977 school requisition. Later in the meeting, council asked the committee to provide written plans for construction and drainage of the school bus parking area.

Three readings were given to a by-law which authorizes payments to the mayor and members of council for attending meetings.

Councillor Pittet agreed to obtain cost estimates for repairing the Tofield Library.

Council agreed to discuss the 1977 budget at a meeting on June 6th (Monday) after discussing it on May 30th. The purchase of Christmas decorations was deferred to budget discussions.

Alex Singbeil attended a meeting to advise council of the services available from Alberta Recreation, Parks and Wildlife.

Information for this story was obtained from the minutes of a meeting held on May 9th and the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on May 30th.

Tofield is planning Canada Day schedule

Canada Day celebrations are once again being planned by several organizations in the Tofield community.

The theme "Proud to be Canadian" will be highlighted in the parade kicking off festivities at 11 a.m. and featuring two exciting bands – the Clan McNaughtan Pipe Band and the Irina Marching Band.

These two bands will be playing later in the day at the Arena with the added attraction of highland dancers performing with the pipe band.

Other highlights of the day will include men's and ladies' baseball and fastball tournaments, gymkhana activities, bingo, displays by the Historical Society and the Garden Club, a flea market and a barbeque dinner in the evening.

There will also be a draw for 77 silver dollars with tickets being sold on the grounds, as well as a gate prize.

Everyone is invited to start July 1st celebrations early by attending the Family Dance in the arena on June 30th.

The public is reminded to come out and watch the parade – or better still, enter a float.

For further information regarding the parade, contact Dorothy McCartney, 662-3945 or Janie Aubrey, 662-3407.

Wild chase ends as driver caught

A wild chase, involving five police cars, occurred on Saturday as police attempted to catch a vehicle which had been speeding.

The chase extended from Shorts to Camrose, at what was described at excessive speeds, before the driver was apprehended. Because the driver was a juvenile girl, her name will not be revealed.

Vandalism and thefts from unlocked vehicles are disturbing police. Considerable damage was done to a lawn in Tofield by a vehicle on Sunday while a vehicle in Tofield was damaged to the extent of $300 and flower beds at the Bank of Montreal were destroyed with juveniles being suspected.

Two lawnmowers were taken from a locked shed at the Holden Cemetery and there were two report of tires and batteries being taken from vehicles which had been left outside of garages.

A local resident has been charged with indecent assault on a youth and will appear for a hearing on Tuesday.

Flags at the Treasury Branch and Post Office in Ryley were reported as stolen on Saturday. Each flag was worth about $13 and similiar thefts have increased during the past year.

A door in the Ryley Hotel was smashed during a disturbance during the early hours of Thursday morning. RCMP are conducting an investigation and charges are pending.

Drivers are being alerted to watch for stray cattle suddenly appearing on the road as they could cause serious ac-

Tofield 4-H club has successful day

The annual Tofield 4-H Beef Club's show and sale was deemed a huge success with steers selling for an average price of 56 8 cents per lb.

Vanda Jones' Grand Champion was bought by Kallal Motors of Tofield.

Reserve Grand Champion was shown by Heather Rudzicki and sold to Tofield Meat Processors who also bought Joe Brown's third place steer. A list of buyers will be published next week.

Some other awards won were the following:

What are you guilty of?

Canada's criminal justice system was criticized as archaic only a couple of weeks ago by a former deputy commissioner of the RCMP in a statement which is remarkable for its philosophy, especially from a senior officer, whose opinions are likely to carry much weight with junior members of the force.

Speaking to the Canadian Women's Club in Ottawa, William Kelly said advising an accused person of his right to remain silent is an archaic law which seriously hampers the course of justice. It's hangover from the 17th century, said Mr. Kelly, when the accused, innocent or guilty, was often subjected to torture as severe as the rack to gain a confession. Today, feels Mr. Kelly, it is highly unreasonable to give the police responsibility for investigating crime, and then requiring them to tell a suspect, at a very crucial time, that he need not say anything.

The rule that the Crown must prove its case is not popular in the legal profession, he declared. But surely that should be obvious. Why wouldn't they want all the help possible in gaining a conviction? Why wouldn't they want to make it easier?

Mr. Kelly seems to feel that today's enlightened judges and juries, defence counsel, news media just waiting to pounce on an abuse of civil rights, and of course, the civil liberties groups themselves all work towards a fair trial for the accused, without the "archaic" safeguard. But surely this is one of the civil rights in question. Surely one of the basic tenets is that it is not reasonable to ask any man to convict himself, just as centuries of practice made it illegal to draw the convicting evidence from a man's wife also.

Carried to the extreme, what Mr. Kelly is advocating would make it reasonable for a policeman to walk up to any citizen, saying "You must be guilty of something . . . what is it?" And illegal not to tell.

In a pinch

Enthusiasts over the conversion to metric are happily announcing that in a recent conference on conversion of the kitchen to SI, a panel of experts saw nothing but advantages in switching to metric recipes

The forecast was made that by March of 1980 the entire switch will have been made, insofar as labels, measures, new recipes and all the other aspects, such as impiements, measuring devices and so on. The list of people and professions involved seems amazing, but among others it includes packagers, processors, retailers, home economists, dietitians, printers, restaurateurs, chefs, cookware and bakeware manufacturers, appliance manufacturers, advertising and public relations firms and government departments of agriculture, environment and consumer and corporate affairs

It may be easy for a lot of those people, with nothing but advantages ahead. But what of the literally, millions of recipes from one end of the country to the other which have been collected by cooks for years and years . . . even coming down from other generations in some instances. Just imagine the problem of trying to convert them to metric, with any degree of accuracy, especially where "just the right amount" is a finicky requirement.

And what happens when it comes to that famous old measure used by so many cooks . . . "add a pinch of . . ." We can just hear them wondering, "Would a metric pinch be the same as an imperial pinch?"

Mazankowski urges CN rail retention

. . . in constituency

Don Mazankowski, Member of Parliament for Vegreville, today released the responses which he has received from Canadian National Railways and from the Minister of Transport in reply to the M P 's appeal of the decision to discontinue rail passenger service on the Edmonton-Grande Centre and Edmonton-North Battleford Mr Mazankowski submitted his appeal after the Canadian Transport Commission handed down its decision to discontinue these services in March of this year

Mr Mazankowski based his appeal upon two factors. Firstly, the anticipated increased economic activity as a result of the potential expansion of the heavy oil industry, and secondly, the government's announcement of the establishment of Via Canada and its over-all plan to revitalize Canada's Rail Passenger Service These factors were not taken into consideration during the time of the hearings and therefore constitutes a new element into the consideration of further rail passenger service

The Minister of Transport, Otto Lang, replied by saying, "As you know, I stated on January 28, 1976 that it is government policy to support rail passenger services where they are well suited to the market or where no other public transport exists However, where trains are poorly suited to the market, our intention is to encourage other modes to replace them " Lang then outlined the various avenues open to appeal the CTC 's decision He made no comment on the need to maintain the two passenger services in question

The Canadian National Railway Company submitted to the Canadian Transport Commission a detailed response to Mr Mazankowski's appeal the C N said that if and when heavy oil developments caused passenger rail service to be required, the service could be re-established The cost of eventual re-establishment compared to the cost of maintaining the service was not mentioned The C N reply said further that these passenger services are not and have not been for some time required in the public interest and as a consequence have sustained substantial annual losses" With respect to the establishment of Via Rail Canada, the C N stated that this did not mean continuation of services not required in the public interest. Again, the government owned railway company stated that those two services "a, e clearly not required in the public interest"

Mr Mazankowski has written to the Canadian Transport Commission in response to the statement made by C N He pointed out the fallacy in C N 's single argument that the service was not required in the public interest. The C N has allowed the service to deteriorate and not made any effort to have it serve the public interest. He also commented that the C.N failed to address itself to the major points raised both in his original submission and his appeal.

At the end of his appeal, Don Mazankowski reflected the views expressed by a great many of his constituents in noting that if rail passenger service was upgraded, more conveniently scheduled, and made more competitive, the demand for it clearly exists. Neither the Minister of Transport nor the C.N.R. commented on this statement.

Canadian comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — If the eastern part of Canada isn't worried about the tremendous drought stretching across the West like yeast, it ought to be. A friend just back from Saskatoon talked of dust storms where there should have been spring mud, and water dug-outs nearly bone-dry, threatening dire things for livestock this summer.

There had been no rain since last August when he visited, and only a minute amount of snow. Dust was everywhere even seeping through the cracks of wind ows in the city to cover Aunt Nellie's knick knacks with a fine layer of the stuff.

So far there seems to have been negligible action from the federal government. Late last month there was an interesting series of questions from former Tory Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, directed at the present Minister Eugene Whelan Hamilton lambasted his questioning by asking if Whelan would "tell the farmers what is on tap so they can stop worrying" He received as his answer the assurance of a list of federal crop insurance schemes Whelan also said that provincial authorities appear confident "my people are going to work."

I was intrigued by Hamilton's question, and dropped into his office to enquire what he meant by "what is on tap."

His answer was astonishing.

Hamilton told me there is a fresh water lake 1,500 feet beneath the prairies which is 40 feet deep, 800 miles long, and 200 miles wide. The water is under considerable pressure, he said, and would flow to the surface if tapped by drill rigs.

His solution to the drought would be to hire small oil drilling rigs and put them to work at federal expense punching holes down to the water reserve. It would cost, he said, about $20,000 a well and the program could provide long-term insurance against future droughts, as well as offering a partial solution to this one. Why hasn't the government moved? Burdened as usual afraid of innovation, says Hamilton.

Pressure from Hamilton's water holes would be sufficient to service the immediate area of each well, he said, and pumps could be obtained to distribute it further.

Water holes to the under ground lake should be drilled fairly close to areas of high population, he added, because the underground water is roughly 80 degrees in temperature, and in winter it could be used through heat pumps for heating homes substantially cheaper than with hydrocarbon fuels.

The veteran idea man of the House of Commons strikes again Now let's see if any body follows up his scheme

Government aids wells for farmers

. . . reports Mazankowski

The federal government has announced two programs to aid the prairie provinces in moving against drought conditions

The first program is for the assistance of farmers and ranchers Previously, the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration has provided financial assistance for farm water supplies. Wells, dug outs and stock watering dams have been eligible for up to $500 each and irrigation schemes for up to $600 each in federal grants Under the new program, from April 1, 1977 to March 31, 1978 the installation of deep wells will qualify for up to $1,500 each in federal assistance. Other water supply projects will still qualify at previous rates but now any two projects, including wells, will be considered for each individual in any year. Formerly only one was allowed

Under the old scheme drilled wells were eligible for grants of $4.50 a foot, to a depth of 122 feet. Now, drilled wells going deeper will qualify for a further $3.00 a foot from 122 feet to about 440 feet and an additional $4.00 a foot bored below this level

The supplementary funds allocated under this program are expected to reach a total of $1,500,000 during the year.

The second program is available for communities on the prairies. Federal assistance will be available to the province on a 50-50 cost sharing arrangement to finance deep wells and associated water pipelines for communities on the prairies. From April 1, 1977 to March 31, 1978 projects will be eligible for federal funding up to $15,000 for each project. The estimated costs of this program are expected to reach $1,200,000 during the year.

Anyone wishing further information on these programs can contact the P.F.R.A. office in Vegreville for details.

How to fight a bad mood

Depression is the most common and perhaps the oldest known emotional problem. Experts like Canadian Mental Health Association Secretary Lincoln and Churchill were three leaders who suffered from the "blues" or "bad moods" It doesn't really matter what we call it as long as we recognize that our bad mood isn't unique

We all have periods when we feel worthless, afraid, alone A depressed mood can be triggered by circumstances the death of a relative or friend, divorce, unemployment, sickness This emotional dip is to be expected but when the depression lasts a long time, or gets in the way of productive living, you should seek professional help

If your depression is not severe, here are some ways that you can help yourself

1 Concentrate on doing things that you do well to help build yourself confidence

2 Engage in some physical activity

3 Talk over your feeling with someone you trust

4 Visit someone who is lonely or ill This will help you feel better about your own situation

5 Break out of your usual routine Take a vacation or go away for the weekend if possible

6 List as many of your personal and professional achievements as you can You'll start to look better to yourself

7 Even though you may not feel like it, work at making your physical appearance as attractive as possible

If your blue mood persists, and becomes something you can't handle alone, seek professional help A family doctor, social services agency or local Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association can refer you to sources of help In Camrose, special assistance is available through the Assistance at Distress telephone service.

Grim mental outlook for babies of 1977

One in every six children born this year will require psychiatric care for mental illness at some time in their lives This grim prediction is based on studies by the Canadian Mental Health Association And one in three will become temporarily disabled at some time as a result of emotional problems.

In a recent 10 year period, says the Association, admissions to psychiatric hospitals and mental health clinics increased by 111 per cent

This year, it is expected more than 18,000 Canadians will enter hospital for psychiatric care for the first time A further 56,000 will return to hospital for further treatment And more than 250 000 people will be treated for mental and emotional disorders in clinics and out-patient departmentia

Great strides are being made in the fight against mental illness, but still too few people realize the enormity of the problem. At least one million children and teenagers in Canada have emotional or learning disorders requiring professional help And suicide is now the second most frequent cause of death among young Canadians between the ages of 15 and 30

During Mental Health Week, May 1 to 7, the Association is seeking funds to continue its fight against mental illness There's an awful lot that needs to be done

Mental Health Week was May 1 to 7, but the Association points out work needs to be done all through the year Funds to continue the fight against mental illness would be welcome by Edmonton representative, Barbara Rudder. No. 208, 10711 - 107 Avenue

Matthew 5:37 But let your communication be yea, yea; Nay, Nay.

People who are Christians have a responsibility to remain true to their word. Shortly before his death the Duke of Burgundy was perusing over the Cabaret Council of France. A proposal was made by the ministers that would vanish a treaty that would secure important advantage for the country. Many "good" reasons were offered to justify the deed. The Duke listened in silence, and when all had spoken he closed the conference without giving approval. Placing his hand on the original agreement he said with firmness in his voice, "gentlemen, we have a treaty."

It is important that Christians act and speak so that the Savior is glorified. Therefore when you give your word keep it! If you make a commitment honor it! If you take on an obligation fulfil it! Our honesty and reliability should be so evident that we can be trusted for any contract we make. What better testimony could be said of a believer than this! He gave his word, and that's good enough for me! And it isn't Christians we must go to witness because they are more likely to believe us when we speak about the Gospel.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

Last week, I went looking for donations for trophies for our Girls' Softball League. This is the first year the teams have been organized in our county, so I felt the girls should also work to a trophy. I could not believe the response I got. I decided to get to a store in each town and try to get some support. I thought getting donations would be most difficult. The first store approached in Tofield was Oren Automotive who was more than willing to donate a trophy. Bigway Supersite in Ryley also demonstrated a great willingness to help. Fountain Tire of Viking also cheerfully agreed to sponsor a trophy. What an asset each of these stores are to our community! Thank you Oren Automotive - Tofield, Bigway Supersite - Ryley, and Fountain Tire - Viking, for your support.

Are you all ready for the trip?

June 20 - 23 is very quickly approaching and this is the week scheduled for the senior citizens' trip. We will travel to Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, and Rocky Mountain House. The registration fee is $50.00 which will include all meals, transportation and accommodation. Registrations are being handled through your local senior citizens' club and the Regional recreation office. The following is a list of representatives. Contact them to answer your questions.

Tofield: Mrs. Hilda Simpson, 662-3174. Mrs. Bertha Phillips, 662-3113
Ryley: Mrs. Sarah Dieselman, 663-3843. Mrs. Tessie Kolodychuk, 663-3614
Holden: Mrs. K. Harum, 688-3861 Mrs. Winnie Johnson 688-3833
Bruce: Mr. Art Minchau, 688-3388
County Office: Colleen Walker 662-3739

Registrations are being taken from June 8 - 15 so hurry and register! All meals, lodging, transportation have been planned, so I'm almost ready to go!

Summer Recreation Brochure

The annual summer recreation brochure which contains summer programs will be out this week or early next week. This brochure contains information on playground programs, camps, senior citizens and more plus registration forms. Please take a look at it - it's written for you.

2577 Summer Games

Some are asking what games exactly are included in the 1977 Summer Games. The following is a list: archery, baseball, canoeing, diving, field hockey, golf, horse show jumping, lawn bowling, rugby, shooting, soccer, softball, tennis, track and field, water skiing. Please let me know if you are interested.

Camp Lake

I'd like to remind you that our Camp Lake facility is open to all community clubs and organizations for the month of June. For more information, please call the Regional Recreation Office at 662-3739. It's really an ideal place for a small get-together.

The following is a schedule of our Camp Lake summer program. Refer to your brochure for further information.

Lana Reil

Monica Knudsten, daughter of Gerage and Audrey Knudsten, left June 1st for a holiday in London, England, to visit friends for ten days.

On Tuesday evening, Ryley Sparrows played in Bruce and Ryley won. In a second game, Bruce beat Ryley.

On Tuesday evening, Ryley Ladies' Institute Branch held their Borgfield Sundike and Thor Mahlum are patients in Tofield Hospital.

A busy bee was held Monday and Tuesday at Stan and Ida Hunka's when they shingled their house while the weather was fit.

Larry Gardeski was home Sunday visiting his mother His mother went back with Larry to Edmonton.

Shirley Jensen of Edberg visited with her folks and friends over the weekend.

Much hard work has gone into planting trees east of main street, and fixing up a lovely little park south of main street Lovely spruce was planted dirt banded in and levelled off and a nice fence and railing put up.

Many from Ryley took in the Camrose Jaywalkers Jamboree in Friday and Saturday

Ebenezer Kirkeland's sisters, Dean and Helen of Edmonton, visited with her over the weekend.

John Hunka of Edmonton, formerly of Ryley, is a patient in University Hospital, recovering nicely from open heart surgery.

Gertrude Mieners entered the world champion chicken races in Camrose at the Jaywalkers Jamboree Her chicken made the semi finals and now for the final test, because Mr. Roy Rokes enjoyed chicken checking. The prize box was given to the Rokes family and they will put it to the Colonel Sanders test.

The meeting was called to order by the Revve. Cr. Knudsen. Moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of April 14th be accepted.

Moved that the minutes of the special meeting of April 19th be approved.

Moved that the minutes of the Court of Revision of April 28th be approved.

Moved that the April 30th financial statement be accepted.

Moved that the hospital reports be accepted.

Laurie Weatherall attended the meeting and presented correspondence from the Department of Agriculture regarding water pumping and pipe bom made available to farmers for water supplies. Any farmer who is unable to obtain water should contact a councillor or the Pieldman.

Mr. Weatherill advised that he will require an additional truck for use during the spraying season. He suggested that it would be more economical to rent a truck than to purchase one as it is only required for a short period. He had checked into rental rates and would do some further checking.

Moved that Laurie Weatherill rent a truck for the Maywood program for the [illegible] months.

Moved that Council approve the following spraying rates. $30.00 per hour for shelterbelts, $14.00 per hour for perennial weed control. Minimum charge of one hour.

Moved that the Agricultural Fieldman's report be accepted.

Neil Reid, County Fire Chief, attended the meeting. Moved that the County Fire Chief call a meeting of all town fire chiefs to discuss various matters relating to the operation of fire programs.

Moved that the Village of Ryley be approached regarding the sale of the Tofield Rural Fire truck at a price of $10,000.00. Moved that Council approve the purchase of a new rural fire truck for the Tofield area.

Moved that the Rural Council ty Fire Chiefs report be accepted.

The Secretary—Treasurer advised that he had written to the Village of Holden advising that the County of Beaver had no objection to their proposed annexation providing that they take in all that portion of the S.E. 14-49-16-W4 north of Highway 14 and west of the road allowance east of the quarter section. Moved that Council concur in this action taken by the Secretary-treasurer.

Moved that Council approve the following gravel haul rates for all work done effective April 1st 1977. — Basic loading factor 80 cents per cubic yard plus hauling at 14 cents per cubic yard mile.

Moved that this Council not construct a water storage facility for the Village of Ryley as per their request on advice by the Department of Municipal Affairs as this is contrary to Section 1685 of the Municipal Government Act.

Moved that Cr. Krupinski supervise the construction of street lights in the Hamlet of Pea.

Moved that Council concur in the acceptance of a tender in the amount of $2,888.00 for the sale of the Avadex Spreader.

Moved that Jerry Aliott be appointed contact person for the movement of Oil and Gas well equipment.

Moved that Council approve the revised Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department and regulations.

Moved that the regular Council meeting be held on June 16th

Moved that Council investigate the cost of purchasing a fire siren for the Hamlet of Kinsella.

Moved that an ad be placed in local papers advising of the possible penalty for dumping of garbage in roadways in the County.

Moved that the secretary-treasurer be given authority to deal with tenders concerning used public works equipment.

Moved that Council approve the purchase of a half ton truck for the public works foreman.

Moved that Council re-tender for sale the N.W. 23-49-25-W4.

By Law No. 646 concerning the 1977 Mill Rate was presented. First Reading Moved and carried. Second Reading Moved and carried.

Moved that By Law No. 646 be given Third Reading at this time. Third Reading Moved and carried.

Lloyd Werbowesuk, District Engineer and Gordon McIndoe attended the meeting and discussed various projects for the 1977 program.

He advised that the Department of Transportation was prepared to supply a grant up to $25,000.00 for construction of a road up to the Cooking Lakes Forest Reserve at Isles Lake. This road has been requested by the Alberta Forestry Association for establishment of an environmental study area for the use of school systems.

He suggested that we contact Harvey Alton of the Department of Transportation to see if some assistance could be obtained for reconstruction of S.R. 870. Any assistance would come out of a fund established for upgrading roads to resources. This road carries a large amount of gravel trucks.

Cr. Brissard requested Mr. Werbowesuk to see if it is possible to supply gravel on some of the approaches to Highway 38.

Our road program for 1977 was discussed and a list of locations for regrading and regravelling were given to Mr. Werbowesuk for the 1977 Articles of Agreement.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the N.E. 10-47-16 W4 be approved providing the subdivision takes in the access road.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the N.W. 12-50-25-W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the S.W. 18-47-17-W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the S.W. 18-47 10-W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the S.W. 20-48-11 W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the N.E. 35-47-11 W4 be approved.

Moved that the request for a subdivision in the N.E. 7-50-19 W4 be approved.

As there was no further business it was moved that the meeting adjourn.

Mrs. Jim Reddich

The annual Strawberry Tea sponsored by the Ladies Club was once again a most successful affair

Mrs. Joan Ferguson and Mrs. Connie Leach welcomed the patrons as they came to enjoy a visit and strawberries, ice cream and cake. Sarah Kleinschroth, Eva Davenport, and daughter Phyllis were assisting at the home baking table, as a laden table of pies, cakes, loaves etc. was soon empty.

The teen girls of the community served the guests while Lil Leach and Joyce Bowerman were in charge of the kitchen. Diane Penske, Eden Ferguson and Daily Reddick looked after the strawberry short cake pieces while Mrs. M. George and Gladys Swabey poured tea and coffee. Their table was centered by a lovely spring flower display arranged by Joyce Bowerman. Barbara Williams was in charge of raffle tickets, the net of stacking stools being won by Margaret Paterson, while Mr. Ken Bowerman of Tofield won the lovely rubber trees. Barbara Herricks was in charge of the chairs at the tables.

Guests came from all surrounding districts, Edmonton and Tofield and one guest, a cousin of Barbara Herricks, Mrs Dora Mark of Monterey, California, was in attendance as was her niece Robin Hazlett of Edmonton. There was considerable reminiscing as well as Mrs. Mark was a Sunday school pupil of Joan Ferguson's many years ago.

Instead of supper being served at the annual picnic, on June 18, as in the past years, dinner will be enjoyed at 12 noon. After this the races and sports will get underway. Ball games are also planned, and the refreshment booth will be in operation all day.

Phyllis Davenport spent the weekend at her home, also giving a helping hand at the strawberry tea, on the bake table.

Tickets for the Klondyke dance on July 9th are now on sale. They may be obtained by phoning Shirley Herricks at 662-3367, Diane Penske at 662-3886, Vi Reddick at 662-3276, and Kaye Grummett at 662-3297

So sure ladies and have those Klondyke costumes ready for both you and your honey.

Pierre Lafontaine and family and some friends enjoyed Sunday afternoon at the Paul Lafontaine home

Greg Thor of Edmonton spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr and Mrs Alex Pearce. On Saturday afternoon, Mrs Pearce's daughters, Laverne Thor, Alice Barker and Alice's mother-in-law, Mrs Rankin all attended the strawberry tea. They picked up Mrs Ethe Nanchuk on their way

THE AGRICULTURAL & RECREATIONAL
LAND OWNERSHIP ACT

Alberta's rich soil and picturesque recreation areas are two of the province's most valuable resources.

In order to ensure that these resources continue to be owned by Albertans and other Canadians, The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act and Temporary Regulations have been passed.

This new law is designed to prevent non-Canadians from buying significant amounts of prime agricultural and recreational land. However, it does not discourage those existing or future non-Canadian investors who wish to come to Alberta to build new manufacturing plants, expand existing plants, invest in agricultural processing operations, recreational developments, new home subdivisions, or similar developments.

Joint business ventures between non-Canadian enterprises and Alberta companies have been and will continue to be encouraged. These will be excluded from controls if an exemption is approved by the Provincial Cabinet

Legislative Authority

The Foreign Ownership of Land (Temporary) Regulations were passed under the authority of the Canadian Citizenship Act (Section 33). The Proposed Draft Regulations are expected to be passed under dual authority of the Citizenship Act and The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act (Bill 40)

Uncontrolled Lands

Some lands are not controlled under the regulations. These include.
- — crown land
- — mines and minerals
- — land within the boundaries of cities, towns, new towns, villages and summer villages
- — not more than two parcels of land, containing 20 acres or less in total.

Temporary Regulations Are Now in Effect

In order to allow time through the summer for comments and submissions from the public on the Proposed Draft Regulations and to avoid a rush of foreign purchases of Alberta Land, "The Foreign Ownership of Land (Temporary) Regulations" came into effect on April 26, 1977 by an Order-in-Council (O.C. 404/77) under Section 33 of The Citizenship Act. These Temporary Regulations are identical in essential respects to the Proposed Draft Regulations. Modifications or changes may result from public comments and submissions. Elements of the Temporary and Proposed Draft Regulations are outlined below.

A. Canadian citizens and landed immigrants are not controlled or affected in any way. Non-Canadians, foreign governments, or corporations incorporated outside Canada will be subject to the controls.

B. Essentially a "foreign controlled corporation" is one in which the percentage share ownership is more than 50% foreign.

C. Trusts cannot be used to circumvent the controls

D. The regulations do not apply to or affect right of entry orders, pipelines, oil and gas processing plants, or water, gas or electric power lines.

E. Wills and the transfer of land on death are not controlled

F. Enforcement will be by sworn declaration attached to a transfer of land and by investigative procedures in Land Titles Offices and the Companies Branch.

G. Penalties
1. The Citizenship Act sets as a [illegible] for breach of the Act or regulations, a fine of up to $10,000 and imprisonment till up to one year or both
2. Where controlled land is acquired contrary to the regulations, procedures for judicial sale are set forth

H. The Registrars of Land Titles are given the authority to require such evidence, verified by statutory declaration or otherwise, as is deemed necessary

I. The onus of proving that a person or corporation is eligible to buy Alberta land is on that person or corporation

J. Mortgagees of land held for security of loans and other indebtedness will be exempt

The temporary regulations are in effect until December 31, 1977 or until they are replaced by permanent regulations

Parties involved or anticipating involvement in transactions which may fall under the controls should seek legal advice for an interpretation of the regulations

No Retroactivity in Regulations

The Temporary Regulations are not retroactive for transactions that have been registered. Agreements for sale, interim agreements, options to purchase and leases are of mortgages signed prior to April 26, 1977 will be honoured, except those involving more than 5,000 acres. Transactions involving more than 5,000 acres are required to be submitted to Executive Council, which may or may not approve the land [illegible] Parties involved in negotiating transactions that have not resulted in signed agreements as of April 26, 1977, but have been under way for some time previous to that date, may also apply for a cabinet exemption.

How to Apply for an Exemption

Requests for exemptions should be submitted in writing and include the following:
- — the reason for requesting the exemption
- — legal description and size of the land involved
- — legal description and size of "controlled land" already owned
- — present and proposed use of land
- — present and proposed ownership

Those involved in negotiating transactions that have not resulted in signed agreements should provide, in addition to the above, sufficient documentation to verify that negotiations had been in progress for some time prior to April 26, 1977.

Length of Review Process

The length of the review process will vary from request to request depending on the information provided and the need to verify the information. Personal contact may also be required in some cases. It is anticipated that applications will be processed in four to six weeks.

An Opportunity for Public Comments and Submissions

The Proposed Draft Regulations, which were tabled in the Spring session of the legislature, have been held over until late fall before they will be brought into force. This has been done to provide an opportunity for comments and submissions from the public before they are finalized.

WETTING AGENTS

We continue to receive numerous requests regarding spray adjuvants, particularly surfactants or "wetting agents". A few weeks ago we printed a complete article on this subject

Extensive research in this area suggests that specific surfactants are required for specific herbicides. One such test showed that of 76 different surfactants tested 80 percent decreased the effectiveness of a particular herbicide. 10 per cent had no effect and 10 per cent increased activity

The above would suggest that anyone using a surfactant that is not specifically recommended for a particular herbicide is assuming a risk with the odds of 9 to 1 that it will do more harm than good

Tree applications for 1978 tree plantings are now available from our office

TIME FOR VEAL

This is the time of year when veal is in good supply If you haven't tried it, you're in for a veal taste treat Agriculture Canada sent the following information on veal

Veal comes from young calves, three to twelve weeks old The meat is fine-textured and velvety and the more mature veal tends to be firmer than the young veal Because it is a mild flavored meat which takes kindly to a great variety of herbs and seasoning, veal allows a real culinary challenge

The main quality grades for veal are Canada A (red) Canada B (blue), Canada C (brown) and Canada D (black) Cuts vary greatly in color and size since they come from animals of different maturity and weights The color is usually an indication of maturity, the younger being greyish-pink and the older shading to pinkish-brown Veal has much less fat than other meats So, consider this when comparing cuts of veal to cuts of beef or pork It means less waste and more servings per pound.

This lack of fat also influences the cooking method When roasting veal, it's a good idea to lay pieces of suet, salt pork or bacon over it to keep it juicy Then remove the fat during the last hour of roasting to let the meat brown Roast at 325 F in the well done stage or until the internal temperature of the meat reaches 180 degree F Although veal comes from young animals, long, slow cooking is necessary to make it tender

Most cuts of veal are tender enough to be cooked by dry heat such as panfrying, baking or broiling, if they are first brushed with fat Only cuts from the shank, breast, neck or flank require braising or stewing

To enhance the mild flavor of veal, serve it with a well-seasoned sauce Cook it in tomato juice, wine, consomme or even milk diluted with sour cream Use a stimulating seasoning like mustard, garlic, herbs, curry or savory

Try these veal and ham rolls

VEAL AND HAM ROLLS
(Unfilled breast 2 pounds)

½ teaspoon tarragon
1 cup (4 ounces) grated Swiss Cheese
8 slices cooked ham (about ½ pound)
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon basil
1 cup sliced mushrooms (about ½ pound)
¼ cup chopped green onion.

Sprinkle veal cutlets with tarragon Pound cutlets to ¼ inch thickness. Place one-sixth of cheese on each ham slice. Fold in ends of ham and roll. Place a ham roll on each cutlet. Fold in ends, roll up and tie Mix flour and seasonings. Coat veal rolls with flour mixture. Brown in fat (10 to 15 min.) remove from pan Blend flour and basil with fat Gradually add bouillon. Return veal to pan and add mushrooms. Cover and simmer 30 minutes Add onion and continue cooking until meat is tender and well done (about 15 minutes) 6 servings

Ryley sets annual Fair

by Lena Reil

Plans are now being laid for the third annual Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society Fair to be held in Ryley.

The fair date has been set for Wednesday August 17 and will be held at the Community Hall and adjoining grounds.

The fair booklets are being drawn up and printed and households in the Ryley area can expect to see the booklets in their mailboxes within a few weeks.

The fair will feature exhibits of all kinds, including some new ones To help meet the changing interests of the community the fair committee has decided to add Hair styles and T-shirts to the sewing class since many people are now sewing these articles also added is the Ethnic cultural backgrounds of area people

The fair will also include races horseshoes, tug of war and the always popular children's pet show.

The fair is organized on a volunteer basis with local people offering their time and efforts. The success of the fair depends on peoples willingness to participate and exhibit produce or interest of getting together as a community.

Ruth Dickson gets her medical degree

by Grace Phillips

Ruth Dickson, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dickson and the late Bill Dickson, and granddaughter of Mrs. Frances Kallal of Tofield, received her M.D degree from the University of Calgary in a pre-convocation ceremony recently.

Dr. Dickson was born in Camrose and lived in Rosalind until the death of her father in 1965 when she moved with her mother, sister Rita and brothers, Robert and Allan to Tofield to live with Mrs Kallal. From then on Ruth received her schooling in Tofield When in grade nine, Ruth won the Braddock Award as well as the Governor General's bronze medal for academic achievement.

In High School, Ruth was a valued member of Ken Eastlick's girls' basketball team, taught calisthenics to younger students and retained her excellent academic record. Had she not already been enrolled at Carleton University, Ottawa, she would have been the valedictorian of the Grade 12 Tofield grad class of 1971 Because of her high average (87.4 percent) she was awarded the ATA Beaver Local scholarship for that County. She was also awarded a Queen Elizabeth scholarship as well as one from the W.A. of the Canadian Legion Ryley.

Each year during her attendance at Carleton University, Ruth received a Queen Elizabeth scholarship. She was also awarded the Henry Marshall Tory Award at Carleton and a Senate Award in Biology

Following her convocation at Carleton with her B.Sc in medicine, Ruth entered the University of Calgary Prem this university, she has emerged a full-fledged doctor and is now interning in St John's Newfoundland

Dr Dickson has now had the satisfaction of attaining a youthful ambition of becoming a doctor She graduated with honors within the top 10 percent of all who wrote their North American, Canadian and University of Calgary exams. She has also studied in London, England for six weeks, her specialty being tropical diseases

An Editorial

From the Northland Post

On Monday evening, Cochrane Town Council met briefly in an informal session in the Council Chambers Lounge and Dome Room (see photo at right). The purpose of the gathering was to examine a request for a transfer of property from the town to a private land owner.

As council business goes it wasn't an earth shattering decision that was about to be taken. For that matter the only person with any real interest in the council's decision was the multi-billion dollar corporation.

However, the question had been sometimes at several previous council meetings and each time it came up for discussion the issue became clouded with uncertainly. Most of the councillors had made an effort to visit the site individually and to look over the problem. However when they brought their suggestions back to the table at town hall opinions and impressions of what really existed at the corner of Seventeenth and Hurons varied. It was simply a matter of a lack of communication. Everyone seemed to be aware of the problem and of the most notable solution, but none could express it clearly enough to the other members of council. The problem and solution were simple enough the words just kept getting in the way.

When the councillors met at the scene, and were able to debate the matter with the reality of the situation staring them in their faces, it didn't take long for an agreement to be reached.

We often hear complaints from people in northern Ontario about the uninformed attitude of the politicians concerning the north. A belief that those in the seats of power in Queen's Park are really not aware of what the north needs is one of the reasons for the present push for a North Ministry within the Cabinet.

A similar situation had existed here in Cochrane with regards to the problem at the corner of Seventeenth and Huron. The problem existed, but the solution seemed elusive, until the council came face to face with what they were trying to talk about at the town hall.

Considering the successful and quick resolution of the problem we think our town fathers should step out as a group more often. For a item of a meeting a month they should formulate their comfort-table limits and visit the areas of the community where problems exist. During a month-long period, for example, the town clerk could compile a list of locations for the council to visit. Then, at a set time the council could meet at the site of the problem, discuss it with interested citizens and debate it informally among themselves. There would be no need for a decision to be reached on the spot, but at least, when the matter was brought up again back at town hall, each of the councillors would be aware of the situation.

Furthermore it would help to acquaint the citizens of the community with the operations of the council. Often, when people bring their problems before council at the town hall, they are intimidate by the setting. They may have difficulty expressing the full extent of their complaint and therefore become frustrated when council's decision is not in their favour.

Naturally not all problems lend themselves to this type of procedure and council should not be expected to run about the town at the report of every minor complaint. But council and the town would benefit from a regular basis, the group get out into the community, see where the problems exist. By doing so, we think they will find the best solutions.

Seeding operations nearing completion

Seeding operations could be just about completed by the end of this week, if the weatherman co-operates, after farmers finally get back on the land last week. In most areas, wheat seeding has now been completed, although acreage will be quite a bit less than last year as farmers wait ched to other crops, mostly rapeseed when the wet weather persisted over a long period of time.

Seeding of wheat and flax has been completed in Dunvalent Rapeseed is 99 per cent completed despite acreage having been increased 200 percent. Oats and barley seeding has reached the three-quarter mark.

Tofield reports that all wheat has been seeded while rapeseed is about 95 percent completed. Oats and barley are about three-quarters done.

Wheat seeding in the Camrose area has been completed. Flax is about 60 percent seed. Some wheat acreage is 80 percent. About 70 percent of the rapeseed and flax has been

While wheat seeding in Ryley has been completed less rapeseed seeding in nearly all done. farmers report that some rapeseed is not coming up due to crusting and that farmers are having a lot of difficulty with muddy fields One-half of the oats has been sown while seeding of barley is only about 40 percent completed

Seeding of wheat in Hay Lakes has been completed. About three-quarters of rapeseed is in the ground while oats and barley is about 60 percent completed

Round Hill is in the process of completing the seeding of wheat About 85 percent of the rapeseed has been sown with just over one-half of oats being sown and less than one-half of the barley has been seeded There were minor reports of damages from hail.

Bardo and Camrose are 'tied' for lead

Bardo Athletics and Camrose Roadrunners are tied for first place after two weeks of action in the Powerine Baseball League.

Both teams have recorded identical 3 1 records to date as they hold a one half game lead over the league's new entry Bar Holden who are going at a 2 1 rate so far in the schedule.

Bardo dropped into the tie for first place when they were stung and upset by Holden 17 1 and then bounced back to whip Tofield 10-1.

Camrose whipped Tofield 9-4 as Bateman picked up the win with Swanson coming on in relief Donnan and Williams teased for the losers. Roadrunners then doubled Ryley 8-4 with Schoenknecht going the distance while Swanson aided the cause with a home run. Berke was tagged with the loss. Solberg of the losers also blasted a home run.

Round Hill remained mired in the basement as they failed to score a run in two outings as they were blanked 10-0 by Ryley and shutout, 1-0 by the newcomers from Holden.

Three games were played Tuesday night. Round Hill was in Camrose while Bardo played in Ryley and Holden was in Tofield. These games will be reported next week.

Next action in the league comes on Tuesday evening when Camrose travels to Holden, Round Hill is in Bardo, and Ryley plays in Tofield.

Thomas Christensen gets medicine degree

by Grace Phillips

Convocation at the University of Alberta last week saw Thomas William Christensen, son of Mr and Mrs H.C. Christensen, and grandson of William Wertzin, pioneer editor of The Mercury, receive his Doctor of Medicine degree.

Dr. Christensen was born in Tofield and obtained his elementary and secondary education in the Tofield School He was an outstanding student, winning the Governor-General's Award in grade nine and the ATA bursary from the Beaver Local in Grade 12 for the highest marks in the county He was valedictorian for his class

On graduation from the Tofield School he spent the summer of 1970 in a Summer Science course with a highly selective group of students at the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton, N.B He also was awarded a Queen Elizabeth scholarship as well as one from Alberta pipeline

In 1970-71 Tom entered the University of Alberta in the Faculty of Medicine In 1971 he took a year off to tour Europe, returning to the U of A next term where he received his Bachelor of Medical Sciences. Each year while at the U of A Dr. Christensen received a Queen Elizabeth scholarship.

In May, 1977, Dr. Christenson graduated from the Faculty of Medicine He is licensed to practise in U.S.A. as well as in Canada, having passed the North American Committee and University of Alberta exams, finishing with the top ten percent of all graduands.

Dr Christensen is now interning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria, B C from where he can also enjoy his hobbies of sailing and scuba diving investigate tank-mixing

The tank-mix you make yourself is the real all-purpose weed killer.
It can be Banvel with Pool, 2,4-D Amine, or Banvel with Pool MCPA Amine, or Banvel with Pool MCPA K-64, and it will cost you less per acre than the pre-mixed combinations. Also, with a tank mix, you can adjust your weed control program to suit your crop and work against the various types of weed infestation.

connel, have developed the most advanced computer radar installation anywhere in the world.

The equipment consists of a mini-computer capable of recording, processing and displaying on television type screen data from the Prosper in three radars. The radar can send data to the computer at rates up to two million information bits per minute.

The radar storm data are recorded on magnetic tapes for future analysis.

The radar display screens show our operators any storm, within an 80 mile range of Penhold, and enables them to determine its size, height, ground location and whether or not it is a "hailer". It also shows where our seeding aircraft are in relation to the storm and location over the ground. Our controllers use this information to direct the seeding aircraft.

Another feature of the computer is its "time sharing" ability enabling other Project technicians and scientists to make calculations at the same time the controllers are directing seeding operations. Seven terminals or tele-typewriters may simultaneously put other data into the computer such as precipitation and hail information. The computer is used to calculate seeding models, which give estimated storm size, size of hail and amount of rain. It can also analyze hailpad data and is used to calibrate the radars.

The computer can turn out all memory information and or calculations on any of the following: tele-typewriter, high speed printer, an electrostatic printer-plotter, TV-type screen.

Losers are winners

Sometimes it pays to be a loser.

That was what a teenager from Bruce and a woman from Camrose found out as their efforts at losing paid dividends for them.

Colleen Warren of Bruce was the biggest winning loser. She lost a total of thirty pounds to become the best average weight loser among Calorie Counters in Alberta and Canada

Georgina Clarkson of Camrose lost 42¾ pounds and was named as the best loser of Alberta District 8 of Calorie Counters.

Rhod Wilson announced a conventions held recently in Medicine Hat where she was named as provincial and national weight loser queen among teen agers and received a trophy, souvenir spoon and a charm bracelet.

District 8 Calorie Counters hold a roll plate turkey supper in the Eskimo Building at the Fairgrounds in Camrose last Tuesday night in honour of their two best losers.

Miss Warren was presented with ribbons attesting to her losses and also received a corsage from Merle Roth of Holden District 8's representative.

For her efforts, Mrs. Clark was presented with a glass bud vase, two glass birds, a silver charm and a carnation corsage with Mrs. Keith making the presentations.

In addition to making the presentations to the two winners, Mrs. Keith was also the guest speaker for the evening with forty members and guests listening to her discription of how to lose excess weight and keep it off.

A special guest for the occasion was Ethel Fleming, secretary treasurer of District 8, from Holden

Tofield students have French Week

by Grace Phillips

The French 30 class instructed by Robert Garneau at the Tofield School held a "French Week" at the school May 26-30. In order to promote an interest in, and knowledge of the French language and culture, several activities were planned.

The week began with poster displays throughout the school depicting various aspects of bilingualism. The more prominent directional signs throughout the school were given their French equivalen ts - 'library' became "la bibliotheque' the girls washroom was labelled "les filles', the boys washroom, "les garcons".

Most of the elementary students were tutored in the basics of the French language. French songs were learned and a student - produced workbook was used to help identify the French terms for objects around the school and home. A French-word game, "O Canada" was played by many students. This game was produced by the Federal Government two years ago to promote the learning of French at the elementary level.

A food display featuring the sale of authentic gourmet items was set up at noon hours in the High School wing.

The week was intended to culminate in a "Tour de Tofield" bicycle race to be staged on Sunday, May 29. The weather, of course forced a postponement of this event (I will when possible, be held in rally style with participants calculating the proper route using French - English dictionaries, specially compiled Trophies and ribbons will be provided to the winner of the two events (11-12 years and under; 12-13 years and over.

The response to the French Week was enthusiastic in dicating a willingness to reconcile the two major linguistic groups in Canada when proper motivation is supplied and instruction given.

Stefura heads cadet comm.

The Holden Navy League Committee met recently in Ryley, and a new slate of officers was elected for the coming season.

They are as follows: President, Carol Stefura, Ryley; secretary-treasurer, Keith Murray, Ryley, and vice-president, Al Burton, Ryley.

Members were informed that a $300 donation for capital expenses for the cadet corps was made by the Ryley Royal Canadian Legion.

Phillips is honored upon retirement

by Lorraine Irwin

A program and tea held in the Tofield School Gymnasium on June 5 honored Grace Phillips on the occasion of her retirement from the teaching profession.

Jack Lampitt, vice-principal of Tofield School, was master of ceremonies for the program at which presentations and tributes were bestowed upon the honored guest.

Mrs Phillips shared the spotlight with her husband Neil, daughters and sons-in-law, Barbara and Harold Conquest of Edmonton, Sandra and Paul Warenchuk of Winnipeg, and the four grandchildren, Jeffrey and Mary Conquest, Kathy and Robbie Warenchuk.

Remarks by Dr. N.C. Gannon, Superintendent of Schools, A.R. Pollock, Principal of Tofield School and Keith Rabsen, Assistant Superintendent paid tribute to Grace's excellence as a language arts teacher and her successful rapport with students in the junior high age bracket. Mr. Robson suggested "parenting ability" as one key to Mrs. Phillips' capability with this particular age group.

A musical interlude by Everitt Norris and the Tofield Stage Band included Mr Norris' own composition, "Alana's Dream" dedicated to Mrs Phillips on her special day.

Gifts were presented on behalf of the School Committee by Charles Sears, the Beaver Local of Alberta Teachers Association by Dennis Watson, Tofield Teaching and Custodial Staff by Curtis Hastings, Junior High Student-ia Union by Jim Warner, and Senior High Students' Union by Karen Jacobsen.

Mrs Phillips thanked the committee responsible for the event and the groups represented by the various speakers. She gave an interesting history of her personal and professional background offering special tribute to her husband and family and to the succession of superintendents, principals and colleagues with whom she has worked in the Tofield School. The crowd, paid the final compliment of the program giving a standing ovation to this fine teacher.

The guests then enjoyed a lunch and the opportunity to personally greet Mrs Phillips and her family.

Mrs. Phillips was born in Mannville. After teaching briefly at Hamilton School, she moved to the Tofield area where she taught in the Lakeshore district. She married Neil and left the profession to spend time raising her two daughters returning to the Tofield Elementary School in 1958. In 1963, Mrs. Phillips transferred to the Junior High School level. In addition to classroom teaching, Mrs. Phillips has generously given of her time in organizing lunches for dances, the Valentine Tea and other school functions. She has kept the community informed of school activities with frequent articles contributed to The Tofield Mercury.

Mrs. Phillips' superior ability as a language arts teacher was recognized in her appointments to the Secondary Language Arts Curriculum Committee 1976-78 and the Grade 9 Examination Committee 1977-80. She is a member of the Canadian Council of Teachers of English and the Alberta English Council.

Essay winner

Carol Jensen of Ryley School was the winner of a rural essay competition for students in grades seven and eight in the County of Beaver. She was presented with a plaque and pin by school principal, Les Ellsworth. She gets to keep the pin while the plaque is displayed in the school.

Tofield holds graduation

By Grace Phillips
Reverting to an earlier custom, the Tofield graduation banquet and exercises were held in conjunction with the Spring Prom, on May 26.

The banquet was held in the Community Centre from the stage of which Everett Norris and his stage band supplied dinner music.

R.K Taylor was master of ceremonies and George Funk asked the blessing.

The toast to the graduands was given by Mrs. Iris Francis and replied to by Ilene Francis. Charles Sears replied to the toast to the school proposed by Wendy Watson. Greg Hallamquist proposed the toast to the teachers which Miss Elaine Zimmerman accepted on their behalf. Dr. Fronbury brought greetings from the Town of Tofield. He wished success for the graduands as did Dr. N.C. Gannon, Supt. of Schools.

H. C. Wilkie on behalf of the School Committee presented a picture to the Tofield School in memory of the Class of '77.

A comedy sketch was given by Francis Damberger and Richard Pittel.

After the graduands and guests had adjourned to the school gym, and the processional had taken place, Larry Tiedemann gave the salutatorian address. Karen Jacobsen delivered the valedictory for the graduating class.

Pins and diplomas were presented to the grads by Al Pollock, Jack Lampitt and Verley Asley.

Bob Garneau announced on behalf of the Beaver Local of the ATA that though the ATA award cannot be given until after final examinations, the three candidates for that award will be Karen Jacobsen, Doug Nachtigal and Larry Tiedemann.

Mr. Pollock said a few words to the graduands.

John Blades, guest speaker, reminisced about the year he had had the graduating class and their whims of the trip he and the class had taken to Banff and Jasper that year.

Lunch under the supervision of Mrs Anne Taylor was served.

The Grand March played for by Heather Rudzki took place at eleven o'clock. The "students of the year" were announced as Karen Jacobsen and Leonard Koop.

Presentations were made to Mr Lampitt, Kathy Blakey, Carrie Epp and Heather Rudzki for their contributions to the evening.

Holden board reorganizing

The Holden Recreation Board is trying to reorganize.

A meeting has been called for Wednesday night in the Holden Community Hall, starting at eight o'clock.

Anyone interested in recreation is being urged to attend the session. Representatives from church groups, lodges and senior citizens are high on the list of those wanted to be in attendance.

Areas from which attendance is desired include Pakka, Kapparnick, Adams Lake, Ridge and Borchiw.

Jepson will head Beaver ATA Local

by Grace Phillips

On May 31, with 22 members present, Bob Garneau, president of the Tofield sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Association chaired the regular May meeting.

Mr Garneau reported on the election of the executive of the Beaver Local ATA held the previous week in Holden.

The election resulted in the selection of the following executive of the Beaver Local for 1977-78, president James Jepson, Viking; vice president, Keith Walls Ryley, secretary, Mrs Olive Zwier schke, Viking, and treasurer, Earl Kindley, Viking.

Election of the 1977-78 executive of the Tofield sub-local resulted in the following being elected by acclamation: president, Ted Whyte, vice-president, Bob Garneau, secretary-treasurer, Curtis Hastings, economic policy committee, A. Pollock, B. Aubrey, professional development rep., Mrs Carole Nelson, communications officer, Sam Holbrovich and a motion to the end-of-the-year party to be held on June 24 at the home of B. Aubrey was made.

Later, B. Garneau, returing president of the sub-local, was thanked for his accomplishments by B. Aubrey, in turn Mr Garneau thanked his retiring officers, Mrs Anne Taylor, Al Pollock, Mrs Grace Phillips, John Blades, Curtis Hastings, Vivian Andrusky, Coryne Kirmay, Denise Neville, Jane Walls, and Ted Whyte.

Scouts and Guides end Tofield season

A very successful year has come to an end for the children involved in the various Scout - Guide - Cub activities in Tofield.

The Cubs finished off on June 13 with 81 Cubs and family members meeting at the Lindbrook Hall for coffee and donuts.

Some of the highlights during the season were: a hike along the Wastahegan Trail in October, a hayride, and the Scout-Cub-Guide-Brownie banquet on Lord Baden-Powell's birthday on Feb 22.

The Scouts finished with the annual Wildrose District weekend camp held south of Lindbrook. Tofield lads held their own again in winning two firsts in the various competitions such as shooting, obstacle course, camp inspection and entertainment.

Parents and families gathered on Sunday for the potluck picnic.

During the year Scouts could be seen gathering papers for their paper drives, cleaning up the Lion's playground and meeting every week for many excursions such as swimming, bowling, crafts and hikes.

For seven of the boys, the season will come to a grand finale with the CJ'77 Jamboree in J.E.I.

Guides will close after the regular summer camp at Hastings Lake in July.

Last Saturday, they attended a rally held at the Gas Company camp, north of Viking. During March, they took part in a winter camp at Hastings Lake with other companies from the Minisink Meadows District.

Brownies ended their year with a swim at Ryley and a wiener roast.

All Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies are reminded of the parade on July 1st in which they have been asked to take part.

Young Holden poet has poem published

Elissa Whitlow of Holden has received honorable mention from the Canadian Author's Association for a poem written last year.

Miss Warren wrote a poem entitled "The Photograph" which has been published in the Alberta Poetry Year Book.

Miss Warren is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Mel Warren and is currently a grade nine student in Holden Junior High School.

Her poem reads as follows:

The Photograph
The faded yellow paper
The grayed black and white
The shrouded musty figures
Silent and without life
The tiny little square
In which time was stilled
The time between now and then

Of which now has been filled

Blinking drivers

There's always criticism of the one-eyed driver on the highway, the motorist with only one headlight operating, but who's using the road at night. It's hard for oncoming motorists to tell which light is the one that's out, and what portion of the road is being occupied, although sometimes the other beam of the defective light is still operative, and marks the path of the vehicle. Often, the driver isn't aware of the problem he creates. Sometimes, too, though not often, the problem has cropped up after he left home, through a stone being thrown, or some similar mishap.

But worse by far than the one-eyed driver is the cross-eyed one. You know the type . . . one light is focussed up, the other down. As the oncoming motorist flips lights to request that the "brights" be dimmed, the driver of the cross-eyed unit righteously switches over his lights, only to raise the other beam into the bright position, blinding the oncoming motorist with his bad focus. And how can that sort of problem be signalled to the other driver, at speeds of up to eighty miles an hour?

Compulsory vehicle checks have been thrown out by the Province for a variety of reasons, and we're not likely to see them.

But a thought occurs which might help in the search to offset the damage caused by the cross-eyed hazard, or the one-eyed monster. Located at several places on many main highways are provincial weigh scales, which from time to time call in highway trucks and check them for overload. During some of the period when they're not checking trucks, would it be very hard to set them up as a quick headlight test centre? Drive in, aim headlights, get a report and drive out. Corrective action need not be taken at the check stop, but, depending on the time of day and the circumstances, it could follow later on, either back home, or at some service outlet along the holiday highway.

After all, in most instances, drivers don't want to be a hazard on the highway, for their own safety as well as that of others, and persecution would hardly be needed. In the occasional other case, prosecution might be the necessary action.

With public funds

Jim Smith's column on Ottawa and Small Business often doesn't get into these pages, but his comment this week seems particularly worth bringing to the attention of our readers, as he relates the donation by the federal government of ten millions to be used for labor education. To be spread over a five year period, the funds are to go the Canadian Labor Congress.

Mr. Smith makes a most interesting case as he reviews the propriety of the government donating funds to political action groups, but he doesn't ask what would appear the next logical question. Has the government given any thought to balancing out its donation by similar funds going to the Canadian Manufacturer's Association, or the Chamber of Commerce? Or, since Mr. Munro is the Minister of Labour, should we expect the other donation to come from the Minister of Trade and Commerce, or the Minister for Small Business?

We won't hold our breath waiting for such a show of fairness, and equity.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — No matter how Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau may try to avoid it, there's a tough confrontation coming between the federal government and the Parti Quebecois government of Rene Levesque.

Quebec's revised language law is going to provide the issue, and Ottawa had better play the federal cards right.

First concrete sign of the coming confrontation came when Industry Minister Jean Chretien, charge with the federal program to decentralize public service departments so that high unemployment areas of the country would have a few more jobs, announced that the Language Act in Quebec had caused a delay in announcing future moves of federal departments

Chretien is concerned that federal departments relocated in Quebec might be under provincial strictures to operate only in French, and he maintains: "We shall decide in what language federal departments will operate."

There is also concern about sending English speaking civil servants, who may or may not be bilingual, to work in federal departments within Quebec, where their children might not have freedom of language choice in education. Chretien is rightly bothered by the fact that Quebec's Language Act would make second class citizens of English speaking Canadians in Quebec.

During the past five or six years, Ottawa has created a construction boom across the river in Hull, where several government departments are now located, but Chretien is not bothered by possible conflict there. He says that the National Capital Region is not an issue and implies that in the Federal view, federal government offices in Hull are exempt from any Quebec language law.

These are views which don't mesh with the ideas from the National Assembly in Quebec, and agreements will have to be hammered out, whether in public or in private

The preliminaries of the Quebec-Ottawa language confrontation bring all sorts of additional cases to mind which could be disputed with equal vigor

Does Quebec legislation have jurisdiction over a federally chartered company in Quebec? Should there be one set of rules for the children of a federal civil servant working in Quebec, and another set of rules for the children of a Canadian in private enterprise?

No matter how the Prime Minister slices it, one of these days soon the disagreements over language law between Ottawa and Quebec will have to be decided by law - either in Parliament, or in the Supreme Court of Canada.

OTTAWA and Small Business

A Public Education

by JIM SMITH

Even if you don't know another thing about organized labour in this country (a condition which could well qualify you for a prominent position in the ranks of Labour Canada), you are undoubtedly aware that the Canadian Labour Congress has an unequalled grip on the labour movement. As an association of most trade unions, the CLC represents the majority of organized workers.

An important CLC function is government lobbying. The unfortunate October 14th Day of Protest against wage and price controls was one example of the organization's efforts to mould society along big labour's lines.

Political action groups like the CLC lay out millions of dollars to influence governments. Even if their campaign fail, these groups are expected to pay their own way. That's why a recent announcement from the federal Department of Labour comes as such a shock

The federal government has promised $10 million to the CLC, spread out over the next five years. The money is to be used for something vaguely defined as "labour education". Regrettably, although the word "labour" is used to specifically define "labour education"

The donation follows statements by Labour Minister John Munro that, quoting from the Canadian Press, "it would be good for Canada if its labour unions approached the strength of their British counterparts." Mr. Munro always had a good sense of humour. But don't look for him in the Finance portfolio when Donald Macdonald steps down.

Unfortunately, the official announcement of the grant failed to explain a few details. One detail which springs to mind concerns the propriety of government funds flowing to political action groups, the cynical might regard it as bribery.

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business remains astonished at the grant. According to a CFIB spokesman, many Canadian universities already have well organized, properly funded, independent labour relations centres. "Why on earth should the government invest more money to duplicate facilities that are already underutilized"" he wants to know

Maybe we don't need more schools to teach organized labour how to bargain more effectively; we've got those schools already. What we could use are schools to teach the public how to (a) deliver their own mail when organized postal unions go on strike, (b) deliver their own garbage when organized sanitation unions go on strike, (c) organize car pools when transit unions go on strike, (d)

The decision is most peculiar, even from a government which brought you civil service strikes. Sometimes it's hard not to wonder whether our bureaucrats aren't spending too much time out in the sun

Seeding is nearly done

With the co-operation of the weatherman, seeding operations in all areas could be completed this week.

According to reports from the Alberta Wheat Pool farmers in the Daysland region are the first to complete seeding as all crops are reported in. The amount of rapeseed acreage has been more than tripled as wheat was cut back due to the late start

Seeding of wheat and rapeseed in the Tofield area has now been completed while oats and barley seeding are in the final stages

Ryley reports that all wheat crops have been sown with oats, barley and rapeseed seeding in the final stages In some instances, rapeseed crops have had to be reseeded. Camrose area farmers are a bit farther behind as wheat has been non-2 while seeding of other crops ranges between eighty and ninety percent completion.

There were no reports received from the Round Hill, New Norway and Hay Lakes

Area scouts head for PEI

Wild Rose District representatives accompanied by almost half of the scouts from central Alberta who will attend the Boy Scouts annual national jamboree to be held during the first ten days of July on Prince Edward Island

A total of 41 scouts and 6 troop leaders from Camrose county, Tofield, Hay Lakes, Ferintosh, New Norway and Bawlf will leave on July 1st for Cabot Provincial Park, the location of the jamboree on the north coast of the island

The purpose of the jamboree is to give scouts a chance to meet other young men from across the country and all over the world who are drawn together through their interests in scouting and the out doors

Just a few of the activities in which they will take part include waterlogging, fishing trips, tours of the island, overnight hikes and highland games

Each scout is financing his own way to the jamboree and those from the district will be travelling by air from the Calgary or Edmonton airports

A total of 68 scouts are attending from central Alberta.

BEEHIVE OF ACTIVITY!

It's all part of our reclamation program.

Our job is supplying energy. One of our major concerns is the environment. Some people don't think the two go well together. We do! We don't believe that surface mining has to leave scars. We're proving it in the land reclamation program at our Whitewood coal mine. Originally the land was mainly unproductive muskeg. After our mining operation our researchers turned it into a green belt. Now it produces alfalfa, barley — and honey. Part of the reclaimed land is even set aside as a wildlife habitat. Land reclamation concerns our environment, so it concerns us. Write for our reclamation brochure and see for yourself.

RCMP urging motorists not to pass school buses

The Tofield Detachment of the RCMP are becoming increasingly concerned about the safety of children leaving or entering school buses.

Many vehicles are passing school buses while they are loading or unloading and while police having been laying charges against offenders, the practice is continuing.

RCMP have issued an appeal to all drivers to obey the law in regards to not passing a school bus while its lights are flashing because many of the children riding these buses are very young and often, without thinking, dart across a street or road, and could easily be struck by a passing vehicle and either killed or seriously injured.

A Tofield resident has pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent assault and will appear in court on July 12th for a pre-sentence report.

Two Holden men have been charged with assault causing bodily harm and have been remanded to September

Police are still trying to identify the male body that was found in a septic tank on a farm in the Tofield area. Anyone having any information should contact the nearest detachment of the RCMP

RCMP are investigating a break and enter which occurred at a residence near Heritage Lake on Saturday and are searching for a red fiberglass canoe which was reporting missing by Macleods Family Shopping Centre

Several impaired driving charges were laid during the past week and a number of other charges, of a more minor nature, were also laid.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

I hope by now everyone has received a copy of our Summer Recreation Programs did you read it? This brochure is written for your information so please take the time to read it. I would like to thank Shirley our secretary Carol Lynn our camp director and my family for all the help they gave me in getting this brochure out it sure was a lot of work.

[illegible] a three week

Our new ladies and men's golf playoffs are at Palm Springs Golf Course in Cold Lake on July 24. I received lots of information so call me if you're interested. Sure would be nice if we could have some golfers from our county to represent us.

Senior Citizens

Our suncamp are packed, [illegible] and we're off for a four day holiday to Calgary, Banff Lake Louise and Rocky Mountain House. Registrations close today Thursday so I hope everyone has registered. A detailed report of our trip will follow in The Mercury so watch for it.

Young Adults 16 - 25 Years

Are always in summer programs or events. How about a ski-doo out winter resort. Be watching for details on The Mercury.

Camp Chatter by Carol Lynn Chilliwack

Grades 2 - 6 across the county were able to view slides of Camp Lake as I visited the schools to give a short presentation to each grade.

Parents are asked to read the letter given to each child, also, the yellow summer programs' brochure for information. Camp dates and registration deadlines are listed in the brochure.

Why not give your children an opportunity you may not have had - send them to camp.

If you have questions without answers, feel free to phone me at 663-2730 (Ryley).

Ryley junior sports programs doing well

The baseball - softball season for Ryley junior sports enthusiasts is approximately one-half over.

There are approximately one hundred and thirty people involved in the program - including coaches and managers. They make up six boys' teams, ages 16 and under, and four girls' teams in the same age categories.

While there are no scheduled games for the 8 and under boys' team, (Ryley Hawks) a few games have been arranged with the house league team from Tofield.

All the junior teams will be playing games during Ryley's Sports Day, and it is hoped that parents and friends will come out to cheer the boys and girls on. Some of the games will be exhibition contests but some are league games which [illegible].

The Junior Sports Association has received some very nice donations, all of which have helped to better equip the teams.

Help was received from the following organizations and individuals.

Holden Knights of Columbus; Ryley Lions Club; Ryley Senior High Students Union; Ryley Legion - Branch No. 195, Al Burton; Keith Robson; and Owen Jones - Tofield Meat Market.

The boys on the bantam team (Ryley Tigers) are proudly wearing uniforms donated by the Ryley Legion and Crests donated by Al Burton.

Help in umpiring, and driving by parents and older brothers and sisters still needed and will be greatly appreciated.

THE ALBERTA AIR SHOW CELEBRATIONS

Lakeland Tourist Zone July 1 – 3, 1977

The Alberta Airshow at Canadian Forces Base, Cold Lake, will be the largest military airshow in Canada this year. There'll be a fascinating array of international military aircraft, sleek modern jet fighters, civilian performers, stunts and daredevil aerobatics, many pioneer and older aircraft in keeping with the Airshow's "aviation nostalgia" theme, as well as interesting and informative ground displays. But there'll be lots more to see and do, because neighbouring communities in the Lakeland Tourist Zone will be joining in the celebrations. Take in the rodeo at Bonnyville or the races, activities, parades and carnival atmosphere that you'll find in Grand Centre and Cold Lake. It's fun for the whole family. And you can enjoy the Lakeland's famous fishing, beaches and scenic attractions at the same time. Over 8,000 campsites will be available within a 30-mile radius. Make a weekend of it. Or a week.

The Alberta Airshow – Saturday afternoon, July 2nd (open for viewing of ground exhibits) and Sunday, July 3rd (the Airshow) Canadian Forces Base, Cold Lake.

Featured performers:

- Alberta Arrows – High speed formation aerobatics with "hot" CF-104 Starfighters
- Skyhawks – the Canadian Forces expert parachute team
- Sky manoeuvres, smoke trails, sky aerobatics
- Dragonflies – helicopter formation flying, synchronized manoeuvres
- Canadian Reds – superbly aerobatic Pitts S-2A biplanes in thrilling action
- Western Warbirds – an impressive flying display of World War II aircraft
- Art Scholl – legendary competition aerobatic pilot with his unique Super Chipmunk
- Joann Osterud – dramatic aerobatics with her Stephens Akro experimental mid-wing monoplane
- Al Pietsch – veteran airshow stunt flyer with his home-built Starduster TOO

Don't miss the excitement!

1 Corinthians 15 3 - Christianity without the cross is Christianity without a vital message! Redemption is the central theme of Divine revelation. The apostle Paul declared "I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified." Unless men and women put their trust in the one who died on Calvary's cross it matters little what else they believe upon that cruel Roman gibbet that gruesome instrument of death - the useless Savior became sin for us so that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him. This is truly good news for it gives us purpose for living and peace in dying. David Brainard the famous missionary to the American Indians proclaimed this truth throughout his ministry. He said "I never got away from Jesus and Him crucified in my preaching. I found that once these people were gripped by the great evangelical meaning of Christ's sacrifice on our behalf, I did not have to give them many instructions about changing their behavior. The heart of the message of Calvary is the glorious reality that "Christ died for our sins". To believe and appropriate this with all your heart will not only help you in this life, it will save you from Hell and fit you for Heaven.

Founded by President
Only state university to have been founded by a U.S. president is the University of Virginia founded by Thomas Jefferson. It was opened for instruction as the state university in 1825.

First Basket
The first point in basketball history was scored by William R. Chase in December, 1891, from mid-court to win the game for his team by a score of 1-0.

Swingin
The American eagle on the Great Seal of the United States carries both an olive branch and arrows to show that the United States offers peace first, but has the power for peace or war.

Long Lived Chair
The first speaker of the House to administer the oath of office in a vice-president was Sam Rayburn, who, on Jan. 20, 1961, administered the oath to Lyndon Johnson.

Deadly Fish
The piranha is a deadly native to South American rivers. A school of piranhas can reduce an animal to a skeleton in a few minutes.

Century Plant
The name century plant for the agave comes from the mistaken idea that the American century plant blooms only once in 100 years. Some kinds flower every year and others at longer periods, but none blooms so rarely as once a century.

Only The Beginning
The first commercially productive oil well was drilled near Titusville, Pa., by Edwin Drake, Aug. 27, 1859. Drake's well was the first to tap petroleum at its source.

Private Land Management
Research at Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station indicates that swathing wheat at varying heights retains more snow during the winter. Dr. Wally Nicholaichuk says that this can improve soil moisture for the wheat crop in the following year.
The researcher says swathing at alternate heights retained from 0.6 cm to 1.9 cm (¼ to ¾ inches) of additional water on a test field. He indicates that 3.5 cm (1 inch) of additional water in the soil may represent as much as a five-bushel-per-acre increase in wheat yield.

Garden Club members tidy up Petra's Park

by Dora Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club have once again been busy at Petra's Park.

The park was cleaned, flower beds weeded and worked and the bedding plants planted. Besides the usual plants purchased by the town, $40 worth of bedding plants, donated to the park by Mr. and Mrs. Sato of Hastings Lake Gardens, were also planted.

Members of the Tofield Garden club met at the home of Myrna Hustwit on Monday evening. The final and display of flowers for July 1st were discussed. Members are to meet the evening of June 20th at Irma Francis' to work on the float.

It was decided to tour some of the members' gardens on June 27th.

It was also decided that a delegation from the club would tour all the gardens of the juniors who entered in the junior horticulture classes for the fair. This will take place during the month of August.

Phyllis Lee was guest speaker for the evening and spoke on her recent trip. She visited the Canary Islands, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, Greece, Italy, and Switzerland.

She answered many questions put to her by the members and also showed the members many interesting pictures of her trip.

The next meeting of the club will be held on July 11th at the home of Mary Kroupis.

Bus trips to various points of interest will be planned at the July meeting.

Progressive Farming

Shelterbelt Survey Results

Did you know that about half the shelterbelts planted on Alberta farms over the past 10 years did not develop into good windbreaks?

This was one of the findings of three surveys carried out in different regions of the province in the last three years by Alberta Agriculture staff. Lack of proper planning related to the location of the shelterbelt site, inadequate soil preparation and too close plantings were the main causes of the problem. The surveys showed that people are inclined to order too many trees for the space they have and then to plant them too close together.

Another factor revealed was that only about 50 per cent of the trees planted in the 10 years have survived, mainly because of poor management. According to the survey data, insects and disease were not implicated in this high mortality rate, except in a small percentage of shelterbelts which had a large proportion of poplars. In these cases stem canker caused an above average mortality rate. Statistics show that a survival rate of between 75 and 100 per cent is common under good management in all areas of the province.

Still another factor brought out by the surveys was that survival rate varies to some extent with the varieties planted. For example, caragana and Ilac usually have a much higher survival rate than other varieties. Lodge pole pine, Scotch pine and Siberian larch, on the other hand, have a considerably lower survival rate than average.

Herman Oosterhuis in charge of Alberta Agriculture's tree planting programs, says most of the above problems can be avoided if people will spend a little time deciding what it is they hope to obtain from their trees in terms of shelter and the beautification of their premises. He says the first thing they should do is to make a detailed plan on paper of their intended planting. Then, when selecting varieties, consider such things as growth rate, longevity and the ultimate size of the shelterbelt trees

Mr. Oosterhuis stresses that anyone planting one or a combination of tree varieties in a shelterbelt should follow the recommended row and in between row spacings if they want their trees to fulfil their potential Finally, people planting shelterbelts should be prepared to cultivate the shelterbelt area for annual years after the trees have been planted and to fence it against livestock

Wiens-Huebert vows exchanged in Tofield

The Mennonite Brethren Church of Tofield was recently the beautiful candlelight setting of the marriage bet ween Brenda Marlene Huebert only daughter of Mr and Mrs. Henry Heubert of Tofield and Gregory Francis Wiens only son of Mr and Mrs Frank Wiens of Tofield.

The organist was Sharon Rudnicki, friend of the bride and the soloist was Marion Wiens, sister of the groom.

After the guests were seated, the mother of the bride was escorted into the church by her eldest son, Wilmer Huebert.

Candlelighters were Elizabeth Wiens sister of the groom and David Huebert, nephew of the bride.

Gregory Wiens, groom, Ed win Thiessen, best man, and friend of the groom. Edward Dick, groomsmen and Dennis of the groom and Michael Huebert, ringbearer and nephew of the bride, were attired in black tuxedoes trimmed with black velvet.

The maid of honor, Miss Carol Penn, friend of the bride, the bridesmaid Miss Shirley Ewert, a cousin of the bride, and the flower girl, Kathy Huebert, a niece of the bride, were attired in identical floor length gowns of light mauve polyester crepe background and pattern of sprays of flowers in tones of darker mauve. The maid of honor and bridesmaid carried a single long stem yellow rose surrounded by baby's breath and greenery. The flower girl carried a basket of white and yellow small shasta mums mingled with greenery.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of light blue polyester with a lace jacket. The mother of the groom wore a floral floor length gown of light blue trimmed with lace. Both mothers had identical pink sweetheart rose corsages.

The bride was escorted down the isle by her father and given in marriage by her mother and father.

The bride looked radiant in her floor length gown of soft white semi-sheer polyester over acetate with the skirt gently falling to a train. Her gown had embroidered appliques of floral arrangements mingled with seed pearls on it. The bodice was designed with a rounded neckline and had a full floral overlay and empire waistline of the back of the waist was a bow. The long, puffed sleeves had dainty appliques. They were styled with wide cuffs accented with the floral embroidery and edged with a polyester ruffle. Her long train veil was trimmed with a band of joined florets. It billowed from a headdress encrusted with the floral appliques matching the gown.

The bride wore a gold heart locket, a gift from the groom and carried an arm bouquet of red roses amidst white baby's breath and lilies and greenery.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Pastor John Schmidt.

In the sacred solemnization of the marriage, the couple recited their wedding vows and their pledges to each other during the exchanging of the rings. They then went to a candleabra with three tall tapers. Taking the two already lit, together they lit the third one and put the flames out in the urns they held. This was to symbolize according to scriptures that the two had become one. The newly established marriage union was solemnized as Pastor Schmidt gave the blessing and benediction.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held at the Tofield Community Hall for approximately 80 guests.

The theme of the reception was "Love". The hall was decorated beautifully with a scroll, doves, bells and streamers all matching the color decor. The head table was decorated with a three-tiered cake and yellow and mauve candles. The guests' tables had centerpieces of stars with yellow and mauve candles.

The m.c. was Wilmer Huebert, brother of the bride. The toast to the bride was given by Dennis Huebert, brother of the bride. Grace was given by Pastor Schmidt.

A program consisting of instrumental music, songs, poems and short remarks was enjoyed by all. Both fathers gave a short speech. Special greetings from Grandma and Grandpa Wiens, and other friends and relatives were conveyed at the reception. Guests attending the wedding were from B.C., Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

In closing, the groom thanked all for their presence with a special thanks to parents and to those who had assisted during the wedding.

For the going away outfits both the bride and groom were navy suits. They honeymooned in Jasper, Radium and Kananaskis.

The newlyweds have taken up residence in Edmonton. The groom will continue his last year of studies in Civil Engineering at the U of A. The bride will be working as a rehabilitation counsellor in Edmonton.

Air Cadets learn jumping

About 50 royal Canadian Army Cadets from units across Canada will take parachutist training at Edmonton this July and August and win their "jump wings." Although Camrose cadets won nine training awards, none will be jumping.

The 17-19 year old volunteers will undergo the rugged six-week training at the Forces' Airborne Centre, beginning with physical training such as swimming, rope-climbing and calisthenics, - designed to physically and mentally prepare the cadets for jump training.

The candidates then learn the skills required for jumping, practising from wooden mock-ups of the CC-130 Hercules transport. Parachute control in the flight trainers, how to land using swings, and in-flight emergency drills are included. Tests are conducted on each activity to ensure that a high standard of performance and safety is attained.

The cadets then advance to the mock-tower, jumping from 30 feet, and progress to the flying phase and "hitting the silk" from the Hercules.

After the required eight jumps, from about 1300 feet, and including one night drop, the cadet is awarded the coveted wings.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley
TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds — for less
This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot-pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard – TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleafs are susceptible. TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.
Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON 202C is a formulation containing Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!
Less expensive in use!
TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pail? $37.40 – and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.60. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.
Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase. Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and, upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container – in a special picnic case.
You'll grow bigger with a little help from DOW

News from Ministik

Mrs. Jim Reddick

Our many Ministik vacationers are gradually wending their way home.

The Paul Lafontaines returned home Thursday evening after a 15 day trip to Quebec where they visited many relatives. Their return trip was the American route, enjoying many places of interest as they returned.

Bill and Sean Dyer enjoyed the sunny climate of Bermuda for 10 days, returning home on Wednesday.

Margaret and Pat Paterson spent two most enjoyable weeks on a summer vacation to Nanaxi and area. They returned home Saturday.

Jean and George Elsenschrenck didn't go quite as far afield last weekend but enjoyed their short vacation to Edson and area nevertheless.

Lloyd, Kay and Debbie Grunnett drove to Fort Saskatchewan on Saturday where they saw the Klondike dollars being minted at Sherrit Gordon Ltd.

Everyone is asked to bring a pot luck dinner for the annual picnic on Saturday. Nothing about the meal has changed except the time which is 12 noon. Races and sports will commence as soon as the dinner is finished.

The June Community League meeting was held at the hall on Wednesday evening. Plans were finalized for the annual picnic. A winner must will talent in the event and everyone should bring their own sticks for toasting wieners.

The dance tickets are going well for the Klondike dance on July 9th. Patrons are asked to dress up in Klondike costume as prizes are being awarded for the best dressed couple and one for the most original dressed man and lady.

Curtains for the stage have been discussed and samples of material shown. A most favorable report was given by John Hestman who is the head of a committee in charge of electric appliances in the home being thanked.

The June Ladies Club meeting was held at the hall on Wednesday afternoon with roll call being "Comments on the strawberry tea". There were all most favorable, and Mrs Jean Ferguson announced it was one of the best in 10 years of annual teas.

Thirteen new tablecloths were used for the tea, and later donated to the hall for general use. It was decided to purchase two dozen china cups, 14 creams and sugars, and a tea kettle for the hall.

Alice Whitford enjoyed a June birthday and received a birthday card and a box of chocolates. Lunch hostesses were Mrs. Connie Leach and Mrs. Sarah Kleinschroth. There will be no July meeting but there will be one in August, to be held at the local campsite.

Tickets are on sale for an a.m. - p.m. radio to be raffled at the harvest ball on September 17th.

Services have commenced at St. Judes Catholic Church and will continue through the summer.

Those who attend the United Church were delighted on Sunday to make the acquaintance of Rev. Eric Stephenson brother of Anne Stephenson who was a winter student on this charge six years ago.

Graduates

Barbara Clark, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Bert Clark of Tofield received her Bachelor of Social Work Degree during convocation exercises of the University of Calgary, on Friday.

Hastings Lake

Lee Penno

The Ladies Club meeting this week will be on Friday, not Thursday, as is usual, and will be held at Gwen Lechler's home at 1:30 p.m. There is also a meeting of the Community Association coming up, on Monday, June 28th, at the Hall, and all Community members are urged to attend.

The Homemaker

MRS. D. DARBY GERTH

Betty Birch, District Home Economist at Bettler reminds us that June is dairy month.

Most of us know the importance of drinking enough milk each day. Nutritionists recommend adults drink 2 cups of milk per day. For teenagers, pregnant and nursing mothers - the need for milk is greater - up to 4 cups a day!

Why is milk so important?

Milk and milk products are our major source of calcium. In fact 79 percent of our daily calcium needs are supplied by milk and milk products. To replace the one cup of milk we would need to consume more than 2 cups of broccoli, 4 cups or 13 slices of bread.

Some people hesitate to drink much milk because of fear of becoming fat. Results of Nutrition Canada highlighted this low intake of calcium among teenage girls.

Early marriages among teenage girls are a fairly common event. In 1976 - 16 percent of the first born babies in Canada had mothers 19 years of age or less.

Adolescents are still growing they need calcium to assist in the building of strong well-formed bones and teeth. The need for calcium becomes more critical with young pregnant mothers when they are competing with the baby for calcium. In this case - one or the other - mother or baby - may not be getting their daily calcium needs.

Young mothers who enter pregnancy in a good nutritional state have a better chance of producing sturdy well-developed babies.

Let's dispel some common fallacies associated with milk.

Milk is not fattening: Vitamin A and D fortified skim or 1 percent milk will assure adequate calcium intake without any extra calories. 1 cup of whole milk has 160 calories, 1 cup of skim milk has 86, and 1 cup of 2 percent milk has 125 calories.

Milk is not expensive. If it's cost we're concerned about - we can reconstitute skim milk from powdered milk for about 30 cents per quart.

Who said, "milk is boring?"

Milk can be incorporated into drinks, on cereal and all sorts of cooked dishes.

One way to get milk into your diet without actually drinking milk is to serve it in other dishes at meals or snacks. Try a Banana Cooler:

½ pint ice cream - 2 c. cold milk - 6 oz. can frozen orange juice - ½ c. honey (opt)

Blend this in the blender until smooth and creamy. Serve ice cold and beware of the calories!

Roadrunners take league lead

Camrose Roadrunners picked up a win last week and moved into sole possession of first place in the Powerline Baseball League.

Roadrunners bombed Round Hill 16-4 in their only match of last week as the league did not have any games scheduled for Thursday evening.

Holden blanked Tofield 6-0 to move into a tie for second place with Bardo who was held to a 10-10 stalemate by Ryley in the only other game played.

Games last night (Tuesday) saw Camrose play in Holden, while Round Hill was in Bardo and Ryley played in Tofield. These games will be reported next week.

Tomorrow (Thursday) night games will see Bardo in Camrose while Holden is in Ryley and Tofield goes to Round Hill. Games on Tuesday evening will have Holden playing in Bardo while Ryley hosts Round Hill and Tofield travels to Camrose.

Roadrunners competed in a tournament in Bardo on Friday where they lost out in the finals to Ryley.

C. Sawchuk picked up the win against Round Hill while Strichuk was charged with [illegible].

In the Bardo tournament, Roadrunners whipped the host club 9-4 in the semi finals after Bardo had eliminated Tofield 4-3. Schoenknecht went the distance in picking up the win while Stauffer was tagged with the loss. Foshaug of the losers hit the only home run of the game.

In the finals, Ryley erupted for four runs in the 3rd inning and went on to edge the Roadrunners 5-3 as Solberg picked up the win with Swanson being tagged with the loss. Ryley had earned a berth in the finals by beating Round Hill.

4-H members selected to attend programs

Seven 4-H Club members in this area have been selected as winners of award trips to attend conferences, seminars and exchanges in various parts of Canada and the U.S.

The selections were made from 137 4-H members who were present at a special program held in Olds from May 30th to 32rd.

Nan Paulgaard of Daysland, Nadine Thompson of Sarnsby and Jennifer Davidson of Alliance were announced as Alberta 4-H representatives for a Northwest Territories exchange program from July 30th to August 7th.

Joanne Hihn of Heisler and Marlene Magnuson of Ryley were chosen to attend a western Canada 4-H seminar from August 14th to 20th.

Judy Lusty of Forestburg will spend one week in mid-August at the Montana 4-H State Congress and Colette Moltzahn of Bashaw will be in Ottawa from April 29th to May 31st next year to attend the national 4-H citizenship seminars.

Janet Kerr of Camrose was chosen as one of the 15 alternates who will fill in at the conferences if other members are unable to attend.

The 4-H members were chosen based on their past achievements in their home communities, their contact with delegates and observers at the Olds program as well as an examination which tested their knowledge of current events and 4-H.

The selection was organized and administered by the 4-H Branch, Alberta Agriculture and received sponsorship from Agriculture Canada, the Alberta Wheat Pool and United Grain Growers.

Other area 4-H members who attended the Olds program included Frances and Jennifer Davidson of Alliance, Brian Garbe of Rosalind, Kathy Hurum of Holden and Mavis Shaw of Sedgewick.

Canada Day plans are set in Tofield

Plans for Canada Day celebrations in Tofield are being finalized with some exciting new additions over last year's program.

The Beaverhill Light Horse Association are presenting a "Mounted Drill" as part of their Gymkhana activities.

Something the BLHA have never done before, the drill will take place during the usual gymkhana program, watch for a surprise novelty event also.

An important part of this year's parade will be the Tofield Stage Band. This very talented group of local youngsters is under the direction of Beverly Sarva and will also be performing later in the afternoon at the Arena.

Other featured entertainment in the arena includes the Clan McNaughtan Pipe Band and highland dancers as well as the Provincial amateur weight lifting championships.

As special entertainment for the children, there will be pony rides and games on the grounds throughout the day.

Behind the fun and frolic of Canada Day in Tofield are members of thirteen local organizations who start planning early in the spring.

Clubs included are: Agricultural Society, Garden Club, Men's Fastball, Men's Baseball, Skating Club, Lions', Legion, BLHA, 4-H, Fire Dept., Minor Sports, Uniform, and the Curling Club.

Net receipts from the July 1st activities are distributed in the following manner 30 percent is deposited in the Fairgrounds Maintenance Fund, 5 percent to the upkeep of the Lion's Club playground and the remaining 65 percent is divided among the thirteen participating organizations.

Draw winners are announced

Four people won $500 a month for a period of one year following a draw on a lottery conducted in Ryley.

The lottery was sponsored by the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society with tickets selling for sixty dollars each. Four draws were made on Sports Day which was held on Saturday.

Winners in the draw were Bob and Ana Crump, Lloyd Wickstrom and John Ewart of Ryley along with Bruce Budd of Holden.

Two more winners will be announced at the Lions' social evening which will be held on Saturday.

Cavell Rebekah Lodge has 60th anniversary

Cavell Rebekah Lodge No. 56 instituted in Ryley in 1917, recently celebrated its sixtieth anniversary with a banquet for 136 guests and a program open to the public.

Charting the festivities was Mrs Dorothy Clark.

The head table was attractively decorated with pink tapers, flowers, ceramic praying hands (the sybol of the Alberta Assembly President), and a large diamond centrepiece to mark the occasion. A very attractive mural created by Mmi Celi Reyes decorated the wall.

The theme for the evening chosen by the Noble Grand, Mrs Lucille Knudsiien, was "Friendship", a word that encompasses the philosophy of Cavell in its many endeavors.

Mrs Anna Kongsrud, chaplain, asked the blessing. Mrs. Shirley Steward, Junior Past Grand gave the toast to the Queen. His worship, Mayor George Baker, offered congratulations and remarked on the esteem in which the Lodge is held for its good work on behalf of the youth, the sick, the disadvantaged and the elderly. Ernest Brown paid tribute to the Lodge in a toast to which the Vice Grand, Mrs Anne Crump, replied. Mr. Proudlock, Deputy Grand Master of the I.O.O.F of Alberta offered congratulations and best wishes on behalf of the Grand Master and himself and remarked on the feeling of good fellowship generated by the Lodge and the number of undertakings successfully accomplished by such a small lodge.

The banquet was served by the Calvin U.C.W. of Ryley and the anniversary cake, a beautiful work of art, was made and decorated by Mrs. Ruth Jacobsen. Flowers and congratulations were received from many Alberta Lodges, from members living at distant points, from Don Mazankowski, M.P. and John Baitak, M.L.A. A beautiful bouquet of red roses was sent by Mrs. Shenia McCready of Whitecourt and her mother Mrs Anna Kongsrud.

An addenda, entitled "The Parade of Emblems" and presented by members of Cavell and guests, gave an insight in to the various orders of the I.O.O.F and the Rebekah Lodges, the work of each, their history, and the reason for emblems chosen by each. In contrast to the serious theme of the addenda, a hilarious skit, entitled "The Hat" was presented.

The soloist for the evening was Mrs Margaret Frey of Fort Saskatchewan, warden of The Rebekah Assembly of Alberta. Other guests were Mrs. Dianne Thompson, District Deputy president, and Mr Thompson, Duncan Proudlock, Deputy Grand Master, and Mrs Proudlock, Mrs. Rae Van Maarion, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta, Mrs Mary Lockhart, secretary of the Assembly, Bill MacLennan of the Grand Encampment and Mrs MacLennan, Mrs. Frances Christianson of the Ladies Auxiliary Encampment, Mr Domke representing the Patriarchs Militant and Mrs Domke, and Mrs Annie Topham, president of the Ladies Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant among many others from Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Camrose, Vermilion, and Fort Saskatchewan.

After coffee and anniversary cake each guest was presented with a folder of excerpts from "The History of Cavell Rebekah Lodge 1917-1977", prepared by Mrs. Hazel Patterson.

Marlene Magneson exhibited the grand champion calf when the Ryley 4-H Beef Club held its annual Achievement Day earlier in [illegible].

Mark Phillips showed the reserve champion while Dale Bratrud exhibited the grand champion heifer and Ricky Bratrud showed the reserve champion.

Magneson also picked up two other awards as she was the winner in showmanship and was named as tops in judging competitions for [illegible].

Ricky Bratrud had a second award when he was named tops in the grooming competition while Dale Bratrud was second in grooming with a similar finish in showmanship. Ricky took top honours in grooming competitions for heifers while Dale won the showmanship event in the heifer category.

The efficiency award was won by Gene Muskedal while Marlene Hellekson had the best rate of gain and Karen Magneson won the junior judging competition.

Tofield Meat Processors purchased the grand champion calf for 77 cents per pound while the Empire Hotel bought the reserve champion. Average price per pound during the sale was 48 cents.

Tofield grade nine holds grad banquet

With "The Impossible Dream" as their theme the Grade Nine students of the Tofield School held their annual graduation banquet on June 14th.

The library of the school was suitably decorated by the Grade Eight classes with pictorial "dreams" and glittering place cards.

Jim Warner, president of the Big 3 asked Dirk Jessen for the toast to the Queen and Bruce Schmidt for the blessing. Following the banquet, Linda Jensen, vice-president of the Big 3 represented Grade Eight in

Paying for unity

There are broad differences in the health of regional economies across an incredibly diverse nation, comments The Edmonton Journal in a well reasoned editorial recently, and some effort should be made to equalize them. Under the heading, Paying for Unity, The Journal says...

"If people really believe that a battle of the balance sheets is what will hold Confederation together, then perhaps Alberta should leap in with its two cents' worth.

"The latest set of figures, these from Finance Minister Donald Macdonald listing who gains and who pays in Confederation, shows that Albertans pay, and handsomely.

"Mr. Macdonald's statistics reveal Albertans contributed $1,085 per capita in 1974 to Ottawa for redistribution to other provinces, roughly four times that of Ontario ($268) or British Columbia ($172). Quebec in that year gained $240 per capita (although Rene Levesque insists Quebec has lost).

"At least the figures should help dispose of the idea that the blue-eyed Arabs of the West are ripping off the rest of the country, despite Alberta's approach to oil prices.

"Having unburdened ourselves of that bit of chauvinism, it is then necessary to recognize these figures for what they are: a crude, hopelessly inadequate and misleading measure of the value of Confederation. One would have hoped Mr. Macdonald would have taken his own advice when he cautioned against using them as an indication of the economic benefits of Confederation.

"If we are to embark on a bookkeeping battle to decide national unity (there are lies, damnable lies and statistics) we run the risk of totally losing sight of the emotional, social and cultural reasons for Canada to exist. A balance sheet not only can't measure a way of life, it can easily blind us to the fact that there are more than dollars and cents involved in Canadian unity. (If it's not worth $100 a head to keep Canada together, is it worth $50? How about $20.95?)

"It would be just as wrong for Albertans to use these figures to lord their contribution over other Canadians as it would be for the Atlantic provinces to apologize for being the biggest recipients. All these statistics do is reveal, once again, that there are broad differences in the health of regional economies across an incredibly diverse nation and that some effort is being made to equalize them.

"It is misleading to suggest such accountings display the economic costs and benefits of federalism because they ignore the benefits that Confederation itself brings into the picture. Balance sheets can only show that Confederation is trying to work. Citizens, not statisticians, will tell us if the effort is successful."

Name three new historic sites

As underground stone house is one of three new Registered Historic Sites recently designated by the Province

The Honourable Horst A Schmid, Minister of Culture, has announced that the Schech Dugout, near Delsbury, the Dustrube House near Bonnyville and the Warner Consolidated School have been designated as Registered Historic Sites

The Schech Dugout, or "One Man's Castle" as it is locally known, is a unique example of the temporary living quarters early settlers built while they were clearing their new homesteads. The Schech Dugout, built around 1897, near Delsbury, was lined with mortared sandstone, had a mortared underground chamber, stone stairway, fan-shaped entrance, chimney and a sky light in its sod roof

Through the years, vandals have damaged the entrance, but the dugout remains basically sound, a monument to pioneer George Schech's innovative adaption of what was once a common dwelling practice in early Alberta

The Dustrube House near Bonnyville is a T-shaped, two-storey spruce log house built around 1907 by the Dustrube brothers, reputedly the first European settlers in the Rife District

With its dove-tailed squared timbers, hewn by Norwegian craftsmen, and its stone foundation, the house was a show piece in the area for many years

Now abandoned, it has maintained its original appearance despite some vandalism, and is still a fine example of early Alberta architecture

The Warner Consolidated School, built in 1913, was the first consolidated school in rural Alberta. It is a large, two and a half storey brick structure with interesting decorative details, such as ornate wooden brackets and arched windows over the main door. It is regarded as a land mark in the hamlet of Warner and district

Once a building has been declared a Registered Historic Site, the owner may not alter it without giving the Minister 30 days notice of intention to do so.

Members of the public can be of help to the Historic Sites Service by bringing to their attention sites which they think are of value, especially where these sites are threatened

Music workshop planned

It's not so easy to run a summer music workshop these days. First you have to find the students who are interested and then you have to come with the money to finance the program

Both these problems have confronted organizers of the 18th annual Summer Music Workshop which goes from July 3rd to 31st at the Camrose Lutheran College.

"I guess kids just have other things to do," says Judy Emmons, who is a senior consultant in the performing arts for Alberta Culture, the sponsoring provincial department.

The mixed choir, which is usually part of the workshop's program, had to be cancelled this year because there weren't enough male applicants.

The girl's choir, which ordinarily overflows with applicants, is still short a few voices while the band is in need of percussionists and french horn players

On the financial side, cut backs made by the provincial government have reduced the workshop from the usual six week program to four weeks.

However, the government will continue to pay $227 for each student's tuition fees or approximately 62 per cent of the total cost of the program. The students themselves are asked to pay $150

The summer music workshop regularly draws junior and senior high school students from across the province and gives many rural students their first chance to have private lessons.

Twenty-six teachers have been hired to give lessons and direct the singers and musicians at this year's school. They include representatives from symphony orchestras in Calgary, Edmonton, Toronto and Ottawa as well as a string instrument instructor from the University of Boston.

The students will participate in six hours of rehearsal and instruction each day of the workshop, with picnics dances and recreation programs planned for their spare time.

Crops need rain

Although some crops are already ten inches high in some places, other areas are expected to post complete seeding operations this week

Farmers in the Camrose and Holden areas have finished wheat seeding and are expecting to complete seeding of all other crops this week with both areas expressing a need for moisture

Rapeseed is already ten inches high in Tofield while wheat is eight inches and other crops range from 6-8 inches. Wheat in New Norway is six inches tall while other crops between 4-5 inches. In both areas, crops are reported in normal conditions

While Daysland reports wheat and rapeseed at six inches with other crops between four and five inches, crops reported at only being 80 percent normal with other crops about 90 percent normal as rain is needed

Wheat in Ryley is about six inches high with other crops ranging from two to four inches in height Oats and barley are reported in normal condition while wheat and rapeseed is about ten percent below par

Crops in Round Hill range from two to four inches in height and are between 80 and 85 percent of regular normal conditions

OTTAWA — (BP) — Unemployment insurance has been a dynamite political issue in Ottawa throughout the years of the Trudeau government and never has the issue been warmer than at present. During the 1972 election campaign shadows of the generous rules of the UIC plan very quickly became the political issue which toppled the government and during the past year we've been tossing with debate over tightening the regulations.

Manpower Minister Bud Cullen has come under tremendous pressure from MPs of all political stripes — primarily those from the Atlantic provinces and Quebec — to water down the new regulations brought forward last year, and this spring he capitulated unanimously at the bill approved by the government are extremely political, and they effectively extract most of the teeth which would have been placed in position by the legislation.

In addition the rules as amended are a bureaucratic nightmare — which will at least provide jobs for a couple of hundred additional civil servants. The unemployed will now virtually need computers to figure out their entitlements and we may see a new industry blossoming in Canada.

Tax forms have become so complex that an increasing number of Canadians must now resort to hiring chartered accountants. How about a string of accounting offices to advise the unemployed on how they can most effectively use the system? Or maybe the government will do that, too.

The original rules in the tougher UIC act would have saved an additional $273 million across Canada in UIC payments, by shortening the length of time which benefits could be drawn, and lengthening the time a person had to work — from eight to 12 weeks — before benefits would be paid.

There's now a jumble of entitlement requirements which vary even within individual provinces. Significantly the savings estimated with the amendments in place are chopped by $140 million, and only $6 million will be saved in Quebec and Atlantic Canada.

Savings in UIC payments, in other words, will be coming almost exclusively from Ontario, the prairies, and B C

That's only fair, you say, because the areas with highest unemployment will be getting the most out of the plan. Fine. So long as we realize that UIC has now become an income support program and a redistribution of income scheme which is very close to the long-touted guaranteed annual income program which Canada can ill afford.

People should be put to work, not silenced with hush money by a government which finds it expedient to buy votes with taxpayers' dollars.

Lang Moves Quickly On Key Hall Recommendations

REGINA, Sask., May 27, 1977—Last Friday, Transport and Wheat Board Minister Otto Lang responded swiftly and positively to rec ommendations in the Report of the Hall Commission on Prairie Grain Handling and Transportation. Only eleven days after that report was first tabled in the House of Commons, Mr Lang called together in Regina a group of key western farm representatives to detail a series of concrete federal government actions on Hall's proposals.

Mr Lang said, "I intend to consult fully, but quickly with those directly affected by the work of the Hall Commission.

"Westerners have urged prompt responses to what Hall has had to say, and I am determined to move as expeditiously as possible to establish a modern, top-quality handling and transportation system for prairie grain," the Minister said.

Mr. Lang announced eight specific federal responses to points raised by the Hall Report.

- As Hall recommended, 1,813 miles of prairie rail lines have been added to the "permanent basic network" in western Canada, bringing the total trackage guaranteed to the year 2000 to more than 14,000 miles — about ¾ of all existing prairie rail lines;
- Another 2,344 miles of lines have been fully protected against abandonment until at least January 1, 1979 — these are the lines Hall suggested should be assigned to a "Prairie Rail Authority", and this extended "freeze" will preserve them intact until final conclusions about them can be reached;
- Mr. Lang is creating a "Prairie Rail Action Committee" to fully explore the Prairie Rail Authority idea, and to offer advice over the next 18 months about upgrading priorities and appropriate further transfers of lines to the permanent network;
- In three specific areas, the Minister is demanding quick action from the railway companies — (1) the transfer of particular lines between the companies as Hall suggested; (2) the reversion of any abandoned roadbeds to the federal Crown for disposition to municipalities or individual landowners; (3) concrete, iron-clad guarantees of prompt upgrading work in return for any future cash payments.

Hon. Otto Lang

- Professional engineering advice will be engaged by the Minister to examine the proposed construction of new rail links to connect different parts of the existing system, as Hall recommended;
- To bolster the future prospects of the Port of Churchill, the CNR has been advised by Mr. Lang to get on with its rebuilding of the Herchmer Subdivision; and special consultants are being retained to flesh out the suggestions of new grain collecting and cleaning facilities in the Yorkton area to service the export needs of Churchill;
- Mr. Lang will seek an immediate federal commitment of $200 million to start the railways on the urgent job of rebuilding and upgrading prairie rail lines — specific, tangible improvements must be commenced quickly.
- Once again, consistent with Hall, Mr. Lang has reiterated that statutory grain rates will be preserved and that the benefits of the Crow Rate must be guaranteed for the West.

"These points illustrate the active, positive reaction of the Government of Canada to the valuable analysis and helpful recommendations of the Hall Commission.

"Westerners have demanded and can expect decisive responses," Mr. Lang said.

ber toast to the graduants to which Elaine McMann responded. Nancy Neufeld proposed the toast to the school which was accepted by A Pollock, principal. Mrs Phillips replied to Kim Fleck's toast to the teachers, urging each student to strive to attain "the impossible dream". She was honored by a standing ovation from the students.

Jim thanked the Grade Eights for their work in serving the banquet.

J C Lampiti announced the winner of the Melnyk Award as Jim Warner. J Bladen revealed that Debbie Dobink had been chosen as the winner of the School Spirit award. R K Taylor stated that David Friesen had won the Grade Nine Humanust award. These three awards will be presented in the fall at Awards Day.

B Aubrey introduced Mrs Gail Pasbang and Mrs Mary Fineth who presented the Lauderas Women's Awards to Sydney Goeglein and Shirley Rude.

A Pollock announced the winner of the Catholic Women's League award for the best essay written in Tofield Grade Nine entitled "Tourism is Everybody's Business" as Jim Warner with Brent Reil and Dirk Jousen as runners-up. Jim's essay has also won third prize in the entire Battle River Tourist Zone. Mrs Leona Voltner presented the CWL award to Jim. Dave Dykeman, on behalf of the Tofield Branch of the Canadian Legion presented prizes for essays and poems written last November to Michelle Erickson, Kelly Morris, Mark Jones, Don Jensen and Grace Schmidt and Michelle and Kelly received two prizes each, and Shirley Gerrish a prize in absentee.

The District essay and poem prizes were won by Michelle Erickson and Shirley Gerrish and presented by Mrs Georgia Christensen. Garry Langhaar thanked the organizations who sponsored the awards.

Edmonton Journal columnist, Art Evans, was introduced by David Friesen. Mr Evans in his inimitable fashion, amused the audience with modernized versions of nursery rhymes and proverbs, he also poked fun at the modern necessity for a public relations person, showing how great men like Abraham Lincoln and Beethoven managed to succeed on their own merits.

Mr Evans left the students with two important aims. He cautioned them not to be too affected by propaganda, and urged them to save a little time for themselves every day in which they could evaluate their mental moral and social progress.

Lynda Watt thanked Mr Evans on behalf of the students.

J.C Lampiti proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs Phillips for this banquet and for those of the preceding years. A standing ovation resulted.

Hill Appointed PFRA Director

OTTAWA, May 20, 1977 — The Honourable Marcel Lessard Minister of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE) announced today the appointment of Dr Harry M Hill as Director of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act (PFRA) with headquarters in Regina, Saskatchewan.

Dr Hill is currently chairing the Fauramenter Assessment Panel which is reviewing the environmental consequences of the proposed Alaska Highway Pipeline Because of this commitment, Dr Hill will not be assuming his new position until September 1 1977.

A native of Ayisham, Saskatchewan, Dr. Hill has been engaged in the fields of hydraulics, water resource planning and environment for over 20 years. He comes to his new position from the federal Department of the Environment in Ottawa, where he has served as Vice-Chairman, Environment Assessment Panel, during the last two years. From 1973 '5, he was Chief Ecological Impact Control Division, in the same department.

Previously, he was a professor at the University of Waterloo and a consultant on water resource planning and environmental matters.

Dr Hill began his career in 1956 as an engineer with PFRA, following graduation from the University of Saskatchewan with a B.Sc. in agricultural engineering. Later he obtained a M.Sc. in hydraulics at the same university and in 1966, received a doctorate in sediment transport from Oxford University, England.

He is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario and of the American Society of Civil Engineers

Thinking Slim

BY JEAN MIDETCH

A friend of mine called the other day and in the course of conversation, she told me that she had been watching a pilot television program on a local station.

The broadcaster kept saying, please let us know how you feel. And I just watched the program, and almost sat down and wrote. Of course, if I had hated it I definitely would have written!

Why is it so much easier for some people to react negatively than positively? She reminded me of a couple I know who were truly like Jack Sprait and his wife

He was as thin as a rail, never tempted by food, and unable to understand why his wife didn't rid herself of the 50 pounds she had gained since their marriage

Well finally she decided to try. She chose a sensible weight control program and in just three weeks, she had lost 12 pounds. She was truly working at it and her figure was beginning to show the difference

All this time her husband barely acknowledged her efforts. Of course he was pleased, but it didn't occur to him that she'd be delighted to hear from him

One night, they went to a friend's house for dinner. The wife stuck to her plan rshe and the hostess had arranged what she would eat beforehand, and soon dessert appeared. Fresh slices of fruit with whipped cream for those who wanted it

As Jack Sprait passed the whipped cream to his wife, he quipped Try leaving some for the others, will you"

She was flabbergasted and hurt, but luckily enough she didn't aggravate matters by sampling the whipped cream She simply passed it on and waited until they got home

Then the walls shook Where had he been for the past three weeks? Hadn t he noted how well she d been doing ' Why didn t he ever have anything positive to say to her"

His eyes were opened Never having faced the problem, he had he didn t really understand ho v difficult it was But he thought she was doing wonderfully and, in fact, she would have been justified in dumping the whipped cream all over him

If you have someone like that in your family, talk it out with him right now He can t read your mind, you know Let him know an encouraging word will certainly go a long way toward helping you succeed

Fix-It Tip

Teach the children that good bike care begins by keeping the wheels dry and clean Exposed parts that have become muddy and wet should be wiped off as soon as possible.

Removing the chain does not require removing the rear wheel There is one link that snaps open and careful looking will find it Links can be replaced individually, doing away with the need of replacing the entire chain. Repair links may be bought at a bicycle shop

Lubricate pedal bearings often. Keep all saddle bolts and handlebars tight Check the fork assembly since this also can become loose

Interest builds in Dried Meat Hill

A pageant re-enacting the signing of historic Treaty No 6 with the Cree Indians is drawing keen interest as more and more people inmate of the color and history involved in the project to present the story on Dried Meat Hill on August 1, Heritage Day

The pageant will be part of a program planned to mark Heritage Day and is drawing keen interest from a number of the district residents, old-time settlers in the area, Indian groups from Hobbema, and members of the Battle River Tourist Association, who are sponsoring this year's Heritage Day ob servance

Anyone in the community interested in any way in the program is invited to attend the next meeting with pageant co-ordinator Walter Kaasa, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 29, in the cafeteria in the Composite High School Deputy Minister of Culture for Alberta, Mr Kaasa is well known in this region, and has been enthusiastically working with Elsie Park Gowan on developing a script for the short program

Recent Developments and Future Improvements at the Port of Churchill

If the Saskatchewan community of La Ronge has won the title, "Gateway to Northern Saskatchewan", the same can Saskatchewan", the same could apply to Churchill as the "Sea Gateway to Northern Manitoba". This town, located on the western shore of Hudson Bay, is 600 air miles north of Winnipeg (1,000 miles by rail, and provides the Prairie Provinces with direct access to the sea.

First settled in 160' this town has served as a military port, a trading centre, a scientific observation centre, and a seaport. In 1929, it was linked to the South by a railway line and the first cargoes of grain were shipped in the fall of 1931. The Port of Churchill is now managed by the National Harbours Board (NHB).

Port activity and related traffic provide direct and indirect employment for about 600 residents of Northern Manitoba. By far the greater part of this employment is related to grain traffic, both on the rail line through the region and in grain handling at the port.

Churchill is currently undergoing a major redevelopment program to consolidate and renew handling and improve port facilities, which will provide for ultimate expansion of the townsite to a population of about 5,000.

Churchill will have one of the most modern town centres in Canada with hospital, school, recreation centre and town administration all housed in one central complex.

Two recent studies dealing with the development and the improvements of the Port of Churchill have been conducted. The first, carried out by the NHB, was released in April, 1973, and recommended various improvements such as rebuilding the wharf, dredging and other items. The second was part of the Western Economic Opportunities Conference which took place in Calgary in July, 1975, when the ministers of the Western Provinces issued a list of recommendations which were roughly the same as those proposed by the NHB.

The federal response took into account several proposals made by the western ministers, such as the necessary wharf reconstruction, improvements in grain loading facilities, dredging and other improvements. The total cost will be about $12.5 million and should be completed within six years.

Achievements to Date

By the end of December, 1976, a total of $3,086,900 had been spent. Of this amount, $213,000 went toward repairing the wharf. Repair and reactivation of the dredge cost $422,000 while dredging operations to date now read $1,771,000. Also included were renovations to the existing harbour tug at a cost of $398,000, construction of new staff quarters at a cost of $619,000; hydraulic model studies and miscellaneous related expenditures. Construction of new staff quarters to house NHB and Canadian Grain Commission personnel became necessary when existing facilities were determined to be inadequate.

Future Improvements

In order to equip the Port of Churchill with the most modern installations, the following work program will be undertaken during the coming years.

Dredging In addition to the $1,771,800 already spent, $6,029,000 has been allocated for that purpose.

Grain Cleaning Equipment: With present equipment, grain often must be cleaned twice to comply with federal export standards. The installation of additional grain cleaning equipment, costing $196,000, will eliminate recleaning and result in a more efficient operation

Loading Chutes: They serve as a link between the grain gallery and the spouts which funnel grain into the ships. Existing chutes are in poor condition and renewal is essential to the successful and continued operation of the elevator. Total cost is estimated at $71,500, with the work to be carried out this year.

Automation of Scales: This will permit a centralized control of weighing operations, a change to the metric conversion and the meeting of all anticipated requirements of the Canadian Grain Commission for the automation and metric conversion of all grain scales. Total cost of this project is estimated at $600,000.

Other Projects: Improvements of the lighting, especially in the storage area, at a cost of $500,000; modification of the steam plant by converting the present high pressure steam boat generating system to a low pressure system; construction of a new port manager's residence at the cost of $100,000; modification to the grain gallery and the use of hopper car dumpers, once the upgrading of the Churchill line is completed, and reducing dust levels to meet federal anti-pollution regulations.

These steps demonstrate the confidence expressed by federal authorities in the future of the port and community of Churchill. The new installation already in place and the proposed improvements will contribute to the well-being of the citizens of this prosperous and industrious Northern Manitoba town.

CNS class reunited

The last graduating class of Camrose Normal School held its 40-year class reunion on the weekend of May 28 at the Moose Hall in Camrose

It took the organizing committee 18 months to trace the original class members who graduated from the school in 1938. Of the 56 women and 19 men in the class, 50 attended the reunion along with 38 spouses and friends who travelled from as far away as Edmonton and Lethbridge

The absence of six members of the class who have passed on was acknowledged by a time of silence and prayer led by Rev. Hugh James

The class members registered on Saturday afternoon and on Saturday evening George Kravets, now a school principal at Sherwood Park, presided over a smorgasbord dinner and entertainment program

During the program, Class A gave a reading reminiscent of their school days and Laura (Doran) Weirzba read a poem she had written for the occasion

Class B awakened memories with action songs, dances and school yells they remembered from 40 years before The "boys" of Class C reminisced about trips and tricks of their year at CNS.

The evening ended with dancing and a midnight lunch and a Sunday morning brunch was held at Rose's.

Holden and district news

Mrs. G.H. Taylor

Mrs. Helen Bilyk attended the funeral of her aunt in Kelowna, B.C. last week, going there with her sister and husband.

Matt Hedrick has been a patient in an Edmonton hospital for several days.

Mrs. Betty Keith is back home after spending the past several weeks visiting with her daughters and families.

Dan Allan is back home after spending over a week in Viking Hospital for treatment.

Mrs Ruby Beames and her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Dalsyd of Edmonton, left this week on a holiday trip.

Mrs. Betty Keith is back home after spending the past several weeks visiting with her daughters and families.

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendship Group was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G.H. Taylor with Mrs. Rose Campbell in charge of devotions. The minutes of the previous meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Campbell were read and approved. A letter from the Bible Society read "thank you" for the donation sent. The ladies were advised that church and the Sunday School picnic were to be held Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 at Camp Lake and the Cemetery Clean up day was held on Monday. The meeting closed with a hymn and the Mizpah Benedictions repeated in unison. The meetings will recess for the holiday months of July and August and the next meeting will be held Sept. 15th. The hostess served lunch and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Roy Nichols has been a patient in Tofield Hospital since returning from a trip to Vancouver. Melvin Pedersen took him there from the train at Viking Mr and Mrs. Henry Tiedemann, with Mrs. Nichols visited with him on Wednesday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Ernie Mertz of Viking drove up Tuesday after school, picking up Beth's aunt, Mrs. Bess Campbell and drove over to Leduc to visit with Mr and Mrs. Ken Campbell. They returned home in the evening with Mrs. Campbell staying to visit with her daughter, Marjorie and family until the end of the week. Marjorie and husband Ken are leaving July 8th for England and, while there, will attend the wedding of their youngest son, Jim on July 23rd.

Holden Lodge Order of the Royal Purple held their regular monthly meeting on June 14th with H.R.L. Ethel Fleming presiding. After opening, reading of the minutes of the regular and special meetings were adopted, a treasurer's report was given, and correspondence was read. Reports of the Bereave Daughter and Mother Banquet, Chamber of Commerce supper were given with Lady Anne Mikusuka giving a report of Royal Purple Day when the Lodge entertained senior citizens at a social afternoon with 36 attending. The report of the float decorated for the Sports Day parade was given and had received a second prize ribbon. Lady Kay Chopka gave her Bandana report. The two applications to join Holden Lodge were balloted upon and they would be initiated at the next meeting. Monday was set as Decoration Day and it was also decided to sponsor a child to the Summer Camp of Canada at Beaver Recreation. The donation given to the Lodge Royal Purple Day was to be sent to the Purple Cross Fund. H.R.L. Fleming then named her committees for the year and also for the September Chamber of Commerce supper. P.H.R.L. Millie Carlisa attended the meeting. Lodge will recess for the months of July and August and reconvene on Sept. 13th. At the conclusion of the meeting, members enjoyed lunch with hostesses being Lady Kay Chopka and Lady Anne Baraniuk.

Mrs Millie Carlisa was a visitor last week with Mr and Mrs Pete Millmake

Ray Haviland of Ryley was a Friday evening visitor with Mrs Beth Campbell

Holden Cemetery Clean-up Day on Monday was a very successful venture. Although there were not too many out, those that were there did a wonderful job of cleaning up the grounds. A new bench area had been cleared up previously and the tables and benches moved to it from the low spot they had been in. Hedges were trimmed and grass cut with three truck loads being taken away. During the lunch hour, a business meeting was held with president Lyle Grinland in charge. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, with the financial statement being read by Mrs Beth Campbell, in the absence of the treasurer Lyle advised that the RCMP had no lead on the two mowers which had been stolen a short time ago from the locked tool shed which had been broken into. Mrs Campbell was also thanked for having the last committee meeting. The same slate of officers were returned to office for the ensuing year with Mrs Campbell being asked to be the board of directors.

A number of members of Holden Senior Citizens Group left Monday morning on a four-day trip to Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise and Rocky Mountain House. The trip is sponsored by the County of Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Dept

Mr and Mrs G.H Taylor entertained visitors with their son and family, Mr and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Aaron and Saylor, for Father's Day dinner

Mr and Mrs. Bert Appleby had their family home on Father's Day

Mr and Mrs. Fred Tehir had most of their family visiting on the weekend.

David Reil and Ella of Trochu visited relatives in Ryley and district on Saturday, and took in the Ryley Sports.

Sharon Oram and children of Devon visited with her mother, Nancy James over the weekend.

A lovely parade started out the Sports Day on Saturday. Children and grown ups enjoyed their part in the parade. Jim Jacobsen's had his A-1 Buick in the line-up. A 1916 model, I believe as well as horses, donkeys, chicken and the Holden Hilltop Lumbermill team won the last game of the day against Ryley. A tasty barbecue was served and the day ended with a dance in the Community Hall, which was packed.

Working with metrics

February 1st, 1977, is the day the grain industry in Canada goes metric. Officially, at least, there will be no more bushels, though undoubtedly it will take some time to make all the changeovers, such as the amount of seed to use per hectare, rather than acre, or the litres of spray needed for chemicals.

However, the system is coming, even if slowly, and the following article is to outline some of the mechanics involved in working with metric terms.

The mechanics shouldn't be difficult to understand since we are all familiar with the dollar system. Like the dollar system, the metric system is based on the decimal. Each unit is related to each other unit by factors like 10, 100 and 1,000. This makes computing one metric unit to another quite simple basically, you just move the decimal to the left or to the right

To know which direction to move the decimal, and how far to move it, you have to know something about the metric prefixes and metric multiples

Metric Prefixes

Only two metric base units will be important to farmers in their grain transactions. They are the metre (a measurement of length) and the kilogram (a measurement of mass or weight). From these base units are derived the terms tonne and hectare

In the metric system, a series of prefixes - used to denote size in relation to the base unit. Take the metre, for example. By adding a prefix, we can multiply its size by 1,000, or divide its size by 1,000. In the first case, we add the prefix kilo to make kilometre. The kilometre is equal to 1,000 metres. In the second case, we add the prefix milli. The millimetre is equal to 1-1,000 of a metre.

The other metric prefixes are shown in the table below. Most of us will never use all of these prefixes, but it's important to know what they are in order to understand their relationship to one another. The most common metric prefixes are kilo (1,000), centi (one hundredth) and milli (one thousandth)

The same system of prefixes applies to all metric measurements. The second table shows the use of prefixes in the measurement of weight. In this case, gram is the unit to which the prefix is added. You will note that the word "tonne" is used instead of "megagram" to denote 1,000,000 grams or 1,000 kilograms. The other most commonly used units for weight are the kilogram, the gram and the milligram.

Metric prefixes could be applied to the dollar system. After all the dollar is really a decidollar the cent a centidollar and the mill (as used in tax rates) a millidollar. The dollar system, like the metric system is based on the number 10 (and multiples of that number, like 100, 1,000, etc.)

Metric Multiples

The system of measurement we use now (commonly known as the Imperial system) is very erratic. That's because it was based on whatever happened to be at hand at the time a measurement was required. The thumb for example, inspired the inch. The imprint of a human foot became the measurement known as the foot, and 1,000 double paces led to the mile.

Because we have grown up with the Imperial system, we know that to convert feet to inches, we divide by 12; that to convert yards to feet, we divide by three. We're accustomed to the lack of regularity. The newcomer to the Imperial system, however, views the whole thing as quite chaotic

The metric system, on the other hand, has one outstanding characteristic it is based on the number 10. This makes it as easy to work with as dollars and cents. Without taking pen to paper, and certainly without a calculator, we can readily convert pennies to dollars and dimes to dollars. Once we get the hang of the metric system, we'll be converting metres to kilometres and kilograms to tonnes just as quickly.

The table below shows the relationship between the metric units

1 kilometre equals 10 hectometres

1 hectometre equals 10 decametres

1 decametre equals 10 metres

1 metre equals 10 decimetres

1 decimetre equals 10 centimetres

1 centimetre equals 10 millimetres

Converting from one metric unit to another is also said before, simply involves moving the decimal to the right or left. The rule of thumb is quite simple. When converting from a larger to a smaller unit, the decimal bounces to the right. When converting from a smaller to a larger unit, the decimal bounces to the left.

How far the decimal bounces is either determined by the relationship between the units you are using. If you're converting in a unit 10 times as large, the decimal would move one digit to the left, if you're converting to a unit 100 times as large, the decimal would move two digits to the left. And so on

The examples below illustrate how it work:

Same Number Conversion

1 If your farm is 12 kilometres from the nearest town, how many metres is that?

2 You just delivered a load of wheat that weighed 9 200 tonnes. How many kilograms did it weigh?

3 The length of your truck box is 524 centimetres.

How many metres is that?

4 The Wheat Board just announced a spring wheat quota of 320 kilograms per hectare. How many tonnes can you deliver per hectare?

5 If you have assigned 100 hectares to spring wheat, how many tonnes can you deliver against that quota?

6 A slice of bread weighs about 25 grams. How many milligrams is that?

7 If a garage door is 2.5 metres high, can you drive a truck through that is 2,300 centimetres in height?

8 Your son is 1.9 metres tall and you are 185 centimetres in height. Who is the taller?

9 If fertiliser costs $4.00 for a 50 kilogram bag, and you need 5 tonnes, how much will you pay for the lot?

A good-sized Christmas turkey weighs about 35 kilograms or 35 grams

Psalm 22 5 1 acknowledge my sin unto Thee - and Thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin.

A prince travelling through France visited the arsenal of Toulon where prisoners were kept Because of his nobility, he was given permission by the commandant to release one of the condemned men So he went from cell to cell and enquired why they were there They all declared their innocence, telling him they had suffered injustice, false accusation and oppression Finally he came to one fellow who gave an entirely different response "My lord", he said, "much as I long to be free, I am guilty, " I have committed many crimes and have nothing to say except that I deserve to be here." The prince listened intently to the prisoner's words Then he said in a voice that could be heard by all the others "You, despicable wretch! What a pity that you should be among so many "honest" men By your own confession you are bad enough to corrupt them all. You shall not stay with them another day."

Turning to the officer he said "This is the man release him at once!" With keen insight the prince knew that all the prisoners were guilty but the one who acknowledged it and was truly sorry would be granted freedom The only ones who qualify for salvation are those who recognize their need of God's grace If we recognize our lost condition we can claim the merits of Christ's blood for it is sufficient to cleanse the most wicked person

You and Your Child

"You cannot discipline a child you do not love. You cannot love a child you do not know. You cannot know a child if you are not sensitive" In his way Rev. Chas. Swindoll challenges parents to become students of their children, learning the distinctive gifts God has given each one "You and Your Child" is a biblical and practical guide to raising children. It clearly sets down God's principles but allows each parent to work out those principles in terms of his child's own personality. Most important, the book is permeated with the author's love of people, God and His Word

Air rescue service initiated

Camrose Flying Society will be one of the many groups in Alberta which will be asked to participate in a new air rescue service to be known as the Civil Air Rescue Emergency Services (CARES)

The service will be funded by Alberta Transportation and directed by Alberta Aviation Council at a cost of $30,000

It will recruit private pilots and aircraft who will be trained to assist in air search operations in conjunction with the present military search and rescue organization.

Dr Hugh M. Horner, deputy premier and minister of transportation, says the department expects to recruit a total of 500 light aircraft and over 2,500 flying personnel to the project

A CARES dispatch is going to be set up in Edmonton and, for the purposes of organization, the province has been divided into seven communications zones

A manual outlining the organization and responsibilities of the service is now being drafted and the council expects to begin recruitment this coming fall.

Once the flyers have joined the service, their training will cover a wide variety of subjects These include navigation, search techniques, flight planning, search and rescue coordination and first aid. ordination and first aid.

SUNFLOWER HYBRIDS BY CANADA

There is a lot of interest among sunflower growers in western Canada in new hybrid varieties developed in the United States But, Agriculture Canada's sunflower breeders at the Morden, Man., Research Station caution that the U.S. hybrids are later maturing than the standard varieties licensed in Canada

Earlier hybrids are under test in the U.S and the Morden station is also stressing early maturity in the hybrid sunflowers it is developing. Canadian hybrids should be available within a few years when thorough testing is completed

Information booth seminar draws 60

Nearly sixty people attended a day long seminar on manning tourist information booths held last Saturday at the Alice Hostel. Arranged by Battle River Tourist Association, the group represented a broad cross section of Tourist Zone 3, ranging from Provost to Winfield. BRTA operates 13 information booths in the zone, six of which are owned by the association Four others are owned by Travel Alberta, a provincial department

Much of the program was handled by Janet Pierce, from Travel Alberta in Edmonton Miss Pierce opened the program with a series of lectures and demonstrations on the proper operation of information booths, and ways of working with tourists to help them, and at the same time to help them enjoy the tourist advantages of your area as much as possible.

Tourism is now Alberta's third industry, pointed out Miss Pierce, surpassing oil and gas, and offers more opportunity for expansion and continued job opportunity

Rather than straight lecture sessions, her presentation involved the group in actually tracing out routes for tourists, finding out how many more miles they faced, and so on.

Assisting in the program were most members of the executive of the BRTA, including President Edna Palmer, John Gust, Bashaw, Bill Fowler, Camrose, Les D'Albertanson, Wainwright; Les Dutton, Killam; Lloyd Anderson, Forestburg, Ethel Middleton, Stettler, Bob Brown, Leduc, and BRTA manager, Sylvia Clemens, who had co-ordinated the program

Early in her own presentation, Mrs Clemens paid warm tribute to the staff of the Wetaskiwin information booth, pointing out she had stopped there, unknown and unannounced, to see how the work was being handled, and sought help in finding an entirely fictitious person supposed to be living in the area. Mrs Clemens said the girls manning the booth were remarkably helpful, and most resourceful in searching out ways her "friends" might possibly be found.

Board adopts policies

Adoption of various policies occupied much of the time at a recent meeting of the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board

Policies approved by members included senior citizens, ski use and rental, equipment use and rental, leadership development assistance and staff policy on weekly stenery with details of the policies adopted not being contained in the minutes

Members approved a motion that each rural community association receive $6,000 of the major cultural - recreation government grant.

Information for this news item was obtained from the minutes of a meeting held on May 25th actually my full name is

DANIEL ANDREW J. BARR

and I am the first child born to Dan and Marie Barr of Camrose I arrived at 2:37 p.m., Thursday, June 16 in St Mary's Hospital. I weighed in at 8 lbs. 12 ozs. and I stand 21 inches tall.

By the time you read this I will be at home with Dad and Mom, but my stay at the hospital was great, the way all those pretty nurses treated me. Dr. Co who kept needling me, and even that bad, old Dr. Murray who slapped my bottom. Thanks gang.

It sure is great to be here!

Tofield quartet wins Edmonton's road race

by Grace Phillips

Tim Donnan, Les Thomas, Jacqueline Mewis, and Nancy Neufeld brought recognition to Tofield on Saturday when they won the Edmonton Journal Road Race trophy for the nine-kilometer race in Hawrelak Park in Edmonton.

There were 216 competitors.

Trainer of the winning team, Brian Aubrey of the Tofield School staff, reports the following statistics:

CANADA THISTLE

From enquiries being received it would seem that 1977 will be another good year for Canada Thistle. This weed is not fussy where it grows, being equally at home on rights of way overgrazed pastures, cultivated fields, shelterbelts or home grounds.

Canada Thistle is a most persistant weed because of its long creeping roots which will spread for yards under ground, sending up new shoots periodically. The roots lie so deep in the ground that they are always assured of moisture, the barley crop may be drought stricken, but not the Canada Thistle. Cultivation, as normally carried out seems to chop up the roots and spread them over a wide area where each piece sends up a new shoot and a new infestation is under way. It is also reported that seeds are spread far and wide by wind currents, water and in baled hay or straw. The seeds are believed to be quite long lived, surviving up to 20 years in the soil under field conditions.

The increasing popularity of no till or minimum till seeding will certainly favour the development of large patches of Canada Thistle in cereal grains. The longer these patches are allowed to develop then the deeper the rootstocks will go and the more difficult control will become. This comment could very well apply to most perennial weeds growing under such conditions.

Control

The secret of adequate control of Canada Thistle, as with any weed, is to find the weakest point in its life cycle and concentrate on that link.

Fund is produced by the above ground portion of the thistle plant and after that portion of the plant is some 5-6 inches tall excess food is stored in the underground roots. This excess food is utilized to send up new shoots. If the new shoots are allowed to grow so long as they are draining food reserves there will be a continuous drain on the plant and it starves to death.

In the case of cereals, not understanding to legumes, an application of 8-13 ounces of MCPA will kill thistles back to the underground roots and by the time new shoots have developed the crop should provide enough competition to prevent a buildup of food reserves in the roots. A fall treatment after harvest will prevent a full replenishing of food reserves, and will aid in starving the thistle.

Products useful for fall thistle control include 2,4-D or MCPA at 8-13 ounces, Amitrole-T at 4 pounds, dicamba (Banvel 1.2E) at 16 ounces, Glyphosate (Roundup) at 16-24 ounces when thistles are at least 10 inches in height and pelcram (Tordan) at 12-16 ounces, applied as a spot treatment by, or under the direction of, a licensed applicator.

Ryley council meets

Council of the Village of Ryley held two regular meetings and two special sessions during the past month and one-half.

First reading was given to a by-law which would permit the village to build a water reservoir at a total cost of $160,000. The money is to be raised by debenture over a twenty-five year period.

The reservoir is to be located on a seven acre parcel of land purchased from Pete Jensen at a cost of $6,750.

It was agreed that the village would sign the regional recreation agreement and, after hearing Jim Singbeil, councillors agreed that education programs on the recreation concept should be held in the fall, with the village to contact other municipalities for co-operation in this regard.

Mr. Singbeil told council that there are three problems hindering the concept of recreation, which are: lack of planning, lack of collegialism, and lack of understanding. Councillors decided to purchase a fire engine from the County of Beaver for a price of $16,000. The truck had been stationed in Tofield.

Three readings were given to a by-law which would permit the village to enter into an agreement for mutual aid in the event of peacetime emergencies, with other municipalities.

One of the planned special meetings didn't really get started after councillors Brown and Hedesen left when Baron would not sign the waiver of notice necessary for the holding of special meetings.

Mel Warren attended one of the meetings to explain the purpose of making up pamphlets for the different communities in Development Council No. 4.

Mr. Warren suggested that a logo or crest should be made for the Ryley pamphlet and councillors decided to hold a contest for students at Ryley School to obtain a crest with council selecting the winning entry.

Ruby Hopf was appointed to take the census in the village. This census is to be completed by the end of June.

The tax sale, under the Tax Recovery Act was scheduled for Wednesday, June 29th.

Information for this story was taken from minutes of regular meetings on May 11th and June 13th, and special meetings on May 3rd and May 24th.

The Homemaker

Ice All Season For Ice Cream

Ice cream is a favorite treat all year round. Everybody seems to love it. Many people have an ice cream freezer and are making their own ice cream.

How does the ice cream freezer work? Basically it consists of two buckets. The small inside bucket has a paddle and is fitted with a lid with a small hole in the centre through which the top of the paddle protrudes. This small can fits inside the larger bucket and the space between is filled with a refrigerant consisting of crushed ice and coarse salt. As the paddle is turned, either manually or electrically, the flavoured cream mixture is beaten and air is incorporated. At the same time the ice-salt refrigerant chills the mixture. It is the air that is added into the cream mixture as it is freezing that produces the smooth, creamy texture.

Edmonton Power has the following ideas for better ice cream.

Mix up mixtures for cream frozen ice creams the day before you freeze. This allows time to chill the mixture which produces an increase yield and a smoother, creamier ice cream.

Use crushed ice; for the rate is the finer the ice the smoother the texture. Fill the container only ⅔ full to permit expansion.

Allow 3 to 6 qts of chipped ice to 1 c coarse rock salt and before starting the motor allow the pack to stand about 3 minutes.

Always make a full freezer can of ice cream. To store it, pack into plastic containers, leaving a 1 inch space at the top. Fill the space with crumpled wax paper, then cover and keep in the freezer, like any other ice cream.

Try these taste treats.

Strawberry ice cream: In 3-quart saucepan, mix ¾ cup sugar and 1½ teaspoon unflavored gelatin. Stir in ¾ cup milk; cook over low heat, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Pour 1 pint strawberries (or 3 cups frozen unsweetened strawberries, slightly thawed), add to sauce pan. Stir in 1 cup heavy cream, chill. Freeze as manufacturer directs. 1 quart. Variations: Use 2 cups fresh or frozen whole blueberries or blackberries.

Chocolate Ice Milk: In large bowl, with mixer at high speed, beat 4 eggs, until well mixed, gradually add 1¼ cups sugar, beating until fluffy, about 5 minutes. In medium bowl, mix 2 cups nonfat dry milk powder, 1 cup cocoa and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Reduce speed to low, beat in 6 cups milk, cocoa mixture, 1 tablespoon vanilla and ¼ teaspoon salt. Pour into freezer can. Freeze as manufacturer directs, 1 quart.

Men's league keeps silent

Only a month remains in the regular schedule of the Highway 14 Men's Fastball League.

Three games are scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) evening. They will be: second in Kingman, Holden plays in Tofield, and Lindbrook is in Ryley.

Games next Wednesday will see Bruce in Kingman, Ryley at Holden, and Ryley Torus will play in Lindbrook.

Three games are scheduled for July 1st. However, there is a possibility that these games might be postponed because of participation of league teams in a tournament in Tofield as part of that center's Sports Day.

Although the league opened its regular schedule way back on May 25th, the result of only one game has been forwarded to The Mercury.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

Softball - Standard

This week, I watched some softball games and was a bit surprised to see so few parents out. Since the leagues will soon be over, I hope all parents to make a special effort to get out and watch. If you won't support the kids, who will?

Senior Citizens

If you've missed seeing some of the older generation this week, they're probably on our trip Monday morning, as "fun-seekers". two bus drivers, one truck driver, and two supervisors all left for down south. Be watching next week's Mercury for a complete report on our holiday.

Summer Staff

The following is a list of summer recreation staff our town hired:

Camp Lake director - Carol Lynn Chilkowich, counsellors - Joanne Ferguson, Betty Ann Shewchuk, Doug Vaklner, and Linda Massey.

Tofield Playground - Donna Friesen, Lynn Warner.

Ryley Playground - Cheryl Lyseit, Vanessa Maaren.

Holden Playground - Wendy Kemarsesky, Susie Stenerud.

Viking Playground - Cheryl Anderson, Cindy Josephson.

Travelling Playground Regina Girard, Robin Sulberg, Sherry Wickstrom.

Permanent playgrounds start July 4, registrations taking place July 4 and 5.

Please not that the registration fee is $5.00 this year which includes all materials for four months.

Camp Lake

I'd like to remind you all camps being ran - registration deadline is June 30 - so hurry.

Girls Only 7-11 years, July 4-9. Boys and Girls 12 Years and Up, July 11-16.

Camp Lake is located nine miles north of Kinsella and is a good opportunity for every kid to attend camp. Call Carol Lynn Chilkowich at 663-3730 for further details.

Swim pool news

After many weeks we've finally announced the winners to the poster contest.

We had many good entries and the three winners who win the swim goggles are: in the 5 to 7 year old group, Kelsey Carlisle. 8-10 year olds, Warren Finch. 11 years and over, Delnne Leorie.

Honorable mention given to Katie Brix, Cindy Fass, Tammy McKennon, Eileen Hisey, Judy Grinde, Dean Simmonds, Karen Lusk, Lorraine Laurie, Dennis Kjelland, Wanda Simmonds and Larna Voltner. All contestants are to receive a Red Cross Safety Coloring book.

Thanks kids, you all did very well and we hope you enjoyed making the posters.

We have had a busy week with registrations and have space available for more pupils so if you are interested phone us at 662-3566. A mistake was made in our form letter sent out to the schools. Intermediate and Survival classes are being offered each session between 11:00 a.m. and 12 noon.

Also special classes such as Mom's and Tots and Lesths' swim may be offered if time is available.

We now have new shoe regulations which we hope all will follow. Signs are posted in locker rooms and entrances. Please obey them so that this privilege will not have to be taken away.

The pool will be closed the long weekend of July 1, 2, and 3rd., so that the staff may have a bit of time to enjoy the weekend festivities.

Tofield students visit in foothills

by Grace Phillips

On the weekend of June 4, 5 and 6 Robert Garneau's Social Studies 30 class travelled to the Sheary Wilderness Centre at Sheary.

Located on the Sheary Indian Reserve in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, the centre has been visited by two previous Social Studies 30 classes in the past three years.

On this last visit, the seventeen students, accompanied by John Blades and Robert Garneau from Tofield School and Keith Walls of Ryley School, travelled by horse into the mountains to Broken Leg Lake.

Living in authentic Indian teepees, the group learned of the riding and hiking skills of their hosts. The entourage rode for ten miles through breath-taking scenic trails to the lake camp.

Nutritious and expertly prepared meals were provided by the trail guides who also served as cooks.

Despite the fatigue and saddle sores, an educational and enjoyable time was had by the students and teachers.

The students financed part of the expenses for the trip through numerous fund-raising ventures over the past year.

Recent visitors at the home of George and Alvina Gibson were George's grandmother, Violet Darroch from Harriston, Ontario and Georges aunt, Dorothy Butler from Kitchener, Ontario. The Gibson's, Violet and Dorothy, travelled to Mintie, Jasper, Radium Hot Springs and Banff before returning home.

John and Wanda Steenbeckner and family visited with George and Alvina Gibson on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lois Legast just returned home from visiting her sister in Regina, Sask., and her folks in Scott Carrot, Sask.

Father's Day guests at the home of Ernest and Bertha Belcourt for a family barbeque were Brian and Carol Mitchell, Eddy, Joanne Cheyl and family, Warren, Sherry and Gi-Gi.

Louise Heinbeckner, Robert and Shelly, visited Mrs. Dorothy Kelcher of Calmar Saturday and Sunday, and spent Sunday afternoon at Wizard Lake.

Dr. Ron Muller, Jim and Dwight Bonnie Cumming, and Paul Foster helped Bob Berreiteh shingle his barn recently. Mary Berreiteh and children Thomas Jones, Elaine and Carrie Warkentin, Mrs. Dwight Cumming and Bob and Mrs. Browning visited with Bob and Lillian Berreiteh over the weekend.

Guests at the Belcourt home were Berch and Arnold Brunner, Franklin Ray, Gus and Grace L'Hereuelle, Aileen and Candace Ray all of Edmonton. Lorne Swarz also was a visitor at the Belcourt home. Bertha and Ernest attended the St. Albert parade over the weekend.

Last Saturday Grace Fairbrother and Sharon Winder visited Jeanette Schurr in South Edmonton. Jeanette is Berch and Ray Fairbrother's neice. They also had coffee with Ernie and Marlene Arden.

Larry, Sharon and family were Father's Day guests at the Wyman Christensens.

Margo Ambill and Sharon Winder and children had dinner with Mrs. Winder on Thursday, and later had coffee with Helen Prestello.

Roadrunners to host tournament Sunday

Camrose Roadrunners are hosting a senior baseball tournament at the Cube Diamond on the Fairgrounds on Sunday with four other teams entered.

Roadrunners will meet Holden in the opening game at 11:30 a.m. while Ryley tangles with Tofield at 1:45 p.m. in the other opening round contest.

The winner of the first game will meet Round Hill in the semi-finals starting at 4:00 p.m. with the finals set to go at 6:30 p.m.

Roadrunners extended their first place lead in the Peacetime Baseball League last week as they picked up two easy victories.

In Holden last Tuesday, Roadrunners exploded for twelve runs in the eighth inning and picked up an easy 25-4 victory over the rookie team.

Cam Sawchuk was credited with the win in relief of Bateman while B. Danyluck was tagged with the loss.

B. Swanson paced the Roadrunner attack as he went five for six while Stang was a step behind at four for six.

In a battle of league leaders on Thursday Roadrunners clopped of the Athletics from Bardo in easy fashion as they blanked the visitors 10-0.

Schoonkenots went all the way to pick up the win as he tossed a mean four-hitter while Roettger was charged with the loss.

Bateman and Andreasen paced the Roadrunners at the plate as each picked up three hits in four appearances.

In other games played last week, the results were Bardo 14 Round Hill 2, Ryley 20 Tofield 1, Tofield 5 Round Hill 2, Holden 14 Ryley 3, Ryley 9 Holden 2

Last night's (Tuesday) game saw Holden at Bardo, Round Hill at Ryley and Tofield at Camrose. These games will be reported next week.

Tomorrow (Thursday) evening will see Round Hill in Holden, Ryley at Camrose and Bardo in Tofield while Tuesday games will have Camrose in Round Hill, Ryley at Bardo, and Tofield in Holden. Tuesday's games will bring the regular schedule to a close.

Melnick appointed specialist

Roger Melnick, who has worked as a rural development counsellor for Alberta Agriculture in Camrose during the past three years, has been appointed regional farm training specialist for the department's extension division in the Red Deer area.

He will be responsible for planning, co-ordinating and administering a variety of farm training programs including the Green Certificate Farm Training Program, the Japanese Dairy Exchange Program and the Eastern Canadian Agricultural Exchange Program.

Mr Melnick will also provide a liaison with the Intersectoral Agriculture Exchange Program, Canada Manpower, Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower.

His involvement in these programs will include interviewing, selecting and counselling individuals interested in pursuing agriculture as a career and presenting regional training seminars for farmers and trainees.

Mr. Melnick is a native of Manitoba and obtained a degree in education in 1971 and a diploma in agriculture in 1973, both from the University of Manitoba.

Prior to attending university, he taught school in The Pas, Manitoba for two years. He was also employed by the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development as a teacher and guidance counsellor for seven years.

While completing the course work for the diploma in agriculture, Mr Melnick maintained a farm at St Eustache, Man. Following his diploma year, and before coming to Camrose, he taught a basic course in agriculture for the province of Manitoba.

Two other training specialist positions have been filled at Barrhead and Vermilion.

Stampede fever building for annual Ponoka event

With less than two weeks before the streets of Ponoka once again turn into their annual four-day jubilation, which runs this season from June 30 to July 3, Stampede fever is striking young and old alike.

As in the past, this year's gala event holds something for everyone, and for those people with an abundance of energy, the energy will run out before the parade ends. The Ponoka stampede parade, which kicks off at 11 a.m. on June 30 will be proof of just what will be in store for one and all. With innumerable floats, and entries, crazy clowns, all the excellent bands which will be marching proudly down the stampede streets, this is one event that should not be missed.

As a further note to the parade, two of Ponoka's most loyal and talented riders will be entering again this year Hilda Rodwell, 80 years young, will be riding the horse she has entered each year for the past 21 years, proving her enthusiasm, and Monty Klein, another of Ponoka's notable riders, will be out as well on his new entry, greeting all he knows The Ponoka Stampede parade committee wishes to thank these two terrific people for their tremendous support.

From the parade, to the beer garden, to the rodeo, to the top entertainers, the four days, from June 30 to July 3rd will be packed with total enjoyment for the entire family.

The parade committee asks one special request of the public, however, that the areas of 51st Street and 50th and 57th Avenues be visited 'NO PARKING'. This is the marshalling area, and it becomes nearly impossible to set things up with vehicles blocking the way. They will be posted, so please be extra alert.

With this closing, we hope to see everyone there for the entire celebration!

Ponoka Stampede Association Parade

Examiners appointed

Nine area doctors have been appointed medical examiners by the province's chief medical examiner, Dr. John C Butt.

Dr Harvey A Rust and Dr Harvey C Renney of Daysland Dr Thaker C Amin of Killam Dr Ahmed A Meer of Sedgewick, Dr George Price and Dr Daniel J Toliver of Tofield, Dr Albert E Caldwell of Viking and Dr Terrance A Drake and Dr Mukhtar Haidar of Wetaskiwin, will all be part of a new arrangement which is being set up to replace previous coroner's system.

They will deal with purely medical rather than legal matters. They will determine the identity of the person, the date, time and place of death, the circumstances cause and manner.

The courts will in the future handle any cases where there is reason to suspect criminal responsibility.

The men mentioned above are among a total of ten medical examiners in Alberta who assumed their duties as of June 1st

Around the town

Tofield Curling Club's draw winner for May was John Bisset, while home's winner was Gaylene Neufeld. Both are from Tofield

Visiting with Mrs. Mary Woods last week was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Bethel of Vancouver, who also spent some time renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith, Edith Mary Smith, and Dr. J.G. Williams visited with Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder and family are receiving condolences on the sudden passing, on Sunday night, of their husband and father, Henry.

Carol Lynn Chilkewich graduated from Lethbridge Community College School of Applied Arts and Sciences in recreation and physical education. She gave the student address at the graduation ceremonies and was master of ceremonies at the graduation dance. Miss Chilkewich was vice-president of the students' council.

Word has been received that John Rogalsky of Regina passed away suddenly early Sunday morning. He was formerly of Tofield and was the son of the late Pete Rogalsky and Katherine Rogalsky of the Good Samaritan Nursing Home.

Rolf named judge

The appointment of Norm A. Rolf of Camrose as a judge of the provincial court was announced recently by Attorney General Jim Foster. He will preside over the court in Wetaskiwin.

Well known in Camrose, Judge Rolf, who is 43, was born in Edmonton and practiced law there prior to moving here in 1965, when he associated with Rod Kossel in a general practice which included experience both as a defence attorney and as a crown prosecutor.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolf have five children and have been active in many phases of community life in Camrose, ranging from church to recreation. He served five years on the Camrose School Board, and has been active over his time here both in the Kinsmen and Rotary Clubs.

Keenly interested in skiing Mr. Rolf has been very active in promoting cross country skiing, and sparked the program three years ago when only Rotary provided a hundred complete sets of cross country ski equipment to teach students at the High School and Lutheran College.

His appointment takes effect August 1.

Thank you, teacher

Amanda Loch thanks Mrs. Ellen Dunn on behalf of all the students at Minnitik School and presents her with a bouquet of flowers, at a program held at the community hall last Thursday evening to honor Mrs. Dunn on her retirement. She has been teacher and principal of Minnitik School for 14 years. Master of ceremonies for the program was Glenn Ferguson, right. A resident of Deville area, Mrs. Dunn recalled her first associations with Minnitik as a student participating in school fairs, and later attended the old Minnitik school to take her high school subjects from Mrs. Grace Swabey. Later came the consolidation of four school districts of Deville, Hastings Lake, Minnitik, and South Cooking Lake, and Minnitik School is still a comparison of the four. Mrs. Gayle Proctor will take over duties as principal next term.

Grace Phillips ends long teaching career

When Grace Phillips closes the door to her classroom for the last time today (Thursday) it will mean the end of the year for her Grade 6 students. But it will also mean something of an end of an era for Tofield School.

"She's like a rock around here," says principal Al Pollock. "And if that doesn't sound like a compliment, it was certainly meant to be."

The "rock" he's referring to is Grace's unique combination of strict discipline, steady guidance and quiet understanding which have won her the respect and friendship of hundreds of students, parents and teachers over a 30-year teaching career.

Grace has resisted requests and temptations to continue teaching beyond retirement age and has decided to step down this year. She says that she will now have the chance to take up the knitting, reading and cooking which have been neglected during her years in the classroom.

"I enjoy teaching but I'm going to enjoy not teaching too," Grace says. She and her husband Neil have made no special plans for Grace's retirement.

"We're just going to do whatever we want to do," she says.

"I'm not sad about retiring. I've always been pretty contented with [illegible] I have done."

Grace's teaching career began in 1926 at Hamilton School in Manville. She spent three years there teaching all grades and then moved to Lakeshore School near Tofield where she taught for five years before marrying Neil in 1935.

The next 15 years Grace spent at home on the Phillips farm near Tofield raising their two daughters, Barbara, now Mrs. Barbara Compost, a teacher-librarian in Edmonton and Sandra, now Mrs. Sandra Warnerchuk, a nurse in Winnipeg.

She then went back to teaching in 1985 and started in the elementary section of the Tofield School. She taught Grades 2 and 3 until 1963 and then switched to the junior high level and has taught Social Studies and Language Arts ever since.

Grace has always been deeply involved in extracurricular activities at Tofield school and describes her role this way.

"In the staff meeting at the beginning of the year when they were dividing up the responsibilities, I always said, 'My job is easy. If you want them fed, I'll feed them.'"

For most of the time she has been teaching junior high school, Grace was the only woman on staff and she stepped into a motherly type of role which included organizing the Valentine Tea, hot dog sales, concessions for tournaments and track meets and, most importantly, the Grade 9 Banquet.

Speaking of this annual banquet she says, "This was my baby."

"I've always sort of felt the junior highs were the forgotten group. Everyone always makes a fuss over the little ones and the graduates but I had the idea a little fuss should be made over our students too."

At this year's banquet on June 16, it was Grace's turn to have a fuss made over her. The students and parents gave her two standing ovations — one after she responded to a toast to the teachers and the other as a vote of thanks at the end of the evening.

Outside of her busy school activities, Grace has had a long record of involvement in various professional and community organizations.

Her professional training began in 1926 and '30 when she attended Edmonton Normal School Prom 1955 to 1962, she went to night classes and completed summer correspondence courses to obtain a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Alberta.

She has served on the Secondary Language Arts Curriculum Committee and Grade 9 Examination Committee, both for the Department of Education.

She is a member of the Canadian Council of Teachers of English and the Alberta English Council and was communications officer for the sub-local of the Alberta Teachers Association for 10 years.

Grace has put the English she teaches into practice as correspondent for The Mercury for more than 20 years and as editor of a history of the area, the Tales of Tofield, published by the Historical Society in 1969.

She is a charter member of that society and has also ser-

Holden and Lindbrook lead fastball league

Holden and Lindbrook are tied for the lead in the Highway 14 Fastball League according to results received to date.

The seven-team league is not doing a very good job of forwarding results to the league statistician as only nine games have been reported to date out of a total of 21 that were scheduled.

Tomorrow (Friday) Lindbrook is at Bruce, Tofield is at Kingman, and Holden is in Ryley to play the Toros. Games next Wednesday will see Bruce at Ryley Torus, Tofield at Ryley, and Kingman is at Lindbrook.

Regular league play is scheduled to end on July 13th.

Results of games that have been reported are as follows:

Lindbrook 2 Ryley 1
Bruce won over Kingman by default.
Lindbrook 17 Ryley Torus 6.
Ryley 11 Holden 2.
Lindbrook 13 Bruce 5.
Bruce 9 Tofield 5.

Senior citizens open residence

At a recent meeting of the Tofield Senior citizens management board, approval was given to 25 guests for [illegible].

This leaves nine rooms for occupancy.

The management board has hired J.B. Baergen as manager for the house. His employment starts July 25th.

The inside and outside construction is near completion. Tenders for furniture were out several months ago, so the board are hoping that the house will soon be opened, although Alberta Housing will not commit themselves

Out in the open

Hard-pressed on some fronts, the Hon. Jean-Pierre Goyer as Minister of Supply and Services, deserves commendation on one innovation introduced recently. Through his Parliamentary Secretary, Mr. Blaker, he announced that in future all tenders for contracts awarded by the federal government are to be opened publicly, regardless of their value. In the recent past, only those valued at more than $10,000 have been opened publicly.

Mr. Blaker pointed out the new policy is to improve the visibility of the operation, to let all bidders know immediately exactly where they stand competitively, and to encourage businessmen in all parts of the country to go after the dollars which can be made through dealing with the government.

The provision for public opening of tenders will help to allay the widespread feeling that influence and graft have played a part in the awarding of contracts, and might even go some little way towards achieving some economies for the taxpayer.

One answer to unemployment

One of the more valiant attempts to beat unemployment is being displayed by the Cape Breton Development Corporation, known as Devco, which has looked back in the history of the island, and is attempting to re-introduce an ancient industry, sheep ranching. With a climate and terrain not unlike many parts of Scotland, Cape Breton once had a thriving sheep industry, with a reputation for excellence.

Last century, however, many of the people left the farms for the relative security of the coal mines at Inverness, and sheep farms and buildings fell into disrepair, as technology failed to keep up.

With help for farmers who want to establish more than just token flocks, Devco feels that a return to sheep breeding would help capitalize on industry native to the environment, particularly after some disastrous experiences with transplants of secondary manufacturing.

In only the past four years, the sheep population has doubled, though it has many times more doubling ahead before it reaches the levels of the late 1800's.

It's rather interesting to note that sheep breeding in Alberta, too, has taken dramatic tumbles, in only the past four years. Only last week we learned the sheep population had dropped from five hundred thousand to only one hundred thousand in that period, though no reason is apparent. There aren't nearly enough lambs in the province to keep the slaughter plant at Innisfail operating on an efficient basis, but even then, the domestic market won't absorb what is produced.

By contrast, the markets in Eastern Canada will take all they can get, at prices higher than we're willing to pay.

Alberta breeders a few years ago showed a good deal of the old pioneer vision and aggressiveness in joining forces to op n the plant now it seems, they need to develop new talents to market their product, then produce it in e r greater quantities.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (SP) — It created scarcely a ripple in Canada as a whole, but in the capital and in Quebec City, you would have sworn that somebody had burning oily rags to a lion's tail and let him loose in a ripe wheat field.

The localized trauma I'm referring to was caused by the federal government's announcement last month that 15,000 federal civil servants are to be moved across the Ottawa river to Hull within the next three years, bringing the total of federal employees on the Capital's Quebec side to roughly 15,000.

Ottawa is a civil service town, with most of the local news media so keyed to public service stories that the abbreviation "PS" is used not only in headlines, but the stories themselves, on a [illegible] basis.

The "PS" members aroused by the massive shift - one quarter of the civil servants in the National Capital Region - are upset because it will add half an hour or more to daily travelling time to and from the office, and plush them into an environment which is unfamiliar. Some claim the feeling in Hull is hostile towards the federal public service I wouldn't agree, particularly if you compare it to the attitude expressed with increasing frequency in places like Montreal and Quebec City.

Anyway, here was the federal government, stuck with hundreds of millions of dollars of new buildings in Hull, and nothing to do with them. The over-extension of office space came about because somebody in government sat down and projected the office space which would be needed with a civil service growth rate of six per cent annually, then built it.

Now they've cut civil service growth to 6 percent annually and hence there's about four million square feet of surplus offices. Terrible planning, and terrific politics, because there's been virtually no consultation with Ottawa municipal leaders.

Shifting public service employees across the river to Hull is the right move, because the National Capital Region must be on both sides of the Ottawa in fact as well as in name no matter what the feelings of Quebec's Parti Quebecois government. But couldn't the planners move with a little more sensitivity? The way it's been done, virtually no one is happy.

SALES TAX RELIEF

Ottawa
March 15, 1977
The Hon. Donald
Macdonald, P.C.M.P.
Minister of Finance
[illegible]
[illegible]

Dear Mr. Minister

The matter of the federal government imposing sales tax on municipal governments was raised in the House on March 14th in a question put to you by the Hon. member for Ottawa-Carleton. In your reply to that question you indicated your willingness to consider this issue in the preparation of the budget. I wish to express my support for the position that all federal sales tax should be removed from purchases made by municipalities.

I have raised this issue previously as it is one which I feel quite strongly about. On November 16, 1976, I wrote a letter to you presenting my arguments as to why this tax should be removed. In addition I introduced a Notice of Motion dealing with this question which was debated on November 26th. Enclosed please find a copy of the debate in which support for the idea was shown by all [illegible] parties.

The municipal level of government, in my view, is one which can contribute greatly to the welfare of Canadians. However, the president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities said last December 12th that the municipal level of government could disappear in five years without increased financial support from the federal government and the provinces. In my opinion removal of federal sales tax on much needed purchases would be a worthwhile and sensible step in this direction. I urge you to include this provision in the budget of March 31st.

Yours sincerely,
Don Mazankowski
[illegible]

June 9 1977
Mr Don Mazankowski M.P.
Vegreville
House of Commons
Ottawa, Ontario
K1A 0A6

Dear Mr. Mazankowski

Thank you for your recent letter concerning the pressures of the Excise Tax Act as they apply to goods purchased by municipalities.

I have noted your recommendation that federal sales tax should be removed from all purchases made by municipalities. In this regard, it should be noted that the Excise Tax Act currently exempts from federal sales tax a comprehensive list of articles and materials sold to or imported by municipalities for their own use and not for resale.

Each year, municipalities press vigorously for further sales tax exemptions. Some of the exemptions they now have are opposed by private contractors who claim that they face unfair competition from municipalities using tax-exempt equipment. This concern was especially evident prior to the government's decision to remove federal sales tax from most construction and transportation equipment.

On the technical side, the federal sales tax is imposed relatively early in the distribution chain. Many of the purchases made by municipalities would be from unlicensed suppliers who may have difficulty estimating the tax content of goods which they sell to municipal governments. These suppliers would be forced to recover tax paid on goods sold to municipalities by filing refund claims and in some cases, may simply not bother to pass the intended savings on to the municipalities.

Mr Don Mazankowski, M.P.,

If additional sales tax relief were to be provided to municipalities, the government would experience a significant loss of revenue which would have to be made up through tax increases in other areas. After reviewing your comments and the views of other interested parties prior to presentation of the Budget on March 31, 1977, it was decided to recommend only a limited number of amendments and not to provide a complete exemption for municipal purchases at this time.

Please be assured that your comments will again receive careful consideration when amendments to the Excise Tax Act are next under consideration.

Yours sincerely,
Donald H. Macdonald

Dear Sir

I am a girl fifteen years old, presently attending a high school in Seoul. In my country we are taught the English language from the first year of junior high school as the most important required subject. To improve our English we practice not only in the regular class but also through our English Club, of which I am now the leader.

My English teacher told me that writing would be a great help for improving our English and suggested that I write to you on behalf of the boys and girls in my school. Many of them would like to exchange letters with Canadian boys and girls. Therefore we would very much appreciate your putting this letter into your newspaper.

Through the letters we hope to learn more about your customs, student life and many other things, too. Of course we will have the pleasure of introducing our ways as well, while improving our English skills.

James 2:14 what doth it profit my brothers, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works?

It is worthless to tell a fellow-believer who is hungry and destitute, "Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled," and then give him no assistance. It's not enough to feel sorry for him. We must back up what we say with thoughtful helpful deeds. Dr. Dr. Isaac once wrote, "What a poor naked hungry brother requires is food and clothing. Sending Scripture to him will not clothe him. Speaking kind words will not feed or warm him. If you are in a position to furnish what is required, don't shirk your duty by saying 'I'll pray for you.' I'm sure Him will supply your need. That's being hypocritical."

Many who are suffering both physically and spiritually need the help and encouragement your faith and Christ - honoring good works can provide. Remember your wallet must often become involved if you really feel for your fellowman in the right way.

Killam names entries

Three teams have been selected for Killam Lions' 18th annual baseball tournament.

Two of the teams accepted are from the Alberta Major Baseball League while the third entry is from the United [illegible].

The [illegible] Killam teams are Edmonton Tigers and Red Deer Borden while the American entry is a touring college team from Rapid City and are ranked among the top ten college teams along the west coast of the United [illegible].

In effect, Red Deer Hardies will be the defending tournament champions as they have replaced Red Deer 36 and K Generals in the Alberta Major Baseball League with the Generals having won the tournament three years in a row.

Killam's tournament is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24, with teams competing for prize money of $6,000 and the Labatt Trophy.

At the Ladies' Club meeting on June 17, arrangements for the annual picnic to be held on July 9th at the hall were discussed. The picnic will begin about 1 p.m. and all neighbours and friends are invited to come and enjoy the food and sports.

At the monthly Community Association meeting on June 28th it was announced that work will shortly start on the new septic system for the hall, and discussions were begun about reroofing the building. The Community entry for the Strathcona County Fair, to be held on Aug. 29-31, has been registered, and all those interested in taking part should get in touch with Roberta Bates at 662-2264.

Visitors to the area for the last week have been Mr. and Mrs A. Chernuck, staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs A. Chernuck. The children (and grandchildren) arrived from Oshawa, Ontario, to spend the beginning of the summer holidays with Barb and Al, and enjoyed the famous Alberta sunshine, as well as the noted hospitality.

The Pony Club summer camp will be starting soon, and this year it is to be held in Sherwood Park. Members and their horses will move in on Sunday, and there will be riding, under the supervision of a qualified instructor from Vancouver, all week, the trek homeward being made on July 8th. This great opportunity is open to all members of the club merely for the price of a week's board, estimated at $35.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Club will be in August, not July, and the time and place will be announced later.

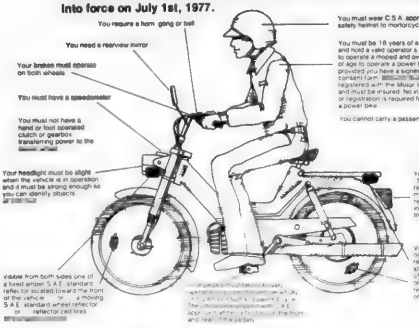
The Moped

and Power Bicycle

and what you should know about them.

If you own or operate a 'moped' or power bicycle here are the things you must know about them to comply with the new laws which come into force on July 1st, 1977.



If you're not sure of the difference between a power bicycle and a moped . . . here it is!

A moped is a motor vehicle upon which a person can ride which

- may be propelled by muscular or mechanical power
- is fitted with pedals that are continually operable by power
- weighs not more than 121 pounds
- has a motor that is driven electrically or has an engine displacement not more than 50 cubic centimeters
- has no hand or foot operated clutch or gearbox for varying the manner that transfers power to the driven wheel and
- does not have sufficient power to enable it to attain a speed greater than 31 miles per hour on level ground and has a distance of one mile from a standing start

A power bicycle is a cycle upon which a person can ride which

- may be propelled by muscular or mechanical power or both
- is fitted with pedals that are continually operable by power
- weighs not more than 75 pounds
- has a motor that produces not more than one horse power and that is driven by electricity or has an engine displacement of not more than fifty cubic centimeters
- has a motor that is not operated clutch or gearbox driven by the motor that transfers power to the driven wheel and
- does not have sufficient power to enable it to attain a speed greater than 20 miles per hour on level ground within a distance of one mile from a standing start

Alberta TRANSPORTATION

Three hurt in accident

Three people were injured in a head-on collision at the Lindbrook Corner early Thursday (June 23) morning.

William Giroux of Viking was the driver of a westbound vehicle which went out of control and collided with an eastbound vehicle operated by Lawrence Tchir of Ohaton RR1.

A passenger in the Tchir vehicle, Patricia Rabby, was injured along with the two drivers with all three being taken to Tofield Municipal Hospital. Mr Giroux and Miss Rabby were transferred to University Hospital in Edmonton where their conditions are described as serious.

RCMP in Tofield are planning a crackdown on stunting and careless drivers which will get underway immediately.

Thefts on acreages are continuing with one owner reporting the loss of plywood valued at about $500.

Assistance from the public in putting a stop to damages at campsites is being requested by the RCMP.

Anyone seeing persons doing damage at any sites are asked to let/ers the police as quickly as possible.

Sailors

Gary Mizero and Doug Stefura, BOTH OF Ryley, were two members of the Holden Sea Cadets able to go on sea cruises with Canada's Armed Forces. (See story). Missing when the picture was taken was a third member from Ryley who also went on a cruise, John Rokos.

Ellen Eaton

Ellen Eaton was one of the 45 senior citizens from the County of Beaver on a 6-day tour sponsored by the Recreation department. (see Recreation news.)

Ron and Gail McAdam and daughter Michelle returned home Thursday after spending a week at Waterton Lakes where they spent part time at Waterton Park in Alberta and at Yellowstone Park in Montana.

Arnold and Deanna Nelsen motored to Lloydminster on June 21 where they visited Deanna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon for the day.

Dale and Reta Campbell and girls, Rosemarie, Gwen and Ann of Fort Saskatchewan visited at the home of Dale's aunt, Ellen Eaton. During the late afternoon all went on a tour of Tofield to see the growth of the town since they last visited it three or four years ago and were surprised to see the increase with no industry in the town to hire workers.

Howard and Mae Ferguson were among several from the districts north of Tofield attending the reception and dance in the Tofield Community Hall for Larry Hardy and Kelly Blackiock who were married earlier in the day in Edmonton.

Mae Ferguson and son Nelson and Ron-Ai Olson attended the open house on Sunday afternoon in honor of Larry and Kelly Hardy at the home of Kelly's mother Kay and Lawrence Olson.

First hail on June 20

Several storms occurred on Monday, June 20th, our first day of operations. Three aircraft seeded storms from Nordegg as far northeast as Ponoka. Storms developed from northeast of Calgary to Drumheller and as far north as Dalhousie Lake as the evening a line of storms formed from Calgary to Edmonton with tops reaching a maximum of 40,000' Seven aircraft were required during part of the day. Two hail reports were received from near Ponoka.

Tuesday, the 21st was storm-free but seeding started about 11 a.m. on the morning of the 22nd as a storm running from Sundre through Leslieville to Rimbey.

Another storm started near Cochrane moving slightly north and east towards the Three Hills area. This storm had tops of 37,000'.

A third storm system developed near Rocky running through Bentley, Lacombe and Bashaw. A total of 228 top flares and 114 base flares were used during 30 hrs. of flying.

Two reports of hail were received in the northern area near Rocky. Fourteen reports in the southern area were received from south of Cremona and near Didsbury.

Most of the hail was pea size with the odd grape hail amongst it. Crop damage was light.

To pool hog prices

"The Hog Board Delegates' Annual Meeting has endorsed a policy of price pooling" states Chairman Stan Price of the Alberta Hog Producers Marketing Board.

Following several months of consideration at producer information meetings and at Alberta District Annual Meetings, the annual meeting of delegates held early in June, by more than a two thirds majority, instructed the Board of Directors to adopt a policy of pooling settlement prices.

The Board of Directors must now study alternative systems of price averaging and decide upon a preferred method" explains Price. He adds "the producers should not expect price pooling implementation for several months since the necessary design, impact analysis and testing must be completed before a final plan of price averaging is put into operation."

Summer Cooling?
If you're contemplating summer cooling, we offer these helpful hints.
In summer, the hottest part of your home is the attic. One of the most economical and efficient ways to cool your entire home is by removing heated air with an automatic attic ventilator. In Alberta, it may be all you really need for summer comfort.
Generally, a fan system costs less to install and operate than an air conditioner. However, a fan system does not cool as effectively as an air conditioner nor does it filter the air.

Ryley news items

Lana Reid

The baseball tournament played in Camrose was won by the Ryley baseball team. Bruce Roach pitched the first game against Tofield. Elmer Solberg was the winning pitcher in last game between Ryley and Camrose.

The Ryley School grades 2 and 3 classes enjoyed their field trip to Camrose on Wednesday. Each one received a little box of Sunny Boy cereal when visiting the Sunny Boy building.

Eric Jensen of Prince Albert, Sask., arrived home Friday to spend a little holiday with his parents.

A farewell party was held at Shaw School Sunday for the Ivan Sorenson family.

On July 1 Canada will be 110 years old and there will be Ryley United Church with Rev. Medelle officiating.

Pallbearers were Lloyd Hanks, Walter Nerien, Eric Larson, Stanley Hanks, Vernon Kassel and Floyd Nerien. Interment was in Ryley Cemetery with Baker Funeral Home, Wetaskiwin in charge.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr and Mrs Herman Jensen were honored at a surprise 25th anniversary party at the Shaw Community School on Friday. Mrs Carole Stefura and Mrs Elaine Hlushchen were hostesses for Mr and Mrs Herman upon their arrival.

An enjoyable social evening followed, with a lunch was served by the ladies of the community. Seated at the beautifully adorned bridal table were the honored couple, their five children, Shirley of Edberg, Eric, Prince Albert, Sask., Neil, Carol and Glenn all at home, and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Reil.

After giving a humorous speech about Hilda's and Herman's life in the Ryley district, Eddie Chappell presented the couple with gifts from the community. Both Hilda and Herman thanked the members of the community for the gifts and expressed their appreciation of the friendship they had found in the Ryley area.

On behalf of the family, Shirley Jensen presented a gift to her parents. A three-tiered cake, decorated by Mavis Jensen of Edberg, was cut and distributed by the couple to friends present.

Hilda and Herman were married in June 28, 1951 in the Danish "Ansgar Church in Edmonton."

Teachers hold barbeque

By Grace Phillips

Jenny and Brian Aubrey were hosts for the annual end-of-the-year party for the teachers of the Tofield sub-local of the A.T.A. on June 24 at their home in the Lindbrook area.

Almost all the staff members as well as several teachers on the substitute staff attended with their spouses.

A barbeque supper and dancing were featured.

Bob Garbeau, president, and Ted Wirth, president elect, presented appreciation gifts to the members of the staff who are leaving this June.

Three sea cadets take sea cruise

Three members of the Holden Sea Cadet Corps "Nootka" recently had the exciting experience of joining the regular Canadian Armed Forces on sea training cruises in the Pacific.

John Rokne, 16, of Ryley, served on the HMCS Saskatoon from February 7th to March 25th, sailing from Esquimalt, B.C. to San Diego, and then on to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. He was one of 16 cadets chosen from applicants in Western Canada to serve with the regular forces on HMCS Kootenay, which joined with ships from Australia, New Zealand and United States in a multinational sea training exercise.

Doug Stefura, 16, of Ryley, was chosen with 15 other cadets from Western Canada to serve on HMCS Qu'Appelle from April 5th to May 9th. During this cruise, which took them from Esquimalt, B.C. to San Diego and San Francisco, he cadet joined with members of the regular forces on board to take part in the rigorous sea training exercises.

Gary Mimura, 16, of Ryley took part in a four-week cruise on the HMCS McKenzie from November 18th to December 17th, sailing from Esquimalt to Pearl Harbor. Twenty five cadets joined the regular forces on this cruise.

On each of the ships the cadets were almost completely integrated into the ship's company, and performed such tasks as lookouts, helmsmen, stokers, watch duties, and washing floors. They took part in 3 a.m. fire drills, evacuation and rescue exercises, refueling at sea operations and towing operations. The strains of the demanding exercises, irregular sleep, rough weather and long hours on watch duty were relieved by time off at the destination ports, where the cadets were allowed to tour new places and meet new people.

All three cadets agreed that these cruises were excellent learning experiences, and the highlights of their cadet careers.

Cadets chosen for these exercises must have completed two weeks of summer camp experience, and be 15 years of age or older.

THE ALBERTA AIR SHOW CELEBRATIONS
Lakeland Tourist Zone July 1 – 3, 1977

The Alberta Airshow at Canadian Forces Base, Cold Lake, will be the largest military airshow in Canada this year. There'll be a fascinating array of international military aircraft, sleek modern jet fighters, civilian performers, stunts and daredevil aerobatics, many pioneer and older aircraft in keeping with the Airshow's "aviation nostalgia" theme, as well as interesting and informative ground displays. But there'll be lots more to see and do, because neighbouring communities in the Lakeland Tourist Zone will be joining in the celebrations. Take in the rodeo at Bonnyville or the races, activities, parades and carnival atmosphere that you'll find in Grand Centre and Cold Lake. It's fun for the whole family. And you can enjoy the Lakeland's famous fishing, beaches and scenic attractions at the same time Over 8,000 campsites will be available within a 30-mile radius. Make a weekend of it. Or a week.

The Alberta Airshow – Saturday afternoon, July 2nd (open for viewing of ground exhibits) and Sunday, July 3rd (the Airshow) Canadian Forces Base, Cold Lake.

Featured performers:

- Alberta Arrows – High speed formation aerobatics with "hot" CF-104 Starfighters
- Skyhawks – the Canadian Forces expert parachute team. Sky manoeuvres, smoke trails, sky aerobatics
- Dragonflies – helicopter formation flying, synchronized aerobatics
- Canadian Reds – superbly aerobatic Pitts S-2A biplanes in thrilling action
- Western Warbirds – an impressive flying display of World War II aircraft
- Art Scholl – legendary competition aerobatic pilot with his unique Super Chipmunk
- Joann Osterud – dramatic aerobatics with her Stephens Akro experimental mid-wing monoplane
- Al Pietsch – veteran airshow stunt flyer with his [illegible] Turbine TDG

CHEESE PLEASE

The cheese industry in Alberta is continually growing and diversifying. Last year, over eight million pounds of cheese were produced in Alberta. Cheese should be served at room temperature to bring out its full life and flavour. It's a good choice for hot summer days. Cheese is delicious cooked.

This might be a good time to try a different cheese. The following cheeses are all produced in Alberta.

Brick

This mild creamy yellow, semi-soft cheese dresses up salads or completes a hearty sandwich. On a cheese tray these flavorful morsels are perfect with dark breads, crackers and salami

Butterkase

This is truly a specialty cheese - - but don't reserve it for special occasions only. The combination of mild mozzarella with a dairy-fresh core of butter makes this the ideal one for tasty snacks or satisfying sandwiches. Try it.

Camembert

This mellow aromatic cheese is creamy white with an edible grey-white surface. It is an exquisite accompaniment for a fine, mellow wine - - in perfect French tradition. Or try this classic with fresh fruit for a refreshing dessert

Cheddar

A full-flavored cooking specialist for savoury dishes. Grate this orange-colored, hard cheese into your favorite recipes calling for chee - - A perfect mate for a cheese tray with crackers or as a bread and butter pick-up.

Cheshire

This versatile cheese has gained a reputation for adding color and flavor to salads, cooking, cheese trays and sandwiches. Try this great favorite caraway or spiced. For a cheese tray, try combining mild with bread and salami, medium with bread, black olives and crisp vegetables, old with figs, walnut halves, sultanas and crackers, and garlic with black olives and crackers

Colby

A nourishing, mild sandwich cheese, or the perfect flavor addition to a colorful cheese tray. Great for milkshakes. For a cheese tray, try serving with salami and garnish with lettuce and tomatoes

Fromage

The delicate flavor of this soft mold cheese is at its best teamed with cold cuts in a big sandwich, or as a light snack or cheese tray with crisp celery stalks, carrots and crackers

Gouda

The interesting, colorful one. The combination of mild light and orange cheddars make this cheese terrific for garnishing salads, completing an open-faced sandwich or complementing other cheeses on an appetizer plate

Havarti or Danish

The tasty snacking cheese, or the mild, smoothie for your favorite sandwiches, desserts, and cheese dishes. Serve with crackers and salami for a cheese tray

Mozzarella

The famous cooking cheese that's the secret to spicy Italian dishes. But it's also superb in casseroles or as a zippy topping for meatloaf or cheeseburgers

Parmesan

Nibblers love this rare-flavored cheese. Its mellow, smoky tang is the perfect contrast to tart and juicy apples and grapes. With desserts or in cooking it adds a special flavor - - mm

Ricotta

Prepare some appetizing specialty dishes with this ideal cooking cheese. Excellent for lasagne, manicotti or ravioli fillings or as the rich base for a mouth-watering cheese cake. Why not try stuffing dates with ricotta for a wine and cheese party

Quark

This soft spoonable cheese is a natural as a wholesome, light topping on desserts, fresh fruit or garden salads

Why not experiment with cheese? The protein in 1 oz. of ripened cheese compares favorably to the protein in 1 cup of milk. Make it cheese, please.

Just remember to cook it at low temperatures. High temperatures and prolonged cooking will toughen cheese

keep off the summerfallow with TREFLAN

Now, instead of spring or fall application, you can use Treflan during July and August on summerfallow you're going to seed next year to rape. Yes, now in the summer, when more time, good weather and ideal soil conditions will help you do a better job.

If you apply and incorporate Treflan this summer, you'll be surprised at how often you can keep off the summerfallow. You will need to cultivate less, because Treflan goes to work right away controlling weeds, and this chemical control means black and weed-free summerfallow with a lot less tillage. And a lot less labor, time and fuel.

Figure the saving — it's probably more than enough to buy all the Treflan you'll need this summer.

Progressive Farming

Alberta Hail Project

Can hail storms be modified to produce less crop damage? Do the benefits of hail suppression outweigh the costs? How can hail storms be seeded for maximum beneficial results? Does cloud seeding affect the rainfall?

Some answers to the above questions are starting to emerge from the Alberta Hail Project, but assessment of cloud seeding results are not easy Alberta has been in the forefront of hail research and hail suppression for many years and is continuing its quest for answers to these and other questions

The project is a five-year hail suppression and hail research experiment, which was started in 1974 to determine the practical and economical feasibility of hail suppression through technology The project combines a large cloud seeding operation with an extensive research program

This year cloud seeding began on June 20 and will continue until September 15 Hail storms will be seeded by seven aircraft equipped to seed from the top and base of the clouds The storms will be seeded with silver iodide as early in their life cycle and as heavily as possible so that the hailstone embryos for the water in the storms This procedure increases the number of hailstones but reduces their size

To succeed in their endeavor, theme in charge of the hail suppression program rely on, and greatly appreciate, the continued co-operation of the farming communities which supply rainfall, hailfall and crop damage data

The Alberta Hail Project is sponsored by Alberta Agriculture through the Alberta Weather Modification Board and the Alberta Research Council.

Anyone interested in hail suppression techniques is invited to visit the operations centre at the Red Deer Industrial Airport. However, this bringing a party of five or more are asked to contact the project manager before their visit He is Jim Renack, Alberta Hail Project, P O Box 360, Stynarski Park, T4M 1N8.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

This past week I had my first experience with organizing a tour What a super time! On June 20, 46 senior citizens, two bus drivers, Jim Ingram, Vic Fasthruther, one truck driver, Ray Whitlam, and two supervisors, Carol Lynn Chilkowich and Colleen Walker all left for Calgary in a caravan of two school buses and a half-ton for baggage Our first problem encountered was when we had bus problems in Three Hills, but this was soon solved when our seniors were invited by Three Hill's senior citizens for square dancing and coffee We were soon on our way to Calgary where our first night was spent

Tuesday, we were up very early and on our way to Banff. The day was just beautiful, so the drive to the mountains was most enjoyable We arrived at our motel in Canmore at noon where we ate a picnic lunch. The afternoon was spent in Banff visiting such sights such as the Gondola Lift, Hot Springs, Wax Museum, Leximan Museum, and just general shopping and looking around. Supper was eaten at Banff (delicious) and we drove back to our motel in Canmore The evening was unscheduled so some played cards, visited, or went for walks

Wednesday, we travelled on, stopping at Lake Louise for a coffee break Picnic lunch was eaten along the David Thompson highway amid some rain showers We arrived at our last accommodation, David Thompson Resort approximately 3 30 - at least one bus did The other bus was so busy singing and joking that 34 people completely missed the spot. This particular bus returned one hour late, but still did arrive at the motel. The evening was planned for a "recreation" evening with games and skits planned We were even surprised by a visit by the famous Sasquatch A game of bingo and a singsong rounded off a most enjoyable evening.

Thursday morning, we headed home All the senior citizens agreed "they were not a bit tired" but the leaders I guess that really has something to say about the older generation's endurance

Thank you to each and everyone of the group for making our trip so enjoyable If you ever need tour guides again, give Carol Lynn and I a call

Ryley wins tourney

Ryley Rebels used a strong defence to go undefeated in tabling top honours during the Camrose Roadrunners annual baseball tournament on Sunday.

Ryley obtained only seven hits in two games but took advantage of the oppositions errors to score nine runs while making only two errors themselves.

In their first outing, Ryley edged Tofield 4-3 as they scored all four runs in the 2nd inning as they got two of their three hits, one of which was a two-run homer from Booth who had been only other hit.

Booth went the distance in picking up the win as he allowed six hits and three walks while striking out seven L. Williams was tagged with the loss giving up only three hits, four walks and he struck out four

Ryley then drew a bye in the semi-finals.

In the finals, Ryley took full advantage of six Roadrunners' errors to scored five unearned runs as they posted a 5-2 win over the Camrose team in six tournament innings.

K. Solberg picked up the win as he allowed 11 hits and no walks while striking out seven Camrose batters. Bateman and Wilson tossed for the Roadrunners giving up five hits and four walks while striking out eight

Sutter and Booth paced the winners as each went one for three while B. Newbrick of the losers was three for four Roadrunners had no trouble beating Holden 6-3 in the opening game of the tournament as Schoenhoecht picked up the win, with Wilson in relief. B. Michlich was charged with the loss

The semi-finals between Camrose and Round Hill was easily the most exciting game of the day as the Roadrunners came up with the win in their final at bat in the bottom of the last inning

Need rain as crops sear

Rain is becoming an urgent need of farmers as crop conditions are rapidly deteriorating and some crops that were late in being planted are having trouble getting started.

Farmers in the New Norway region seem to be the best off as crops are growing very well with rye having reached a heights of twenty inches and all crops are reported as good condition although moisture is needed.

This situation is not exactly as good around Tofield where crops are described as being 10 percent normal and are beginning to show signs of drought. Heights of crops range from 6 - 12 inches

The situation is only slightly better in Ryley where crops haven't declined quite as badly, reported to be only ten percent below normal, but rain is definately starting to be a need

Farmers in the Daysland region are more desperately in need of rain as regrowth is being described as thirty per cent below normal conditions with other crops surviving at a slightly better clip, being only twenty percent below normal. Crop heights range from five to eight inches.

Oats and barley in the area around Round Hill are rapidly fading, being described as only sixty percent normal with wheat and rapeseed showing better conditioning, only slightly below normal conditions. Farmers were late getting most crops seeded with the result that heights range from only two to six inches

While crop heights range from only two to four inches, farmers in the Hay Lakes area are a bit better off as wheat is reported to be in normal condition while other crops are just slightly below normal

Roadrunners win Powerline flag

Camrose Roadrunners finished the regular schedule in the Powerline Baseball League in first place.

Roadrunners played yesterday (Tuesday) in Round Hill with the outcome of that game not that important as Round Hill had been winless and even if the Roadrunners lost while Bardo beat Ryley, Roadrunners would keep first place because of the run spread in the two games between Camrose and Bardo

Yesterday's games were to have brought the regular schedule in the league to an end with the exception of a postponed game between Tofield and Ryley, which is likely to be played tomorrow (Thursday)

It is expected that the playoffs will get underway next week. Earning playoff berths are Camrose, Bardo, Ryley and Holden with the latter team having made a successful debut in the league, earning a playoff berth in their first season

Details of playoff scheduling were not released in time for publication

Roadrunners walloped Tofield and had a tie with Ryley at the two games they played last week

Camrose whipped Tofield 13-4 as they took an early 9-1 lead and fended onslaught in their victory D Swanson won the distance in picking up the win while L. Williams was tagged with the loss Swanson paced the losers at the plate as he was three for five

Ryley took an early 5-0 lead against the Roadrunners but, couldn't make it stand up as the Roadrunners came back with six runs to have the game end in a 6-6 stalemate

Schoenhoecht stated for Camrose and got relief help from Bateman and G Stang while Berbe started for Ryley with E Solberg coming on in relief. D. Stang led the Roadrunners at the plate as he went three for five

Results of other league games were: Bardo 23 Holden 11, Ryley 10 Round Hill 1, Holden 17 Round Hill 7, Bardo 14 Tofield 1

Wetaskiwin courthouse used for play

The courthouse in Wetaskiwin will become a playhouse on June 30, when a play which centres around a murder trial will be featured.

The local high school obtained permission from the attorney general's department to use the supreme court room for the play, The Night of January 16.

Paul Zyla, senior administrator of supreme and provincial courts in the province said only one condition was attached to the permission and that is that the sheriff and clerk of the court be given time to explain to the audience some of the differences between Canadian and American court procedures The reason for this stipulation is that the play was written in the United States, and officials did not want members of the audience to feel this is Canadian procedure, since they had seen it in an actual Canadian courtroom

CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER

$45,000

Reporting to the Legislature, the Chief Electoral Officer's responsibilities are described in the Election Act and the Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act.

The first CEO will be at the forefront in applying new and amended legislation, where his/her decisions will be precedent setting. The initial major responsibility will be to build an administrative organization.

Under the Election Act, the CEO manages the conduct of provincial elections and oversees the annual enumeration process.

Under the Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act, the CEO ensures the public disclosure of the amount of contributions and expenditures, ensures limits on contributions are adhered to and ensures the disclosure of the identity of major contributors.

Candidates will be backed by a successful career in general management OR Law OR accounting supplemented by a firm grasp of provincial politics. They will have proven managerial and administrative skills consistent with the duties and responsibility of a deputy minister.

Term: Subject to reappointment by the Legislature.

Early applications are requested as it is anticipated an appointment will be made by late summer.

IN MEMORIAM

TEDDEMAN in loving memory of James Ernest Teddeman who passed away July 10, 1975
A voice so dear to me
A life linked with mine
And day by day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone
A voice so dear to me
Silent no more reach my ear
No sweeter melody
Could gladden my life more
Than the hand I kissed in death
That won't be held by you and me
Nor clasp them ever yet
So tender, kind and true
Two hands whose gentle touch
No more my cheek shall feel
I pray that I'll be much
When by his side I'll rest
His vacant chair is still standing there
And sweet memories every where
God alone only knows how I miss her

In a home that is lonesome today
—Shelley remembered and sadly missed by Eric

Mrs Gus Hoffin recently visited the Lindburger's at Forestburg, and took in a reunion at the old church which was recently restored as a historic sight. Gus met several old acquaintances and also visited friends and relatives around Donalda

A few ladies gathered at Sharon and Larry Winder's on Friday to help Mrs Winder celebrate her birthday. Sharon's cousin, Landa Mann, spent the weekend at the Winder's and left Sunday evening by bus.

Church service was held at Ivan Bronee on Sunday evening. The next service is to be held at the Winder's on July 30th at 7:30 p.m.

Recent visitors at the Gus and Mary Schmidt home were Fern and Aimee Lindberg

Louise Heimbechner, Robert and Shelly, Kay Comsbee, Rhonda and Kathy, went to Wainwright Friday evening camping and took in the Wainwright Stampede, and parade. Rhonda and Louise were participants in the parade and received an honourable mention.

John and Wanda Heimbechner had visited Alfred and Joan Bolster Saturday evening.

ved in varying capacities on the Community League, the Order of the Eastern Star and the United Church Women

But in spite of these many activities outside school, Grace says that the students have always come first in her mind. She says teaching methods have changed through the years but the students have always been the same

"I can't say they write any better or worse than they used to," she says. Grace admits she is a strict disciplinarian and explains that aspect simply, "I want them to succeed."

"Grace is an old drillmaster from way back," says vice-principal Jack Lampitt. "Her basic philosophy has been that the school is for the students and she'll see that they use it properly."

Both Mr Pollock and Mr. Lampitt agree that in this day of professionals rights and wrongs, a strong moral stand such as the one Grace has taken is valuable to the students and the school.

Many students have apparently profited from this firm rein

"One of the real pleasures of teaching for me is to see what the students do after they graduate," says Grace who noted with particular pride this year the graduation of two of her former students, Ruth Dickson and Thomas Christensen, from the University of Alberta Faculty of Medicine

Grace claims there are some things about teaching that she won't miss after she retires - things like the hectic preparations for fairs and the busy parent - teacher nights.

She wants to retire and she wants to concentrate on four special children, her grandchildren, rather than the hundreds she has been guiding through Language Arts in the past years

But, she'll be missed at the school

"It's going to be very difficult to replace her," says Mr Lampitt. "We're concerned that no one else will show all the interest and enthusiasm that she has in the past"

New municipal building investigated for Tofield

The Town of Tofield is going to look into the possibility of constructing a new municipal building

A decision to investigate such a possibility was made at town council at a regular meeting. It was suggested that if such a building is constructed, space for a library would be included, as well as some office space which could be leased

A report and discussion is planned for a future council meeting.

Councillors were told that the 1976 Canadian census had been reviewed with Tofield's population being listed at 1,130

The 1977 tax levy of $238,148.30 was adopted by council and the by-law authorizing the tax rates was given three readings. At the same time, two other by-laws, for the construction of certain curbs, gutters and sidewalks, were also given three readings

Council decided to obtain the services of a by-law enforcement officer. Administration is to prepare a job description and advertise the position

The poor condition of Highway 854, north of the town, was of considerable concern to councillors, and it was decided that a letter expressing council's concern should be sent to Alberta Transportation and the County of Beaver

Council was informed that the Alberta Assessment Appeal Board has scheduled two days of hearings in Tofield, to be held on July 13 and 14.

Tofield man dies in hi-way mishap

A highway traffic accident on Highway 14 on Saturday night has claimed the life of a Tofield area man.

Thirty-four year old James George Nicol of Tofield R.R2 was killed when the vehicle he was driving collided head-on with a vehicle operated by Herbert Poetticker of Tofield The mishap occurred about 8:30 p.m. on Saturday night on the curve on the highway at the Lindbrook Hall

A second tragedy in the same location was narrowly averted the previous day when an eastbound car took to the ditch to avoid a head-on collision No one was injured and police are advising drivers to run their vehicles at the posted speed limits

Elevators were the targets of break-ins over the weekend. The elevator in Bruce lost a number of chequos and a quantity of cash while the UGG elevator and John Lemke's elevator, both located in Holden, were entered although nothing was reported to be missing A cabin located on Islet Lake, owned by Stuart Carson, was entered with nothing being taken while entry was gained into the Tofield Arena through a smashed window. Again, nothing was missing

RCMP are advising farmers not to leave equipment parked in their fields along the highway as various pieces of equipment have been reported missing while other pieces of machinery have been vandalized for parts

RCMP are also giving advice to weekend acreage residents with animals Any animals should be properly cared for, including shelter and a safe enclosure Also such residents are returning the following week to find their animals have strayed because of inadequate fencing

HOLIDAYS

RCMP advise that if you are going away on holidays, arrangements should be made with a neighbour to look after your house, pick up papers and cut the grass, so that the home looks like it is occupied As well, police will keep an eye open if they are notified that you are going away

A low-speed white bicycle and a new 70h s 15 tire mounted on a used rim were found during the past week and may be claimed at the office of the Tofield Detachment of the RCMP

"Come along little doggie"

One of the cutest items in Tofield's Canada Day parade on Friday morning was this young lad and his rather reluctant pet The parade kicked off another successful sports day in Tofield —The Mercury Newsphoto

Oldtimers enjoy day

The Tofield Historical Society was busy during the Sports Day as some 140 gathered the Old Time Register and enjoyed coffee and cookies and visiting with old friends

The old pictures and photos from the Museum were once again a source of interest to young and old

Among those from a distance who registered were Sonny Lee and Kinetown of Emerson, Washington, the Johansens of New Westminster, John Schmidt, Ontario, Fred Williams and Minister Preston, Calgary, Jim Redagan, Edmonton and Trygal and Gudrun Magnor of New Norway

In charge of the register were Nola Ferguson, Edith Lancaster and Ethel Moon

These serving coffee were Annie McGeachie, Lilly Schultz and Marie Mitchell

Pipeline fervor

Monday's report to the federal government favoring the building of the Alcan pipeline over the Arctic Gas proposal reminded like a shot in the arm across Alberta, where it suggests the deeper, underlying message is not so much favoring one pipeline over the other as it is favoring the concept of going ahead, rather than postponing the project for ten years.

The final decision, of course, rests with the federal government, which must decide, first, whether to build at all, and if so, where.

The feeling grows stronger that for all practical purposes the first decision has already been made, if not aired, and all that remains is to announce where, and start work.

Construction will be important to Alberta, for just about the time work could be going ahead on the pipeline, a large number of men will be coming off other projects, and the employment picture might take a sudden downturn. It could be important, too, for all its effect on a host of side industries. Supply firms, heavy and industrial tool firms, builders and contractors, road construction, utility firms, food and entertainment, and service firms almost too numerous to imagine.

There are obvious problems associated with construction of the pipeline. Problems of the environment. Problems of its impact on the natives of the area, and the animals. Problems of jurisdiction and return of investment, as well as recovery of gas in the pipeline.

But one feature impresses us more than these, basically, and this is the probability that in time to come it should be accompanied by an oil pipeline. If oil from the same area can be transported across country, it seems to us, the resultant damage to the environment is likely to be far less terrible than would be the result if all this material were to be carried by super tanker oil carriers, in all their new forms. Already there have been so many calamities with these that the writing is on the wall. The bigger they get, the more certain they are to run into trouble eventually, with ever worse and worse consequences on an ocean already incapable of cleansing itself of the havoc created by man.

Almost any plan is perferable.

Good year for Canada

1976 was a good year for Canada's foremost natural resource, its people. This is brought out in a recent study by Metropolitan Life. The nation's population continued to grow, and to grow more rapidly than that of the United States, both because of a higher rate of natural increase, and relatively greater gain from migration

By year end, the population had increased by 308,000 or 1.34 percent, to 23,308,000, so that by April of 1979 we can expect to reach the 24 million level. Increase in the United States was barely half that, at .73 percent.

Alberta, interestingly, was the fastest-growing province, with nearly three times the national rate, at 3.5 percent, so that its population reached nearly 1.8 million people by year-end. And the rate of net migration was even greater than the rate of natural increase, a fact duplicated only in Prince Edward Island

By way of interest, Ontario leads, with 8,394,000, while Quebec follows with 6,285,000 residents

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA—(SF)— Next month Vice Admiral Douglas Boyle retires from the Canadian Armed Forces, leaving his post as chief of Maritime Command with a cloud of unpleasantness because his departure is something less than willing.

If Admiral Boyle had his way, he'd be continuing as Maritime Commander for another 17 months, making him one of the longest serving men in that job in Canadian history. He wants to retire in Halifax, and hence he backed filling in the remaining 17 months before compulsory retirement at an Ottawa job. He even passed up a job which would have left him in Halifax, largely because the task was basically make-work. I don't find it I do upsetting that Adm. Boyle is leaving the Maritime Command job earlier than he would like, but I do find it alarming that the Liberal members of the House of Commons Committee on External Affairs and National Defence have blanched an attempt by the opposition to have Adm. Boyle testify before the committee on Canada's proposed ship replacement program.

No question that Boyle's point of view would be heavily slanted in favor of Maritime military needs, but the man is an expert in the field and his opinions would carry tremendous weight. As things stand now, Canada is planning to forge ahead with the purchase of new jet fighters, which will be not only expensive, but of marginal military value for the $2.5 billion to $3 billion we'll eventually be spending.

Boyle could be expected to argue that our needs for new warships are greater. He also claims that if money was no object, he would replace all but the four newest destroyers in the fleet — at a cost which would be between $2.5 billion and $3 billion — exactly the same price as a new fighter.

Boyle claims we may be at war again within a decade, and he wants to buy the ultimate in new warships. His reading of the priority for defence needs is right on — but he errs in pushing for the ultimate in marine sophistication, when our basic need of less expensive vessels to police offshore sovereignty isn't answered even in long range planning.

That doesn't alter the fact that his opinions should be heard by Parliamentary committee.

Mazankowski gains review of rail line abandonment

The Review Committee of the Canadian Transport Commission has announced that on the strength of the appeals made by Vegreville M.P. Don Mazankowski, and others, the Order to discontinue rail passenger service on the Edmonton-Grande Prairie-Fort Nelson line is going to be reviewed. The Order has been referred back to the railway Transport Committee for consideration and will be dealt with on a priority basis. While the decision does not necessarily mean that the passenger service will be restored, it gives weight and credibility to the arguments used by Mazankowski in his appeals and brings the original decision to terminate the service into question

The Vegreville M.P. also appealed the Order to discontinue the Edmonton Grande Centre rail passenger service. The Review Committee has not yet made a decision as to whether this Order will be reviewed as well, but a decision is expected shortly.

Crops deteriorate from dryness

Crop conditions continue to deteriorate during the past week as only a few widely scattered showers fell in some regions while other areas got no moisture.

None of the areas reporting show crops in normal condition with the best showing being in Holden and Hay Lakes where Camrose shows barley and rye to be 95 percent normal and Hay Lakes has wheat in the same category

Camrose, Daysland and Round Hill are reporting crops that are only seventy percent normal for this time of year

Holden reports rye is 30 in ches tall while rapeseed stands at one foot with other crops between four and six inches Crops are between 90-95 percent normal with stunted growth becoming evident

Although all crops in New Norway are reported to be about 90 percent normal, dry conditions are starting to have its effect Rye stands at twenty-six inches with other crops ranging between 8-14 inches.

Tofield isn't as well off with crops only 80 percent normal and rain is becoming an urgent need Crops range in height from 8-14 inches

Spotty showers helped a bit in Ryley last week although rapeseed is reported to be only 75 percent normal with other crops about 85 percent normal Crop height ranges from eight to 14 inches

Rapeseed in Dayaland is only 70 percent normal with other crops not too much better at about 80 percent and the need of rain is becoming stronger Crops range from five to 12 inches in height Crops run the gamut of normalcy in Camrose from a low of 75 percent for barley to a high of 90 percent for oats. Rain is needed, as crop heights run from three to 14 inches.

Round Hill crops are ranging from a low 70 percent normal for barley to a high of 85 percent for wheat and rapeseed Height of crops goes from four to 12 inches

Crops are going gut off to a late start in Hay Lakes with the result that height ranges from only 2½ to 4½ inches. Conditions aren't quite as bad as in some other areas with a range of between 85-95 percent normal

Information on crop conditions was supplied by Alberta Wheat Pool.

The extras cost money

At the district 4-H calf club show and sale at Gleschen on Saturday a car dealer from Hinsugh showed up to buy some beef. I am told per chance he bought a cross bred calf from a teen-ager who had recently bought a car from him after the sale was completed the 4-Her walked over to the car dealer and asked him for the bill of sale to make some corrections here is how the bill was kited when the dealer got it back basic calf, $400, extra stomach, $75, two tone exterior, $65, produce storage compartment, $80, dispensing devices (four spigots at $25 each), $60, genuine cowhide upholstery, $125, automatic fly sprinker, $30, dual horns, $15, and delivery, $300 . . . total, $1,750!

Gross waste of coal

During a recent seminar session on energy we were impressed, not only with the seriousness of the situation and the need to conserve it, but also with the gross waste of energy and energy-generating substances in some fields

Probably the single such item that startled us the most was the revelation that two-thirds of the coal used in the production of electrical power through steam generation is wasted

That's right! Only one of every three tons of coal used to run the steam turbines which generate electricity in Alberta has its full potential of energy used. The potential energy in two of those three tons is wasted Gone! Caput! Squandered!

It may be a long time long past our lifetime - that the day will come when there is no more coal left to be mined in this province But when that day does come, one cannot help but wonder what our stripping will think of our forefathers having frittered away two-thirds of the coal used in the generation of electrical power

While the generation of electricity with water-driven turbines may be less efficient for the power companies charged with producing the electricity for our province, and while it may even be more expensive, there is one thing that should be considered - and considered well. The water used in generating the power is not wasted not one drop of it. It can be used again further downstream for any number of things, such as human consumption, irrigation, flushing toilets or a myriad of other good, practical uses

Did our power companies consider this when they decided many years ago to concentrate on thermal production of electricity rather than using hydro-power?

Considered in the light of the waste involved in using coal, perhaps even environmentalists should reconsider their opposition to the harnessing of our rivers for power production, through the building of more dams.

Monday, August 1st, was declared to be a civic holiday in Tofield.

Councillors decided that their July meeting would be held on July 11th, rather than the regular date of July 6th.

Administration was directed to seek information as to costs for the purpose of installing an additional air conditioner in the Town Office

Owners of property with vacant homes will be directed to show more responsibility as councillors decided to notify them that all weeds growing on their properties are to be cut immediately.

Other routine business matters were handled before the meeting adjourned.

Ryley and Camrose top ball tournaments

Ryley and Camrose emerged as the big winners in ball tournaments held in Tofield on Friday as part of the community's Sports Day

Ryley won top honours in men's football while Camrose took the winners' prize money in baseball Reports on ladies' fastball and minor ball games were not received.

FASTBALL

Ryley won both of their scheduled games to win top prize money. Ryley slapped Lindbrook 5-3 in their first outing and drew a bye in the semi-final round. In the finals, Ryley whipped Tofield 10-2.

Tofield earned its berth in the finals when they walloped Holden 8-1 in their first outing, and then edged Kingman 4-3 in an exciting semi-final contest

Kingman had gotten to the semi-finals when they had doubled Hazeldean in an opening round contest by a score of 13-6.

BASEBALL

Camrose Readymixers won both of their games to take top honours as Gary colgamb-Holden 13-8 as Dave Swanson picked up the win while Bob Lysle was charged with the loss.

After drawing a bye to the semi-finals, Camrose out-slugged Bardo 10-14 in a game that was finally ended because of darkness Swanson was again credited with the win while Ron Fosheag was lagged with the loss.

Bardo picked up two straight wins to earn its berth in the finals They edged Ryley 4-3 with Bob Fosheag getting the win while Elston Solberg took the loss In the semi-finals, Bardo whipped Round Hill 13-5 with Ken Stauffer getting the win while Merv Swanson took the loss.

In the other opening round game, Round Hill upset Tofield 9-1 as George Odevichuk was the winning pitcher with L. Williams taking the loss.

Windsor celebrates centennial

A full year before its celebrations are scheduled, the town of Windsor, N.S., has unveiled The Canadian of a special invitation it extends to lifetime residents or descendants of former residents.

From July 23 to 30, 1978, the town will be recognizing its centenary by hosting Old Home Week at the same time as its annual Sam Slick celebrations.

Mrs. Grace B Wallace, the centennial co-ordinator extends the invitation both to former residents and to tourists who would like to visit "the Gateway to the Annapolis Valley".

She may be contacted through P.O. Box 158, Windsor.

Students working

Twelve students will be joining the local labour force for 133 man-weeks of employment this summer as a result of four more Young Canada Works grants which were announced last Wednesday.

Three of the students will be working at the Battle River tourist booth in Viking, three will be gathering, restoring and cataloguing artifacts for the Camrose and District Museum Society, three will be maintaining and repairing parks in Panmanth county and three have already begun working at the tourism office here in Camrose.

The total cost to the federal government of these four grants is $17,582. They bring to a total of 12 the number of Young Canada Works grants which have been approved this year for Battle River constituency.

...ne grants were also announced at the same time for Vegreville constituency. They include a reforestation project at Saddle Lake, the refitting of the Old Myrnam Ferry in St Paul, tourist information centre work in Vegreville, a historical village tourism project in Shandro, a power vation project for the Vermilion River Valley, the Hill Top Youth in Kinsella, the Lloydminster summer recreation program in Lloydminster, the Ashmont school community recreation park in Ashmont and the operation of the tourist information booth in Vermilion.

Psalm 77:6—I call to remembrance my song in the night.

Some of the most beautiful singing canaries in the world have come from the Harz Mountains of Germany But during World War I it became impossible to obtain these birds known So a dealer in New York came up with the idea of training an American finch to sing just like the European variety He had the songs of these famous birds recorded and mailed to his home. When they arrived he played them over and over each day in the room where he kept his own canaries. At first his efforts met with little success. Then one day he made a startling discovery He found that if he covered their cages and completely shut out the light, the American birds soon learned to warble like them on the recording. Similarly we can learn to sing God's praises most cheerily when our way is dark and we cannot see what lies ahead. He shuts us away from the things of the world so that we will appreciate more fully the blessed and matchless harmonies of Heaven. Who life is restricted by the blankets of trial and despair, we are more inclined to pay heed to His voice than when we bask in the bright days of light-hearted pleasure which tends to distract us. We can be thankful that we do not have to memorize hymns by phonies of comfort for the melody furnished by God our maker, "who giveth us songs in the night".

HOW TO BE BORN AGAIN

How to Be Born Again by Billy Graham
Is it possible? In "How to Be Born Again" world famous evangelist Billy Graham shows on emphatic YES, and offers intensely practical answers to the what? where, when, how and why that so many are wondering about! Dr. Graham gives the answer in simple, direct and dynamic language. Reading "How to Be Born Again" is at once universal and personal, for the new Christian and for the Christian along the way - an irresistible primer for finding salvation, a guidebook for continuing growth.

"Sunshine Frolics"

The Tofield Playground began it's program on Monday with the new name of "Sunshine Frolics".

The leaders are Donna Prosser and Lynn Warner, who are very eager to keep the kids busy and having lots of fun this summer.

The program is operating out of the Tofield Arena again this year and the playground hours are from 9:30 a.m. - 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. weekdays, except for Thursdays when they are from 1:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

We have included one evening in this year's program in anticipation that parents may be able to get involved also.

This week has been "Safety Week". The children helped to contribute to the safety of themselves and others by picking up all of the garbage at the playgrounds. They were also reminded of the safe ways in which they should cross the streets before they went on a scavenger hunt one afternoon. Unfortunately, the RCMP, who were asked to come and speak about bicycle safety could not make it this week, but may come at a later date. We ended off our "Safety Week" by painting a large safety mural.

The next week that we have planned is "Indian Week". We are planning such things as Indian crafts, a native hike and a winner roast, for both the children and the parents.

Registration is open for all children four years and up, with the fee being $5.00 per person. Just take your kids to the arena and they can be registered for a summer filled with fun.

For further information call Donna at 662-3436 or Lynn at 662-2131.

Recreation Report

by Colleen Walker

The softball league came to an end this past week. It seemed our first year went very smoothly with the only problem being parent participation. I know parents are busy, but surely you must have one hour every other week to come out and watch your kids play. It isn't only a few that aren't interested, as fortunately it is the majority. I'm hoping next year you will be certain to make it a point to watch a softball game.

I would like to thank the coaches for their interest and help this season. The following is a list of coaches who volunteered their time: Cheryl Lyons, James Jeffrey, Betty Ann Shewchuk, Debbie Lawson, Doug Voltner, Pat Rinka, Ardith Weiss, Cindy Josephson, Jewel Makar, Dorothy McCartney, Madeline Andrushow, Jane Pepper, Bert Lutz, Christine McKay, Brian O'Toole, Art Neufeld, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Field, Gail Wilkinson and Betty Boer.

I appreciate your help and hope to see you back next year.

The following is a list of winners for our softball league:

10 and Under –
Tofield Grasshoppers

Laurie Moser, Sandra Shewchuk, Vania Eglauer, Jackie McLeod, Cindy Rude, Sharleen Weiss, Helen Weiss, Reeva Robilland, Charleen Drader, Marleen Whillans, Shelly Herlotz, Kim Herlotz, Karry Krystal, Rose Semmens

Coaches: Betty Ann Shewchuk, Ardith Weiss

12 and Under –

PLAYGROUNDS

Stationary playgrounds have started this week and will run until August 26th. Activities include games, arts and crafts, singing, picnics, overnight camping, expeditions, etc. It becomes a long summer for kids, so send them down to the playground. It will be a nice break for the kids and even a better break for you parents.

TRAVELLING PLAYGROUND

The travelling playground visits Prague first for the week of July 11-15. See you Prague kids there!

CAMP

The Camp Lake program is going strong. This week we have 25 girls aged 7-11 years out there enjoying camp life. Be watching next week for a report on some incidents. We still have room for Camp No. 4 Boys only 7-11 years.

Pensions up July 1st

OTTAWA — Increases in the Old Age Security pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and spouse's allowance, effective in July, 1977, were announced June 10 by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde

The new monthly total of the single rate for persons receiving both the basic Old Age Security pension and maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement will be $$$$ 19

For a married couple, both pensioners, the combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement will provide a payment of $477.26 for the couple monthly

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise in July to $167 65 from the present $163 46

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid to pensioners whose income, apart from the Old Age Security pension, is limited The amount of the supplement varies in relation to the amount of income

The Maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner and is not receiving a Spouse's Allowance, will go up in July to $188 14 from its current $180.62. The maximum supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $$1.38 each from $89.36. Added to the basic pension, this will give each married pensioner $298.63 monthly, or a total of $477.26 for the couple.

The Spouse's Allowance is paid to persons between 60 and 65 years of age who are married to Old Age Security pensioners and meet residence requirements Entitlement to a Spouse's Allowance, and amount paid, is based on yearly income

The maximum Spouse's Allowance will increase to $$$$ 81 from $$$$ 81 The maximum Spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and the maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement

THE FARMERS CHARTER

Senator Hazen Argue, chairman of the Senate committee on agriculture, told people at the Manf Grain Interface symposium held at Saskatoon recently, "Removal of the Crow rates would have a devastating effect on the western Canadian farmer Crow rates are a big asset to western Canada. Just as tariffs are to eastern Canada The abolition of the Crow rates would bring a drop of at least 60 cents a bushel that a producer receives for his wheat"

Progressive Farming

FLEABANE BUDWORM MOTH INFESTATION

Farmers in central and eastern Alberta are urged to check their rape crops from now until they start to ripen for diamondback moths.

Hugh Philip, entomologist with Alberta Agriculture's plant industry laboratory, reports that abnormally large numbers of these insects have been seen by Agriculture Canada entomologists in rape crops around Saskatoon, and that there is a good chance they will find, or have found, their way into Alberta. These moths migrate to the Prairie provinces from the United States every year, but this year their numbers are much larger than usual, and their passage towards Alberta has been facilitated by a predominance of south-easterly winds.

Diamondback moths are about three-eighths of an inch long and a dull grey with a diamond pattern down their backs when their wings are folded. The larvae are pale green and approximately half an inch long when fully grown. A typical characteristic is their backward motion when disturbed, and they often suspend themselves from rape plants by a silk-like thread when dropping to the ground.

When the diamondback moth's eggs hatch on rape plants, the larvae burrow into the host and feed on the mesophyll tissue causing small discolored patches to appear. After a few days the larvae emerge and feed on the outer surface of the leaves creating small round holes. If the infestation is very heavy, the larvae will eventually eat all the leaf tissue, either severely retarding the development of the plant or killing it, depending upon its stage of growth.

Mr. Phillip says an insecticide should be applied if rape leaves show severe damage and larvae are in evidence. Products that can be used include Guthion at a rate of 5 ounces active ingredient per acre; Matathion at 5 ounces active ingredient per acre and Dyfonate 6 ounces active ingredient per acre. Mr. Phillip asks rape growers whose crops are in bloom to try to spray early in the morning or late in the evening when bees are not foraging.

Since diamondback moths can produce three generations of young in a season, it is important that repeated growers check their crops every week until they start to ripen.

Alberta Agriculture's entomologists are conducting a survey to find out whether the moths are actually in Alberta, and if so, the severity of the infestation and the size of potential infestation areas. The last large migration occurred in southern Alberta in 1976, but it arrived too late to cause any damage. Because this year's flight could be earlier, the entomologists are keeping a watchful eye on the situation.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR CAMPING

The nutrition and food marketing section of Alberta Agriculture gives the following hints for food preparation when camping.

Make a calendar of the days you'll be out. Count the number of breakfasts, lunches and suppers you'll be eating. Add food for snacks. Figure out a menu for each one and decide on the amount needed. Nutrition counts so check Canada's Food Guide. Don't take too much food.

Take foods that are versatile, and can be eaten in any combination and at any meal. If the label says "keep under refrigeration", don't take it unless you have adequate refrigeration. Go for dried or canned foods instead. For variety and nutrition in your meal, include vegetables such as root vegetables, since they have long keeping properties. Think twice about foods which take over 30 minutes to prepare.

You might try these recipes:

TIN FOIL STEW
Onions
Potatoes
Carrots
Salt, Pepper, Thyme
Butter or Margarine
Luncheon meat, smoked sausage or lunch meat

Take a double thickness of tin foil (18" by 16"). Butter centre 9" by 9" portion. Place thinly sliced onion, potato and carrot (1 each per person) and meat in layers. Butter remainder of foil. Add spices to taste. Wrap well to prevent leakage of juices. Cook on hot coals for approximately 1 hour. Turn frequently to prevent burning and ensure uniform cooking.

CHEESE POT
1 package (3 ounces) cream of chicken soup mix
4 cups water
3 handfuls parboiled brown rice (or more if desired)
1 14-lb. can of green beans (or fresh, if in season)
1-3 pound cheese, cut in ½ inch cubes
3 slices toasted bread

Dilute soup mix with water. Add rice and bring to a boil. Add beans and heat. Add cheese to mixture and cook another five minutes, until cheese is heated but not melted. Serve over toast.

To parboil rice (or any other grain) use 1½ pints water to 1 part grain or rice. Bring to boil, the simmer until water is gone and the grains are separate. Spread out parboiled grain on a cookie sheet and dry in a low heat oven. Don't overdry, just enough to pack well. To use, cook 15 minutes with 1½ cups water to 1 cup parboiled grain.

Happy camping!

Mrs G H Taylor

Mrs Ruth Pederson of Sherwood Park was a guest with Mrs Beth Campbell Tuesday of last week. The Pedersons moved from Camrose to Sherwood Park this spring but Ruth is still teaching in Camrose.

Roy Nichols returned home from a two-week stay in Tofield Hospital, Wednesday afternoon the past week after having treatment for a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mrs Beth Marta of Viking was a Wednesday evening visitor with her aunt, Mrs Beth Campbell, the past week, making arrangements to take a trip to Spirit River and area.

Mrs Carol Chomiak is home after spending a week in Viking Hospital. Her mother, Mrs Clara Shier stayed with the children during her absence.

Alvin Chomiak was in Viking Hospital for a few days the last week having a check-up, returning home Friday morning.

Thursday afternoon of last week, Bethany Campbell of Viking picked up Beth's aunt, Mrs Campbell, driving up to Edmonton where they picked up their daughter, Elaine Mercado and fiance, and drove up to Valleyview where they were all overnight visitors with Mrs Campbell's niece and family, Dorothy and Gene Sigurdson. Then they went to Spirit River visiting with their niece and husband, Connie and Arthur McDougall, also visiting with their daughter and family in the Grande Prairie district. The Marshalls and Mrs Campbell returned home on Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs A. M. Shier recently spent two weeks visiting with relatives in White Rock, B.C., where they attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Clara's sister and husband, Agnes and George Valens. Clara having been her sister's bridesmaid. Also attending the event were Agnes' sister, Esther, Mrs. Joe Fleming and daughter, Iris, of Edmonton. Mr and Mrs Valens, son and wife and daughter, Mr and Mrs Vernie Valens, Mr and Mrs Gordon Berg and son and his sister Martha, with over 40 close friends and relatives calling at the open house in of for their congratulations Mr and Mrs Shier also called on other former Holden area residents, Eric and Alice Carlson, Mr and Mrs Allan Silversides and spent three days in Victoria, visiting Mr and Mrs Ray Olberg, a nephew Mr and Mrs George Valens farmed for a number of years in the southwest area of Holden before retiring from farming in the mid-1940's. They also visited with Mrs Margaret Bruce (nee Roberts of the Poe district) and her two daughters while in Victoria.

Recent visitors for over a week with Mrs Ethel Brekstad were her son Leslie his wife and two daughters. They left last week Mrs Brekstad going along with them to Vancouver where they would visit with her son Ralph Leslie who is with the Canadian Air Force and has been stationed in Ontario had been posted to Tacoma Wash and the family have been getting settled here.

Mrs Melvin Carlson and son Eric left Monday evening from the Edmonton Airport Terminal for Dorchester, Ont where Eric accepted a three week's Dairy Judging and Ballroom Course and Eric Anderson flew from the Ed monton to the Toronto Airport where they boarded a train for Dorchester and visited with Mr and Mrs Robert Brown and family from Dorchester.

The Marshall families of Sherwood Park were callers on his mother Mrs Mary Shukka on Saturday.

Mrs Clara Isaac, who was staying with their daughter and family, Mr and Mrs Alvin Chomiak, has returned home.

Correcting an error in the account last week of Spirits Day parade winners, in the horses with colts section, it should have been Dan and Dale Peake, not Dale Peake.

Mrs Margaret Olsen, Mrs. Irene MacGregor and Mrs. Kathleen Hurum were delegates from the Holden Lutheran Church attending a three-day convention of Lutheran Church Women held in Saskatoon, Sask. The meetings were held in the Education Building of the University of Saskatchewan and the ladies report a very interesting and informative convention.

Sam Brehn, who had been home for a few days after having treatment in an Edmonton hospital, returned for a further check-up.

Barry Scott of Dawson Creek was visiting over the weekend with Miss June Clark, Lloyd and Mrs. Vera Clark, who is their guest for a few weeks. Barry dropped off on his way to Banff on his holidays.

Randy and Wendy Suchy and baby daughter, Kayla Lynn of Edmonton, were weekend visitors with her parents, Cecil and Gwen Hooper.

Mrs. Gwen Hooper is home after spending a week in Viking Hospital for a check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Scott and baby daughter, Tanya, are taking their annual holidays visiting with relatives in the Peace River area and other points and in B.C.

Roy Nichols and Mrs Nichols had his son, Herman Nichols and wife with grandchildren of Penticton, visiting with him the past weekend.

Mr and Mrs Ed Knudsen of the Ryley district, her mother, Mrs Bergman and Mr and Mrs. Sigh Kobayashi of Winfield, B.C., visited with Mr and Mrs. Roy Nichols last week after his return from Tofield Hospital. Other visitors from B.C. were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lobe, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs J. C. MacDonald of Burnaby, B.C., who were guests with Mrs Nichols and Mr MacDonald, with Mrs. Nichols bringing Roy home from hospital last Wednesday afternoon.

The Holden Senior Citizens Group are holding their monthly meeting on Thursday evening, July 14th, to arrange a get-together meeting of other senior citizens in the area.

IN MEMORIAM

KALUZNY In loving memory of a husband and father who passed away July 7.
Softly the leaves of memory fall,
Gently we gather and treasure them all.
Unseen, unheard, he is ever near,
Still loved, still missed, still very dear
Please God forgive a silent fear.
And the constant wish that he was here.
Others are taken, yes we know,
But he was ours, and we miss him so.
Always remembered and sadly missed by wife Nettie and family, Red, Louella, Veronica, Tim and Joanne

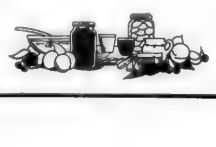
Did you realize that you can home-can without using sugar?

It has always been a general practice to home-can fruits using a sugar syrup - from thin to heavy - depending on the sweetness of the fruit and individual family preferences.

Many homemakers do not realize that the main purpose of using a sugar syrup in home-canning is to sweeten the fruit to taste. Sugar is not a preservative and has nothing to do with the actual canning process. The secret to successful canning is simply sufficient processing time in perfectly sealed air-tight jars. So you can home preserve your fruit without sugar by using water instead of syrup.

The process is the same for unsweetened fruit as for sweetened fruit.

If you would like to save the cost of sugar at home canning time, simply can your B.C. tree fruits without using sugar, as outlined herein, and sweeten them if needed at time of use. If you prefer, you can use sugar substitutes at time of canning as outlined later in this pamphlet.



Sugarless canning process

B.C. tree fruits can be canned in water, in their own or extracted juices, or without water. Juices do give a better flavour and appearance.

Using juice or water

1. Prepare fruit in the usual way, handling it very carefully.
2. Instead of syrup, pour boiling juice or boiling water around the fruit to fill the jars. The juice can be that of the fruit itself, or another unsweetened complementary fruit juice; for example, can B.C. peaches using apple juice.
3. Process as usual, but do not overcook because, without sugar, the fruit will break up more easily.
4. A non-caloric sweetener can be added to the fruit before serving, but should not be cooked in the fruit, as the flavour tends to become bitter upon long storage.
5. To make the juice, cook the less perfect fruit with double the amount of water until soft, mashing the fruit to extract all the juice as it cooks. Press through a sieve to strain; bring juice to a boil and use as in #2 above.

Bigway Superette destroyed in blaze

Debris

All that's left of Bigway Superette in Tofield is a pile of debris after a Saturday morning blaze destroyed the food market along with two other businesses. While the building was a total loss, no one was injured in the fire.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed Big Way Superette in Tofield early Saturday morning with damages estimated at up to $200,000.

The business owned and operated by Bill Siemens and his family and the future of the family is uncertain at this point in time.

The fire is believed to have originated in the attic and although fire departments from Tofield and Ryley tried their best, the structure was burned to the ground.

In addition to the food market, the building also housed an amusement and pin ball area known as Tofield Fun and Games, as well as being the location for Happy Pop.

While the building itself was totally destroyed in the blaze, many of the business' records were salvaged.

The grocery stock was also a total loss despite the fact that some of it was salvaged from the inferno. However, because it was in a fire, it may not be sold as the Department of Health classifies it as being unfit for human consumption.

Owner-operator Bill Siemens would not place a total value on the actual loss from the blaze, although he estimated it to be somewhere between $175,000 to $200,000. Mr. Siemens did indicate that he was covered by insurance.

Mr. Siemens said it was too soon to say what his plans for the future would be as he hadn't had a chance to do any thinking about the matter, as it was too soon after the fire to decide anything.

The Tofield businessman did say that there was a chance that he would rebuild, but didn't want to make any definite commitments in this regard.

While undecided about his future, Mr. Siemens did say that he and his family were not planning of leaving Tofield and were looking forward to a good future in the community.

From the Scrapbook

A great many people these days complain that their work is boring. The tendency is to blame the job for lack of challenge. What usually makes work drudgery, however is a person's attitude not the work itself.

RCMP issue alert about NSF cheques

RCMP in Tofield have issued a warning to businesses to be wary of cheques being cashed without sufficient funds in the bank.

A number of NSF cheques have surfaced in recent weeks, and RCMP are warning businesses in Tofield, Holden and Ryley to be on the lookout when dealing with strangers who want cheques cashed or who are using cheques to cover their purchases.

While issuing the alert to businessmen, RCMP are also advising parents to teach their children to lock up their bicycles when they are not being used.

Each year, bicycles are being reported as missing and investigations have shown that they were not locked. Some bicycle owners are lucky in that they are taken for a ride and then discarded, as was the case with one bicycle found by the RCMP last week. Thieves stripped the wheels and tires from a vehicle owned by Ken Morrissey while it was parked behind the Tofield Legion on Friday. RCMP are investigating. Value of the items taken was estimated at $300.

RCMP are investigating damages to railway signal equipment which occurred on Friday, at Holden, and anyone having information should contact the nearest RCMP Detachment.

Tofield RCMP were able to locate a vehicle which was involved in a hit and run accident in Fort Saskatchewan.

Tofield student is a winning essayist

A Tofield student has been named as one of the winners in an essay contest sponsored by the Battle River Tourist Association.

James Warner finished in third place with his essay entitled "Tourism is Everybody's Business".

Finishing in third place was quite a achievement for the Tofield student as there were over two hundred and fifty (250) entries submitted in the competition.

Judging in the competition was done by three teacher volunteers from Wainwright.

The top two results came from the same school in Camrose. Finishing in first place was Diane Hutchinson while second place went to Nancy Gibson. Both girls attend the Charlie Killam School.

Following is the third place essay submitted for the competition by James Warner of Tofield.

TOURISM IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

As XL-747 manoeuvred his tiny space craft out of the narrow canyon in the Canadian Rockies, he reminisced of his experiences on Earth. He had found his stay both interesting and enjoyable (not necessarily in that order). But, his mission was at its finish, and it was time to return to his planet of Hemothorpolis. XL-747 now had the task of taping an oral report of this mission of the ship's recorder. He set his notes in front of him, pushed the "record" button, and began.

"During my surveillance of the Planet Earth, I have discovered many amazing facts on the inhabitants of this little blue planet. Probably the most outstanding is that the industry of tourism is one of great proportions. It seems that everyone is involved to some degree, from the people who work to keep tourism proceeding to the tourists themselves.

"Among the aspects of worker's tasks, is recycling from a gold (popular) sport on Earth, course maintenance man, to the owner of a large chain of hotels. There are millions of people to be employed. There are people needed to operate service stations. Earthlings are still in the primative automobile stage. It is necessary to hire park and game wardens to patrol and keep in order the numerous parks and refuges that are unspoiled habitats for wildlife. The majority, if not all of these people's jobs, are intended to satisfy and entertain the tourist".

"Everyone on Earth plays the part of the tourist at once time or another. Whether it's going to the nearest city on a shopping spree (which is often done), or on a big game hunt in the jungles of the African continent - it's all tourism".

In terms of money, billions of dollars (the currency most common on Earth) are spent annually on tourism. The tourist may spend in the neighbourhood of five hundred dollars for an airline ticket, to five dollars for an subway souvenir."

"But all of this tourism boils down to one point. Earth beings want to know more about the planet that they live on, and the people who inhabit it. Tourism is probably the greatest medium in helping each person to know of that which is not always within his reach. Tourism gives everyone on Earth a chance to be important."

Garden Club plans project for August

By Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. John Rempel on Monday evening.

The Provincial Horticultural Show, to be held in Sidney Plain on August 13 and 14th, was discussed.

It was decided that the Tofield Garden Club would take a bus to the show on August 13th and plan to attend the banquet that evening.

Any non-members interested in attending the show and traveling with the club members on the bus should contact Yvonne Brown at 662-3861 or Yvonne Jones at 662-2122. Banquet tickets must be spoken for by August 1st.

The Tofield Club is once again entering a club project in the Provincial Show.

It was decided that the project would be worked on at the next meeting which is to be held at 7:00 P.M. on Sunday, August 7th, at the home of Yvonne Brown.

The meeting will end with a pot-luck supper.

Walker to stay

Mostly routine matters were handled at a meeting of the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board at its June meeting.

Board members agreed to retain the services of Colleen Walker as program supervisor until the end of this year.

Miss Walker had originally meant to work only until the end of the summer. In retaining her until the end of the year, the Board agreed that she could have a leave of absence during the month of September.

Membership in the NRARA was renewed.

It was agreed that there would not be a Board meeting in July.

Reports and correspondence were heard in formation for this news item was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on June 28th.

Graduate

Thomas R. Budd, son of Mr and Mrs. Bruce Budd of Holden was among the graduates of the University of Alberta earlier this year when he received his Bachelor of Commerce Degree. He is presently employed with an Edmonton firm and plans to write his C.A. finals in the fall.

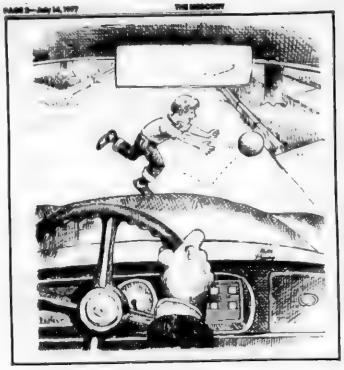
League ends its schedule

The regular schedule in the Highway 14 Fastball League was supposed to come to an end yesterday (Wednesday).

Three games had been scheduled. Ryley Yvone were to play Ryley played in Tofield, and Lindbrook played in Elnora.

In all, the regular scheduled called for a total of forty-two games to be played. Of this total, only nine results have been forwarded to the league statistician.

As a result, information as to what teams are in the playoffs, or when playoff games will be held, is not available.



Nurses were conned

The strike of Alberta's nurses is over insofar as the nurses being back at work is concerned, and insofar as withdrawing their services as an organization is concerned. However, there still remains the business of settling the dispute, and settling it by compulsory acceptance of whatever award is handed down. As far apart as the two sides were, it would take a veritable Solomon to work out a settlement which could make both sides happy.

Nobody wanted the strike, and at least at the local level, we're sure there are a number of very relieved members . . . relieved that they weren't forced to walk off the job, and to picket.

But looking at as much evidence as we've able to gather, we feel the general membership of the nursing association were conned in giving their vote to the strike. Through skillful exploitation of figures, through incomplete information, and even a general lack of information, things were made to look far different than they would really seem to be.

For instance, 1977 figures were used in comparing salaries of nurses in B.C. and Saskatchewan, whereas the 1976 figure was emphasized for Alberta nurses, only the merest mention being given the fact that the six percent offer brought Alberta nearly to (but still ten dollars short of) the Saskatchewan level. When nursing aide salaries were compared to those of nurses, it was not pointed out the figure used was a second year level for aides, and a third year scale for nurses, nor that the aides are frozen at the second year level, while nurses continue to receive increases for five years

No mention was made of the fact that any final adjustment will be retroactive to expiration of the last contract, so the difference in scale will be made up from January.

No mention was made of Manitoba, where the pay scales are almost exactly the figures contained in the five year figure offered Alberta nurses, or that in four of the five years Alberta was from one to ten dollars ahead of Manitoba, while in the fifth year, Alberta surpasses even Saskatchewan, again. It's only a few dollars, but it would seem this figure is the one which sets the level of future salary expectations, and most of us would want the highest springboard into the future, rather than the highest minimum.

More than this, much was made of the traditional differential between nurses and aides, and once again, only selected figures were used. Ignored was the fact that only Saskatchewan maintains a broader differential as the scales move progressively into the fifth year, and it is only the orderlies who are on a higher scale in Saskatchewan who manage to bring about that situation.

One nurse, from one of the seven hospitals actually struck, told us she felt her association had given her very little information about the problems in negotiations, and the difference, or the final reason for the strike vote being requested. In fact, she said, she had gained more information after the fact through reading the newspaper, than had been given her by her association

We're not suggesting that nurses aren't entitled to an increase . . . far from it. Especially when someone is sick, they're pearls without price. But when it comes to invoking a strike, there's a major obligation to be responsible, to be informed And when the figures . . . all the figures . . . are spread on the table, we don't feel the differences were large enough to strike over

We're not blaming the nurses for not being informed; after all, who knows what their pay really amounts to? All most of us know is the number of dollars left over after all the deductions. The deductions are relatively meaningless to most workers, because they never see that money, they never get a chance to count it. But it's real and meaningful enough to the employer who has to pay it. We all feel we're worth more than we're getting, and it's easy enough to make people believe they're not getting enough, that somebody else is getting a better deal.

Under circumstances like these, it's a mighty good thing the government called it an essential service, and stepped in. We believe the nurses were conned.

Westerners want Quebecers "in"

. . . Mazankowski finds

Vegreville M P Don Mazankowski today released the results of a questionnaire which he sent to all his constituents in May of this year. The response to the questionnaire was overwhelming, with a return of about 25 per cent This compares to the expected return on a mailed questionnaire of only 5 to 10 percent Mr Mazankowski attributed the large response to a desire of people to have a say in the crucial issues facing Canada today The major section of the questionnaire dealt with the topics of Quebec, bilingualism, and national unity Other sections solicited views on the economy, the metric system, and abortion laws The results are as follows

(c) Quebec should become a separate political entity with some form of economic arrangement with Canada? Yes 4.5, No 79 6, No opinion 15 9

(d) If none of the previous, what is your opinion?

5 How do you think the question of Quebec's future in Confederation should be handled?

(a) 18.7 a referendum in Quebec,

(b) 57.2 a national referendum involving all Canadians,

(c) 8.7 without a referendum,

(d) 6.2 other

6 Recent Quebec government proposals confirm that province's rejection of bilingualism and commits it to being totally unilingual French Do you feel this will harm national unity?

Yes 76.6 , No 12.0, No opinion 9 4,

7. Do you feel the federal government's bilingual policies have

(a) 18.4 served to unite Canada

(b) 61.6 served to divide Canada

(c) 19 8 no opinion

8. Do you feel that bilingualism should be further advanced in all parts of Canada?

Yes 35.7; No 64.6 ; No opinion 8.8

9 If yes, by what means do you feel this can be most effectively carried-out

(a) 48.5 greater emphasis on language studies in our school system

(b) 6 4 greater emphasis on government language training programs for public servants

(c) 34.6 greater emphasis on both of the above.

(d) 13 9 other

ECONOMY

1. Do you believe the Prices and Incomes control program has helped to curb inflation?

Yes 45.3, No 41.4; No opinion 13.3

2. Do you feel the Controls program

(a) 21 4 should be discontinued immediately?

(b) 18.3 should be continued for a period of 1 to 2 years?

Yes 43.0, No 43.1, No opinio 13 9.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

(OTTAWA – (SF) — The lambasting received by Canada's penitentiaries system last month demonstrated dramatically how effective members of Parliament can be when given the opportunity

Mark MacGuigan, who chaired the subcommittee of 12 other MPs from all parties, should be congratulated for the non-partisan approach he took to the investigation and every member of the committee deserves credit for an excellent job

Not only does the report touch all bases in examining the way we punish criminals, but the style is extremely readable and forceful Conventional wisdom would suggest that the government, now close to an election, might shy clear of such a potentially explosive political issue as prison reform To ignore this report would be criminal in itself

The approach sought by the committee can best be described as the velvet glove a mailed fist Evidence is presented to back the claim that many of the inmates of Canadian prisons should not be behind bars, rather they should be working to pay off debts to individuals or to their communities They could be better reformed and society better served if they were outside being useful The committee also seeks standardized regulations for penitentiaries and distribution of those rules to inmates so they know where they stand

For the bad actors which are part of any prison system, the committee wants to see work camps established in isolated areas The establishment of a prison industry is also requested, with inmates being paid competitive wages, which could be used to aid in family support These who refused to work would be treated as a disciplinary matter

Lack of training in correctional officers and the deplorable state of the guards at many institutions was cited as the major penitentiaries problem in Canada, which could be rectified, in the view of the committee, by stringent recruiting requirements and taking the penitentiary service out of the public service union jurisdiction

In reading the report, I didn't find one recommendation with which I disagreed The question now is how long it will take the government to act, and how much of the report is translated into legislation There will be no excuses for inaction, because the report has support from all parties

Powerline's playoffs have gotten underway

Playoffs in the Powerline Baseball League got underway yesterday (Thursday) on two fronts as the regular schedule came to an end last week.

Camrose Readrunners hosted Bardo in one game while Ryley played in Holden in the other semi-final opener Games will be played in Bardo and Ryley tomorrow (Thursday) evening and will return to Camrose and Holden on Tuesday, if needed, in this best two out of three series.

Camrose finished the regular schedule in first place as they lost only one game while being held to a tie in another They won their final game of the season in Round Hill as they thumped the home team 16-6.

B. Swanson picked up the win while Salzes was tagged with the loss D Swanson had a perfect four for four performance, including a home run, to pace the Readrunners' attack. Redsnapp was three for five while G. Stang slugged a home run.

In the other game played, Ryley and Holden fought to a 5-5 stalemate, causing a three-way tie for second place between Ryley, Holden and Bardo.

League officials used game results and runs scored against each other to decide the final standings with Holden taking second, followed by Ryley with Bardo in fourth spot

Tofield won only two games during the schedule while Round Hill was winless in all ten starts with both teams finishing out of the playoffs.

Camrose Readrunners went to Round Hill on Saturday for a tournament and took top honours as they went undefeated in three straight games.

In an exciting contest, Readrunners edged Round Hill 4-3 in their opening round as D Swanson went all the way to pick up the win while Strickland was charged with the loss. The semi-finals only went five innings as Camrose walloped Tofield 13-3 Bateman got credit for the victory with Anderson being tagged with the loss

Camrose and Bardo tangled in the finals with Camrose coming out on top 7-3 as Nelson tossed shutout ball for the first six innings to pick up the win W Mueller was charged with the loss

Nelson aided his own cause at the plate as he batted three for three with one of his hits being a home run.

B Swanson assisted as he went two for three while B Sawchuk belted a home run Ron Feenhoug led the losers as he went two for three Mazankowski wins on amendment . . .

. . . to Air Canada Act

OTTAWA. . . Don Mazankowski, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Vegreville issued the following statement today regarding the acceptance of his amendment to the Air Canada Act discussed at Transport Committee last night.

"I am very pleased that the majority of Members in the Standing Committee on Transportation and Communications approved my amendment to Bill C-33 whereby the tabling of the Annual Report of Air Canada would automatically be referred to the appropriate Standing Committee for consideration. As it is now, while the report is tabled, it is contingent upon the Minister to refer such report to the respective Committee to trigger any action. Air Canada has not appeared before the Committee since November 1973 - and that was only to appear as a witness on legislation regarding the Canadian National Railway.

"The insertion of this new provision does not automatically mean that Air Canada would be called before the Parliamentary Committee, but rather it would now be in the hands of the Committee to decide whether to seize the opportunity to examine the Annual Report.

"The amendment was based on a precedent established under Section 26 of the Statutory Instruments Act which refers to the scrutiny by Parliament of statutory instruments. Also, Joe Clark, leader of the Opposition, established a second precedent in 1974 wherein any proclamation under the provisions of the National Parks Act would be automatically referred to the Standing Committee on Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

"We have heard much about the fact that we are experiencing a crisis of confidence in terms of the support for our Parliamentary institutions, a crisis of confidence in the manner in which governments and Crown corporations are administering the affairs of the nation, in particular, the AECL and Pelyar situations as revealed by the Auditor General.

"By the acceptance of this amendment I think it is in the interest of strengthening the supremacy of Parliament by making a Crown corporation accountable to the people of Canada through Parliament."

HOW MANY MILES ARE YOUR CHILDREN GOOD FOR

It's holiday time If your vacation plans include long distance driving you might be interested in some travel games Parents are usually content to enjoy the scenery but children are soon bored CATEGORIES

First player chooses a category-for example, Country-and each player in turn, clockwise around the car, must then name a different type of flower

The first player might say, "rose" the next player "tulip" and following player "daffodil." Players who, at times, are cars, can't think of a different flower or else repeat one already given drop out of the game, and the winner (the last player able to name a different example) selects the next category

Possible categories are farm animals, cars, the 10 states, ceiers, fruits, television programs, relatives or anything else your family can dream up.

ONCE UPON A TIME

This is an especially good game for the very young, although an all-adult version can provide fascinating late-night fun

The first player starts off by saying "Once upon a time

The next player then takes up the story by adding a phrase or sentence For example, "Once upon a time there was a cowboy." Each player in turn continues the sentence it is fair, with older children to try to make it hard for the next player to continue the story For example, the third player in the above game might have added, "But he was shot dead by the sheriff." To keep the story going, the Dnext player might say, " But he was rushed to a hospital, and after a heart transplant he was as good as new

MYSTERY GUEST

There are no ways to play this game, one easy enough for young children, and another that can provide a real challenge for older children and adults

In the simpler version the player who is "it" pretends to be a "mystery guest" — someone like Santa Claus or Grandfather or the little kitten that lives next door Other players, asking questions in turn, try to find out who the mystery guest is Questions like "Do you live on our street?" or "Do you have a long white beard?" will help steer young children onto the right track

The player who identifies the mystery guest is "it" in the next game With older children and adults the mystery guest may be any well-known personality living, dead, or fictional

These games are read aids Nothing physical is involved that might distract the driver's attention. The driver can play too as no game requires that eyes over be taken off the road Playing along can help combat driving fatigue

Planning history of Bawlf

Plans are being made to print a new history book with material gathered from the districts of Oak Park, Glen stone and Hartland, near Bawlf

Accounts of any families who were missed in histories of Bawlf will be welcomed.

The project will be sponsored by the Good Deed Club, and is being coordinated by Mrs Olgar Nelson and Helen Landrath, who say that all pictures and historic accounts will be gratefully accepted.

The Community Association had its annual fair weather fair on the annual picnic area on Saturday, which was followed by a dance in the evening. The response was a little disappointing and failed to achieve a financial success, although the event was enjoyable for those that did get themselves away from gardens, haymaking and home building.

The County Fair is getting closer, and Roberta Bains would like to hear from all who are hoping to exhibit craft work. Roberta's house was beaming with housequests on the weekend, with her son and family, Keith and Michelle Tiedeman, from the Cold Lake Airforce Base, and niece, Mary Merrin from Kamloops

The next meeting of the Community Association will be held at the Hall on Monday at 8:00 P M.

CAMP CHATTER - by Carol Lynn Hallmann

Despite a few rainy days, 34 girls between the ages of 7-11 enjoyed themselves at Camp Lake with activities such as canoeing, hiking, swimming, games and crafts Indoor fishing was written by our pet camp mouse

Dear Gooner

Guess what! Monday 24, good-looking girls came to Camp Lake in a big yellow monster During the week, they got to go swimming, canoeing, and even hiking One day, they collected wood and painted them blue, white and red Know what they did one morning? All came trooping to the table in pajamas The funniest thing was a couple of nights ago when they came out of the tents wearing their clothes backwards Even their shoes were on the wrong feet

Friday, the yellow monster picked up the giggling girls and is it ever quiet. Will write and tell you what sorts of things the next group does.

Say hello to Aunt Martha.

Your cousin,

Homer.

Are the senior citizens ready to come out to Camp Lake during July 25-29?

CLC is expecting record enrolment

Camrose Lutheran College is expecting a record enrolment of full time students when the college opens its doors in the fall

Members of the Board of Regents, at a meeting over the past weekend, were told that the Admissions Department expected approximately 450 students to enrol for fulltime courses, which would be an all-time high.

During its two-day meeting on Friday and Saturday, the Board of Regents approved a number of appointments, both academic and administrative.

Dr Johannes Vanderlaan was named as assistant professor of physics while Dr. Chester Olson was named as associate professor of psychology and Dr Francis Pulfer was named to a sessional appointment in sociology

At the same time, Rev James Rasmussen was named as college chaplain while Mrs. Valerie Fielding was appointed to the staff on a part-time basis to teach two courses in French

In its new administrative structure, the college has three divisional chairmen who include Dr Morley Rieke in science, Don Myrehaug in social sciences and David Dahle in humanities in making the administrative appointments, the Regents also announced that Dr Bayard Renner was re-appointed to a three-year term as registrar and associate dean

James Neff was promoted to the rank of full professor Mr Neff has been on staff for sixteen years with his choral compositions being recognized on an international level

Two other full-time administrative positions were approved for the coming year The positions of director of student services and director of residence life will be filled at a later date

Killam is set

Plans are rapidly being finalized for the Killam Lions annual baseball tournament

Eight teams will be trying for the Labatt's Trophy and the five thousand dollars ($5,000) in prize money when they take to the field on Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24

Red Deer M and K Generals are the defending tournament champions, having won the crown for the past three years in a row This year, the team is composed of Americans and is playing exhibition and tournament games, and are not competing in a league

A touring college team from Rapid City will be a second entry while Red Deer Borders and Edmonton Tigers of the Alberta Major Baseball League will also be entered

Four other unnamed teams will fill out the roster

Generals entered

The Red Deer M & K Generals are alive and well and will be going to Killam later this month

The Generals are the defending Killam Lions Club baseball tournament champions, having won the tournament for three stright years.

M & K Generals used to be in the Alberta Major Baseball League, but withdrew this year in favor of playing tournament and exhibition ball They just recently returned from a thirteen game exhibition tour in Alaska

The 10th annual tournament will be held in Killam on Saturday and Sunday July 23rd and 24th with eight teams seeking the $5 000 in prize money and the Labatt's Trophy

Organizers have announced the first four teams to be accepted for this year's tournament besides the Generals will be Red Deer Borders and Edmonton Tigers of the AM BL and a college team from Rapid City

The other four entries are expected to be announced with the next week

PINK EYE IN CATTLE

Pink eye, the common name for an infectious eye disease in cattle of all ages, can occur at any time of the year, but is most prevalent in the summer when flies and dust aid in its transmission.

Dr Frank Baker, Alberta Agriculture's beef cattle extension veterinarian, says the discomfort and debilitating effect of pink eye undoubtly results in considerable loss of mild and meat production in an infected herd.

Occuring in most countries of the world, this disease is caused by a bacterium (Moraxella bovis). Dr Baker says it is very important to isolate affected animals in the early stages of an outbreak because of the contagious nature of the disease Early signs include watering of the infected eyes and inflamed eyelids and "whites" of the eyes, hence the term pink eye. Pink eye can occur in one or both eyes. As the disease progresses, a cloudiness appears on the eyeball. This cloudiness can vary in color from white to yellow and may develop into an ulcer. In severe cases, the eyeball becomes cone-shaped and may rupture causing blindness

According to Dr Baker, when treated early, pink eye usually responds well to antibiotic preparations. He says that ointments and lotions are preferable to powders because the latter often causes irritation The medication should be applied at least once a day and preferably two or three times a day Treatment is longer and more difficult when the eyeball has become cloudy or ulcerated In these cases, veterinarians frequently inject an antibiotic and cortisone under the eyelids.

"The importance of shielding the eye from sunlight," says Dr Baker, "is part of the treatment that should not be overlooked." It can be done by confining the animal, or animals, indoors or by putting a patch over the affected eye These are commercial patches, similar to those worn by human beings, on the market, but many cattlemen use a piece of cardboard. It should be large enough to completely cover the eye and be attached to the upper eyebrow with "bull cement" (the term used by cowboys for the glue that is used to put the tags on the backs of cattle at auction markets) Although an animal often rubs the patch off in a few days, it usually stays on long enough to help the eye to heal.

Among the factors that make cattle susceptible to pink eye are a deficiency of vitamin A, dust, flies, strong sunlight, wind, tall grass and anything else that tends to irritate or injure the eye. Dr. Baker recommends doing everything possible to minimize these conditions The fact that infected animals can remain carriers for more than a year makes the elimination of pink eye difficult, if not impossible

Arnold and Deanna Nelson and daughters Sherry and Susan motored to Manistone, Sask. on July 3rd to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Deanna's grandmother and step-grandfather, Stote Also attending from here were Deanna's sister, Gail and Ron McAdam and little daughter Michelle Arnold and Deanna and girls returned home the same evening

Ron and Gail and Michelle spent the weekend at the home of Ron's parents, Mr. and Mrs McAdam at Marwayne, returning home July 3rd

Several from this district attended the open house in the Tofield Community Hall on July 3rd in honor of Mr and Mrs. Metry Shepenski's 50th Golden Wedding Anniversary. Their family sponsored the open house and all their children were home for the occasion Namely, Mary and Ollie Luskas and family of Edmonton, Edith Shepenski also of Edmonton, Martha and her husband of New Westminister, and Nancy Shepenski of Vancouver, also present were many former residents and neighbors as well as several relatives and friends from distant points in the province.

Rain fell on the district with a heavy rain fall on July 5th and continued showers during the week.

July 13th

Brian Eaton and his Cousin Ronnie Eaton and Ronnie's friend Jim Wegren of Fort McMurray, arrived July 5th at the home of Brian's and Ronnie's grandmother, Ellen Eaton, leaving for home again Wednesday after dinner The Eaton families have been holidaying at Beaver Lake, near Lac La Biche and the boys motored down from there, returning to the same place before all returned to Fort McMurray on the weekend Several relatives were also camping there with them.

Arnold and Deanna Nelson and daughters Sherry and Susan motored to Prince George, B.C., on July 5th where they visited their son Clay Nelson, also Arnold's sister Carol and Sam While there, they visited the ghost town of Barkersville and found it very interesting. They returned home on Saturday.

Miss Sandra McAdam of Marwayne came on July 3rd to stay with her brother Ron and Gail McAdam and look after their little daughter Michelle while they are at work. She left for home July 12th Gail's sister Deanna Nelson has returned home from holidays will once again look after her neice

Ellen Eaton was an Edmonton visitor on Monday and after having treatment at the University Hospital, she spent the afternoon visiting her brother Johnston Campbell at the Grandview Auxiliary Hospital before returning home by bus the same night

Sorry, but folks seem to be too busy to report news at present Anyone with news for this district, if I haven't contacted you will you please phone your news items to 662-2353

Plans nearly set for Heritage Day

With just a month to go, plans are moving into high gear in connection with the Heritage Day Celebrations to take place at Dried Meat Hill, southeast of Camrose, on Monday, August 1, 1977

High-light of the event will be a pageant which will re-enact the signing of Treaty No. 6 which took place one hundred years ago. This is now being written by Elsie Park-Gowan, a well known Canadian author, who once lived in the Bawlf area. Actors and costumes will be rounded up in Camrose by Glen Lett, Principal of Camrose Composite High School.

This feature along with a number of other items will make up the afternoon program being put together by Omer Broughton of Edmonton and Beth Lawson of Donalda.

A myriad of other matters have to be planned in preparation for the large crowds expected to attend. Gordon Stromberg of New Norway and Kurt Pilger of Heather Bros make up the Grounds Committee; and working in conjunction will be Phill Link of Camrose who is heading the Parking Committee His assistant will be Len Dutton of Killam

Mrs Hartman, chairman of the "Food Committee" advises that the Heather Bros groups will operate a concession booth during the day

A number of awards will be made to the oldest pioneers in attendance, and this is being planned by Beth Lawson of Donalda

In charge of arranging a Public Address System, and also preparing for a Giant Bon-Fire in the evening is Ken Alexander, also of the Heather Brade District.

Dr. J. R. Stan Hambly of Camrose who reports "beautiful co-operation" has arranged for First Aid and Ambulance Service during the day. James Howland and Lawrence Kalhan both of Camrose will be in the act in this department.

Beth Lawson of Donalda and Alf Vikse of Camrose are taking care of erecting several direction signs in the vicinity. Actually, Dried Meat Hill is not difficult to find. From Highway 13 east of Camrose, you go eight miles south on Secondary Road 856 and then west. Alternatively you can go south from Highway 13 on the Dried Meat Lake Road to Tillicum Beach and then east It's probably the highest landmark within a forty mile radius, and affords a most beautiful view of the country in all directions

Plans call for the participation of Lt. Gov. Ralph Steinhauer, a number of Native Indians in costume from several bands, and members of the R.C.M.P. in scarlet uniforms

People intending to attend are reminded to bring their own plates, cups, cutlery, picnic lunch and folding chairs or blankets Everybody is urged to come in costume — the closet to the period 100 years ago the better. A buckskin jacket would be a natural!

Crops remain unchanged

Little change was experienced in crop conditions last week despite the fact that rain was general throughout the area.

Crops in two areas continued to deteriorate while two other areas showed some improvement with other areas staying basically unchanged

Holden received only seven millimeters of rain with the condition of the crops dropping noticeably while crops in the Camrose region continued their decline despite receiving 38 millimeters of rain.

Improvement was shown in Round Hill and Ryley regions while Hay Lakes and Tofield remained relatively unchanged, according to the Alberta Wheat Pool Reports from Daysland and New Norway were not received prior to prestime

Crop conditions in Hay Lakes are about the best at about ninety percent normal, ranging in height from five to twelve inches

Slight improvement was noted in Round Hill where crops are now reported in the 75-80 percent normal range for this time of year, ranging in height from eight to sixteen inches Improvement is expected to continue

With only a slight rain falling last week, crops in Holden continued their downward trend, dropping from a 90-95 percent normal range down to 80-80 percent normal With the decline expected to continue unless rain falls in the region Height of crops ranges from seven to 30 inches

Only slight improvement was noted in the Ryley area where condition of crops now is from 80-85 percent as compared to 75-85 percent a week ago Improvement is expected to continue as crops range in height from 12 18 inches

Crops around Camrose continued their downward spiral last week as they are reported in the 75-85 percent normal range, compared to 70-80 percent a week ago Height of crops range from six to 18 inches

Conditions around Tofield remained relatively unchanged with crops staying at eighty percent normal, ranging in height from 10-19 inches

Crops in New Norway had been reported at 90 percent normal a week ago while Dayland's crops ranged between 70-80 percent normal with that report also a week old

Acts 4:13, They took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

Walking in intimate fellowship with the Lord will change our lives and make us like Him. In Acts 4:13, we read that the members of the Sanhedrin took knowledge of the disciples that they had been with Jesus. His Spirit was clearly reflected in their character throughout His ministry. The Christian Herald once carried an article about a senior executive of one of the largest banks in New York City.

He told how he had risen to a place of prominence and influence At first he served as an office boy Then one day the president of the company called him aside and said, "I want you to come into my office and be with me each day." The young man replied, "But what could I do to help you sir? I don't know anything about finances."

"Never mind that. You will learn what I want to teach you a bit later I will start you on my side and keep your eyes and ears open!"

"That was the most significant experience of my life," said the now famous banker "Being with that wise man made me just like him. I began to do things the way he did and that accounts for what I am today."

In a far deeper sense we can be instructed and enriched by maintaining a close fellowship with the Lord Jesus. Through meditation, prayer and obedience to Him, we will gradually take on those qualities that characterized the Savior.

4-H'ers raise funds for quarter section

Alberta's 4-H clubs are busy this summer raising money to buy 160 acres of land on Battle Lake, about 35 miles south-west of Edmonton.

The property will cost $80,000, and the 4-H Foundation of Alberta was formed earlier this spring to collect donations from 4-H clubs and others across the province. Since the beginning of this year, the clubs have raised $50,000 by a variety of activities. They included running bingo sales, fashion sales, bottle drives, antique sales, community suppers, talent shows, shave auction sales where club members are auctioned off for a day's work on a nearby farm, and many other unique events. Some members of the 4-H beef clubs have even pledged a percentage of the money they will receive when they sell their animals.

According to the chairman of the 4-H Foundation of Alberta's board of directors, Allan Shenfield, the foundation plans to take possession of the Battle Lake property on September 1st and to hold a province-wide rally on September 4th to celebrate the 60th anniversary of 4-H in Alberta.

P.E.I. visitors

Ryley council opposes Holden seniors' lodge

Council of the Village of Ryley has decided to oppose to the setting up of a senior citizens lodge in the Village of Holden.

Councillors were reacting to a letter received from the Beaver Foundation in opposing a senior citizens lodge in Holden, councillors pointed out that the present lodge in Tofield is operating at a [illegible].

It was decided that the village should negotiate with the County of Beaver for the equiping of the new fire engine. It was felt that the county should oblige as the village shared costs of [illegible] the county's fire engine.

Three readings were given to a by-law which authorized the sale of three lots to Wheras Holdings Ltd for a total of six thousand dollars.

Councillors were shown a sample copy of a brochure promoting the Village of Ryley, which is to be printed by Development Council No 4. A motion approving the printing of the brochure was passed.

Members were told, in a letter from Census and Households Survey Field, that the amended 1976 population for the village had been increased by three persons, up to 422.

Quotations were received from three firms for supplying the village with a copy making machine. After Mayor Baker indicated that various machines might be available from the County of Beaver, councillors decided to postpone any decision on purchasing until the county's machines are checked.

Administration was authorized to purchase curtains and rods for the Village Office, as well as a metal coat, hat and rubber rack.

It was decided that the three boosters located in the village office should be offered for sale. As well, an offer to purchase the old door in the village fire hall was accepted.

Council agreed to negotiate with an automobile dealership for the sale of a number of lots as the dealership is interested in locating within the village.

Approval of the minutes of two regular meetings and one special meeting were approved while minutes of a second meeting were recorded as information only as it was declared as "no meeting".

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a special meeting of village council held on June 22nd.

Family terrorized

An Edmonton man has been charged with three different counts after he terrorized a farm family early last Thursday morning.

The man was charged with dangerous discharging of a firearm, forcible confinement, and break and enter. The incident from which the charges stem were reported to have occurred on a farm south of Tofield.

RCMP in Tofield are investigating the theft of a large compressor which was stolen from the site of the former Bigway Store.

The theft was discovered on Sunday. Bigway Supersite was completely destroyed by fire a short time ago, and the compressor was one of the few valuable items that had been salvaged from the wreckage.

RCMP assisted in getting Robert Schmidt of Holden to hospital in Viking last Wednesday after he suffered severe burns to both hands while trying to extinguish a fire in a car.

4-H Horse Club holds its "Achievement Day"

The Ryley-Holden 4-H Horse Club held a highly successful "Achievement Day" recently at the Holden Complex, followed by a banquet in Ryley.

Six members of the club were honoured for having achieved all five of their goals sought during the past season. They were Eileen Hisey, Lyle Albrecht, Donna Lynn Lehr, Darlene Helgeland, Linda Mackay and Lorna Grinde.

Feted for missing out on only one objective were club members Pam Sinclair, Michelle Hisey, Yvonne Scherger, Moira Hisey, Michael Lutze and Jody Lutze while Kathy Hisey was mentioned for only missing out on two projects.

The showsbowmanship award, presented by Irwin Automotive of Ryley, was won by Lyle Albrecht while Michelle Hisey finished in second place and Jody Lutze finished third.

The grooming competition and the Ryley Lions Club award was won by Linda Mackay with Lyle Albrecht finishing in second spot while Pamela Sinclair was third and Kathy Hisey was fourth.

The most improved member award, donated by Don and Bev Foss of Ryley, was earned by Lorna Grinde. Finishing in the runner-up position was Eileen Hisey while Linda Mackay finished in third place.

The senior speaking competition and the Custom Maintenance of Holden award was presented to Lorna Grinde.

Linda Mackay was the winner of the Holden and District Agricultural Society award for finishing in first place in the junior public speaking competition.

The best set of record books was kept by Linda Mackay, who was presented with an award from the Holden Branch of the Royal Bank.

Taylor retires

A surprise luncheon was held at Tofield school on Thursday for Mrs Majorie Taylor who has been on the custodian staff for nearly 11 years.

Mrs Ann Jones presented her with a lovely corsage, after everyone had partaken of the delicious cold luncheon.

The master of ceremonies, Floyd Irwin, gave a brief talk of Marjorie's working years at the school. He then called on Dr Neil Gannon to make the presentation of the traditional plaque from the County of Beaver.

Floyd Irwin then presented a crystal bowl from the teachers of the Tofield School. Mrs Helen Lindsay presented a gold watch on behalf of the past and present custodians and librarian. Mrs Blakley and secretary, Mrs Faye Dodds and F. Hullcutt.

Gifts were also received from her daughter-in-law, Mrs Ann Taylor and Mrs Bert Appleby who were present at the luncheon.

Gardeners attend 'provincial' show

by Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club plan to take a bus tour to the Provincial Horticulture Show in Stoney Plain on August 13.

Plans have been made to attend the banquet in the evening. Any members of the Garden Club or non-members who would like to attend the banquet must contact Theresa [illegible] at 662-2182 or Yvonne Brown at 662-3851 as soon as possible, as banquet tickets must be spoken for by Aug. 1st.

While in Stoney Plain, the Garden Club members will also tour Harold Seibert's Miniature Greenhouse, featuring rare and [illegible] plants from all over the world.

Plans are to arrive at the Greenhouse at 2 p.m. and then proceed to the Provincial Show at 4 p.m. and then to attend the banquet in the evening.

There will be room on the bus for non-members as well, and anyone wishing to go should make plans now.

Camrose and Holden win playoff openers

Camrose Rondrunners and Holden have taken early leads in the semi-finals in the Powerine Baseball League.

Both teams won their home openers on Thursday evening with the second games in the best of three series having been scheduled for yesterday (Tuesday) in Bardo and Ryley.

If third games are needed, they will be played in Camrose and/or Holden. If Camrose and Holden emerged with victories last night the finals could get underway tomorrow in Camrose. In any event, the finals will definitely get underway Tuesday at the home of the winning team finishing highest in the standings.

Holden edged Ryley 1-0 in Holden as Bob Lynis outdueled Elston Solberg in one of the best pitched games in the league this year.

In Camrose, the Rondrunners had little trouble disposing of Bardo Athletics by a score of 7-3.

Schoenbacht went the distance to pick up the victory while Bob Foshaug went the route for the losers.

Schoenbacht aided his own cause as he hit two for three as did teammate Barry Swanson and Ken Stauffer of the losers. Brent Sawchuk of the winners was two for four.

Around the town

Julian and Louise Schabel (nee Moore) and baby girl visited with the Moore family on Sunday and Monday. Glen and Claudia and son Kevin also came for a visit from Edmonton.

Mrs. J.A.L. Smith spent Friday at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Mr and Mrs Henry Penner of Matsqui, B.C. have been visiting relatives and friends in Tofield.

Born to Rev and Mrs. John Ureau, a son, Brian David, nine pounds, 11 ounces. Marlene's mother from Black Creek is visiting while Marlene is in hospital.

A nice afternoon was had by all during a shower held for Joan Price who is getting married in August.

Kathy and Dale Brown (nee Mae) from Ontario visited for a few days last week at the Moore homes. Kathy is a niece of John and Wayne Moore and a granddaughter of Mary Moore.

The family of Mrs. Mary Rempel Sr. had a family reunion at the Alderwoods School on Sunday. Forty-one children, grandchildren and great grandchildren attended. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Penner of Matsqui, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Ron Penner from Cranbrook, B.C. Mr and Mrs. Armond Alprecht from Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Wiens from Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rempel and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Dick of Edmonton.

Credit where due

A recent press release from the Anti-Inflation Board was disturbing in that it tended to take a good deal of credit for the fact that the cost of living rose so little during the year, mainly, as they point out, because food costs less in Canada than it did a year earlier. It then went on to claim that the anti-inflation program can take some credit for it, because, contrary to claims by some critics, the AIB does in fact "control" food prices.

While the prices at the farm gate are not controlled, it points out, all other marketing, processing and distribution related price increases are closely watched.

Bully for them. But the big factor is that prices at the farm gate are being controlled. Very definitely. But the governing factor is the federal government's insistence on continuing the import of cheap beef from other countries, of allowing large quotas of pork to come in, and similar actions directly designed to keep prices of domestic products as low as they can be driven.

Actually, we can agree with the AIB's claim that their action in monitoring wholesale prices, and profits, and forcing rollbacks in certain areas, is having a beneficial effect on the prices consumers are paying for their produce. But we think they're highly unfair in claiming such major impact as lower food prices, when this reduction is entirely at the expense of the producer. The wholesalers, the distributors, the handlers, the shippers, the packers, the canners, have all had their increase controlled though it may be. Alone among them all taking less for his product than he got a year ago is the producer.

When the day comes that the producer receives an increase comparable to that of other industries, and this is swelled and spiralled by the progressive markups, margins, and profits of the other members of the chain, the AIB will have to run for cover.

But even at that, we doubt if the consumer would have to pay a really larger percentage of his inflated pay to buy his groceries than he used to.

Wanted, equity at home

Western Canadians are almost insured to paying more for products from Central Canada than they command on the markets there, but most times we feel we shouldn't have to pay more for products produced right here.

It's no wonder, then, that a number of farmers throughout the province feel pretty put out over fertilizer prices which seem almost to be based on the concept that you can't get it cheaper anywhere else.

We're told of farmers in the district, for instance, who have to pay $210 a ton for fertilizer produced a short distance from here, and delivered to the Camrose warehouse, whereas the "same" product can be trucked all the way up here from Idaho, and delivered to the farm in this district for $160. The product seems to be identical, and they're even convinced it's produced in the same plant, trucked down to Idaho, and then sold at prices substantially below the Canadian level, for a major saving to the farmer. If the American price produces a profit, think what the Canadian price must show.

It's not an isolated instance, either. Some time ago we asked the representative of a co-operative fertilizer plant fertilizer why his product sold for less in the States than it did to owner-customers on this side of the line, and we could hardly believe that he could accept the lack of logic in his own statement that, since the plant produced such a small proportion of the Canadian market, there was no point in it trying to cut prices for the little bit it could market. But surely, that's the major motivating force in establishing a co-operative in the first place!

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA (CP) — The great CBC crime probe dependably sure stirred up a hornet's nest in the capital. Government claims that nothing was revealed which is new to police, are themselves alarming, because if that kind of operation is taking place, there should be a concentrated effort to do something about it.

Justice Minister Ron Basford's pose to the opposition is that the revised wiretapping bill, and those arm police is come better with organized crime is a pretty thin case. After all, it was the Trudeau government which passed the original wiretap legislation, later found to be too restrictive on police but can't claim the rule of law and order protector very convincingly.

The area exposed by the CBC which really is inexcusable, though, is the apparent passyivist treatment of former Hong Kong policemen who were allowed into Canada with tens of millions of dollars allegedly collected through corruption.

When Manpower and Immigration Minister Bud Cullen was asked questions about the Hong Kong policemen, he didn't have any answers, despite the fact that B.C. Ary Bill Clarke brought the situation up in Parliament 18 months ago. The government didn't have answers then, and it still didn't have them when the crime documentary redisclosed the case. Neither could Cullen supply answers about allegations against immigration staff.

Solicitor General Francis Fox had the best government argument against a Royal Commission on organized crime when he said that public investigation would create lots of sensationalism, but would hamper police in their operations. Even his argument, though, falls apart when he concedes that the police of Canada are not winning the war against organized crime but losing.

If that is the case - and Fox should know — there is a vital need for such a Royal Commission into crime, no matter what political heads roll in the process. It is curious indeed that there is such a concerted effort to stonewall the clamour for a public probe, and it gives the public good reason to speculate about motives.

Sure government are afraid of fishing traps — but only a novice fisherman goes fishing in sterile waters, and only a foolish game warden stakes out protective pollution on a river where he knows there are no fish.

Help the tortured by writing letters

Dear Sir

Amnesty International — the world-wide human rights movement, provides a way in which every concerned citizen may co-operate effectively. Last we think that our letters would be of little or no value, read what Mr. Sean McBride — Nobel Peace prize-winner and former head of Amnesty International — told the 4th annual general meeting of A.I. in Guelph, Ontario in May of this year.

"I do not doubt the letters you are writing to govern ments are wasted. They are an exercise of public opinion. Each letter has an influence and a small." Governments have told him that Amnesty has built up a public opinion to which they had to listen.

Here is how — taken from the June 1977 issue of Am nesty International Bulletin.

If you wish to participate in urgent action appeals on behalf of persons in danger of torture, please send a stamped addressed envelope to CAT Co-ordinator 891 Queen's Ave., London Ont N5Y 2Y9.

Dear Sir

Alberta nurses have lately been subjected to much criticism for proposing an average 36 per cent salary increase. Here is opinion that this was an "extreme" demand.

This opinion will not stand up even under a superficial examination of facts produced by the Alberta Bureau of Statistics in the 1976 Alberta Salary and Wage Rate Survey.

In 1976 the average salary of a general duty nurse in this province was $9870 per month. This is the average on a 6-year scale ranging from $972 start rate to $1181 after 6 years.

In the same survey we find that the average salary of other professionals is substantially higher. For example, the personnel officer or technician averaged $1500 per month, the accountant (intermediate) $1385, the auditor (intermediate) $1437, the office manager $1432, planning officer $1488.

The professional nurse giving care to patients in any institution is daily called upon to possess the human relations judgements of a personnel officer, the exactitude of the accountant, the supervisory skills of an office manager the foresight of the planning officer—plus the ability to react quickly and correctly in crisis situations as well as give TLC to each of the patients assigned to her.

For her efforts in 1976 she was paid at approximately the same level as the building maintenance man—$750 to $1200 per month, the heavy truck driver—$923 to $1211 per month, the baker $886 to $1179, and the fork lift operator $879 to $1203 per month.

Examples of professional and semi professional sa lequations valued more highly than nurses are numerous in this province.

The strike by nurses was the result of their realization that their services have been too far devalued by those responsible. There is little self esteem in accepting a salary much lower than society is willing to pay for other professional services. Neither is there any support for the profession itself when its members allow this to happen.

This year Alberta nurses called a halt to the further devaluation of their services by proposing a salary increase which would bring them closer to the professional salaries they believe they deserve.

Is this so "extreme"?

By virtue of the decree of the government on July 8, there exists in Alberta a "public emergency" over salaries for nurses.

It must be clear that the public emergency did not occur on July 8. It was only recognized as such on that date.

In this regard, someone must, sooner or later, ask the unpertinent question: Why was there a public emergency on July 8 when on July 7 the Alberta Hospital Association and the Minister of Hospitals were both proclaiming publicly that everything was "fine?"

One is irresistably drawn to the conclusion that either the hospital administrators and hospitals' minister are not aware of the situation in their own institutions or government has acted rashly and prematurely in ordering the nurses back to work.

In any case, it is fair to say, without resorting to barnyard description, that the public has been thoroughly "snowed" by whom and to what end may be answered in the dispute settlement procedures chosen by the government.

We agree that there is a "public emergency" in Alberta in the hospital field. It is unfortunate that some 2000 nurses had to withdraw their services for 1 days before it became apparent to the decision-makers.

Having editorialized on the actions of the government and questioned the position of nurses, I believe it is now time for the news media, on behalf of the people, to examine the conduct of the Alberta Hospital Association in this dispute and in particular the statement of the Hospital Administrator "We can get along with them, or without them."

Unless professional salaries are paid for professional care, Albertans will have to get along "without them."

Yours truly

Workshop concert delights audience

Nearly 700 people from all over Alberta turned up Saturday for the concert winding up the first two week session of the Summer Music Workshop. Parents, relatives and friends of performers in the three bands made up a large part of the group, but also included were a number of enthusiastic listeners from Camrose.

Three bands, performing under the leadership of workshop directors, developed warm applause in the course of Saturday's performance. While it was only natural to suppose the make-up of the audience would render it more than usually sympathetic, still it was not at all necessary for them to provide sustained applause for each of the bands on more than occasion as they moved through a highly varied and highly interesting program.

The program covered the full range, from classical to rock music, demonstrating the ability of the students to be equally at home with each.

Because of the distance many of the students were from their homes, several members left, with their families, as soon as their particular portion of the afternoon concert was complete, but even so, a large majority of the interested crowd remained to hear the entire program, and to listen to the progress and development which had taken place in only two weeks on intensive musical training, under highly competent workshop instructors.

The pupils were divided into groups known as the Red Band, Blue Band, and Symphony Orchestra. Leading the Red Band, in the concert opening performance, was Len Whiteley, the symphony followed with Frank Dunnigan conducting, while Leonard Michaels held the baton for the Blue Band.

Workshop director Richard Caldwell paid warm tribute to the work of staff, and to the dedication of the students, in the accomplishments they had been able to make, and lauded the Camrose Lutheran College for the help they had been in providing excellent living and working quarters, and in so willingly assisting workshop progress. Mr. Caldwell's remarks were echoed by others during the afternoon.

On Monday of this week the workshop swung into the second half of its month-long operation here, with similar contents registered for this portion of the workshop.

Numbers are slightly reduced at the workshop this year, as the junior program was eliminated in an effort to carry funds, partially, as a result of almost overwhelming interest in the surrounding area, at most levels. The concentration of funds has made it possible to provide more individual coaching and instruction than was possible under former circumstances.

Property titled Summer Showcase 1977, the summer music and drama workshops are organized each summer by Alberta Culture, and are now in their 28th season. Similar workshops are held in other fields of culture, such as drama, art and others, in other centres.

Held initially in Calgary, the music workshop moved to Red Deer for a few years, then came to Camrose Lutheran College more than 13 years ago. After a few years here, it moved back to Red Deer, to obtain more accommodation, but with construction of additional residence accommodation at Camrose Lutheran College, it moved back here about three years ago.

Gordeyko dominates Stampede

Dennis Gordeyko went south last week and returned home with most of the winnings for Clydesdale Ingil and Elsie Calgary Stampede.

Gordeyko exhibited only females at this year's Stampede, which seemed only fair to the rest of the competitors, as his entries completely dominated the female competitions.

Mr. Gordeyko exhibited the grand champion mare, reserve grand champion mare, senior champion mare, junior champion mare, reserve junior champion mare, and reserve champion interbreed gelding.

In addition, Gordeyko entries placed first for yearling mare, two-year old mare, dry mare, foal, brood mare, get of sire, progeny of dam, and set of three females.

Last rites are held for Torger Haugen

Torger Haugen was born October 15, 1903 at Hallingdalal, Norway, where he was baptized and confirmed.

In 1928, he immigrated to the United States and for about two years worked on various farms in North and South Dakota. He then came to Canada, worked in Saskatchewan and later in logging camps in B.C. He moved to Alberta and in 1936 married Helen Zeller of Armena. They moved to Hines Creek, where they homesteaded for some time, and then back to Armena. In 1945, they moved to the Mapaska district and the following year took up farming in the Tofield area. There he resided until the time of his passing in the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton, on May 4, 1977, at the age of 73 years. He was predeceased by his wife, Helen in April, 1964.

He is survived by two daughters, Sophie Bateman of Sky Lakes and Shirley Miller of Sky Lakes, one son Bob of Edmonton, 4 grandchildren, 1 brother, Lars, in Norway, nieces and nephews and relatives.

Prayers were said Thursday evening. Funeral service was held on Friday afternoon at St. Francis Xavier Church with Father Campbell officiating. Pallbearers were Dave Henderson, Hjalmar Swara, Herbert Swara, Ivan Brown, William Zeller and Gary Fairbrother. Burger Funeral was in charge of arrangements.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker

Many of you read in last week's paper that the Board has hired me as for another term. Thank you for the opportunity to stay on as your program supervisor ! really enjoy the job and hope you are pleased with the work I am doing for you. Once again, please call or drop a line if you have any questions concerning your recreation department.

CAR RALLY AND BARBECUE

Plans are almost completed for the first county-wide car rally, but, you young people certainly are not interested. What kind of program would interest our young people? I am really disappointed as no one is even interested. I've worked hard organizing this, but registration deadline is still August 1, so register now.

The car rally is scheduled for August 7 at 7:00 p.m. everyone meeting at Ryley Sports Grounds. The registration fee is $10.00 per car which includes the barbecue and monetary prizes. It is necessary to preregister so I can order lots of food, so send registrations to Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department, Box 5, Ryley, T0B 4A0

Playground leaders will also be handling registrations. Contact the following staff for further information and registration Tofield, Lynn Werner, 662-3121 or Donna Prinsen, 662-3420; Ryley, Tammy Hedglund, 663-3326; Holden, Susie Stannard, 688-3895, or Wendy Komarnisky, 688-3385; Viking, Cindy Josephson, 336-2666 or Cheryl Anderson, 336-2888.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Please remember "Senior Citizens Week" at Camp Lake Kamene my mistake last week this is the official day set for each town: Tofield and Ryley, Monday, July 25, Holden and Bruce, Tuesday, July 26; Viking, Thursday, July 28.

Everyone, Friday, July 29.

Friday is the day when all senior citizens of the County are invited to Camp Lake. Transportation will be provided on Friday only. Pick-up points and times are as follows: Tofield, Petro's Park, 9:00 a.m. Ryley, Senior Drop-In Center,9:30 a.m. Holden, Country Kitchen, 9:45 a.m. Bruce, Recreation Center, 10:00 a.m. Viking Senior Drop-In Center, 10:30 a.m. Remember to bring a bag lunch. The camp staff are busy practicing horseshoes and lawn darts so are ready to challenge all seniors.

July 27 is the evening set to view all pictures, slides from our trip to Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise and Rocky Mountain House. Holden Senior Citizens have volunteered to host the evening, so, hope to see all at Holden Community Hall at 7:30 p.m. It will be a "Potluck lunch" so bring some sandwiches or cake. Everyone is welcome regardless if they participated in the trip or not.

Plans are now being started for a day trip for senior citizens to Alberta Gains Farm and Planetarium in mid-August. Anyone interested? Please let me know.

PLAYGROUNDS

Amid the very rainy weather, our playgrounds are still busy entertaining the kids of the community. Registrations are still being taken. The fee is $5.00 which includes all equipment and materials-cheap daily entertainment for 1½ months.

The traveling playground bus is parked at Bruce this week. Next stop for July 25-29 is Lindbrook Hall.

Last week, Robin, Regina, and Sherry were in Prague and the community enjoyed a weiner roast and skits evening plus a mini-olympics afternoon. Some events were rolling races, baseball throw, wheelbarrow racing, to name a few. Thanks Prague for a great week and all that good food, from Robin, Regina, and Sherry.

CAMP LAKE-ALL 7-11 GIRLS WHO ATTENDED CAMP

Did anyone of you take home a garbage bag full of dirty clothes by mistake? If so, please call me at 663-3730 and I will come and get them from you.

The week of August 15-19 is open for campers aged 8 years and up, boys and girls. Please call and register at 663-3730

FALL PROGRAMS

I mention it's time to think of fall programs in the middle of summer but since I will be away in September plans must be made very soon. Programs for each center offered by our department are as follows:

TOFIELD-Ladies Keep Fit, Cross Country Skiing, Men's Basketball, Ladies Sports Leagues Basketry, Social Dance Children's Arts and Crafts What other programs for children?

RYLEY Social Dance, Ukraman Cooking Molding Ceremics, Cross Country Skiing, Ladies Sports Leagues, Men's Basketball Ladies Keep Fit, Children's Program ???

HOLDEN Beginning Ceremics, Wheelthrowing Pottery, Ladies Keep Fit, Cross Country Skiing, Ladies Sports Men's Basketball Children's Program

VIKING Advanced Ceremics, Cake Decorating, Cross Country Skiing Social Dance, Men's Basketball, Ladies Sports Children's Arts and Crafts What other program for children?

KINSELLA-Social Dance, Cross Country Skiing, Oriental Cooking

I am open for suggestions, so please call me about further programs I really need ideas for children's programs. Call 663-3730 if you are interested in these programs-I need to know if these programs will go.

CAMP CHATTER - by Carol Lynn Chalkowich

A week long camp for boys and girls 13 years and up was scheduled at Camp Lake last week. We'll let Homer, our chimney sweep, tell you about the events

Dear Gomer

That bunch that was out last week was ready for all kinds of adventure.

Yes wouldn't believe what those boys did one morning! They were yelling "fire" really early-by, did the ashes look clean the next day

One morning, they showed up with their clothes inside out. And you should hear some of the ghost stories around the campfire. Scary enough to make your hair rise

They just to make things out of clay and painted them. All sorts of weird shapes were made.

It's a good thing we escaped the archery arrows-do they ever shoot crooked. Today, somebody was chasing Gus and I around the stove are you and Aunt Martha coming to the funeral on Friday at nine?

Your cousin,
Homer

Camp Lake is looking forward to having the senior citizens during the week of July 25-29

HOLDEN PLAYGROUND REPORT- By Susie Stannard and Wendy Komarnisky

On behalf of the Holden Playground, we would like to thank the people for their donations. These donations from the Country Kitchen, Variety Store, Revelstoke, U.F.A., Treasury Branch, Clay Schaning, Beaver Motors, Farm and Ranch Center, Holden Hotel, Style Shop, and Meat Market are greatly appreciated by the boys and girls and leaders. Special events are now being made possible.

The first special event took place on July 14 when Mr. Chamberlain took the children of the Holden Playground to the swimming pool in Ryley. Thank you, Mr Chamberlain.

We would like to announce that there will be a tea and bake sale on July 21 from 2:00-4:00 p.m. on the Holden Sports Grounds. Everybody is welcome

60th anniversary for former Round Hill pair

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kalleni

On Saturday, May 21, 1977, Mr and Mrs Jack Kalleni of Vancouver, were entertained in an Open House by their friends and relatives on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary, hosted by their children Jules, Mary and Helen.

Mr. J Nahornik, a long time neighbor in the Round Hill community, was master of ceremonies, and toasted Mr and Mrs. Kalleni with a number of recollections of their earlier years as farm neighbors and friends of the community.

Jos also gave a brief history of the family during the years they resided in the Round Hill area which was very interesting to friends and neighbors of Vancouver.

Son Jules, then read congratulatory telegrams from Mr and Mrs Steve Maura, Mr and Mrs Jim Pheasey of Edmonton, Ed Haiva, Grande Prairie, Carol Bannister, Fauel, Sophie Hamer, Calgary, Francis Culley, New York, all nephews and nieces. Also Mr and Mrs Frank Hemeniuk, Duncan, B C. Messages from the B C Government came from Premier Bill Bennet, Lt. Gov Mr Owens, M.L.A's Mr. Norman Levi and Mr. Rosemary Brown.

Special telephone calls from brother Bill Skerrie, Chicago, cousin Leo Marmorenka, Bruce, Mrs Anna Kreiger, Millet, Alta., grandson Tom Rapsell Jr., Summerland, B C. and granddaughter Debbie (Kalleni) Fisch, San Jose, California.

The family presented the parents with a color television and various items of crystal.

Some of the guests who joined in the open house were Mr and Mrs Mike Krenzenski, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rapsell, Mrs. Tomkins and sister Esther, John Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Campbell.

Sunshine Frolics

Howl!

Well we've just completed another week at the playground with the name of "Indian Week."

It was a week full of fun and excitement which involved making Indian hats which the kids after pretended they were the Indians and danced around.

A special "thank you" to our guest, Mrs. Margrett Lamberts, who taught the children clay techniques and what to make out of clay. The kids came up with a lot of interesting and well done articles of clay.

Thursday evening, we held a wiener roast with both kids and their parents attending and the kids challenged their parents with a ball game. The parents accepted the challenge and the game ending with a 10-all score. It was enjoyed by all. Thank you to all those who participated that evening.

This week's name is "Hollywood Week" and the special event for this week is a Hollywood parade, so all those out there, it may come down your street!

The playground now has about 45 kids registered and anyone wishing to register still may.

News from Ministik

Mrs Jim Roddick

The reason for no news in our column the last two weeks is due to your correspondent and Edna and Glenn Ferguson being on a vacation to the West Coast, which took us as far north as Campbell River and as far west as Long Beach and Tofino, where we saw the big ocean breakers roll in

The Paul Lafontaines and Verdon and Olivine Sears enjoyed the Air Show at Cold Lake, the long weekend of July 1st.

Tracy and Fredricka Russo visited cousins the Frank Nilsons for three days at Kalkbow Lake and saw the midnight sun while there They spent a night camping at Elk Island Park, as well as visited old friends at their father's before their return to Frankfurt, New York on July 1st

Their impressions of all Alberta places visited is fantastic and they are overwhelmed with it's beauty and the friendliness of the people They plan to return again next year They are nieces of Travis and Russell Wilson.

Mrs M George was pleasantly surprised on the occasion of her birthday on July 19th, when her day started early with guests bringing messages of congratulation Among those being Mrs Ada Hostetter and Marsen and Martha Lauber of Tofield, Dorothy Willmore and Walter and Yvonne and Doug and Clara George and Valerie Cheslure of Edmonton, Jean Ferguson, Lorne Keach, Sarah Kleinschroth and Margaret Paterson, Baden and Joyce Bowerman, Herta Schenchen, Jean Rowland and Cathy, Jody and Brian Perusini Her son Bruce called from Scotland and wished her the best, making her special day complete

Mr and Mrs Les Pantel of West Germany are guests at the Bruno Jeski home Clara Pantel is Margaret's sister

Mr and Mrs Alex Pearce spent the July 1st weekend at Rocky Mountain Rease, with the Ed Zirks Greg Ther of Edmonton has been spending part of his summer vacation with the Pearces.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ferguson spent Sunday as guests of Jennie Wilson.

Mr and Mrs Floyd Baker of Edmonton were afternoon guests of Mrs M George, and were guests of Mr and Mrs Alex Kleeschreuth on Sunday

Ronnie Barbara, Ronnie and Bonnie Ferguson spent a week in the Kelsher, and Lipton area of Sask., visiting relatives last week

The Bob Swabey family of Sylvan Lake are guests at the Frank Swabeys, also giving a helping hand while Gladys remains a patient in Tofield Hospital

Wendy and Dawn Donaldson of Wildwood spent two weeks vacation with Eva, Joe, Doris and Lorraine Davenport The Davenports took them home on Sunday with Dora staying at the Donaldson home for a week.

Claudette Le Gault returned recently from Montreal, where she spent three weeks visiting relatives and friends, also attending the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents.

Carol George of Calgary and her sister, Barbara of Aberdeen, Scotland were weekend visitors with Mrs. M. George, Edna and Glenn Ferguson and Dolly Roddick

Battle River Tourism had hardly taken delivery of their new van last Wednesday when a tourist from Ontario wanted information Above Andy Barr from Ottawa talks to BRTA manager Dena Clemans about the beauty of the Battle River country and the many tours through it

—Camrose Canadian Newsphoto

Crop conditions vary in different regions

With rain fall varying throughout the region, crop conditions also continue to vary, with some areas reporting improved conditions while other regions show crops continuing to decline.

According to reports released by the Alberta Wheat Pool, Tofield is the only area where crops are in a normal condition for this time of year. Grain ranges from 12-28 inches in height with all wheat having reached the shot blade stage.

In the Ryley area, crops were generally unchanged during the past week as rainfall was spotty and more moisture is needed. There was some slight improvement as conditions range between 20-80 percent normal with heights ranging from 14-20 inches. All of the wheat has reached the shot blade stage

Crops in Hay Lakes, Round Hill and Camrose continued to deteriorate with the latter center showing the biggest decline.

With only minor rainfall during the past week, crop conditions in Hay Lakes fell to between 30-80 percent normal with heights ranging from 16-18 inches About 80 percent of the wheat has reached shot blade stage.

While a decline was noted in the Round Hill region, it was very slight, with a range of between 70-90 percent normal conditions. Rain is definitely needed in some areas with oats and barley in particular need of moisture

Crops range in height from 16-17 inches with almost all of the wheat having reached the shot blade stage.

Crops in the Camrose area are described as only "fair to medium" as only small amounts of rain fell in scattered regions.

Crop conditions have dropped to only 70-80 percent normal with heights of between eight and 17 inches. All of the wheat has now reached the shot blade stage.

No reports on crop conditions in the New Norway and Daysland areas have been received The last report showed New Norway crops about 80 percent normal while crops in the Daysland area were about 70-80 percent normal.

Expect 4,000 at Dried Meat Hill

"All we need is Prince Charles" commented one committee member in discussing the program planned for Dried Meat Hill on Heritage Day, Aug. 1.

Everything else points to a highly colorful program which will include an historic pageant, Indian dances, Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer, mounted Mounties, a travelling caravan, and other features.

Scripted by one of Alberta's best known writers, Elsie Park Gowan, the pageant will re-enact the signing of historic Treaty No. 6, between the Indians and the Whites, when the Indian tribes signed away rights to millions of acres across Central Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Taking part in the pageant will be a number of Indians from tribes at Hobbema, with chiefs and councillors promised from each of the four bands. Keen interest has also been shown by Indians from other tribes, reports Omar Broughton, of the Ferry Point Historical Society, and their presence is also possible.

The Indians have also promised to erect a complete Indian village, with a number of teepees ringed about it, in preparation for their part in the program.

The pageant involves a number of people from all over the Battle River Tourist Zone representing the white people in the "signing", and including the Mounted Mountie in their red serge. Directing the pageant is Walter Kasa, assistant deputy minister in the Department of Culture. Assisting at the local level are Mrs. Alex Rose, Mrs. Jane Rose, and Miss Joanne Rud, with several back-up members on their committee handling details all the way from costume to sound and seating on the hillside.

The pageant will wind up with the Lieutenant Governor, representing the Queen, making the historic presentation of awards to the chiefs.

The Indians themselves have volunteered to conduct a program of Indian dances, during the afternoon, including some of their lesser-known dances, such as the almost unbelievable hoop dance.

The whole program has been undertaken by the Battle River Tourist Association to mark Heritage Day in this region of the province.

Ralph Tate was named general chairman early in the development, with Sylvia Clemens of BRTA as secretary. Frequent committee meetings have built enthusiasm among scores of workers, all intent on preserving the history of this historic hill. A few miles southeast of Camrose, the hill is the high point for many miles, and was used for years before the arrival of the white man. Shortly after the country was settled, Karl Wabal built a large dance hall on the hill. Known by hundreds of early settlers as Wabie (pronounced Wobbie) Hall, it was the centre of many dances in those days.

The program at the Hill will be rounded out by the presence of four caravans from the Devonian Foundation, complete with pictures, stories and artifacts of the early days in Alberta. Further displays will be provided by the Camrose and District Centennial Museum, from its excellent and growing display of early materials from settlers in the district.

Provision is being made for as many as four thousand visitors to the area, with parking facilities established just under the hill on the north side. It is thought meat people will provide their own picnic lunches, but the Heatherlea Women's Institute is planning a food booth for the site to fill the needs of others.

The pageant will start at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, August 1st with a full day's program of interest planned. There will be no admission charges.

Farm families feted at K-Days

Nine farm families from this region will be honoured by the Edmonton Exhibition Association during this year's annual Klondike Days.

In all, thirty farm families from Central and Northern Alberta will be special guests of the Association on Monday, when the 1977 version of Klondike Days gets underway.

Honoured from this area will be Lee and Joan Wilson of Cameron Hill; Olaf and Mary Nate of Kinuso, Gordon and Audrey Tuske of Ryley; Ernest and Betty Keeler of Holden, Henry and Victoria Field of Bruce, Eric, Arthur and Eileen Christenson of Killam; Austin and Carol Arntzen of Sedgewick; Maurice and Helen Drevort of New Sarepta and Thomas and Pauline Mattiussen of Viking.

The Farm Family Award was established by the Edmonton Exhibition Association in 1968 to promote better understanding between the rural and urban populations of Alberta, and to pay tribute to the contribution by farm families to the economic vitality of the province.

In the ten years since the awards were established, more than 300 families north of Red Deer have been honoured by the Association.

Nominations for the awards are submitted by chambers of commerce, Provincial Department of Agriculture, agriculture societies, Master Farm Family winners, and former farm family winners.

Each farm family winner will receive a plaque when they attend Klondike Days on Monday, as a token of the esteem in which they are held in their own home communities.

Their day in Edmonton (Monday) will begin with a coffee party, followed by a tour of the Coliseum along with visits to City Hall, Provincial Legislature, Muttart Conservatory and then, they will be guests of honour at a luncheon put on by the EXA Board of Directors.

After lunch, the families will tour the Exposition and will be guests at the K-Days "Coliseum of Stars" presentation in the Coliseum.

Fasting

Many of us are interested in weight loss One of the easiest fads is fasting but take this warning by Betty Birch, D.H.E. at Stettler

Aims of losing up to two pounds a day by fasting sound inviting, but be careful if weight loss of that much is possible, it's apparent that it's not just fat you're losing. Much of the weight loss is due to the fact that large amounts of body water are lost Loss of water, means loss of sodium Potassium is also lost when muscle mass is broken down (often the body's requirement is for protein causes muscle to break down. Loss of these two substances may cause nausea and dizziness

During fasting the body does draw upon calories stored in the body fat for a source of energy, but carbohydrate must be present to break down the fat and it would not be present during fasting. When the excess fat is not completely oxidized, and ketones form in the body. These are responsible for a "fasting high" or hallucinations.

Studies have shown that when animals fast and then resume eating, they produce fat in their bodies from five to fifteen times faster than they did before fasting. Granted bodies are a little different from a rats', but things like this generally are a good indicator of what happens in a human

Even frequency of eating has a dramatic effect on fat synthesis in animals Animals that eat all their food in one meal eat less, but gain as much weight and have more body fat than animals that nibble or eat constantly. In order to cope with loss frequent meals, the animals make and store more fat

Frequency of eating may also help to explain why weight reducing programs fail to produce long term weight loss The average dieter has a light breakfast, light lunch, and large dinner In effect she eats one meal a day Once the desired weight is reached, the dieter returns to normal but not excessive eating However, the fat producing mechs is am remains very active and the body stores excessive fat. The dieter may return to her original weight or more. This is referred to as the "Yo-Yo Syndrome" and indicates that small frequent meals may benefit the dieter

Don't confuse frequent meals with snacking! If you're eating more meals make them smaller A doughnut is not a meal, it's a snack and not a very good one!

The successful way to reduce is to decrease calories and increase activities. Ask for our "Losing to Win" pamphlet

Treaty signing ready Monday

A pageant re-enacting the signing of Treaty Number 6 promises to be an exciting part of the Heritage Day program at Dried Meat Hill on Monday, August 1, reports Sylvia Cleaman, a secretary manager of the Battle River Tourist Association. All that's needed now, laughs Mrs Cleaman, is a good weather to make that day perfect Proclaimed Heritage Day by the province, August 1 is a civic holiday in Camrose as in many other areas of the province

Even if the weather is impossible, the show will go on, but it will be moved to the CADRECA complex on the Camrose Fairgrounds If the weather is unsettled, advice will be broadcast

Committee members met at Dried Meat Hill last Wednesday for a picnic supper and review of the entire program, including siting of all the groups to be present. The members were thrilled at the co-operation being given by the Indian bands from Hobbema, many of whom were present Wednesday In addition, representatives of the Devonian Foundation in Calgary were present to promise four of their historic display caravans will be present, and to discuss siting.

The central part of the day's program, including several attractions will centre on a pageant re-enacting the treaty signing, a hundred years ago. Written by Elsie Park Gowan, the pageant will involve members of people from all over the district, as well as a number of Indians from the four bands at Hobbema.

A native of Bawlf, Mrs Gowan is one of Alberta's most famous historical writers, and writes that she has thoroughly enjoyed reminiscing over long-ago memories of the district while gathering material for the pageant Efforts have been made to present the scene in costumes as nearly historically correct as possible, things such as the pillbox hat for the Mounties, buckskin clothing for the interpreter, Indian costumes and teepees, and so on Any number of residents from the district have become involved in one phase or another of the activity, under the chairmanship of Ralph Tate.

Pageant director is Helen Ross, with Joanna Rud handling costumes and make-up Len Dutton of Killam plays the role of Commissioner Alexander Morris, Governor of the Northwest Territories. George Stromberg will act as James McKay, Manitoba cabinet minister, while Dan Lawson of Dunskila will play the role of Hudson's Bay Company chief factor, Chrarles

Interpreter Peter Erasmus, half Dane, half Cree, as played by Will Pattison The entire performance is being directed and narrated by Walter Kaasa, Assistant Deputy Minister in the Department of Culture

The program is expected to get underway at 1:30, and the pageant proper will be concluded by Lieut Governor the Hon Ralph Steinhauer making presentations to the Indian chiefs

Women of the Hemstherbroe W I will operate a [illegible] booth with light luncheon available, although many people are expected to make a picnic day of the program, visiting the displays afterwards, and watching a program of indian dances.

Numerous bales of hay are being sited for sitting as, although it is suggested families may want to bring blankets to sit on, in addition.

Tofield-raised teacher retires

Katherine (Katie) McAllister retired on June 30th, ending a teaching career of 47 years She is a graduate of the Tofield Public School, the Camrose Normal School, and has two degrees from the University of Alberta

Her first years in teaching were spent in rural Tofield and Viking areas This was followed by teaching in the towns of Provost and Stettler. The last 30 years she taught in schools in the Edmonton Public System Miss McAllister spent 25 years of her career as a specialist in Grade 1 work.

All retiring Edmonton Public School teachers were honoured at the School Board banquet at the Chateau Lacombe on June 1st and the Edmonton Local ATA banquet at the Plaza Hotel on June 8th. Scott Robertson Community held an open house on June 22nd to honour her Miss McAllister's plans are to continue to live in Edmonton. She is active in the Business and Professional Women's Club, in lawn bowling, curling, and golfing.

Garden Club to meet

By Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club will meet on Sunday, Aug 7th. to plan the club project for the Provincial Horticultural Show, and to allot special prizes for some of the horticulture classes in the Tofield Fair

The meeting will be held at the home of Yvonne Brown, beginning at 2 p.m., and following the business part of the meeting, members will devote the major portion to work on their Provincial Show project

The club will give special prizes in horticulture at the Tofield Fair, which will be on August 20th This year, the members will not canvass the Town of Tofield and surrounding areas for prizes and donations, however, to date they have already received many volunteered donations

Too enthusiastic

It's only a few days ago that concern was expressed by a highway police officer over the action of CB'ers warning other motorists about patrol cars, Stop Checks, and so on, so that the effect of a unit such as the Stop Check was visibly reduced in only a short time, making it necessary to move.

We can sympathize with the officer, and probably there are many like him, but really, we think he's being too enthusiastic in his drive to issue tickets.

As far as we can gather, the majority of citizens' band radio users are pretty responsible, and object to providing such information, because they want the added protection of the highway patrols. It's only the few irresponsible users who are doing the broadcasting, it seems, and in any case, the central object of the patrol operation is really not to apprehend citizens, but to make highways safer, whether by slowing speeders, or removing those who are impaired.

If the CB warning works to this end, it can be just as effective, without the problem of the ticket having to be issued.

Not only that, but a CB warning over the airwaves might slow down a number of drivers who might otherwise be missed by the patrol vehicle in question.

Acres, acres, acres

Probably Canadians right across the country will be delighted with the move Monday in the House of Commons to retain the acre as the unit of land measure for farms, rather than switching to the metric hectare.

Undoubtedly the Metric Commission will be crestfallen over this step away from one hundred percent metrication, and they'll regard it as a backward step.

But surely the Metric Commission has already taken many completely unnecessary, irrational and unjustifiably expensive steps in their drive to substitute metric for imperial measure. Indeed, they've approached their assignment almost like religious zealots.

The whole concept was accepted in the first place to improve Canada's opportunity to trade abroad, and we defy the Commission to show us how the customer abroad would care whether the grain or the hogs he buys were produced on acres or hectares, or for that matter, on sections, concessions or arpents, all of which are legally used for land measure in Canada, and there may be others we're not aware of. Oh, yes, in certain areas in Ontario, they still use referees to determine ancient meets and bounds, establishing farm size. The produce is just as good, and just as profitable, and just as efficiently produced

It's only too bad the Western members, with the support of all Tories, hadn't won their point sooner. They might have saved some of the other needless revisions as well

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA – (CP) – Space is always at a premium around the Commons Parliament buildings, but imagine saving the day by discovering a wasted quarter an inch

That quarter inch — multiplied by 32 — will give just enough room to fit in the extra members of Parliament who will be elected in the next national hop to or pole There are currently 264 MPs, and 279 seats in the House of Commons Redistribution, which takes effect for the next election, creates 18 more seats, bringing the total of members to 282

It's essential for the House of Commons to have some extra seats on both sides of Mr Speaker, to avoid splitting parties whenever possible Hence the plan is to expand the number of seats to 312

The quarter inch comes into play because it was discovered that the name plates in the aisle for each member's seat stick out just that amount By recessing the name plates, planners can save 28 inches on each side of the House, making it possible by moving the Speaker's chair back a foot or so, to install 32 more seats The aisles between members' desks are also going to be narrowed - by about an inch It may cause difficulties for the more physically substantial members like Tory Whip Steve Paproski and Liberal Whip Jon MacFarlane — but at least everyone will have a seat

That may not be the case 15 years from now. We're due for another redistribution before the end of the 1980s, and that will expand membership of the Commons to about 300. The next redistribution after that will cause real problems.

There are several choices — tear apart the whole House of Commons interior and re-pour the concrete floor, allowing smaller desks and eliminating the curtsained alleyway at the back, or removal of the desks, leaving MPs with only benches, or they have to the British House of Commons Sooner or later the bench system will be forced on Canada if membership in the Commons continues to expand, and we may see that come before the end of the century

The reconstruction program this summer is going to be a major one, because not only is the seating going to be expanded, but a new sound system will be installed, and so will the cameras which will bring Parliament into Canadian living rooms — live and in beautiful color

Report from DON MAZANKOWSKI, MP

Parliament Hill

As the House of Commons continues to sit into the summer, the main topic of contention is the government's gun control legislation, Bill C 51

This Bill contains many of the unacceptable features which were previously contained in last years attempt at gun control, Bill C - 83 In addition, Bill C - 51 has a great many other undesirable features with poor terminology and lack of clear intent It provides in many sections for arbitrary and unwarranted search and seizure by law enforcement officers on the pretext that firearms or ammunition or other offensive weapons may be in the possession of unidentified people or that any provision of the Act is suspected of being contravened In the extreme application, such a provision in our Criminal Code could result in the unwarranted search of every establishment and person in the country using the provisions of the Act as a pretext

Another unacceptable provision of this legislation is that it gives the Governor in Council, meaning the Cabinet, the power to formulate laws without reference to Parliament

The Bill lacks adequate provision for appeal by the accused in many cases the person charged is presumed guilty rather than innocent It also contains many other provisions absolutely unacceptable in our society and our judicial custom

Another provision of the Bill compels businesses which are engaged in gun retailing to obtain a licence which can cost up to $250 Individuals will be forced to pay $10 for a firearms certificate in order to buy or even borrow a gun These fees represent another form of taxation imposed by the government They add one more cost of business to the small businessman and place an unnecessary burden on law abiding citizens and enterprises

There have been 30 amendments proposed in an attempt to make this Bill more acceptable Of these, 23 were put forward by members of the Conservative Party Unfortunately the Liberal majority has so far voted down all the amendments which have come up for debate in the House The very disturbing provisions of Bill C - 51, as outlined above, will probably soon be all passed intact

As bad as many of the individual provisions of the Bill are, even more disturbing is the overall theme of this and many other pieces of legislation proposed by this government Government and bureaucratic intervention into peoples lives continues to increase Canadians are being put into a statutory straightjacket. Our lives are being controlled by faceless bureaucrats, answerable to no one It is time to free Canadians of this strait-jacket and to remove the hobbles of bureaucracy It is time for the government to get off the backs of people

We are all aware of the need to control crime as well as the desirability of reducing unfortunate deaths due to firearms However, restrictive and offensive legislation such as Bill C - 51 is not the answer Perhaps a simple procedure such as the following would be more effective in stopping crime while, at the same time, leaving law abiding citizens free from unnecessary government control

1 Proof of age by those purchasing firearms

2 Statutory declaration or affidavit as to fitness and competence

3 More severe penalties for use of firearms in the commission of crimes

4 More severe penalty for perjury in the completion of a document for the acquisition of firearms

Dear Sir

I hope you will find room in your newspaper to print my enclosed article

I don't think I have got over the shock of Jack Horner joining the Liberal party He should certainly take a second look at Trudeau s priorities It is quite a scary thing

Canada The French Republic of Tomorrow Wake up Canada it may be later than you think I am writing this as a transplanted Westerner who is perhaps living too close to the gaergh on on Parliament Hill

I am not writing this as a bagot or a person steeped in patriotism I am writing this as a very concerned citizen of Canada afraid our grand children will end up being second class citizens in their own country

Every Canadian should read the book "Bilingual To-day, French To-morrow", by J V Andres published by BMG Publishing Ltd., 88 A In dustrial Rd Richmond Hill Ont , L4C 2Y1, and judge for themselves what is happening to our country

When this book was to go out to the public the writer was approached by a member of the French-speaking Association of Ontario and was told the association would do all in its power to have the book stopped This occurred for a short time only In evidentally, this association has members in all provinces and receives a grant of $300,000 from the federal government, yearly - your tax money and mine

This insidious French takeover in every aspect of our daily lives, federal-wise, provincial-wise, and last municipal-wise , IS taking place now

If you don't think this sort of thing is happening in your province you had better take a second look And to think that Jack Horner has now become a member of this party' God help Canada s Trudeau and his lackeys win the next election''

Holden and district new items

Mrs G H Taylor

Mrs Anne Molenaka is back home looking much improved after being a patient in Tofield hospital for ten days

Mr and Mrs Garth Fleming of Holden are receiving congratulations on the arrival of their son, Erin Morgen, on July 10th, weighing 7 lbs. 3 ozs., a grandson for Mr and Mrs. Matt Holdrich and Mr and Mrs Pat Fleming.

Mrs. Ethel Fleming went to St. Paul last week to bring home Pat who had been a hospital patient there for two weeks after suffering a heart attack while they, with some of the family, were on a fishing trip. Pat is feeling better but has to take things easy for awhile.

A correction must be made in the anniversary notice last week of Lt. William Case. It should have read, he leaves his wife, Ethel of St. Albert, and a sister, Dora Ladan of Blyths.

Mrs. Gertie Chapka and her daughter have been visiting Mike Chapka the past three weeks in the store while Kay was taking a rest.

Mr and Mrs. Henry Tiedemann had their guest, daughter Wendy staying with them the week of July 10th and attending the Bible Vacation School held that week by the Bruce Lutheran Church. They had approximately 44 children attend V.B.S. with those attending putting on a program on the Friday evening Mr and Mrs David Tiedemann and young son were down at the weekend to take Wendy home.

Saturday evening all the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kudrovich gathered at their home to help them celebrate their 42nd wedding anniversary and Mr Kudrovich's 68th birthday They were presented with four lovely garden chairs, and a lunch was served at midnight with all enjoying the anniversary and birthday cake Mr and Mrs. Kudrovich thanked them all for their kindness and remembrance

Mr and Mrs Brian Taylor, Ernest, Ronald, Barbara, Richard, and Cathryne of St. Albert were Saturday visitors with his parents, Mr and Mrs G.H. Taylor

Mrs Rosie Rassher of Edmonton, former Holden resident, was here on Saturday to attend the Lemaire - Erickson wedding held in Holden United Church and the reception in the Holden Community Hall She also called on Mrs Irene MacGregor while they both visited with Mrs Beth Campbell

Mrs Reader was a weekend guest of friends, Mr and Mrs. Dasech of Ryley.

Mr and Mrs. Bruce Budd were Ryley home visitors from Edmonton

Mr and Mrs. Charles Zwierscke have their daughter Norma and granddaughter from Vancouver, B.C., visiting with them for several days while Norma's husband is away on a business trip.

Mrs Vera Scott of Dawson Creek, who was visiting for three weeks with her sister, Miss Jane Clark, and brother Lloyd, has returned home.

A lovely shower was held Friday evening, July 15th, in the Holden Catholic Church basement to honor Miss Cindy Stecyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stecyk, with over 35 ladies attending.

The bridesmaid pinned corsages on the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs Helen Stecyk, the groom's mother, Mrs. Flynn of Bruce, and her grandmother, Mrs. Josie Mielimaka. Carol was seated at the head table with the maid of honor, Miss Joan Cyca of Edmonton, sister of the bridesmaid, her sister Kathy, Miss Sandy Sign, both of whom are Holdenites, and flower girl, Jennifer Dowler niece of the groom

Miss Eileen Mielimaka introduced those seated at the head table and a few games were played On behalf of all attending and many unable to be present, Mrs. Joan Cyca made the presentation of many lovely and useful gifts with the well wishes of all for her future happiness in her new life. After the gifts were passed around Carol thanked all for the gifts and kindness

Mr and Mrs. Martin Slyvka of Viking are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on July 20th They were longtime residents of the Holden district, farming for many years until returning for health reasons, and then residing in Holden for several years, before moving to Viking where they presently reside

Mr and Mrs. Stephenson, July 21st, a very pleasant and unassuming afternoon was held when ladies of St Gregory's R.C.W.A. entertained senior citizens of Holden to a social afternoon. All were welcomed by Mrs Jasiak vice-president of the W.A., and she introduced the guest speakers, Miss Frieda Regehr and Diane Reid of Tofield's "That Place" Miss Regehr had taught school for eight years in a mission school in Kenya, and showed a number of artifacts made by the native people, explaining the use of each, how they were made from things they grew in "The Man's Soul", made from a single piece of wood with beautiful inlaid work which no woman was allowed to sit on, two of her neighbors had 39 wives and 105 children The men paid for their wives with cattle She showed the gourds grown which they made into pots and containers for water, milk, etc She told of many of their beliefs, way of making houses and household articles, and showed pictures of the countryside, peoples, animals and fauna, and lovely flowers growing wild The roads in the countryside are very rough for cars At the conclusion, the ladies served lunch, with Mrs. Beth Campbell and Mr. Kasprick winning a door prize. On behalf of all, Lloyd Reid, vice-president of the Holden Senior Citizens group, thanked the ladies for a very pleasant afternoon.

Residents of Holden and district are reminded by the committee of the annual Holden (Shorty) Mowatt Memorial Golf Tournament that it will be held on August 6th at the Holden Complex. Those intending to enter the various events are reminded that they should have their entries ready and must be in the previous day, August 7th For further information it is advised that one should look up the fair booklets sent out some weeks ago

Mrs Haviland of Ryley was an evening guest with Mrs. Beth Campbell last week. Ray had been doing chores on the farm while his brother and family Mr and Mrs. Reuben Haviland and son, were away on holidays

On Thursday afternoon, the Holden Playground put on a tea and bake sale in which everyone was invited Strangely enough, the men outnumbered the women.

The playground leaders passed around a tin of tea cookies and parents who baked and brought goodies for the bake sale They especially acknowledge Mrs Valerie Gekke for baking a number of cakes

The playground leaders' next special event for this month is a trip to Sibgordon Lake

Over 3,000 pheasants to be released locally

Over three thousand pheasants will be released in the Camrose area in about two months' time.

Forty-three farmers in an area encompassing Camrose, are raising 3,300 pheasant chicks and will be releasing them when they are about 10 weeks old and able to take care of themselves. The chicks were brought to the farmers when they were only one day old.

Releasing of the pheasants is part of a program being conducted by Upland Birds Alberta, whose home base is located in Calgary.

The program started in Southern Alberta last year and present plans call for it to continue for another five years

While the expected survival rate, between winter and the birds' natural enemies is less than fifty percent, members of the organization expect to be able to have the bird population back to what is considered a normal population when the program comes to an end

Upland Birds Alberta is not sponsored by any government agency and relies on support from the public to operate its program.

Memberships in the organization are sold for ten dollars per year with the fee, for non-profit business, being tax deductible

President of the organization is Douglas Thompson of Calgary with Al Myers of Camrose being a district director

Anyone wishing to join the organization, or contribute to its cause, should contact Mr Myers, or write to Upland Birds Alberta, 838 11 Ave. S.W. Calgary

Progressive Farming

Several inquiries about education in the field of Agriculture made me contact all the institutions offering programs directly linked with Agriculture.

The Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry of the University of Alberta offers 4-year professional programs in a variety of subjects Programs are offered in Rural Economy, Agricultural Engineering, Animal Science, Food Science, Forest Science, Plant Science and Soil Science

Three other post-secondary institutions are offering education in Agriculture related subjects, they are Fairview College, Lakeland College and Olds College

The Fairview College in Fairview is situated in the centre of the agricultural area of the Peace River District It offers 2-year programs in Agricultural Mechanics Technology, Crop Production Technology, Farm Management Technology, Livestock Production Technology, and Animal Health Care Technology

The Lakeland College, Vermilion Campus, is located in a pleasant rural setting adjoining Vermilion Provincial Park in east central Alberta 120 miles east of Edmonton. The College offers programs in Animal Science (Health and Care, Nutrition and Needs, Production, Reproduction), Field Crop Production Technology, Pesticide Management Technology, Renewable Resources (Outdoor Recreation, Reclamation, Wildlife and Fisheries), Soils and Fertilizers Technology, Agricultural Equipment Technology, Agricultural Mechanics Technology

Olds College, in Olds in central Alberta offers 2 year programs in Agriculture Business Technology, Agricultural Mechanics, Agricultural Production Technology, Horse Husbandry Program, Horticultural Technology, Soils Technology, Agricultural Chemicals, Agronomy, Land Classification, Land Resources, Soils and Fertilizers, Soil and Water, commercial Floriculture

In addition to the 2-year regular programs offered by these 3 colleges short courses are also available in specific subjects Olds College has the following the following short courses in its curriculum. Artifical Insemination, Beef Production, Dairy Production, Farmland Appraisal and Assessment, Horticulture Week, Meat Cutting, Pesticide Applicators Training, Sheep Production and a Survey School short course. Moreover Olds offers also a 16 week Farrier's Course designed to train individuals in the Art and Science of horseshoeing and hoof care

The Fairview College also provides short courses in addition to its regular program. These courses are a Sheep Production short course in February a Soil Fertility short course at the end of February.

a A.V. short course in March or April, a Weeds short course in early April and a Farm Land Appraisal and Assessment short course in May.

Lakeland College is Vermilion also provides short courses in many subjects Persons inquiring about these courses should contact Lakeland College because most of these courses are on a demand basis and are only offered if enough interest is shown.

One of the more interesting programs for farmers are the correspondence or "study-at-home" courses which are offered by several institutions Specific details of these courses will be in one of the future issues of this paper

In case anybody has any particular questions like entrance requirements about any of these programs please contact the individual colleges or me, George at the District Extension Office.

SYDNEY COSSEY

Funeral services were held on June 16th for another old timer and pioneer of the district Sydney Cossey, who passed away on June 12, 1977 at the age of 91 years. He came to area at an early age from England and spent several years building railways for the C P R before he started farming in the district. He married Winnifred Van Buskirk Hallberg and two sons were born, Lloyd and Ralph. He and his wife farmed and retired on the farm before taking up residence at the Senior Citizen's home in Lamont, where they stayed until a few months ago when they transferred to the Nursing home. Predeceased by his wife Winnifred in April 1977, stepsons Robert in 1938 and Albert in June 1977, he now leaves one step daughter Mrs Emma Borstad of Edmonton, two sons Lloyd of Edmonton and Ralph of Rose Creek 14 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

MEMORIALS FOR SYDNEY COSSEY

ALBERT EDWARD HALLBERG

Albert E. Hallberg passed away on June 3, 1977. He was born on Dec. 20, 1902 at Ross Creek (near Tofield).

At an early age he left home and worked at lumbering railroading and odd jobs in the winter months, he enjoyed hunting and trapping.

In 1924, he took over his father's homestead at Ross Ellsmill.

In 1945, he married Isobel Maitland. They continued to live on the farm until they retired in the spring of 1970 to Camrose where he resided until his passing.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife Isobel, his step-father, Syd Cossey; one sister, Emma Borstad, two half-brothers, Lloyd of Edmonton and Ralph of Tofield, also many nieces, nephews, great nieces and nephews and great-great nieces and nephews.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, friends and neighbours for their kindness, floral tributes, memorial donations and sympathy cards in the recent loss of my husband.

Isobel Hallberg

JAMES CAMPBELL

On July 3, 1977, James Campbell of Tofield passed away in his 86th year.

Predeceased by his wife Isabella in 1975

He now is survived by one son, Francis of Edmonton; one daughter, Mrs. Harvey (Isabella) Young of Camrose, five granddaughters, one grandson and two great-granddaughters

Funeral services were held on Friday, July 8th at Tofield United Church with Rev. W. H. McDannold officiating. Interment in Field of Honor at Tofield Cemetery

THANK YOU

The family of the late James Campbell wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to all the friends and neighbors who helped in every way they could, and for the floral tributes, cards of sympathy and donations received during our recent bereavement in the loss of our Dad and Grandfather.

A special thank you to Gary and Clifford Oxland, to Zip and Ted Gray and Edna Johnson also to the honorary pallbearers and to the honor guard from the Royal Canadian Legion. To Rev W H McDannold and to Andrews - McLaughlin Funeral Chapel and to all the others who assisted in any way.

In the summer of 1887 the first steam boat to appear on the Mackenzie River in Northwest Territories, was named the "Wrigley", plying between Fort Smith and Fort McPherson.

Mazankowski urges raise in minimum wheat price

Vegreville M.P., Don Mazankowski, has asked Wheat Board Minister Otto Lang to raise the minimum price under the Two Price Wheat Act Mazankowski noted that the Canadian farm input index has risen between 30 per cent and 35 per cent since the policy was introduced. He pointed out that the Act specifically provides for the Minister to undertake an annual review of all regulations made in consultation with producers, to account for "prevailing costs of production of wheat and returns to producers."

The present two-price wheat policy provides that prices for producers of milling wheat sold domestically for human consumption is guaranteed to the Wheat Board at a minimum of $3.25 per bushel or the world export price, if higher, to a maximum of $5.00. Mazankowski said that the minimum guarantee must be raised to at least $4.00 per bushel. He also asked the Minister to make the need increase retroactive to make up for past losses.

The Minister, while not responding negatively to Mazankowski's requests, was nonetheless noncommittal in his reply. The Vegreville M.P. said later that he hoped the Minister would take action soon and believe wheat producers from the cost-price squeeze which they are now

FOOD ADDITIVES

A food additive is any substance added to a food during production or distribution. Food additives may be natural, such as lecithin from soybeans, or synthetic, such as the preservative calcium propionate. Whatever the origin, additives are chemicals. This in itself is not cause for alarm, as all foods, whether "natural" or "processed", are composed of chemicals. The requirement that these chemical terms be listed on food product labels has increased consumer awareness of food additives, and with the increased use of additives in modern food processing and transportation, consumer concern about their necessity and safety has also increased.

Food additives are regulated by the Health Protection Branch, Health and Welfare Canada. The Food and Drug Regulations specify additives which may be used in Canada, the food in which each is allowed, and in what amount. Imported foods must also comply with these Regulations.

Safety is a major criterion in the decision of whether to allow use of an additive. The Food and Drug Act specifies that no food may contain a harmful or poisonous substance. To comply with this provision, manufacturers must supply data regarding safety when applying to introduce a new food additive or extend the use of a present additive. This submission must indicate that the additive is safe for long-term use, and include reproductive studies on at least two species of animal. A safe level for animals is first established. The allowable intake for man is calculated by dividing this level by a safety factor (usually 100) to allow for the possibility that man may be more sensitive than other animals, and for individual differences in sensitivity.

An additive will not be permitted if its use will lead to deception, or if it is not clearly established that it performs its intended function. Each additive must result in some advantage to the consumer. Uses of food additives fall into four categories:

1. Maintain the nutritional quality of food; for example, an antioxidant such as BHA (butylated hydroxyanisole) to prevent the breakdown of Vitamin A preparations used in fortification.

2. Improve keeping quality or stability of food, and thereby reduce spoilage; for example, a preservative such as sodium diacetate may be added to inhibit mould growth on bread.

3. Improve the acceptability (color, flavor) of a food, in a manner that does not lead to deception, for example, a firming agent, calcium chloride, may be used to maintain the texture of canned vegetables.

4. Provide an essential aid in food processing, for example, rennet, a food enzyme, may be added to curdle milk in the processing of cheese.

Additives serve many essential functions in providing for variety and convenience in our food supply. The relative benefits and safety aspects of food additives are continually being re-evaluated as new scientific information becomes available. For more information, contact Lorraine Green, Consultant, Educational Services, Health Protection Branch, No. 30, 9912 - 106st., Edmonton, Alberta T5K 1C5 (telephone 425 - 2580).

Lakeshore-McKenzie

Mrs. Ellen Eaton

50 YEARS OLD

On Sunday, July 17th, a birthday party was held for Mark Ferguson, former resident of Tofield, now a resident of the senior citizens home at Rimbey. Mr Ferguson is 88 years old and lived in Tofield and district for many years.

Some 75 relatives and friends and former neighbours gathered at Rimbey, among whom were T.D. Ferguson and sons Lloyd and Stewart of the Lakeshore district and Mrs Bertha Seale of Calgary, also a former Lakeshore resident. There were also relatives from California, Grandy, Quebec, Oyen, Edmonton, Rimbey, and other points around Alberta. Although Mark cannot get around, his memory is very good and he seemed to enjoy the get-together very much.

Leroy Eaton and son Bonnie and Ronnie's friend Jim Wegren, all of Fort McMurray, arrived on July 13th at the farm home of Leroy's mother, Ellen Eaton. Leroy was an overnight guest, returning on the 19th. Ronnie and Jim remained on the farm to spend part of their holidays.

The Lakeshore UCW instead of having a meeting in July, held a pot luck picnic dinner at the Minnikin camp ground with some of the ladies of the Tofield Senior UCW as invited guests. The day was perfect for picnicing and all reported enjoying the outing.

Mrs Ruth Wickenberg, another former resident of the McKenzie district and later of Tofield before moving to Edmonton to live with her daughter, Mrs Vivian Jones, was the guest of honor at a birthday party held at Ma-Me-O Beach on July 17th. There were some 40 relatives and friends gathered, among whom were her son Lyall and wife Beatah Wickenberg of B.C. Ruth had the misfortune of breaking both her arms that day and is now confined to bed at Vivian's home, unable to move. Your correspondent was able to talk to her today and she wished to say hello to all her friends as she will be unable to write for some time.

Howard and Mae Ferguson drove to Whitecourt and accompanied their daughter Donna and Frank Edwards and two children, on a trip to Prince Rupert, B.C. They left on July 19th, returning home July 26th.

Ellen Eaton was among some 24 senior citizens who went on a bus trip to Klondike Days on Saturday afternoon. After a heavy rain on Friday night, Saturday was a perfect day at the exhibition.

Rod and Isabel Rudzicki and Heather and David were Sunday visitors at the home of Isabel's parents, Mr and Mrs Donald Kyle of Camrose.

Donna Jacobsen of Toronto arrived in Edmonton on July 25th where her parents, Carl and Mavis Jacobsen, met her and all drove to St. Albert to visit Carl and Mavis's daughter and Donna's sister, Charles and Peter Anderson and little son Lou. Carl and Mavis returned home the same night while Donna remained for a few days visit.

Floyd and Grace Hubbard of Lavoy were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Grace's aunt, Ellen Eaton, on their way home from attending the Fischer family reunion at Lund Hall.

Ellen Eaton was an Edmonton visitor on Monday, taking treatment at the University Hospital.

Cheryl and Zoe Bekker of Ryley have been spending part of their holidays at the home of their grandparents, Charlie and Mickey Niemetz.

Mrs Filomena Niemetz and daughter, Mrs. Irlene Sieb of Ladner, B.C., arrived in Tofield on Monday evening, July 25th, to visit their relatives.

Carlisle - Bourdeau wed in Edmonton

On June 25th at the Highlands United Church in Edmonton, Patricia Ann, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Art Bourdeau of Spruce Grove, was united in marriage to Donald Keith, son of Mr and Mrs. Don Carlisle of Tofield. Marriage Commissioner George Audley performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride's attendent was Mrs Peg Werkman, aunt of the bride. The groom's attendant was his brother, Rick Carlisle. Pianist was the organist of Highlands United Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Ushers were a brother of the groom, Grant Carlisle, and brother of the bride, Phillip Bourdeau.

Reception and dance were held at Kensington Hall. The groom's nieces, Pamula and Delores Wilsen, were in charge of the guest book.

60th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary by attending church service at All Saints Cathedral in Edmonton on Sunday, July 17th. They had been married at the Cathedral on July 21, 1917. After service they attended dinner with their family and some close friends. A public reception to further celebrate their anniversary will be held in Tofield in the early fall.

Mary Rabery is enjoying a visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs. R. Higgs from Tatsfield, Surrey, England.

Dr and Mrs. Dennis Bottger and two sons have received their visas in return to Ethiopia for another two to three year term of service at the Nazareth Hospital. They are scheduled to leave New York airport on Tuesday, July 26th. The past two weeks they attended a Mennonite Medical Association meeting at Lakeside, Ohio, and a Renewal Convention at Kansas City, Mo.

Sunshine Frolics report

Well, another week has passed at Sunshine Frolics and it went out in flying colors as some of you may have seen in the Hollywood parade on Friday.

During "Hollywood Week" we made puppets and the kids got an puppet plays for each other. We also made a large TV (Collage) with pictures of all of the kids' favourite T V and movie stars plastered on it. We ended the week with our parade, in which about 30 children marched, as well as their leaders. By the end of the parade, everyone was hot and tired, so they were well rewarded for their efforts with Kool-aid and cookies. Later on they participated in a pennil scramble and a bubble blowing contest. Blue Blue bubble gum flowed was Charlene Drader

We'd like to thank Shelley Drader, Jackie Pittet, and Trey Robillard for volunteering their time and help this week it was greatly appreciated!

This week is "Animal Week" and the special event for this week is a pet show, planned for Thursday evening at the arena. It will begin at 7:00 p.m. and everyone is welcome to attend!

From August 2nd to August 5th will be our "Pond Raising Week" We would appreciate it if everyone would please save all of their empty pop and liquor bottles for a bottle drive on Tuesday, August 2nd. On Wednesday, August 3rd, we will be having popcorn and lemonade stands set up around town and we hope that everyone will indulge in the goodies

Thursday evening, August 4th, we are planning a sing a thon The kids will be asking to be sponsored for a few cents a minute to sing for a maximum of 15 minutes. We hope that you will support the kids in their efforts and will turn out on the 4th to watch them. All of the money raised will go towards a trip to Edmonton planned for the kids later on in August

Registrations for the Day Camp at Camp Lake on August 8th can now be paid. All children four years and over are invited to attend.

Also, playground registrations are still being taken in since only half the summer has passed. All registrations for both day camp and playground, can be paid to the Beaver Regional Recreation Dept. or to the playground leaders. For further information contact Dessie Friesen at 663-3439 or Lynn Warner at 662-3151

The Department of Regional Economic Expansion has declared areas of Northern Alberta as designated regions eligible for programs under the federal Regional Development Incentives Act. The RDIA program will make available incentive grants and loan guarantees for most types of manufacturing and processing industries, and loan guarantees for certain commercial operations.

Incentive grants and loan guarantees may be offered to any Canadian or foreign entity to establish, modernize, or expand eligible business or industrial operations. Grants up to 25 per cent of the approved capital costs, plus up to $5,000 for each direct new job created, are available for eligible projects. Commercial enterprises such as business offices, warehousing and freight-handling facilities, shopping centres, hotels, motels, recreation and research facilities are eligible for loan guarantees only. In addition to these programs, businesses located in the RDIA areas are eligible for a special investment tax credit of 7.5 per cent as opposed to the general rate of 5 per cent.

The map below shows the boundary for those areas of Northern Alberta designated as eligible under RDIA. For further information on the RDIA program, contact the Department of Regional Economic Expansion, 8th Floor Financial Building, 10621 100th Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

Lots of fun

Left to right, Kelly Kowalchek, Joanna Tiedemann, and Mark Tiedemann are busy tearing up paper (right in line with what kids love to do) to make paper mache piggy banks, one of many projects which instructor Vanessa Meanen, right, gives to the young Ryley playground registrants. They also learn games, drama, and songs, and go swimming, camping, and on trips such as a recent one to the Game Farm. For children ages 4 to 12, the playground operates all day Monday through Friday, and registrations are still being taken by Beaver County Recreation at a cost of $5 for the summer.

Mercury censured by Ryley council

Minutes of a regular meeting of the council of the Village of Ryley was held in the council chambers on Monday July 25th, 1977 at 7:30 p.m., with Deputy Mayor Taylor, Councillors Brown, Burton and Hellesen, and the secretary-treasurer R.C Haviland, present.

Councillor Burton brought forward for discussion the purchase of a snow blower which had been tabled for the special meeting of July 14, 1977.

Moved by Councillors Brown (Hellesen) that the Village Council leave this matter until such time as the village budget is clarified as to the financial standing.

Moved by Councillors Burton (Hellesen) that Monday August 1st, 1977 be declared a Civic Holiday, and that the secretary-treasurer be instructed to advertise a notice in the local paper advising the public of such a holiday and that a letter be written to the local Postmaster and the Treasury Branch.

A general discussion then took place in regards to the publishing of council meetings in the local paper and in regards to a news print handed on the front page of the Mercury wherein the Council of the Village of Ryley opposes Holden Seniors' Lodge. It was suggested that if this is the manner in which minutes of the Village Council are to be reported then only news releases will be made or the minutes will not be placed for publication.

Moved by Councillors Taylor (Burton) that the secretary-treasurer be instructed to write the Village Council of Holden extending an apology for the news release as printed in The Mercury.

It was suggested that the minutes should be censured at the office before the minutes are turned over to the reporter for printing.

Moved by Councillors Burton (Taylor) that Councillor Brown be authorized to meet with the Mercury reporter regarding the printing of the Village meeting minutes and in particular the headlining of the minutes.

Councillors reports were then taken up: — Councillor Brown reported that the Ryley Lions Club would spend money on the playgrounds and sports grounds.

In regards to the Sports Grounds, the Lions Club are prepared to place 10 per cent of their funds derived from their sports day, towards water facilities. Mr. Brown reported that there is a double toilet at the Water Plant which could be moved onto the Sports Grounds if it is worthwhile being repaired.

Moved by Councillor Brown that the secretary-treasurer write Mr O Philips the treasurer of the Ryley Lions Club, whereby he and Councillor Hellesen could discuss this matter further.

The next regular meeting of the council is scheduled for August 8th, 1977 at 7:30 p.m.

Three new categories added to Tofield Fair

By Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Fair Committee met on July 27th to finalize plans for the Tofield Fair which is to be held on Saturday, Aug. 20th.

This year, in addition to the Horticulture, Field Crops, Kitchen Crafts, Handicrafts and Art, and the Horse Show, three new categories have been added — School Exhibits, Photography, and a Pet Show.

The format of the Fair has also been changed somewhat. This year the staging of exhibits will take place on Friday, Aug. 19th, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Judging in all categories except Livestock and the Pet Show will take place promptly at 2 p.m. on Friday.

Exhibits will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday. The Horse Show will commence at 10 a.m. on Saturday and the pets will be judged at 12 noon Saturday.

This year, displays will also be a feature of the Fair, church displays, horticulture displays, and a ceramic display as well as several livestock displays have already been scheduled. It is hoped that more people will display livestock. If anyone is interested in displaying livestock, contact Roberta Cawston at 662-2324 or Doris Brown at 662-4649.

Tofield Fair Prize List books are available at the Elizabeth Sheppe and Dykeman's Confectionary. Extra entry forms, livestock entry forms, and exhibitor tags may also be picked up at these business places. If exhibitor tags are filled out and attached to the exhibits prior to the showing, it saves much time for the exhibitor as well as the committee members in charge of each section.

Entries close for all sections of the Fair on Saturday, Aug. 13th, so mail or submit your entries as soon as possible.

The Horse Club will hold their Trophy Day closed gymkhana on Sunday, Aug 21st, so anyone visiting Tofield for the Fair could make plans to attend this gymkhana as well.

Lindbrook wins Hiway 14 league

In two straight games, Lindbrook eliminated last year's Highway 14 League champions, Bruce, to take their semi-final series, then went on to beat Holden in two games in the finals to win the league title.

Holden had edged Ryley two games to one in their semi-final series.

In the final matches, Lindbrook won over Holden by scores of 6-1 and 10-7. Both Lindbrook games were pitched by Macleod, while Buchy took both losses for Holden.

In a fastball tournament in Holden on Sunday, Ryley will face Lindbrook at 10 a.m., Holden plays Vegreville at 12 noon, and Mundare goes against Bruce at 2 p.m. The semi-finals are scheduled for 4 p.m. with finals at 6 p.m.

Tofield in 'Twi-Lite' provincials

Tofield will be among the competitors in the first provincial "Twi-Lite" baseball championships, to be held in Stony Plain this weekend, Aug. 6 and 7th.

Sponsored by the Alberta Baseball Association, the "Twi-Lite" division covers players 18 years and older. One of the rule differences restricts pitchers to a maximum of three innings in a game.

The eight entrants will be split into two pools of four teams each, with the top two in each advancing into the semi-finals.

Using two diamonds simultaneously, action will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, with Edmonton meeting the Pembina Valley All-Stars, and the host club of Stony Plain tangling with the Oilfield League All-Stars.

At 12:30 p.m. on opening day, Nanton will square off against Provost, and Camrose will go against Tofield.

A steak barbecue will be a highlight of the two-day event.

New Ryley Fair classes

by Lena Odell

The Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society Annual Fair is to be held Wednesday, Aug. 17th, at the Ryley Community Hall and adjoining grounds. A full afternoon of activity is planned for all the family, including exhibits and displays as well as organized activities.

There is an opportunity for entry into many different types of exhibits from flowers to baking to grain included this year are some new classes - ethnic cooking, T-shirt sewing, blue jeans, and grain samples. There is also a special section for those participants under 17 years of age.

Entries are to be submitted on the morning of Tuesday, Aug 16th, and will be judged that afternoon. There is no charge for entry and ribbons will be presented to the first three placings in each class.

The afternoon also features the children's pet show, horseshoes, and races of all types. Come and meet your neighbors at the fair and enjoy an afternoon with friends.

Around the town

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson of White Horse, Yukon, spent a few days visiting with relatives and friends at Tofield. Dave and Muriel are working with the Evangelical Northern Lights Mission in White Horse. While here, Dave was guest speaker at the Sunday services at the Tofield Baptist Church.

Stan and Liz Schacher and Greg are back from a three week vacation at Nelson, B.C., where Greg attended international hockey school.

On Sunday, Mr and Mrs. Robert Goubault of Drayton Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goubault from England visited Mrs. Mary Wood.

Recent visitors at the Conrad Patterson home were Hazel's sisters, Mrs Evelyn Moen of Vancouver, B.C. and Mrs Merle Hanley of Maidenhead, B.C. They also visited their mother, Mrs Hilliard, their brother, Glenn and family of Ryley, and their sister, Beulah Globellense of Vegreville, where a family gathering was held. Other visits were made in the district, in Irma, Edmonton, and Camrose, and in Red Deer where Evelyn's daughter, Marna Cheetham and family live.

Roy and Muriel of Calgary called on Conrad and Hazel Patterson recently.

Bill Davenport accompanied his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leach of Manotik, and his daughter, Mrs Neil Armstrong of Surrey, B.C., to the home of his granddaughter, Donna Leach of Camrose, on Friday evening. Mrs Armstrong stayed with Mr. Davenport for a few days on her way home from a holiday in Manitoba.

Mrs J. A. L. Smith spent Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Ryley wins first in finals

Ryley defeated Camrose 7-4 in their first game of the finals in the Powerline Baseball League, when they moved to Camrose last Tuesday.

The second game of the series was to have been played in Ryley on Thursday, but was postponed due to rain, and rescheduled to Aug. 2nd there. If a third game is necessary, it will be hosted by Camrose this Thursday.

In last Tuesday's game, Readmowers racked up 10 errors, which facilitated Ryley's win. Berke went the distance for the winners, and Schoenknecht took the loss. C. Solberg of Ryley batted a home run.

Bitter Pill!

Whose role?

It's only a few days ago that Premier Lougheed was drawing very severe criticism from the Hon. Otto Lang, Minister responsible for the Wheat Board, and from several grain company presidents, for his 'meddling' in the grain business while on his last European tour. Specifically, they were objecting to his talking with Russian officials while in that country.

We couldn't help but recall the time twenty years ago when the Liberals again felt there was no sense meddling in the orderly processes of marketing wheat, only to have Alvin Hamilton as Minister of Agriculture make the biggest wheat sale to China ever made.

It's a sale we're still cussing on, but unfortunately, while the number of bushels has increased, Canada's proportionate share of the market has slipped backwards. Instead of criticizing Premier Lougheed, Otto Lang should be in there singing his praises, and saying that anything he can do to help sell wheat is helping the West, and Canada generally.

With our current dismal showing in the international balance of trade, (a deficit of some five billion dollars last year) Mr. Lang and the government he works with should rejoice in every extra bushel placed. So should the grain company presidents.

Get on board

Some of the remarks made in Lac la Biche last week by the Hon. Jack Horner should prove completely shocking to anyone who retains even the merest illusions about the way the political scheme works in Ottawa.

Speaking at a meeting founding the new Liberal association in the Athabasca constituency, Mr. Horner told his listeners there are many decisions being made in Ottawa which are highly critical to the West, so the West must have a voice in the decisions being made. Agriculture and energy were high on the list when he said "That's why you as Albertans have to get on side in the election in the next few years."

Albertans, he said, must have input into decisions about natural resources such as timber, potash, wheat and natural gas, all of which can be exported to ease the nation's economic problems, and oil, which can serve the needs of Canadians at home.

On this basis, he urged his hearers to work hard at electing more western Liberals to help him out in presenting the West's case in Ottawa.

That's an appalling attitude. For years Western Canadians have been sending representatives to Ottawa to present the West's case, and Mr. Horner was one of them. He may well have felt it was hard getting the view of the West across all these years . . . Is he telling us now that he's crossed the floor in that time he too won't even listen to the views of his former associates? Is he saying that all political wisdom starts and ends with the Liberals? He'd have a hard time selling that line. It's easy to agree that political power rides with the Liberals, but that doesn't also carry with it all wisdom.

We wouldn't be surprised now to hear Mr. Horner say that in former days he only worked for the Tories in his constituency, and now he's only going to represent the Grits

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — The pressures on Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau from within his own party to call an election this fall are becoming almost irresistably strong. With Tory leader Joe Clark thumped into a Gallup Poll back seat, and the national unity issue apparently motivating political preferences to the exclusion of economics, the Liberals look unbeatable.

But in public, at least Mr. Trudeau appears to be resisting. He still sees no reason for holding an election — and in that he's right, unless you consider the obvious political opportunistic reasons. There are certain mechanical reasons, too, which mitigate against an election for this coming fall.

The Queen will be in Ottawa October 15 to open Parliament, and that means that there should be no election after the middle of September, because any newly elected government needs at least a month to gather itself together after a campaign to face Parliament.

There are difficulties in holding an election in early September, because many people are away on holidays and difficult to reach during a campaign — but that difficulty could be partially met within the narrow limits of an election call for voting sometime between Sept. 12 and Sept. 19. We'd have a summer campaign, but at least a few days when most people were back at home.

But there's also the need for a debate in Parliament on the decision for a pipeline — either down the Mackenzie Valley, down the Alaskan Highway, or not at all. That debate is scheduled for August 22 — before the government informs the U.S. of the final verdict. A fall election call would scrap the pipeline debate, and also shoot down any chance for the U.S. to get a Canadian pipeline decision by President Carter's Sept. 1 deadline.

The pipeline debate promises to be causing the government enough trouble anyway. The House of Commons will be closed all summer, and many workmen will be losing the employment to begin television coverage the fall. MPs will meet for the pipeline debate, according to present plans, in the Senate chamber, and that will be a traumatic experience for many vocal opponents of the Senate.

The government, when considering a fall election, will also have to take into account that Ontario is crucial in any election, and if anybody in the country is sick of unnecessary elections, it's the people of Ontario.

Canadian system works — says Goyer

TORONTO. "Inaction as well as over-reaction are self-destructive. Let's awaken from our lassitude. If Canadians care, Canada can."

This was the message driven home recently by the Honourable Jean-Pierre Goyer, Minister of Supply and Services, in a hard-hitting speech to the Canada-Israel Chamber of Commerce.

To those who flippantly say "let them go" or to the PQ government that works to separate Quebec from the rest of Canada, Mr. Goyer offers the very common description of our country - a dream.

"Those of you who travel abroad have heard it time and time again. Yet, unfortunately, what much of the world over has dreamed about, we too often have overlooked. We too often have taken our country for granted.

"Surely it is not entirely based on dreams. There are facts to support the dream.

"The failure to recognize success — one of the great problems of our times.

"For twenty years now, Canadians have accepted prosperity — and even more prosperity — as almost taken for granted. It was hardly ten years ago that we were envy of what seemed an endless boom. Even as recently as five years ago, Canadians had every reason to expect more of the same in particular, younger Canadians who cannot remember the Great Depression have assumed that a constantly increasing standard of living was a part of the natural order and economic lassitude settled in.

I do not want to discount the influences of the world economy on Canada, but I believe that this economic lassitude is at the very root of our economic problems.

"Notwithstanding international economic influences, many of the current manifestations of economic unrest in Canada — growing foreign debt, growing tax burden, inflation, high unemployment, capital outflow, increasing labour militancy — result from our very failure to recognize the need for continued economic growth to preserve the present system.

"The system works" it has been successful No matter what the critics might say, we just can't be blind to success.

Goyer points out that we have failed to fully recognize the richness of our culture — a blend of two of the world's dominant cultures. Too often we compare ourselves to Americans.

We have failed to recognize the advantages of being bilingual. French is spoken as an official language in 25 countries whereas English is recognized as an official language in 23 countries. It is an asset to be able to speak those two languages!

"I must say that on the whole, English Canadians have been cooperative and receptive to the idea of bilingualism. I was asked recently if I believe English Canadians to be bigoted. No, and I hope you don't believe French Canadians are. The bigots, on both sides, are a minority. They must remain a minority.

"Let us turn our differences into assets. Think cooperation, not domination. Canadians — French, English or whatever their ethnic background — will respond."

Speaking about the White Paper on language, Goyer said that many Quebeckers — Francophone and Anglophone — opposed the White Paper. Many Quebeckers just don't want to be unilingual, nor do they want their children to be constrained by language.

How to cope with separatists

How to oppose the running tide of emotion among most of the French in Quebec about their heritage is the fundamental question facing all those who are against the separation of Quebec from the rest of Canada. It is a most difficult task. In its appeal to the insecurities and the frustrations of the Quebecois, the independence movement has gone beyond political creed into sacrosanct devotion. This cannot be seen as surprising, writes Amy Booth in her report on the Nation. The faith was born out of the running wound of defeat on the Plains of Abraham. It was nurtured by the rejection of business careers by recent generations in favor of classical pursuits. It has been brought to fruition by a combination of the ease with which the great levers of economic power can be grasped and, for some, by a still-lingering need to replace the parental comfort of Maurice Duplessis and the guiding hand of the Roman Catholic church. Attempting to modify the attitudes of these deeded Quebecers with modest changes in a party platform is unlikely to be successful. Nor is an appeal, at least at the ballot, to any sense of the PQ performance to date. Some of the excitement of a "victory of their own" is beginning to wane, not only among French Canadians with a strong nationalist streak but among some Francais well. Yet, the PQ's constant refrain that it is only normal that French Canadians take their rightful place in society is difficult to refute. Such realities make formal and informal opposition to the PQ disjointed and fumbling. Thus it also explains why a growing body of opinion believes that the best opposition is no opposition. In other words, the theory has it that the PQ will eventually bring about its own fall from power.

SLIP MONITOR FOR TRACTORS

Agricultural engineers have developed an electronic device to monitor tractor driveshead slip which could save farmers money.

The slip monitor operates from the 13-volt tractor electrical supply, is easily installed and can be read in the field. The monitor could help a tractor operator control driveshead slip and save money on fuel consumption and tire wear.

Agriculture Canada's Engineering Research Service in Ottawa says the device has proved practical and effective. However, more work must be done before it can be commercially produced and made available to farmers

The Canadian Standards Association

The CSA has been, since its inception in 1919, an independent national organization whose main work is

1. to develop standards of safety, quality, and performance for manufactured products

2. to certify those products which meet the standards established by CSA.

This group is not a government branch, but rather a non-profit, self governed by a board of Directors chosen from among its members, who are Canadians representing all walks of life

When standards are required for a product, CSA forms a committee consisting of experts in that particular field, and the committee formulates the standards CSA has no power to enforce these standards, but they are often used as the basis of government legislation. (For example, all electrical appliances sold in Canada must meet CSA safety standards) In addition many manufacturers are members of CSA. They voluntarily comply with CSA standards and are permitted to carry the CSA monogram on their product

After standards have been set, CSA certification involves testing and inspection of products, with revision and improvement of standards when required To facilitate this work, there are six offices across Canada and five abroad

The CSA publishes a newsletter "CSA and the Consumer" which contains information about the work done, as well as other timely items of interest Anyone can receive their brochures by writing to CSA Consumer Editor, 178 Rexdale Boulevard, Rexdale, Ontario M9W 1R3

The fall and winter issue had three items for avoiding bathroom injuries Safety experts agree that many bathroom injuries could be avoided. For example the installation of non-slip surfaces for tubs and showers and securely mounted grab bars could significantly reduce the chance of injury from falls. The most common bathroom hazard To protect themselves, homeowners can make sure such accessories are securely mounted and made of non-breakable material

Another common bathroom hazard is burns, often caused by water that reaches unreasonably high temperatures. Water heated to 115 F (46C) or above is destructive in human tissue

In most cases, 140 F (60C) hot water is a good temperature for a normal house with a dishwasher When the water heater services only the bath, the thermostat can be set lower; 110 F (43C) is recommended Incidentally, for every 10 F (6C) you raise the temperature above 140 F (60C), your hot water costs will increase 3 per cent

Recreation Report

Camp Chatter

Linda, Doug, Betty Ann, Joanne and Carol Lynn are looking forward to seeing the day campers next week. Be sure to bring your picnic and suit.

Here's another report from our mouse

Dear Geiner

While on holidays last week, enjoyed great Florida sunshine. Sorry I didn't even send a postcard.

This week was senior citizens week here at camp. The evenings were so quiet, I even learned how to play crib and rummy.

On Monday, the big yellow monster unloaded 18 seniors from Ryley and Tofield. They parked more berries than I've ever seen. You should have seen their faces when they went canoeing! And what a riot playing softball! It's a good thing I was in the tall grass or I would have gotten stepped on. Then you can just imagine their expressions when they were told they had to cook their own tin foil stew in a campfire. It smelled good but I never even got a taste cause they licked their foil clean.

On Tuesday, only four came out from Bruce and Viking. They enjoyed packing rocks, saskatoons, and throwing steel hail circles at pegs (they called it horseshoes but I didn't see any horses).

On Friday when everyone was supposed to come, it so I was in bed all weekend. rained so hard I caught a cold. Your cousin Homer

Minutes of a regular meeting of the Council of the Village of Ryley was held in the council chambers on Monday July 11th, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. with, Mayor Baker, Councillors Brown, Burton, Heilesson and Taylor, and the secretary-treasurer R.C. Haviland, present.

In regards to office help it should be noted that this position is to be part time or temporary help.

Moved by Councillors Brown (Heilesson) that the minutes of the special meeting held on June 22nd, 1977 be adopted as read with the above noted correction.

A discussion took place in regards to the sale of unregistered water outside the village limits.

Moved by Councillors Burton (Heilesson) that the village not sell unmetered water and that the secretary-treasurer be instructed to place a notice in The Mercury to inform the public to this effect.

Moved by Councillors Burton (Heilesson) that Mrs Marie Brix be engaged on a part time basis for the Town Office

The secretary-treasurer reported on the Public Tax Sale held on June 28th, 1977 There were no properties sold at that sale and notices as required by the tax recovery act have been mailed out by registered mail

The secretary-treasurer reported on the repairs to date for the old Fire truck

Moved by Councillors Brown (Heilesson) that the secretary-treasurer be instructed to place an ad in The Edmonton Journal for 3 insertions for Friday, Saturday and Monday date the 15, 16 and 18, issues

An application as received from Chris Brinkhuisen for an addition to the former Johnson House on Main Street being Lot 5, Block 13, Plan 6888AJ for an estimated cost of $5,000.00 was approved

Moved by Councillor Heilesson that the Council set Thursday July 14th, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. as budget meeting night

Moved by Councillors Brown (Heilesson) that the Village Council hold two regular council meetings per month and to be set for the first and 4th Mondays of each month.

A discussion took place in regards to the purchasing of a new mower blower

Moved by Councillor Brown (Burton) that we would consider a mower blower at the budget meeting.

A discussion took place in regards to a vehicle being parked partly on the sidewalk. It was further pointed out that the front end of the vehicle has been lifted up and blocked on the sidewalk with the engine removed.

Moved by Councillors Brown (Baker) that the secretary-treasurer contact the R.C.M.P. and have them take the necessary act to have the vehicle removed, if it fails within the Highway Traffic Act

A discussion took place in regards to sign signs in the Village It was suggested that the traffic by-law should be reviewed whereby yield signs could be placed in certain areas

Moved by Councillor Brown that Councillor Taylor be a committee of one to review and report to council his findings and recommendations.

Mayor Baker reported on the application as received from the Ryley Sunshine Club and stated that a public meeting should be held to review the 5 year master plan. It would be advisable to have notices mailed to various organizations that presented briefs at the time the Master Plan was made up and that these organizations be requested to submit new briefs for the revision.

Minutes of a special meeting (budget-bleeting) was held in the council chambers for the Village of Ryley on Thursday July 14th, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. with the following present: Mayor Baker, Councillors Brown, Burton and Taylor, and the secretary-treasurer R.C. Haviland

The secretary-treas rand the proposed budget in full whereon the mill rate would be set at Commercial 169 and Residential 83 After some discussion and revision a mill rate would be adjusted to commercial 107 and Residential 80

Moved by Councillors Brown (Burton) that the budget be approved as amended for the mill rate of Commercial 107 and Residential as carried.

Progressive Farming

To continue the theme of education in the field of Agriculture, here is some information on correspondence courses which are available to farm families whose members are not able to get away from the farm for any length of time to attend regular lessons at the three Provincial Colleges (Olds, Vermilion, Fairview) which offer courses on agricultural related topics

For those persons who are interested to further their knowledge in individual aspects of their farming operation, here are the correspondence courses offered by Olds College in Olds, Alberta

1 Introduction to Farm Accounting. This is an elementary course intended to offer basic instructions in keeping farm financial records for those who had no bookkeeping or record keeping experience. The course consists of 12 individual lessons

2 Advanced Farm Accounting, Income Tax and Estate Planning The 13 individual lessons of this course are intended for those who have accounting experience and emphasizes enterprise accounting, farm accounts necessary for income tax purposes and simple tax statement preparation

3 Introduction to Farm Management This course consists of ten lessons dealing with the most frequently questioned topics relative to the management of the farm It answers questions such as: What is Management?, The Role of the Farm Manager?; What factors influence success?, What is the Law of Diminishing Returns?

4 Farm Finance? The Farm Finance Course consists of ten lessons and is intended to assist farmers in making wise decisions with reference to their financial matters. Topics covered include use of credit for farmers, calculations of costs and resource costing, effect of inflation on farm prices and costs, use of financial tables, priorities of investments

5 Introduction to Marketing Farm Products The ten lessons of this course are intended to assist farmers in understanding the flow of raw material from the farm to the consumer, and to appreciate the very complex nature of the marketing system The law of supply and demand, the marketing chain, and methods of selling livestock and grain are discussed in detail

All the 5 correspondence courses from Olds College require a registration fee of $30 00 For more information on the individual courses, please contact the Registrar, Olds College, Olds, Alberta

CAMP LAKE NEWS

Last week was Senior Citizen Week at Camp Lake. It was a good time with activities such as picking muskatoons, canoeing, ball games and cooking over the camp fires. It's too bad Friday was rained out because the camp staff really had something exciting planned!

This week at Camp Lake are the boys aged 7-11 years. Be watching next weeks Mercury for events that happened.

Is anyone interested in a camp from August 15 - 20? Please call the office at 683-2726 if so.

"JUST A MINUTE!"

Take time to read about our new

ONE MINUTE RATES AND DISCOUNT PERIODS

for Long Distance calls inside Alberta.

Now, charges on all Long Distance calls to points within Alberta will be calculated on a one minute basis instead of three. Talk for a minute and you'll only be charged for a minute - talk for two and you'll only be charged for two!

Take advantage of our new discount periods.

You'll get more value for your Long Distance dollar when you place your calls during these discount periods

Examples of 1 minute calls within Alberta

Location \ Time Period	REGULAR RATE NO DISCOUNT	SAVE 35%	SAVE 50%	SAVE 60%
	Daily between 8 a.m. & 6 p.m. (except Sunday)	Daily between 6 p.m. & midnight (except Sunday)	Sunday between 8 a.m. & midnight	Daily between midnight & 8 a.m.
Wetaskiwin to Pomeroy	18¢	12¢	9¢	7¢
Banff to Calgary	30¢	20¢	15¢	12¢
Medicine Hat to Lethbridge	42¢	27¢	21¢	17¢
Edmonton to Calgary	48¢	31¢	24¢	19¢
Grande Prairie to Red Deer	54¢	35¢	27¢	22¢
Fort McMurray to Turner Valley	60¢	39¢	30¢	24¢

*Maximum rate for a one minute call within Alberta.

Each additional minute is the same as the one minute regular rate. However, slight variations may show on your bill due to rounding off after the discount is applied.

Discounts are computed on the total time. A message charge is then added to all calls - regular and discounted - as follows:

DDD (Direct Distance Dialing) calls - add 2¢
Operator Assisted calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add 32¢
This applies to: • collect • third number billing • time and charges • credit card • Zenith • calls • station/station • operator assisted • person-to-person calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add 82¢

Remember . . .
our new regular rates now start at 8 a.m. instead of 6 a.m.
- so now you have two extra hours to save 60% on calls within Alberta!

Long Distance – still one of the great bargains of our time!

Hardy-Blacklock wed in Edmonton

A beautiful summer wedding recently united in marriage Kelley Blacklock and Larry Hardy, at Knox Metropolitan United Church in Edmonton on June 25th. Rev T J Sawyer officiated.

Kelley is the daughter of Mrs Lawrence Olson and Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hardy, all of Tofield.

Attendants were Mrs. Dwayne Marsten as maid of honor, Bob Nolan as best man, Mrs. Gerry Gurba, sister of the groom, Mrs. Kevin Blacklock, and Mrs. Murray Lindsay as bridesmaids, and Gerry Gurba, Kevin Blacklock, and Kerry Blacklock, the latter two brothers of the bride, as groomsmen

A reception and dance followed at Tofield Community Hall. The newlyweds have taken up residence in Edmonton.

Sunshine Frolics

Another exciting week at the playground has ended, with the name of animal week. During the week the kids made many types of animal puppets, box animals, and drew pictures of animals.

Our special event for last week was a pet show held Thursday evening. There were about 15 pets brought by the kids including dogs, cats, mice, hamsters, rabbits, and worms. Coffee, hamload, and doughnuts were sold to the parents and children. The kids were then asked in walk their pets around the lobby and were judged by Lynn and Donna

Ribbons were awarded for the best looking dog which went to Jason Norrie, best looking cat, Stacey and Laura Mashinter, most lovable pet, Donnie and Leanne Sears for their kittens, most unusual pet, Cheryl Peters for her hamster, and pet you'd least like to have, Jason, Darren, and Travis Mammerts for their worms. The rest of the kids got participant ribbons

This week is fund-raising week with a bottle drive on Tuesday, a popcorn and lemondade sale on Wednesday, and a sing-a-thon on Thursday evening, Aug 4th beginning at 7 p.m. All are welcome to come and listen. Remember kids will be knocking at your doors asking for sponsors.

Registrations are still being taken For further information contact Lynn Warner at 662-2131 or Donna Friesen at 662-3438

Show dogs shot

Some valuable show dogs, kept at a place just north of Lindbrook, were shot and either killed or wounded on Tuesday, and Tofield detachment R C M P are investigating the matter.

A white poodle valued at $100 was shot and killed, while injured were three Borzoi Russian wolf hounds valued at $800 each and two St. Bernards worth $500 each. The shooting is believed to have been done with a shotgun using rock salt

C.N. reported wilful damage done to the crossing lights at Mile 249, west of Tofield Damages are estimated at $400

Bikes are once again being stolen from community residences Several have been recovered. R.C.M.P. request citizens to lock their bicycles to prevent theft

Voyeur Petroleum of Holden reported wilful damage at their gas plant and theft of a 300 gallon storage tank Beaver Motors at Holden reported the theft of $140 worth of hub caps off a new truck

Concerned citizens at Holden have complained to police about consumption of alcohol by minors at social functions The matter is being investigated

Dave Schmidt of R.R. 1, Tofield, has reported a missing steer, a red and white face Hereford, which is branded on the right rib with "D Lazy S"

Hugh Fleck reported the theft of a truck while he was away from home Two juvenile girls are to be charged

A Tofield area resident, Calvin Goertz, has been charged with careless driving, resulting from stunting in town and the subsequent collision with a power pole when his vehicle went out of control

Local team does well in Twi-Lite provincials

A team from Bardo-Tofield area entered in the Alberta Baseball Association's Twi-Lite Division provincial playoffs on Aug. 6 and 7th in Stony Plain. They reached the semi-finals, where they were beaten by Pembina Valley in the last inning with a score of 10-9.

In that semi-final game, Bardo-Tofield trailed most of the way, but a grand-slam homer by Charles Rude in the top of the seventh inning put them in front 8-7. However, Pembina came back in their half of the inning with a three-run homer to win the contest.

Rain washed out the final game between Edmonton and Pembina Valley, which is scheduled for a later date.

Bardo-Tofield won the runner-up spot in the semi-finals by winning two out of three games in their division. They lost the opener to Highway 13 (Coronation - Castor) 13-8, but came back to take the next two against Hanna 19-10 and Provost 13-10.

Pitchers for Bardo-Tofield were Ed Williams, Lee Lawson, Eric Hohn, and Elmer Elmgreen, with Lawrence Wilkens and Leo Rurka receiving spot duty

The brand of baseball was of high calibre and the Bardo-Tofield team played very well. The ball diamonds were of extremely short fences, so a lot of home runs were made, causing the games to be high scoring. The Twi-Lite Division baseball is an "old-timers" category, 35 years and older.

Playing on the Bardo-Tofield team were Milt Malick, Ray Heck, Larry Pasbaug, Rod Williams, Leo Rurka, Lawrence Rude, Don Litwin, Lorne Gudmundson, Ron Goeglein, Ed Williams, Elmer Goeglein, Cliff Oakland, Leonard Lawson, Charles Rude, Eric Hohn, Leonard Stauffer (manager), and Cecil Stenrud (coach.)

Mexico workers

Two sixteen year olds from Ryley left at the end of June on a volunteer teen work mission in Mexico where they will work on building construction for the summer months The boys are Wallace Lehman, (left) son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lehman and Alvin Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stauffer The Teen Mission is arranged through co-operation with different churches

All Fair entries close this weekend

by Doris Brown

Entries for the Tofield Fair close on Saturday, Aug. 13th, and should be mailed to the secretary, Tofield and District Agricultural Society, Box 273, Tofield, as soon as possible

Much interest has been shown in the fair already and plans are for an even bigger and better fair for Tofield than in previous years

This year the fair is a one-day event, however, exhibits will be accepted on Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. All exhibits must be staged prior to 3 p.m. on Friday at which time the judging will commence. All categories except the Livestock and the Pet Show will be judged on Friday Exhibits will be open to the public on Saturday, Aug. 20th, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m

There are some misprints in the Prize List. Corrections are as follows: Pg 4 "open to the public", should read 10 a.m to 8 p.m. pg. 11, the Adult Classes, begin with Class 112 and continue through Class 142; pg. 14, Class 175, should read "natural materials" rather than "fabrics"; pg. 16, Class 232 should also read "natural materials" rather than "fabrics"

A new category has been added in the Horticultural section this year — Greenhouse Classes — and with the number of greenhouses in the district, a good number of entries in these classes is anticipated.

The Horse Show will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday Following is a list of the classes of horses to be shown at the fair Judge will be Hank Pallister

Halter Class — Horses to be shown in hand at walk and trot. Should stand square on all four feet. Handled and shown throughout an entire class by only one and the same person A suitable headstall equipped with throatlatch.

Trail Pony — 50 and Over. Judged as a Pleasure Class - Western or English Western Pleasure Judged the same as Class 272 Trail Class - open.

Besides the cash prizes, rosettes will be presented for the first five placings

The Beaverhills Light Horse club in sponsoring a clinic on Sunday, Aug. 14th, at 2:30 p.m. Roberta Ceretzke will supplais and demonstrate how to prepare a horse for the show ring and the proper way to show horses

All interested persons are invited to attend

Ryley wins league

Ryley claimed the Powerline Baseball League title after winning over Camrose Roadrunners two games straight in the final series

Last Tuesday, Ryley won their deciding game by a close score of 5-4, bringing in their winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning. E. Solberg went the distance for the win, but gave up 11 Camrose hits compared to their five. A. Schoenknecht went in to pitch the last inning and was charged with the loss

In the Holden baseball tournament on Sunday, Roadrunners won the first game over Tofield 8-1, then later lost to Holden 5-4 In their first game, C. Sawchuk went the route for winners, and L. Williams took the loss. In the game with Holden, L. Lanigner went all the way to pick up the win, while Bateman was charged with the loss

Other scores in the tournament were Holden over Round Hill 10-2, Ryley over Bardo 9-2, and in the final match, Ryley 5 and Holden 1.

Burnt effigies

We've heard a good deal of criticism over the actions of several West Central Alberta residents who last week showed their displeasure with a government decision over the building of a dam on the Red Deer River. They made effigies of Premier Lougheed and Minister of the Environment Dave Russell, then burned them in effigy and buried the remains in "graves" of the rich soil which would be destroyed by construction of the dam in question.

There has been even more criticism over the way the show was played up on the telecasts, repeatedly emphasizing the whole sordid affair.

We say sordid advisedly, and after consideration. Such a display of violence has no place in our country. And let's not be under any mistake that this is just a harmless stunt, perpetrated by a few practical jokers.

It's a concept built on strong antagonism which moves from vocal opposition through frustration to pent up resentment and bitterness, venting itself in the violence of symbolic murder by hanging or burning. In other cultures, the same emotionalism moves into the field of voodoo, or ritual killings. It's like building the well known voodoo doll in the image of the "enemy" and pricking it with pins, searing it with flame, or breaking its back, with the same experience being transferred to the original model.

In their enthusiasm, the people of the area are guilty of inciting to violence. Burning in effigy is the sort of emotionalism that leads to lynch law . . . all it needs is an articulate and highly emotional leader to incite a crowd as Cassius fired the Romans against Brutus. It's part of the fiery cross mentality we so largely deplore from south of our border, and it has no place in our way of life.

The Canadian has often disagreed strongly with the policies and tactics of the Lougheed government, but counselling violence isn't the way to correct it. We elect these men to make decisions in our best interests, based on all the knowledge they can obtain. If their decisions are not to our liking, the remedy lies in the ballot, not the bullet. Nor the faggot.

Rails look better

For all that the public may get highly indignant over the air situation, it's still a fact of life that railways are among our biggest carriers in Canada, especially in Western Canada, where the huge bulk of freight shipment has to be made by rail.

This being the case, it's highly encouraging to see the figures for the first four months of 1977, which show rail traffic up considerably. Even brighter, revenue has increased considerably faster than expenses, so that the railways — railways in the country saw revenues rise nearly seven percent during the month of April, while expenses rose only 1.2 percent. The net effect was that April's net income was nearly three times that of 1976.

The figures make interesting reading for statisticians, who can build many meaningful interpretations from them, although probably they'd be pretty dull for most people. Still it's interesting to note that freight ton-miles rose 7.1 percent, freight train-miles rose only 1.2 percent, while freight car-miles were up 3.1 percent. The implication would seem to be that management made use of longer trains, and more efficiently loaded cars.

For the taxpayer concerned over the CNR debt situation, the figures look healthy and reassuring for the investor in the privately owned lines it paints a future bright with hope of appreciation. And for Western Canadians concerned with rail line abandonment, it suggests the picture may not be quite so dark as they have been led to believe.

The majority of Canadians, talk of this country's economic problems as though they were talking about another country — one far removed from their own cozy affluence and inhabited only by opposition politicians, business leaders and journalists. The moan played often concentrated on the "have-not" hinterland - do not starve in a welfare state and there are few signs of outrage by people for whom society cannot provide jobs such as were seen in the 1930's.

The fact is however, the Canadian scene is very like that which prevailed in Britain during the late sixties and early seventies. While the storm signals pile up, our nation and its government continue to act as if the problems were merely marginal or temporary. The productive sector of our economy continues to be eroded by government expansion. In 1966 the government took 28 per cent of the national output compared with 42 per cent today. This year the federal [illegible] budgeted for a 7 billion dollar deficit, more than the total budget for the last year of Mr Diefenbaker's government.

Incentives to compete and produce the wealth that must carry the burden of debt are increasingly meager. Taxation continues to climb in most provinces the individual's tax liability will take a sharp [illegible] upwards this year. We are now the second most heavily taxed western industrial nation, not so far behind Britain's notorious taxation regime which put that country in such serious and deeply rooted difficulties.

In recent years the rush of the federal government into various areas which traditionally had been provincial responsibilities multiplied the numbers and size of bureaucracies in Canada. In recent years there has been a growing tendency to throw money rather than imagination or solution at society's problems. In an attempt to be constructive, might I suggest that some of the following are a few of the examples that could assist us in recapturing our economic security. There should be a concertive effort to cut the overlap and duplication of public programs that have grown en masse by federal and provincial governments. The growth of government spending which has increased 300 per cent in the past ten years and utilizes another 10 per cent of our gross national product should be frozen until such time as our economy has expanded to the degree that the government's take of the total nation's wealth is somewhere in the range of 28 to 32 per cent. Obviously, the more money that the government takes for public programs and redistribution, the less that is left for the private sector, the group in society which economists agree are the creators of wealth.

Moreover, there should be an extensive review of all federal crown corporation and eliminate those whose functions are either obsolete or as in the case of the 4 billion dollar Petro-Can Project it should have been left to the private sector. Moreover, there should be a concerted effort to demoralize the national government so that it is in closer working operation with the people it is intended to serve. The massive public works building programs in Ottawa in recent years to house civil servants whose obligations lie somewhere in Canada's hinterlands simply puts bureaucrats on those who should be be keeping in touch with Canada's needs

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (SF) — The case of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police break-in in which bedevilled the government much to opposition glee, is symptomatic of a much broader question facing the Trudeau cabinet and Canadians in general.

You see, Mr. Trudeau and his ministers have been plagued with difficulties by the RCMP. There have been leaks which the government suspects have come from the force and incidents of obstructionism like the mysterious notification of newsmen when Mounties were visiting former Transport Minister Jean Marchand in his parliamentary office. There have also been leaks and obstructions from other areas of the public service which are much lower in profile than the RCMP.

Leaks infuriate the prime minister. He has vowed to stop them, but he has also encouraged them by keeping police proposals and recommendations secret.

This was when Canada could begin a civil service which was non partisan but Trudeau appointments have largely negated that original civil service. Time was when civil servants were encouraged to offer advice and keep secret the advice the secrets they held were important for national security.

But modern times have placed a new onus of morality on public servants. How many of those convicted of crimes in the Watergate scandal for example, were advising cabinet ministers. How many were active conspirators? These days the public expects civil servants to speak out when something is happening behind closed doors which is against the law or morality as perceived by the civil servant. Under those rules, do you condemn a bureaucrat who leaks information about a political party-off? Do you chastise the man who imposes policy for mutation which runs contrary to what the individual considers the rights of parliamentary democracy?

Opposition politicians and newsmen have no difficulty in picking up information from civil servants who are concerned about policy intentions much to the despair of government. The line of legitimate secrecy has become blurred because the public now expects moral decisions from civil servants.

It's a situation which can be dangerous because the line is not always drawn in the best interests of the country. The answer, though, is really relatively simple. The government could yield to the pressures of the public and press politicians to give Canada a freedom of information law with teeth, to sweep clean the crannies of bureaucracy.

Mind you, such a move may not be in the best interests of government, but if that is the case, the Canadian people should appreciate the reasons for unwarranted secrecy

Crops ripen rapidly

Crops are developing rapidly throughout the district but in several different ways, according to reports from elevator agents in the region.

Recent heavy winds with showers are causing some lodging in oats and barley in the Tofield region, while the cool weather and recent rains have improved crops in the Daysland district. Oats are estimated at 80 bushels to the acre and filling is good.

Around Ryley some washing of early rape crops started this week.

Hay Lakes reported the greatest amount of rainfall during the past week, with 38 millimetres, slightly over an inch while Ryley experienced the least rainfall, with only three millimetres. Overall rainfall since the first of May, however shows the Tofield area away out in front with 161 millimetres, which gives them one hundred percent of normal moisture in upper areas and 80 per cent in lower areas.

Overall, the best prospects seem to be in Daysland, with Tofield almost equally as good, with Camrose trailing somewhat in the estimate of yields, probably because of the lower rainfall

All areas report crops almost completely in the shot blade or in bloom, while only Hay Lakes reports they're not nearly all headed out and seed set

Rude reunion marks 75 years in Bardo

On July 8th, the Norwegian, American, and Canadian flags waved a welcome to the many visitors who came from far and near to celebrate 75 years since the Chris Rude family emigrated from the U.S.A. to the Bardo district. Eighteen campers and 45 cars were parked in the spacious farm yard of Lars and Gladys Rude and 164 people in all were registered.

A veiner roast was enjoyed in the evening after which everyone gathered in the barn to view a slide-tape program illustrating the Rude family's arrival from Norway and their dispersal over the North American continent.

The slides were contributed from family members across Canada and U.S.A. and a commentary was made to accompany them by Dennis Bjornson.

A color film from a 1961 gathering of the Rude family in Alberta was also shown by Dr. Joseph Rude of Juneau, Alaska. Both of these sets are now on loan to the Alberta Education curriculum centre dollar Petro-Can Project it should have been left to the private sector. Moreover, there should be a concerted effort to demoralize the national government so that it is in closer working operation with the people it is intended to serve. The massive public works building programs in Ottawa in recent years to house civil servants whose obligations lie somewhere in Canada's hinterlands simply puts bureaucrats on those who should be be keeping in touch with Canada's needs

Mrs Marjorie Astley and Mrs Judy Fairweather of the Tofield School staff and 32 families who had students in their grade three classes enjoyed a picnic at Big Knife Provincial Park on the last Sunday in June. Lunch, games, wading, and even successful fishing were included in the day's activities

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor

How many of you have heard our teenagers complain, "Oh, there's nothing for us to do" ? I had heard this statement and being from the community, I recognized the problem. So, I planned a carrally and barbeque in hopes of really starting activities for our teens and young people What happened? Practically 0 percent interest ! I would like to know what happened Perhaps the advertisement was poor* entry fee too high* no one interested*

As I recall, Val Charters, our last program supervisor, also planned a teen activity, but it too, was unsuccessful The beech party proved to be a flop perhaps because of the no liquor rule

So, teens, I am willing to plan at least one more activity for you in October I'm afraid if there is no more interest shown next time, I like Val, will brand you 'hopeless'

Our Lady

Thanks to Ed Regehr and his gang of helpers, Bill Friesen, Jack Thompson, and George Thiessen for mapping out the route Even if the weekend skiing trip come November!

Come on, show some interest I must make reservations very early in the season in order that we will be able to go.

Traveling Playground

This week our bus is at Maple Lodge community and is looking forward to visiting the Beaverhill community next. So, mark your calender from August 15 - 19, Beaverhill Monday !

Holden Playground

Due to low attendance at the Holden playground, we have been forced to terminate the program Wendy Komarnisky and Susie Stenerud have tried very hard to make Holden playground program successful but I guess there is just not enough children in Holden.

Bruce Chimney

Is everyone ready for next Monday's trip to the Alberta Game Farm, Pandoras Restaurant and the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium ? Well, places have been reserved, so unfortunately I can not accept any more sooners for the trip.

Fall Programs

I have had so few calls concerning our fall programs, I'm wondering if anyone is interested in them I just hope everyone is too busy farming

"JUST A MINUTE!"

Sunshine Frolics

Thanks to the citizens of Tofield and area, our fund-raising hids on the playground, our pest "Fund - Raising Week" was a success We started it off Tuesday with a bottle drive We collected 944 80 worth of bottles from many people around the town, to whom we are very grateful

Wednesday we continued with our fund-raising by holding our popcorn and lemonade sale Many patrons bought popcorn and lemonade and we made $30 00 that day Thursday we held our Sing-a-thon, which was also very successful The kids "sang their little hearts out" and although all of the money hasn't been collected, it looks as if it will be just as profitable if not more, as our other events were

All of the money that we've earned will be used to pay for a trip to Fort Edmonton and for a couple of other events planned

Friday afternoon we decided that the kids needed a bit of a rest after their work all week, so we took them out to Alan Gill's farm, where they saw all kinds of interesting animals and had horseback rides.

Mrs. Christine Kenny, Alan and Shirley Gill, Mrs. Pat Sagmoen, Mrs. Battersby, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Margaret Lammerts gave a lot of help during the past week Shelley Drader, Trey Robillard, Jackie Pittet, and Stephen Dennis also volunteered their help this past week.

This week is "Hobo Week". On Monday, 34 kids and both leaders made a trip to Camp Lake Despite the little bit of rain we had, the kids enjoyed canoeing, swimming, playing games, and singing songs with the camp leaders

Since this week is "Hobo Week", it couldn't pass without a hobo supper, so we've planned one for Thursday evening and it is to take place at Warner's Beth the kids and their parents are urged to attend Also, the older children are going to take out their tents and sleeping bags for a campout the same evening. We'll be sure to inform you of all the exciting events that are bound to take place!

Although there are only two weeks of summer left at the playground, there is still lots of fun to be had, so send your kids down. For further information, phone Donna at 662-3436 or Lynn at 662-3131.

- ☐ Operator Assisted calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add 23¢
  This applies to • collect • third number billing • time and charges • credit card • Dataline • coin • mobile/hotel • special billing • duration of call notification.
- ☐ Person-to-Person calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add 63¢

Remember . . .
our new regular rates now start at 8 a.m. instead of 6 a.m.
— so now you have two extra hours to save 60% on calls within Alberta!

Long Distance – still one of the great bargains of our time!

AGT ALBERTA GOVERNMENT TELEPHONES

Natural gas price up 6%

The Public Utilities Board has approved changes in the natural gas rates charged by Northwestern Utilities Limited to become effective on an interim refundable basis with the August 1977 billing. The rate changes will vary throughout Northwestern's system. In most areas, rate increases are necessary because of higher gas supply costs, higher operating costs and a reduction in 1977 sales partially offset by a reduction in the return on rate base.

In a few areas, rate reductions have been possible because of adjustments in gas supply costs.

The federal and provincial governments agreed to increase the price of oil and the price of natural gas effective August 1, 1977. Under the terms of the Natural Gas Price Protection Plan announced in March of this year, the provincial government, through rebates to the utilities, will absorb 75 per cent of the increase in the field price of gas with the balance being recovered through utility rates. Effective August 1, the provincial government will be shielding Alberta consumers from the price of natural gas above 7.375 cents per Therm. The previous provincial support price was 4.95 cents per Therm.

The portion of the August 1 increase to be absorbed by the provincial government represents approximately $36 a year to the average residential consumer in natural gas costs. It is estimated that in total the government plan will shield the average consumer from about $74 a year. The province expects to spend $165 million on its price shielding program this year compared to $76 million in 1976.

The interim rate increase will permit the company to recover the portion of the additional cost not covered by the provincial government's Natural Gas Price Protection Plan. For the majority of Northwestern's customers including those in Edmonton, Sherwood Park, St. Albert, Fort Saskatchewan, Red Deer, Camrose and Wetaskiwin, natural gas rates will rise by just over 6 per cent. About half of the increase is due to the higher cost of gas, the remainder is due to increases in the cost of providing service.

[illegible] reserved

of supply and associated costs, the portion of increases attributable to gas supply will vary throughout the Northwestern system.

Harnessing Fundy power

Since the turn of the century, eastern Canadians have dreamed of harnessing the immense power potential of Bay of Fundy, but it has taken until now for the idea to become economic and technically possible. The Arab boycott is perhaps the best thing that ever happened to Fundy enthusiasts, and a $14 barrel of oil is finally making the estimated $3 billion needed to develop the project look attractive, writes Randall Litchfield from Halifax in a special report on energy. At peak, Fundy can produce 15,000 megawatts - three times that of Churchill Falls - at $30,000 per megawatt hour (mwhr). When you compare that with $108,000 per mwhr at the Wreck Cove hydro project and $56,000 per mwhr at the Point Lepreau nuclear generator, Fundy warrants serious consideration. The technical problems of generation may be solved by the Straflo turbines manufactured by Escher Wyss of Zurich. This company would build a series of dams across the bay.

Each dam would look rather like a Swiss [illegible] with approximately [illegible] 30-mw generators stuck in the holes. As the tides flow in and out, fan blades, similar to those in a jet engine will rotate, while fields on the rim generate electricity. For years the problem has been sealing the fields, but this has now been solved. Apart from the possibility of silt deposits, the real problem which faces Fundy is plugging it into the Maritime grid. Fundy will be going from peak generating capacity to zero with the flow of the 100 foot tides - and unfortunately this won't always coincide with peaks in demand.

Mirror gets new CN crew lodge

Canadian National Railways' new combined station and crew lodge building was officially opened at Mirror this week.

Containing 20 bedrooms for the CN train and engine crews operating to Mirror from Edmonton, and station facilities for the agent and operations, the modern two-storey building replaces the former station that burned to the ground several years ago.

In addition to private sleeping quarters, the crew lodge section of the building contains a fully equipped kitchen, recreation rooms, locker rooms and laundry facilities.

The new structure was built by Pebble Developments Limited, of Edmonton, who will operate the crew lodge part of the facility for the railway.

Ministik and district news

Mrs. Jim Reddick

Your correspondent is back on the job again after having spent a most enjoyable week as a guest of cousins Margaret and George Harris of Eggar, Sask., and Winnipeg. While there we took a tour by pad directboater down the Red River to Lower Fort Garry, a historic site, toured Winnipeg in a double decker bus, and took a dinner cruise on the Paddle Queen. A most enjoyable week for us and a trip anyone would enjoy.

Rick and Marilyn Mast and Leon and Jeana of Victoria, B.C., were four day guests with Rick's sister Diane Fenske, Dennis, Angela and Connie.

Elizabeth and Lee Postal returned to their home in West Germany after spending a month with Margaret, Bruno, and Jeff Janke. While here they drove to Vancouver, spent some time in the Okanagan where they were thrilled at picking cherries off the trees, went on a fishing trip where their luck was excellent, and all in all cannot praise our country and province enough. Margaret and Elizabeth are sisters.

Nell Armstrong returned to Surrey, B.C., on Monday morning after a short stay in Ministik with brother Jay Davenport and family and sister Lil and Ralph Leach.

Betty Williams spent a most enjoyable three weeks in Detroit, Michigan, visiting cousins, other relatives, and friends.

Betty Williams' father, E. Dardis, went by bus to Vermilion for a few days, where he took in the annual fair.

Margaret Paterson, Joan, Laura and Wayne Kleinschrub and Sandy Westman were visitors at Heritage Day celebrations at Dried Meat Hill on Aug 1st, where they viewed the re-enactment of the signing of Treaty 6, as well as other historic events.

Tickets for the Hard Times dance are now available. It will be held on Sept 17th, and the band will be "Alberta Blend".

Another item of improvement has been added to the interior of Ministik Hall, when lovely new curtains were installed on July 30th.

The Teen Club of the area headed a successful basket social and dance on Friday evening.

Chris and Kevin Barbor spent a week with their grandparents, the Pearices, while this last week Leanne and Greg Thor were visitors, giving a helping hand with garden produce.

Happy BIRTHDAY

On July 30th, members of the Kleinschroth family gathered at the David and Norma Hughes home to honor Alex Kleinschroth on the occasion of his 83rd birthday. All members were able to be present as well as his two sisters, Maud Mowatt of Edmonton and Lida Bach of Camrose.

Open house honoring Bill and Vi Reddick was held at Ministik Hall on July 31st, honoring them on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary. Many guests called to wish them the best.

A family reunion was held on Sunday on the lawn at the home of Dolly Reddick, honoring Mrs. M. George on her recent birthday. It was also the birthday of her great-grandson, Danny Wiens. Family included Bruce, Alice, and Barbara George of Aberdeen, Scotland; Carol, George, Kathy, Rodger Erika, and Caron Holt of Calgary; Debbie, Paul, Cynthia, and Danny Wiens of Sherwood Park; Walter Yvonne, and Melvin George of Edmonton and Lin da, King of Ashcroft, B.C.; Valerie and Don Cheshire of Leduc, Bill, Anne and Georgina Clara and Doug George, Margaret Missan and Richard McAdam all of Edmonton and Glenn and Edna Ferguson.

Doris Davenport returned home recently after spending a week with the Bob Dodd son family of Wildwood.

Word has been received from Mary MacFarlane, student minister who returned at the United Church here for eight months until the end of April this year, is being married in Calgary on Aug 20th with the Ministik congregation being invited to attend.

Kay Lloyd, and Debbie Grummett joined a family gathering at the Art and Corrine Rowland home in Tofield where all were enjoying the company of Pat Gladue from near Trail, B.C. Pat was noted for his participation in horse racing at the Deville picnic in the 1930's. He was one of the best.

Youth congress expects 600 here

Six-hundred Lutheran youth and adults are expected to attend the Western Canada Lutheran Youth Congress to be held August 26-28 at Camrose Lutheran College. The Congress is being planned by a steering Committee of Lutheran clergymen, lay adults and youth from the Central Alberta area. The Congress is sponsored in conjuction with Lutheran Youth Encounter in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Featured speakers will be Rev Norman Miller, of Sharon Lutheran Church in Calgary. Rev Arnold Hagen, president of C.L.B.I., and Rev Larry Johnson, director of Lutheran Youth Encounter. The Lutheran Youth Congress is a Christ-centered event. Through Bible study, music, interest seminars, small group discussions and personal expression, those who attend the Congress are encouraged to allow Jesus Christ to become the Teacher and Lord of their lives (John 13:13). Several other lay-people and pastors will be sharing in the interest seminars.

A Lutheran Youth Congress provides the place where young and old together can share their common concerns and mutually mature in their faith. The enthusiasm, vision and irrepressible nature of youth, the joy, stability and wealth of experience of adults, combine with the Spirit of Christ to make the Congress an affirmative, enlightening, challenging and healing experience.

The Congress is open to all high school and collegiate youth, parents, youth sponsors, pastors and youth directors.

Boettgers go to Ethiopia

Dennis and Lucille Boettger of Ryley and Tofield participated in an Overseas Orientation sponsored by Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities Salunga, Pa., from July 5 to 8th at Camp elebron Halifax Pa.

Orientees shared in Bible study and discussions on how to present the Christian message in other cultures and how to develop interpersonal relationships in third world settings. The sessions ended with the commissioning of 20 new missionaries and 28 furloughed missionaries in a service led by the board president, H. Raymond Charles.

The Boettgers have accepted an overseas mission assignment in Nazareth Ethiopia, for two to three years as physician couple. They arrived in Ethiopia at the end of July.

Dennis a 1963 graduate of Ryley High School, graduated from University of Alberta in 1971. He is the son of Harold and Viola Boettger of Tofield, and is a member of Shantsky Mennonite Church at Bluesky.

Lucille, a 1968 graduate of Tofield High School, graduated from Prairie Bible Institute at Three Hills in 1968 and College St Jean in Edmonton in 1970. She is the daughter of John and Edna Wideman of Tofield and is a member of Bluesky Mennonite Church.

The Boettgers are the parents of two children Jeffrey, five years old, and Steven, two years old.

Martin - Yoder

Evelyn Faye Yoder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yoder of Tofield, and Rodney Bruce Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Martin of Duchess, were united in marriage on June 4th in Edmonton. They are now living in Victoria, B.C., where the groom is interning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and the bride is nursing at the Victoria General Hospital.

$100,000 job fund for Battle River

The Department of Manpower and Immigration has indicated its allotment for the Phase II of the Job Creation Program. The constituency of Battle River will receive a total sum of $100,000 for distribution to various projects. Applications for federal funding should bear in mind that the philosophy of the project is to help ward off

Application forms are available at any Manpower office within the constituency and at the Constituency office of Arnold Malone, M.P., Battle River. All applicants should bear in mind that the projects they wish to develop ought to serve a community function rather than a private or a personal need.

Each project must hire a minimum of three people per job and the deadline for applications to be submitted is August 30th, 1977.

For further details contact Wayne Leather, Project Officer, Manpower and Immigration, Second Floor, Federal Building, Camrose, Alberta, 74V 4H1 or Arnold Malone, Member of Parliament, Battle River, Suite No 3, Eaton Building, Camrose, Alberta.

Grain company pleads guilty

Pioneer Grain Co Ltd entered a guilty plea in provincial court in Wetaskiwin on July 18, reports R. K. Farlinger of the dominion government Consumer and Corporate Affairs branch.

The charge was in connection with a Pioneer Grain Elevator at Sunnybrook and was specifically that the company "did unlawfully alter a device used in trade although the exact nature of the alteration was not made clear to The Canadian.

A fine of $250 was imposed
